PICKET CRITICISM

Governor Backs Firing Notices

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan, urging that "society take a stand against this barbaric force" of dissident students, said today striking state college faculty members will lose their jobs if they picket more than five days. They will not get paid for the time they are on strike, he said.

"It is regrettable ... this move on the part of the faculty is tied into the action of some of the dissidents," Reagan told a news conference.

Reagan said he only was citing state law in regard to striking teachers' losing pay or their jobs. "The governor doesn't hire professors and the governor doesn't fire them."

However, Reagan said later he has been in constant contact with state college officials. Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke of the state college system already has cited the five-day rule on faculty absences.

Reagan again bitterly criticized students "deliberately seeking provocation ... chaos ... a power grab," and he again said now was the time for a showdown.

"Yes, there is going to be more violence ... there are going to be tragedies across the country. But it is the only choice," Reagan said.

He also said his statement Sunday about resorting to "the point of a bayonet" referred to protection of individual rights. "I did not use that phrase with regard to keeping the campus open," Reagan said.

He strongly defended acting President S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State College, praising the Mill Valleyans efforts to meet "acceptable" demands of the striking students.

Labor Council Airs S.F. Campus Stand

In sanctioning the American Federation of Teachers strike at San Francisco State College, the San Francisco Labor Council is drawing a fine line as to what it does and does not endorse among the teachers' demands.

This was emphasized yesterday by George Johns of San Rafael, executive secretary of the labor council.

In sanctioning the strike, Johns emphasized, the council — which includes representatives of nearly all AFL-CIO unions in San Francisco — specified that it was backing teacher demands relating to working conditions.

"We are not endorsing the student strike," stressed Johns. That is none of the labor council's business, he said.

Johns said the teachers union at the college, which is Local 1352 of the AFT, presented 22 grievances for which it won strike sanction.

These include job protection, transfer of faculty members to the Black Studies department with consequent doubling up of duties in other departments, work load (which the striking teachers want reduced from 12 hours of instruction per week to nine), grievance procedures, sick leave, and personnel decisions.

"There is no wage issue," Johns said. (The Associated Press reported from San Francisco yesterday that higher pay was among the AFT demands.)

Johns said the teacher grievances do not allege any violation of the individual contracts under which all the teachers are employed.

Asked whether it was customary for the labor council to sanction a strike by a union whose members are all covered by existing contracts, and where no contract violation is alleged, Johns replied, "That is a legal question."

Victor Van Bourg, attorney for the AFT local, insisted that the state college teachers are not under contract. "There is no

New Position Offer May Solve San Mateo Unrest

SAN MATEO (AP) — Officials at College of San Mateo hoped today that giving a bigger job to a Negro administrator will ease campus tensions.

Robert Hoover, whose removal as director of the College Readiness Program sparked violence, said last night he will accept a position as assistant for minority programs for the junior college district, which also includes Skyline College in San Bruno and Canada College in Redwood City.

Trustees of the district, who have been meeting to find ways to halt what they called "an escalation of violence" after a former dean's home was firebombed, are expected to approve Hoover's appointment in tonight's meeting.

Hoover will have his office at the district headquarters at College of San Mateo and will be in charge of funding, recruiting of minority personnel, and planning of work-study programs.

Hoover, 36, and his assistant, Jean Wirth, were relieved of their duties in the College Readiness Program for 500 disadvantaged minority students. Afterward, they criticized college president Robert Ewigleben's plan to expand the program to include 2,000 disadvantaged whites.

The minority students and their 75 white tutors threatened to go on strike unless Hoover was reinstated.

Appearing at a news conference with Clifford Erickson, chancellor of the district, Hoover said, "I'm completely satisfied that I will be given enough authority over minority programs and can stay in contact with the students.

"I'm glad we're beginning to approach a workable solution."

The 8,000-student, hilltop campus has been free of violence while under police guard but Ewigleben said his life had been threatened and a firebomb thrown into the garage of Phil Garlington's home early yesterday caused about $20,000 in damage.

Garlington, now president of Skyline College, was dean of instruction at San Mateo at the height of campus disturbances last month.

Pickets At San Jose Join Teacher Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The American Federation of Teachers strike at troubled San Francisco State College spread today to San Jose State and strike sanctions were sought at three others.

The union, representing a minority of faculty at the 19 state colleges, demanded "meaningful negotiations" with trustees on the student crisis at San Francisco State and improved salary and working conditions.

As AFT members picketed for the third day in front of San Francisco State, a similar line was set up at San Jose State, 60 miles to the south.

The union represents about 300 of the 1,200 faculty members at each campus.

Strike sanction was requested by union locals at state colleges in Fresno, Sacramento and Chico.

At San Jose, a college official said the AFT pickets were "peaceful and perfectly legal, at least so far." The 23,000 student campus also had been the scene of student unrest in recent weeks.

Police complained to AFT pickets at San Francisco State that their lines were "too tight." The teachers heeded police requests to march at least five feet apart.

However, there was one report of violence at San Jose. As James Steele, psychology professor marched on the picket line, he was struck by a cherry bomb dropped from a high-rise dormitory.

In Sacramento, meanwhile, an Assembly Republican leader, Don Mulford of Piedmont said "no longer can we allow a minority of dissident professors and teaching assistants to interfere with and jeopardize the education of our young people."

Yesterday, acting President S. I. Hayakawa charged the striking teachers "lost control of a picket line," making it necessary for police to restore order on the San Francisco campus.

The AFT pickets dispersed when police warned a noise group of demonstrators that the growing picket line was becoming an unlawful rally.

About 200 persons, including leaders of two striking student minority groups, held their ground in front of the administration building, chanting "On

Teachers At Sonoma May Join Strike

Members of the American Federation of Teachers local at Sonoma State College voted to strike yesterday if reprisals are made against the striking teachers at San Francisco State College.

Dr. Bernice Goldmark, president of Local 1764, said reprisals probably would come Monday. The state college board of trustees has said that striking teachers will be considered as having resigned after missing classes for five days.

"If the teachers at San Francisco are fired or suspended on Monday, we will show support for them by striking here," Dr. Goldmark said. The education professor said strike sanction would be sought from the Sonoma County Labor Council.

The AFT represents about one-fourth of the Sonoma State faculty. Dr. Goldmark said a strike would not be designed to disrupt classes. She said most teachers would arrange to hold classes off campus so students would not lose credit for the semester's work or have their draft status jeopardized.

Ed Reinecke Named Successor To Finch

Reagan Preserves Slim GOP Legislative Edge

REP. ED REINECKE
Heir to Reagan?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Republican Rep. Ed Reinecke, praised by Gov. Ronald Reagan as a "young, energetic" political comer, was named California's new lieutenant governor today.

The GOP governor's official announcement at a news conference in the State Capitol came the day after Reinecke's 45th birthday, and gave the Studio City congressman a flying leap into statewide attention and a possible bid for Reagan's job whenever the governor leaves office.

Reinecke replaces Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch, who will become secretary of health, education and welfare in President-elect Nixon's cabinet later this month. Reinecke officially will move into Finch's second-floor office across from the State Senate chamber only after the U.S. Senate confirms Finch's appointment.

In choosing Finch's successor, Reagan told newsmen, he put "greatest concern on the need for someone who is a young, energetic man, a capable vote-getter ... with a future. Someone interested in a future in public life."

While he found no concensus on any one candidate for the job in talking with Republican leaders throughout the state, the governor said, he did discover that everyone wanted "someone who was ... a comer."

Reagan declined to place Reinecke anywhere on the political spectrum, but the congressman — first elected to office just over four years ago — has been highly rated on voting scales of organizations calling themselves conservative.

Earlier in Washington, Reinecke said, "I'll be my own man. I've always been an independent thinker."

Reagan had said he wanted to name a man who would help the party ticket in the 1970 state-

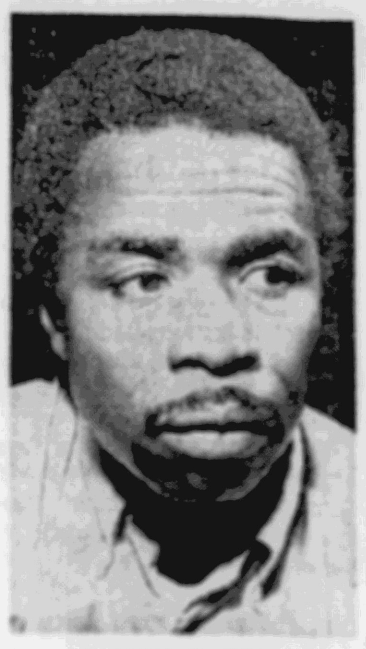
LUCAS VALLEY BIGOTRY?

Black Educator Blames Neighbors For Gun Case

By STEPHEN COOK

A black educator, being sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for the crime of carrying a concealed weapon, yesterday blamed his troubles on the bigotry of his white suburban neighbors.

"I never owned a gun until a lot of people in my neighborhood started threatening me, and I'm 36 years old," said Lanny G. Berry of Lucas Valley, a special assistant to the superintendent of the Tamalpais High School District.



LANNY BERRY
His children suffering

Berry told Judge Hadden W. Roth that he and his family have suffered 50 incidents of white racism since moving into their home at 685 Blackberry Lane in March 1966.

His neighbors' hatred of blacks surfaced before he moved in, he said, with the circulation of a petition to keep him, his wife and three children from buying on the block.

Judge Roth said he was concerned with "a sensitivity" expressed by Berry when talking of his neighbors and potential violence.

"Do you realize the inherent danger of having a weapon? Can you give me some assurance that, in the future, you will not resort to violence?" the magistrate asked.

"I understand the gravity of having a weapon. That's wrong and in future situations I will not carry a gun. But, I am not going to live in Lucas Valley and take the kind of crap I have to take from my neighbors," Berry said.

If neighborhood abuse against his children continues, Berry warned, the judge will have him back in court.

Berry was charged with the misdemeanor as a result of an incident Sept. 7, when he was told that his 12-year-old son,

Next Reagan Budget Reportedly Holding $200 Million Tax Relief

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Ronald Reagan's new budget will propose that $200 million be set aside in property and income tax "relief," it was learned yesterday. (Other Legislature stories, Page 22.)

Reagan's "state of the state" message yesterday to the Legislature promised "a continuation of state-sponsored local property tax relief, and a substantial personal income tax reduction," but offered no further details on his budget, yet to be presented.

Approximately $120 million will be earmarked for "property tax relief," a Capitol source told the Independent-Journal, and $80 million for "income tax relief."

Just how the $200 million would get back to taxpayers has not been decided, he said, but a cash rebate to homeowners may be proposed for a second year. This year, homeowners will receive $70 cash rebates on their property taxes.

A second year of cash rebates, however, may do nothing except match the homeowners' increased taxes under a $750 exemption on assessed valuation. The exemption, to be effective next fiscal year, will have to be offset by increased taxes so local government revenue will not be reduced by the exemption.

Also, the amount of the rebates next year probably would be less than $70. The current fiscal year's $70 rebates are expected to cost almost $170 million, or some $50 million more than the amount set aside in the current budget for this year's rebates.

Reagan's message did not say who would benefit from the income tax reduction, but he previously promised it to middle income families hit hardest by the 1967 billion-dollar hike in income taxes.

Groucho's Wife Files For Divorce

Marx

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Comedian Groucho Marx's third wife, suing for divorce, claims he has an "uncontrollable temper" and "hostile and abusive moods."

Edna Eden Marx, 38, says the comic, 73, struck her on New Year's Eve two years ago, threatened to kill her and is often "belittling and ridiculing" her in front of guests, relatives and servants.

Mrs. Marx also asked for division of an estimated $3 million in community property in the suit filed yesterday in Superior Court.

Mrs. Marx

They married in July 1954 at Sun Valley, Idaho. They have no children.

Marx was divorced in 1942 from his first wife of 22 years. They had two children. Marx divorced his second wife in 1950, after five years of marriage. He has a daughter, Melinda, 22, by the second marriage.

Julie Andrews Seeks $6 Million

SANTA MONICA (UPI) — Actress Julie Andrews has filed libel suits totaling $6 million against two movie magazines, including one which linked her romantically with actor Sidney Poitier.

Miss Andrews

The story appeared in the January 1969, issue of "Screenland." The Superior Court suit charged the story falsely said Miss Andrews had dated Poitier and was romantically linked with him.

Miss Andrews said in her complaint filed yesterday she has never dated Poitier and only on rare occasions had they been fellow guests at events. She denied statements attributed to her in the story and charged they were fabricated by the author, West Coast editor James Gregory.

The other suit charged that a story in the January 1969, issue of "Modern Movies" falsely stated Miss Andrews was indifferent and unconcerned about the welfare of her 6-year-old daughter, Emma.

Plane Hijack

HAVANA (AP) — A Colombian airliner with 56 passengers and crew members was forced to fly to Cuba yesterday by one of the passengers, a young man with a pistol.

All aboard except the young man were expected to return today to Colombia.

The Avianca DC4 took off from Riohacha, near the Venezuelan border, on a flight to another Colombian city. The pilot, Capt. Jorge Otalora, radioed: "We are heading for Cuba. Hijacked."

Runway Crash

ROVANIEMI, Finland (UPI) — A Finnair airliner with 31 persons aboard overshot the Rovaniemi Airport runway in thick fog today and plowed through 30 yards of thick snow that brought it to a halt. None of the 27 passengers or four crewmen was hurt but the Convair airplane was heavily damaged.

Coin Pinched

LONDON (AP) — The Royal Mint put one of its new 50 pence coins on exhibit yesterday, and someone immediately pinched it.

The coin, which will replace the 10-shilling note when British currency goes decimal in 1971, was stolen from a hotel showcase. Other decimal coins that had been exhibited before also were stolen from the exhibit.

The 50-pence piece, which will be worth $1.20, is believed to be the only seven-sided coin in the world.

Only six have been minted so far.

10 Fire Deaths

MELBOURNE (AP) — Bushfires swept townships on the outskirts of Melbourne today, and there were reports that at least 10 persons had been killed in the blazes which roared through the tinder-dry summer grass.

The farming township of Lara apparently was hardest hit, but downed communication lines made thorough assessment of the damage impossible.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) —Two Molotov cocktails were thrown into the U.S. Information Service library early today, causing damage estimated at $1,500.

Sets Conferences

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon will hold pre-inaugural meetings with all members of his prospective cabinet here this week.

Press spokesman Ronald Ziegler said yesterday that Nixon's cabinet choices would be in New York Friday and Saturday to confer with the incoming chief executive and with chairmen of 22 task forces that have been exploring possibly new policy ground in key areas for the benefit of the new administration.

Purse Snatching Victim Succumbs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Katherina Ongwarsky, 85, died yesterday of injuries suffered when a gang of teen-age purse snatchers attacked her.

She was beaten Nov. 3 a few feet from the home of her daughter, Katherina Murphy.

Police have not caught the gang. The stolen purse contained $60.

Vietnam War Action On Quiet Side

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands today reported only two small skirmishes and two shellings in what appeared to be one of the Vietnam War's quietest days since the Paris negotiations began.

The U.S. Command also reported a battle-damaged Air Force Phantom jet crashed into an American artillery camp yesterday, killing two U.S. soldiers and a Vietnamese civilian in the camp.

The Command also reported two helicopters shot down earlier this week, with one crewman killed and two wounded.

U.S. troops were involved in only one of the two fights yesterday, a clash about 70 miles north of Saigon. Artillery and helicopter gunship crews of the First Air Cavalry Division sprayed a small enemy band with rockets and machine-gun fire, and 16 enemy bodies were found. There were no American casualties.

In the other action, a South Vietnamese militia force reported it killed 14 guerrillas during a patrol in the Mekong Delta 49 miles southwest of Saigon.

The Phantom downed was one of two jets hit by intensive machine-gun fire on a mission about 30 miles north of Saigon in War Zone D.

An Air Force spokesman said the two crewmen stuck with the burning plane until it was clear of a heavily populated area north of Saigon, suburban area, then ejected.

Harvard Co-Ed Found Slain In Apartment

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Investigators searched today for the weapon used to kill Jane Britton, 22, a Harvard graduate student whose body was found sprawled face down across a blood-spattered mattress in her apartment.

A medical examiner said the daughter of the administrative vice president of Radcliffe College had been struck a massive blow on the left side of the head behind the ear by a sharp weapon. Investigators theorized a hatchet or a cleaver was used.

Dr. Arthur McGovern of Cambridge, who ruled the death a homicide, said the shape of the wound indicated that the girl was facing her assailant when struck. He said she had been dead 10 to 12 hours when her body, clad in a disarrayed nightgown, was found at 12:40 p.m. yesterday.

An autopsy performed Tuesday night by McGovern disclosed that the girl had also been struck at least twice in the face with the weapon.

Authorities said the autopsy revealed no evidence of sexual attack.

Police said they were without a suspect. They said there was no evidence of a struggle or of robbery.

The slim, petite brunette was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Boyd Britton of Needham. A graduate of Radcliffe, she was in her second year as a student in anthropology.

Miss Britton failed to appear in a class yesterday morning, police said. The body was found by James H. Humphries, 27, a fellow anthropology student whom they described as a steady boy friend, and by Mr. and Mrs. Don Mitchell, the girl's fourth floor neighbors in the apartment house near Harvard University.

JANE BRITTON
Slain in apartment

The apartment is on the other side of the same duplex building where Beverly Samans, 23, was stabbed to death five years ago during a wave of 13 killings in eastern Massachusetts blamed on the Boston Strangler. However, the Samans slaying is unsolved and police have never accepted the theory that the self-proclaimed Boston Strangler, Albert DeSalvo, knew anything about it.

The moon's distance from the earth diminishes by about one inch a year, says Collier's Encyclopedia.

Hanoi Firm On Hold Up Of Session

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam said today it will not reconsider its refusal to accept American and South Vietnamese procedural proposals for an early opening of the Paris talks on Vietnam.

A North Vietnamese spokesman said there was no chance Hanoi would listen to a U.S. appeal and adopt some of the seating arrangements put forward by the United States.

"All these arrangements aim at making the conference a two-sided issue. As we already have said, this is unacceptable to us," the spokesman said.

He thus shrugged off an appeal yesterday by Cyrus B. Vance, deputy American negotiator, that North Vietnam reconsider its refusal to study and adopt one of the six shapes for the negotiating table—the main obstacle blocking the parley.

The Hanoi official said his delegation and the National Liberation Front (NLF), the political arm of the Viet Cong, continued to insist on seating arrangements making the conference clearly appear as a parley of four equal parties.

Acheson Calls JFK's Cuban Results Lucky

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dean Acheson saiys President John F. Kennedy gambled "to the point of recklessness" in the 1962 Cuban missile crisis and won partly because he was "phenomenally lucky."

While Robert F. Kennedy had praised the free-flowing discussion process among presidential advisers during the crisis, Acheson said it was "repetitive, leaderless, and a waste of time."

Acheson, President Harry S Truman's secretary of state, who was called in as an adviser during the crisis, commented on what took place in an article in Esquire Magazine released yesterday.

The article was in reply to an account of the crisis written by Robert Kennedy before his death and published last October.

"Sen. Kennedy seemed at the time—a view strengthened by his account—to have been moved by emotional or intuitive responses more than by the trained lawyer's analysis of the dangers threatened and of the relevance to these of various actions proposed." Kennedy was then attorney general.

Reed School District Tax Hike Vote Urged

The Reed Union School District board should consider a $1 tax rate increase to balance the 1969-70 budget, Supt. H. Joe Edgington suggested last night.

Edgington recommended the board try to consolidate a tax increase election with the trustees election in April. The current general tax rate maximum is $2.25 per $100 valuation, excluding overrides.

Asst. Supt. William G. Vanasen said the tentative 1969-70 budget figure, excluding reserves, is $2,347,467. That includes a 6 per cent cost of living pay raise for teachers plus a $440 across the board increase to catch up last year's requested increase.

Estimated income for 1969-70 without the increased tax is $1,876,285.

Meanwhile ,the board pared the current budget of $2,020,974 last night, cutting $47,217 from current expenses and stripping another $32,937 from reserves to make up an $80,154 deficit stemming from reduced state support.

State aid fell below expectations this year when enrollment dropped and the state eliminated a kindergarten bonus formerly granted the district.

The cuts will not require a staff reduction, Vanasen said. The brunt of the ax fell on instruction services, cut $18,815, and capital outlay, cut $11,214. Other cuts as recommended by Edgington and adopted by the board were $2,040 from administration, $6,800 from maintenance, $2,300 from operations, $850 from transportation and $198 from health services.

The board set a special meeting to discuss the new budget for 10 a.m. Jan. 18 in the Bel Aire School multimedia center, and will also discuss the budget at the next regular meeting Jan. 21.

The Reed Union School District board also:

HIRING — Placed half-time science teacher Kay Doyle on full-time status to help replace Mrs. Judy Wheatley, who resigned in December at Del Mar School.

GRANADA SCHOOL — Accepted the final state audit and certificate of acceptance for Unit 2 at Granada School, finished three years ego.

BOARD VACANCY — Set closed sessions for next Tuesday and Wednesday to interview 11 applicants to replace James B. Atkin on the board. Atkin resigned in December because of pressure of his law practice.

LABOR

contract binding them to anything," he declared.

Tom Camesima, of the legal office of the California State Colleges in Los Angeles, said state college teachers are hired under terms of Title 5 of the California Administrative Code, and sign an agreement which binds them and the state colleges to the terms set forth in the code.

Johns said the strike sanction was granted by unanimous vote of the labor council's executive committee, augmented by representatives of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, Teamsters Union, and several others. The executive council had been empowered to act by vote of the whole labor council, he reported.

The grant of strike sanction means other AFL-CIO unions must observe the teachers' picket line (which is part of the student picket line).

AFT locals at San Francisco State, Fresno State, Hayward State, Chico State and San Jose State colleges voted Dec. 10 to go out on strike. At that time, however, the San Francisco local called for the walkout to back demands of the Black Students Union and Third World Liberation Front, plus greater voice by the teacher union in campus operation.

STATE

strike, shut it down...on strike, burn it down."

However, they retreated as a force of 300 riot police moved slowly across the campus, carefully avoiding contact with the demonstrators. One youth fell, but he was lifted gently to his feet by two members of the tactical squad, who brushed the dirt from his clothes and sent him on his way.

One arrest was made, in connection with a previous demonstration, and there were no injuries.

It was a marked contrast from last month, when a series of clashes between militant students and police resulted in scores of injuries, more than 150 arrests and damages to the 18,000-student campus estimated in the thousands of dollars.

Yesterday's confrontation same shortly after Gov. Ronald Reagan labeled campus unrest California's chief problem and called on the state Legislature to move against campus "anarchy and insurrection."

In his annual State-Of-the-State message at Sacramento, Reagan asked lawmakers to tighten penalties for campus troublemakers while providing an "equal education plan" for all qualified students at the nine university campuses and 19 state colleges.

The minor brush with police was the first since the AFT went on strike Monday morning, seeking educational reforms and backing a two-month long strike by members of the Black Students Union and the Third World Liberation Front.

The AFT was reported at odds with the more militant student groups, who struck Nov. 6 to back 15 demands, including a black studies program, enrollment of all Negro applicants, and reinstatement of Black Panther George Murray as an English instructor.

The Third World Liberation Front said it would defy Hayakawa's strict new rules concerning campus activities, but the teachers' group said it would abide by them.

AFT officials estimated that only 20 per cent of the students crossed picket lines to attend classes yesterday, but Hayakawa said "many classes were uninterrupted and people continued their serious business of studying and teaching."

Three Members Of Family Hurt

A family of three was injured yesterday in a car-truck collision on Shoreline Highway in Manzanita, the California Highway Patrol said.

The accident occurred at 6:05 p.m., the highway patrol said, when a truck driven by James G. Grabham, 30, og 54 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, turned left in front of an oncoming car driven by Georgianne Bergstrom, 44, of 244 Reed Boulevard, Strawberry.

Mrs. Bergstrom was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a strained neck and cut lip. Michael Bergstrom, 17, was treated for a bruised knee and Kim Bergstrom, 5, was treated for a bruised forehead.

Grabham told the patrol the truck windows were misty and he did not see the approaching car. He was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way and driving with no license in his possession.

Guitar Stolen

Someone walked onto her Gate 5 houseboat Monday and stole a Gibson guitar valued at $250, Adrea L. Bankoff told sheriff's deputies yesterday.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

7:56 a.m., Novato — Truck trailer containing glue and belonging to John McGuire, San Jose contractor, caught fire when diesel heater inside tipped over while parked behind Pacifica apartments east of Highway 101 at Novato Creek; fire smoldered for four hours; no damage estimate.

10:15 a.m., Woodacre—Defective fireplace at the residence of R. G. Wilson, Elm Avenue; $200 damage.

10:50 a.m., San Rafael — Automobile belonging to Vernon Hyde of San Francisco caught fire at the Northgate Shopping Center because of a backfire which ignited the engine; $200 damage.

12:50 p.m., San Rafael—False alarm at Terra Linda High School.

4:50 p.m., San Rafael — Ray E. Belanger of 3 Marquita Avenue drove his automobile, which caught fire into the fire station at Third and Union streets; $10 damage.

1:40 a.m., San Rafael — Furnace fire at 1303 Irwin Street put out by occupants of building; no damage.

Arrest Made On Missing Cheese

A Larkspur man, allegedly with a yen for cheese was placed under citizen's arrest today in San Rafael.

Bernard Joseph Pilbo, 28, of 541 Magnolia Avenue, was arrested on suspicion of taking three packages of cheese and other items totaling $6.34 from the Mayfair Market, Third and Union streets. Joseph Peluso, who works at the market, signed the citizen's arrest complaint.

Pilbo, who was held on bail of $315, is scheduled to appear for arraignment today.

BERRY

Michael had been beaten up by the 14-year-old son of Herbert P. Mooney of 596 Millercreek Road.

Berry went to Mooney's home, an argument ensued and, during the discussion, Berry pulled a .22-automatic from his hip pocket and exhibited it, according to a sheriff's report.

Berry told the judge today that he did not use it to threaten Mooney.

Judge Roth fined Berry $25 and placed him on a year of probation. He ordered the gun surrendered to the sheriff for destruction as a public nuisance and he told Berry:

"I will not tolerate any violence, particularly with weapons."

Judge Roth, in passing sentence, said he was taking notice of Berry's record of public service.

Berry, who has a master's degree in social work from the University of California, has worked as a juvenile probation officer for the county and as a part-time group worker in Marin City for the Community Relations Service.

In his present job, he is a specialist in human relations, working primarily in Marin City for the Tamalpais district.

After his courtroom appearance, Berry told of indignities suffered by him, his wife, Connie; their daughter, Judy 9, and Lynne, 6, and his son, since they arrived in Lucas Valley.

"The kids at school would jump Michael, sometimes three at a time. They'd tell my kids 'you're not Americans because you were born in a mudhole.' They called them 'nigger' and 'black SOBs.' Just about anything' you can imagine. The kids used to come home and ask us what the names meant," Berry said.

Berry said that, when he felt his youngsters were attacked, he and his wife would go to the parents of the children calling the names or doing the beating.

"To a family, they would deny that their children did these things," Berry said.

These confrontations resulted in arguments and more bitter feelings, Berry said. Such a confrontation in September led to his fine yesterday.

"Then we started getting anonymous telephone calls, saying 'why don't you niggers leave'," Berry said.

Berry recalled that his own frustrations came to a head in the spring of 1967, when his son ran home from Lucas Valley School one afternoon.

"He cried and he threw up and he said ' I can't fight the whole school.' I had to leave the house, I couldn't stand it. He's such a gentle young man," the father said.

Berry said he and his family are not prejudiced and they do have a few white friends in the neighborhood. But this is not enough.

"I think I've earned the right to be treated with dignity and respect," said Berry, a native of Watts. "It seems there is no law against the white man harrassing me."

Berry said he has thought of leaving, but will not.

"They're going to learn how to get along with me or else," he said.

Berry recalled that Eldridge Cleaver or Malcolm X once wrote that every time a black man accedes to indignities, he's less a man and that under conditions in the United States today, no black man should live to be 40.

"Well, I'm trying to find a middle ground, But the white man has to leave us room for middle ground," Berry said.

Panther Warns Of Trial Protest

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND —Opening of the trial of seven men on charges stemming from demonstrations at the Oakland Induction Center in 1967 is likely to produce "combined protests," Black Panther leader Bobby Seale said yesterday.

He told newsmen that his Negro organization may join white antiwar demonstrators in a "planned massive demonstration" when the trial opens in Alameda County Superior Court Monday.

The seven were indicted under a state law making it a felony to conspire to commit misdemeanors.

One of the men is Michael J. Smith, 27, graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and former Corte Madera resident, a leader of the 1964 Berkeley Free Speech Movement and the progressive Labor Party.

Salary Scale To Supervisors

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Civil Service Commission presented 1969 salary recommendations to the board of supervisors yesterday for action by month's end.

The increases run from 2.5 per cent to 12.5 per cent for the chief civil deputy sheriff and assistant hospital administrator and administrator. The raises would be effective July 1.

Neal D. Smith, county administrator, said the supervisors will meet with individuals and unions who wish to discuss the proposed salary hikes. He said it was not known what the raises would cost.

Byron C. Gibbs, service commission chairman, said the group gathered data from public and private employers to study trends in salaries and job descriptions.

Synanon Names Board Of Regents

A new nine-member board of regents was named last night to run the Synanon Foundation with founder Charles E. Dederich as chairman.

Other regents are Jack Hurst, president and executive director; Dederich's wife, Betty; Hurst's wife, Terry; Dan L. Garrett Jr., a San Francisco lawyer; Karl Deissler, and Oakland physician; Al Bauman, creator of Synanon's school system; Ed Siegel, Los Angeles businessman, and Dorthy Salant, dean of the Synanon Academy.

Synanon, which has a facility at Marshall in West Marin, was founded 10 years ago as a self-help group for drug addicts and alcoholics and has grown to a $6 million enterprise.

Marijuana Plant Case Dismissed

Felony complaint of marijuana cultivation was dismissed in Marin Municipal Court yesterday against Charles O. Leidegen, 24, and Stephanie M. Triliegi, 21.

The action by Judge Peter Allen Smith came after Deputy Dist. Atty. Ralph Thomas reported during a prelminary hearing that a laboratory analysis of a substance believed to be marijuana has not been completed.

Thomas said today the complaint may be re-filed. The defendants, both of Tamalpais Valley, were accused of cultivating marijuana last September.

William Earle Takes New Job

Veteran Marin newsman William L. Earle has accepted a reporter's position on the Salem, Ore., Capital Journal and will start work there on Feb. 3.

Earle has covered Main County for the San Francisco Examiner since 1960. From 1956 to 1960 he was a reporter for the Independent - Journal. He also formerly worked for newspapers in Chico and Ukiah.

Earle, a Stanford University graduate, is married and has three children. The family home is at 131 Humboldt Street, San Rafael.

Guilty Plea To False Report File

A San Francisco man accused of using someone else's name to get out of County Jail Christmas Day yesterday pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced charge of filing a false report.

Judgment for James Russell Shannon, 30, was scheduled for 2 p.m. Jan. 28. Shannon, originally charged with felony attempted escape, was in jail Dec. 25 for investigation of being drunk. Officers said he responded when the name of another inmate, Richard Allen Just, 29, of Santa Rosa, was called. Shannon was bailed out under Just's name. He later was rearrested at Marin General Hospital. Just was then released on the bail.

Ross To Discuss Office Ordinance

The Ross Town Council will discuss its controversial ordinance which allows home offices for doctors, dentists and musicians at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the town hall.

A majority of the council indicated Dec. 13 it favored rescinding the ordinance which was passed in 1962. The first and only use permit granted under the ordinance went to Dr. Robert H. Herrick, a psychiatrist, in November.

The poisonous oils in poison ivy are more active in the gaseous form of smoke than in the liquid form.

REINECKE

wide election, and intended to continue in public office.

Reinecke filled the bill.

He headed a lawn sprinkler company before winning election in 1964 to the 27th District, despite underdog status in a predominantly Democratic district.

A World War II Navy veteran, Reinecke holds a mechanical engineering degree from the California Institute of Technology and is listed as an "inventor" in his campaign biographies, as well as an executive.

He is a Lutheran, and he and his wife Jean have two boys and a girl.

Reagan said he and the new No. 2 man in state government are "in philosophical agreement on the goals of the Creative Society ... A belief in more emphasis on the private sector, local autonomy, less big government."

The governor said that while he considered some GOP legislators, such as Sen. George Deukmejian of Long Beach, he decided he didn't dare risk upsetting the delicate Republican majority in the state legislature. The Assembly is 41-39 Republican and the Senate 20-19, with one vacancy. Reagan needs every GOP vote he can get if his programs are to succeed this year.

Finally, Reagan said of the legislative margin, "it became unthinkable to toy with that."

He may be faced with the problem anyway, since Republican Assemblyman Patrick McGee of Van Nuys said he will run for Reinecke's congressional seat. Another candidate will be Jack B. Lindsey, Reagan's former liaison man with the Assembly.

Reagan told the news conference that he also had considered appointing some of his official family, such as Senate liaison man Vernon Sturgeon; Gordon Luce, state transportation and business secretary; and Caspar Weinberger, state finance director.

But, he added: "I just couldn't break up what I think is a most capable team."

The governor said he did not reach a decision in his month-long search until Tuesday: "I just went into a dark room, sat down by myself and made the decision."

Drug Suspect Is Arrested

A woman who said she was "sent from outer space by Jesus Christ" was arrested last night on suspicion of possession of marijuana, reported San Rafael police.

Harold Lawrence of 32 Front Street called police to report his housekeeper was acting "weird" and throwing things about the apartment.

When police arrived, Barbara Estelle Boucher, no known address, told the officers she was a saint sent by Jesus Christ. She said she came from outer space and that her children were also in outer space.

According to police, Lawrence gave them some marijuana and other belongings of Mrs. Boucher.

She was held on bail of $315 and scheduled to appear for arraignment today.

Women May Join Marinwood Board

The eight directors of the Marinwood Association decided last night that the board should be expanded to include women active in community affairs.

President Jerry C. Leith said a two-man committee composed of George D. Gazulis and John Hodge will get in touch with possible women candidates.

OBITUARIES

Content E. Wilson Dies At 87

Content Elton Wilson, 87, mother of Marin County Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson, died yesterday at a local hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Wilson became ill while on her annual Christmas visit to her son and her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Buehler of San Rafael, and their families. Her home was in The Dalles, Ore.

Born in Bridgewater, S. D., Mrs. Wilson came to The Dalles when she was 19. Her late husband, Fred W. Wilson, who died in 1955, was a circuit judge in The Dalles for 31 years.

Mrs. Wilson was active in the Wasco County Pioneers Association and was a member of the Order of Eastern Star.

In addition to her son and daughter, she is survived by a brother, Eugene Elton; two sisters, Mrs. Olive Willerton and Miss Lydia Elton, all of The Dalles, and six grandchildren.

Memorial services will be held at the Spencer-Libby Mortuary in The Dalles at 11 a.m. Saturday. Burial will be in the Pioneer Cemetery there.

GEORGE E. PALLO

Funeral for George E. Pallo, 50, of Petaluma, who died Sunday after a long illness at a Reno Hospital, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

A native of Santa Rosa, Pallo had lived at 19 Straub Lane for 30 years. He was visiting in Nevada when he died. Educated in Petaluma, he had worked as an operating engineer for the Home Construction Co. for 25 years. Pallo was a member of the Operating Engineers Union Petaluma Local No. 3.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Pallo; two daughters, Betty Invernon of Fremont and Georgette French of Verdi, Nev.; four brothers, Russell William and Raymond Pallo of Petaluma and Frederick Bardsley of New Jersey; and seven sisters, Hazel Larue, Grace Cline, Lois Gomas, Katherine Cline and Lorraine McNamara, all of Petaluma, Irene Burke of Phillipsville, Humboldt County, and Lillian Cisneros of Rock Springs, Wyo.

GERALD GUGEL

Gerald W. Gugel, 67, a retired bartender, died yesterday at a Novato convalescent hospital, where he had been a patient four years.

The Marin coroner's office said Gugel collapsed after a choking spell at lunch. Attempts to revive him failed.

Gugel was born in Vassar, Mich., and came to California about 1930. He lived in San Anselmo and moved to Nicasio in 1945, where he lived until entering the convalescent home.

He worked at a number of places in Marin County, the last one being DeBorba's in Novato. He retired in 1953. He was a widower.

Gugel is survived by a son, Gerald W. Gugel of Mill Valley; two daughters, Jane Benet of San Francisco and Joan Morris of Salem, Ore., and seven grandchildren.

Private funeral was held at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

FRANCES WORTHINGTON

Frances Worthington, 95, retired San Anselmo school teacher, died at a local hospital yesterday after a short illness.

Mrs. Worthington, who was born in Springfield, Ore., lived most of her life in Spokane, Wash., where she taught elementary school for many years. After the death of her husband, Irving Worthington, a civil engineer, she came to San Anselmo in 1941 to live with her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Sawaya.

The family home is at 16 Bolinas Avenue.

During World War II, Mrs. Worthington was a home teacher for the San Anselmo School District.

Mrs. Worthington is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Douglas Todd of San Diego; a son, Hugh Worthington of Seattle, Wash.; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Friday at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Thursday at Keaton's Chapel, San Rafael. The family prefers contributions to Guide Dogs for the Blind or other charities.

MRS. MOLLOY

Thais Adele Molloy, 53, of 11 South Knoll Road, Apt. 3, Strawberry was found dead at her home last night by her husband, William B. Molloy.

Assistant County Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine said Molloy had been away since Thursday and returned at 7:15 p.m. yesterday to find Mrs. Molloy's body on a couch.

Fontaine said she apparently had been dead several days and listed no cause of death, pending autopsy.

A native of Illinois, Mrs. Molloy had lived in California and in Marin 11 years. Funeral is pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

Vietnam War Critic Editor Dies At 48

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — William Calhoun Baggs, a newspaper editor nominated for the 1968 Nobel Peace Prize after acting as an intermediary in preliminary peace-talk negotiations between Hanoi and Washington, died yesterday. He was 48.

Baggs, editor of the Miami News, was a persistent and articulate critic in his daily newspaper columns of President Johnson's Vietnam policy. A bomber pilot in World War II, he strenuously objected to American bombing of North Vietnam.

HANOI VISIT

In January 1967 and in the spring of 1968 Baggs and Harry S. Ashmore, chairman of the executive committee of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, traveled to North Vietnam. Baggs was on the center's board.

He was the only American journalist known to have visited Hanoi twice. Last April 5 he and Ashmore returned from the North Vietnamese capital with a secret message from the Central Committee of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam to the U.S. government.

PEACE DISCUSSION

The message said that nothing of substance would be discussed at peace talks until the United States met certain conditions including "cessation of U.S. bombing raids and all other acts of war," Baggs said later.

President Johnson halted bombing of the North on Nov. 1 and the North Vietnamese agreed to expanded peace talks.

Baggs made articles about his mission to Hanoi available to The Associated Press. The Associated Press Managing Editors presented him an award for the series. Later he was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize.

He was admitted to Miami Heart Institute on Dec. 29 suffering from pneumonia and influenza. He went into a coma after doctors performed a tracheotomy Sunday, and he never recovered. He died at 6:05 p.m.

PRISON LIFE

Crew Used Morse Code For Contact

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Morse Code tapped out on radiator pipes linking the rooms of USS Pueblo crewmen in a North Korean prison enabled them to keep in touch during 11 months of captivity.

Communications Technician C. Charles W. Ayling said yesterday the first message over the secret network announced the death of Seaman Duane Hodges who was wounded in the seizure of the intelligence ship.

A tap on the radiator meant a dot and a scrape was equivalent to a dash. A special language was devised to prevent the North Koreans from listening in.

Ayling said he and his three prison roommates heard the message of Hodges' death being tapped out on the radiator from the adjacent room.

"After we had tested each other (by using Morse Code) and satisfied ourselves that we were both from the Pueblo, we set up our communication system," Ayling said.

Life at the Balboa Naval Hospital here for the crew is settling down into the routine of medical treatment and debriefing sessions by a staff of 100 naval intelligence specialists.

There is no set schedule for the interviews and the Navy will not estimate when the debriefing sessions will end and the court of inquiry will begin.

From the debriefing sessions, which last an average of four hours a day per man, the Navy is trying to put together an overall picture of what happened and how the Pueblo came to be seized and all information on their captivity and their captors.

The data will not be used against the crew during the court of inquiry where they will be held accountable for their actions.

The Navy also announced a marriage ceremony is scheduled Jan. 11 in the hospital chapel. Storekeeper 3/c Edward S. Russell Jr., 25, Glendale, will marry Sharon McCartney, whose father is a district engineer for Los Angeles County.

Lecture Scheduled By Militant Leader

BERKELEY (UPI) — New Left activist Tom Hayden, founder of the militant Students for a Democratic Society, was scheduled to deliver the first lecture in a nine-part series today at the University of California.

Hayden, one of the organizers of demonstrations at the Chicago Democratic Convention last August, was prepared to share his views with students on the "New American Revolution."

Family Doctor Not Best Hangup Adviser

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) —People with sexual hangups usually turn first to their doctors for advice. That's a grave error, says a New York City obstetrician, because "most physicians are sexual cripples."

"The averages physician is not free enough from his own hangups to counsel in sex problems," Dr. Selig B. Neubardt told Michigan State University's seven-week seminar yesterday on "Sexuality — A Search for Perspective."

Neubardt, a guest lecturer, said doctors are normally the first place people turn for sexual advice. Its usually the worst place they could go.

He said that until recently, medical courses contained no instruction on sex, leaving doctors unequipped to counsel patients with sex problems.

"And a lot of good doctors are troubled by this," he said. "They want to help but they don't know how."

A psychology professor from the University of Houston also said yesterday Americans mistakenly believe college students are more promiscuous these days because of increased emphasis on sex in newspapers, books and magazines.

"For example, although 75 per cent of college girls express they belief that their classmates are sleeping around, surveys and research studies consistently point out that only 20 per cent of all college girls experience premarital intercourse," said James K. McCary.

McCary said today's college students are no more promiscuous than their parents were. They just think they are.

"In a recent preview of the new Kinsey report, researchers found few differences between the sexual attitudes of today's young men and women, and those sexual attitudes and behavior on which they reported 25 years earlier," McCary said.

"Promiscuity is not rampant among college students," he said. "There is, on the other hand, considerable evidence that today's young people, especially the college population, are behaving responsibly. Indeed they demonstrate considerable moral strength in their concern for the welfare and rights of others."

Airline May Get Exemption

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's Public Utilities Commission voted yesterday to consider exempting Skymark Airlines from state regulations.

By law, the commission cannot regulate an airline that flies outside of the state and Skymark says it now operates to Reno as well as to California points.

If the PUC should exempt Skymark, the line would be free of any controls since the federal Civil Aeronautics Board has refused to supervise lines that use planes of less than 12,500 pounds

Skymark, with headquarters in Sacramento, flies DeHavilland Otters, which carry 19 passengers and weigh less than 12,500 pounds.

Carport Request

An application by Charles F. Herndon to build a carport at 299 Brookside Drive is scheduled for consideration by the San Anselmo Design Review Committee at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

12 Crewmen Taken From A Life Raft

NEW YORK (AP) Twelve men from a research vessel that foundered in the North Atlantic were plucked from a life raft today after spending 26 hours in the open sea, the Coast Guard said. The men were wet and cold but were otherwise unharmed.

The Essikristine, a Norwegian freighter, picked up the men at 2 a.m., a Coast Guard spokesman in New York said, after the deck officer spotted flashlight signals.

The 12 men huddled in the single life raft after abandoning their ship, the Sea Surveyor of New London, Conn., at midnight Monday, 20 minutes before the vessel sank about 280 miles southeast of New York.

The Sea Surveyor, 118 feet boat division of the General Dynamics Corp. An air-sea search was begun after the ship failed to report its position at noon yesterday while on its way to a rendezvous with a U.S. Navy submarine.

Turkeys were so common in the Connecticut Valley in 1717 that they sold for less than a penny a pound.

Cranston Not Happy With Lodge Selection

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite mild criticism of two appointments, Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., says he believes President-elect Nixon "is making an effort to find men of ability" for his new administration.

At his first news conference yesterday, the former state controller said he had reservations about Nixon's choice of Henry Cabot Lodge to head U.S. negotiators at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris and of Alaska Gov. Walter Hickel as interior secretary.

Cranston said he believed Lodge would offer little change from former policies "if he is left to his own devices" and added he would have preferred Nixon to appoint a chief negotiator "with no commitment with past policies."

The newly elected senator also expressed differences of opinion with Hickel, saying he believes the country cannot meet the problems of air and water pollution and noise without high national standards. The remark was in contrast to a recent statement by Hickel.

Cranston added he would be interested in learing what Hickel meant by saying he opposed "conservation for conservation's sake" when the Senate Interior Committee meets to consider the nomination Jan. 15.

Hickel, in Cranston's opinion, has "displayed not too great an interest in conservation."

But Cranston has praise for other Nixon appointments, particularly that of David Packard as undersecretary of defense. He expressed admiration for Packard's ability and his decision to place in trust his $300 million of Hewlett-Packard stock and forfeit any profit while he remains as undersecretary.

Model U.N. Role To Tam Students

The United Nations Club at Tamalpais High School will send two delegations next month to the Model U. N. conference at Berkeley.

One delegation will represent Israel and the other will be an "observer delegation" for Vietnam, since Vietnam is not a U. N. member.

The Israel delegation will submit resolutions to five committees for possible presentation to the General Assembly meeting Feb. 13-15.

GALE WINDS — Winds gusting up to 125 miles per hour caused heavy damage at Boulder, Colo., last night. At least five planes were damaged, countless homes wrecked and at least one death blamed on the hurricane-force winds. (UPI Telephoto)

Public Zone For Racoon Straits Area

The Tiburon Planning Commission has resolved the question of new construction along the edge of Racoon Straits by establishing a public zone adjacent to existing buildings, Commissioner Allan Thompson reported.

The commission retained the duplex zone on property inboard of the public zone but refused to extend the duplex area any further into the bay than at the edge of the existing buildings, Thompson said.

Residents had requested the establishment of a building line which generally followed the existing structures but asked that the public zone be removed and the duplex zone extend to the full length of privately owned property along the straits, Thompson said.

The commission, meeting Monday night, also asked planning consultant George Gatter to clarify the zoning ordinance to allow property owners to include property in a public zone as part of their total parcel for computing density.

The Tiburon Planning Commission also:

MAIN STREET — Approved precise plans for docks and shops at 1-11 Main Street subject to approval of the design review board.

TRAILS PLAN — Accepted the Tiburon trails plan, noting that certain areas will require further study, and recommended its adoption to the city council.

DISCUSSIONS — Postponed discussion on the proposed sign ordinance and housing plan to a study session at 8 p.m. Jan. 20 because of the lateness of the hour.

Boulder, Colo., Hit By Hurricane Winds

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Hurricane-force winds which peaked at more than 125 miles per hour ripped through Boulder last night, leaving mangled telephone poles, downed power lines, splintered trees and wrecked homes.

The winds were blamed for the death of James A. Madden, 28, of Greeley, Colo., killed when a pickup camper was blown off Interstate 25 north of Denver and turned over twice.

Boulder police said roofs were ripped off more than a dozen homes, countless others were denuded of shingles and several were heavily damaged by falling trees.

Eight single-engine private aircraft were destroyed at the Boulder airport. A prairie fire near the airport charred a swath five miles long and burned one unoccupied building.

Countless utility poles were blown down and half the city of 50,000 was without power. The main six-lane thoroughfare into the city was closed for several hours by downed utility poles and power lines which snapped about.

Twenty persons were treated at Community Hospital for cuts received either from wind-blown debris or when they were blown about.

A spokesman for the National Center for Atmospheric Research at the south edge of Boulder said their instruments could not measure wind gusts past 125 miles per hour. Six times the needle was blown off the graph, the spokesman said. Wind gusts of over 100 miles per hour were recorded more than 125 times, he said.

Haiku Festival Is Scheduled Feb. 7

The blossoming of Mill Valley's wild plum trees will be celebrated with a "haiku festival" on Feb. 7 in the gallery of the Mill Valley Library.

At 3:30 p.m., Mill Valley grade school children will read haikus they have written. At 8 p.m. Mill Valley poets will read their own haikus.

Both haiku programs are sponsored by the Tamalpais Writers' Workship in cooperation with the Mill Valley Library.

Workshop Set

The winter quarter of the Tamalpais Writers' workshop will begin at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at 5 Cascade Way in Mill Valley and will continue for 10 Thursdays. Further information may be obtained from director Melba Ludlow.

Outbreak Of Hog Cholera Is Reported

Hog cholera — the first outbreak in California in 18 months — has been discovered among the 180 hogs on the property of St. Vincent's School for Boys near Marinwood.

The state agriculture department reported that all the hogs which have been exposed or infected have been placed under quarantine and will be destroyed.

Hog cholera, which is not contagious to humans, is fatal to swine, according to R. Allan Ballard, county agricultural commission. The hogs usually sicken and died quickly, he said.

The nearest hogs outside of St. Vincent's are north of Hamilton Air Force Base, Ballard added.

The owner will be paid by state and federal governments for his loss, according to the state agriculture department.

Clean-Up Drive Wins Approval

The Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce board agreed today to undertake a "clean-up, perk-up, spruce-up" campaign for 1969, President Ben A. Farlatti reported.

Farlatti said the board agreed to plant two Christmas trees, one on each side of the bus depot on Tiburon Boulevard, to start the campaign.

The board will also urge property owners along Tiburon Boulevard to plant trees to improve the appearance of the street, Farlatti said.

School Bond Panel Selects Drive Name

San Rafael Elementary School District's steering committee for a $2.1 million bond election Feb. 18 has selected a name for the bond committee, "Your Elementary Schools" committee.

Thus the committee will have the initials Y.E.S., designed to garner a yes vote for the bonds.

Named as area chairmen, one for each school in the district, were:

Mrs. Robert Rehfeldt, Bahia Vista School; Frans J. Roosen, Coleman; Mrs. Gladys Gilliland, Glenwood; Mrs. Wendy Jackson and Mrs. Kay Oslar, San Pedro; Shirley Harris, Laurel Dell; Mrs. Bode Nubia, West End; Wilson Nolan, Sun Valley; Mrs. Richard Brundt, Hartzell.

Mrs. Jim Fust, and Janet Cooper, Gallinas; Mrs. Victor Johnson, MacPhail; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little; and Mrs. Carl Pharis, Santa Venetia.

Robert Rimes has been named public information mamager with Mrs. Lee Battat in charge of publicity; Mary Jane Reims, campaign material, and Wesley W. Page and R. Ross Talley, speakers bureau.

The committee will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the schools administration building, Third and E streets.

Turnabout Gun Policy Urged

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A lawmaker whose ancestors were New England minutemen introduced a bill yesterday that would every able-bodied New Hampshireman to own a firearm and 500 rounds of ammunition or face a fine of $100 and six months in jail.

Sen. John Chandler, Jr. R-Warner, said he never owned a gun in his life. But he said in colonial New Hampshire, "every able-bodies man had a gun and it might come in handy these days."

Chandler added that his bill is a "countermeasure to anticipated gun control legislation that might be introduced" during the 1969 session of the New Hampshire Legislature.

Large Dead Whale Found Off Bolinas

A large dead whale was sighted yesterday morning bobbing in the water about 200 yards off shore near Bolinas, residents reported.

The whale was being devoured by several smaller killer whales, according to the reports.

TODAY'S NEW LAMB

One thing that makes tender young lamb an American favorite is the variety of its cuts. If your budget's in a state of post-holiday shock, or next time you want to prove what a good cook you are, try this superb lamb recipe. Everything in this delicious one-dish dinner for four big appetites costs less than $1.50...and that includes the full two pounds of lamb!

Lamb Stew Western (makes 4 super-servings)

1 to 2 pounds lamb neck pieces, bone-in
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups stock or bouillon
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon thyme
2 bay leaves
2 medium-size potatoes, peeled and diced
1 cup sliced carrots
1 10-ounce package frozen cut corn
1 10-ounce package frozen cut green beans

Cook lamb in Dutch oven or large skillet over medium heat until browned on all sides. Drain off excess fat, if any. Blend in flour. Add stock or bouillon, salt, pepper, thyme, bay leaves, potatoes and carrots; mix well. Cover and cook over medium heat 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add corn and beans and mix well. Cover and cook over medium heat 20 miuntes, or until vegetables are tender, stirring occasionally. Note: add small amount of water, if needed, from time to time during cooking.

Court To Test Lay Probation Guidance Plan

The young criminal offender placed on probation in Marin Municipal Court may soon find that, instead of a professionally trained government worker, his probation officer is a plumber.

Presiding Judge Hadden W. Roth of Municipal Court said today that he and probation department workers have inaugurated a program of assigning community volunteers to work as probation officers for criminals aged 18 through approximately 25.

Each volunteer will be assigned one probationer for counseling, he said.

EARLIER TRIALS

The program, based on successful experiments in Royal Oak, Mich., and in Denver, will use successful members of the community as voluntary probation officers in an effort to make young offenders feel a part of society, the judge said.

Present programs use volunteers who are full-time accountants, doctors, businessmen, lawyers, salesman, housewives, teachers, plumbers, secretaries and engineers.

The volunteers will receive guidance from professionally trained probation workers, who will supervise their work, the judge said.

Judge Roth said he hopes the youngsters will respond more quickly to suggestions for self improvement made by someone outside the formal structure of government. The program should also teach them that the community cares.

"One of our main problems is that young people get alienated from the community. This is one way to help them back into the community," he said.

The program should also help the volunteers, giving them better insight into the problems young people are having, Judge Roth said.

ADULT RECORDS

Approximately 80 per cent of all adults in prison today had a record of misdemeanor offenses before being convicted of major crimes, the judge said.

This is a program to rehabilitate young people before they get to prison and the use of community volunteers is natural because, "in today's complex society, we all have the responsibility for solving our community crime problem," Judge Roth said.

Anyone wishing to become a volunteer probation officer should communicate their desire with Mel Augustine, supervising probation officer, at the Marin County Probation Department offices in the Cheda Building, 1029 Fourth Street, San Rafael, the judge said.

Citizen's Share Of Debt Rising

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Each American's share of the national debt rose nearly $60 in 1968 to a record $1,786.08, the Treasury Department said yesterday.

Treasury placed the national debt on Dec. 31 at a record $361.2 billion. The Census Bureau estimated the population of the United States at 202,254,000.

This breaks down to a hypothetical $1,786.08 owed by every man, woman and child—$58.49 more than the 200,248,000 Americans owed at the end of 1967 when the debt was $345.9 billion.

Mill Valley Studies Street Lighting Test

A two-block demonstration street lighting project on Miller Avenue between La Goma Street and Evergreen Avenue will cost $12,237 to install and $1,801 in additional yearly maintenance costs, according to the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

The demonstration project would include 31 bowl fixtures on 12-foot standard painted poles and seven 30-foot davit poles with standard fixtures. The lights can be either 175 watt mercury vapor or 179 watt incandescent lights for the same costs, John Zima of the utility company told the Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee Monday night, secretary Jeanne McLean reported.

The incandescent lights would produce one-half of the light output of the mercury vapor lights, Lima said.

The committee asked Zima to prepare cost estimates for an expanded demonstration project which would extend from a point west of Willow Avenue to Valley Circle.

Utilities on this section of Miller Avenue have been underground and street lights for the area have not been selected, leaving the area open for a demonstration project, Mrs. McLean said.

Committee members said they preferred a 12-foot untapered pole with a neck betewen the pole and globe adequate for a 22-inch white plastic globe.

Zima said his company would supply light standards in aluminum or galvanized steel, painted any color "within reason," Mrs. McLean said.

In other action, the committee approved plans for an eight-unit apartment house at 181 Miller Avenue subject to a subsequent review of landscape plans for the property.

Trustee Boss Defends Panel To Probe Riots

CHICO (AP) — The head of the State College Trustees denies an assertion by Negro member Edward O. Lee that he was excluded from decisions about troubled San Francisco State College.

"Mr. Lee has not been excluded from anything," Chairman Theodore Meriam said yesterday. "I named five trustees to be an advisory group to acting San Francisco State College President S.I. Hayakawa — I didn't happen to choose Mr. Lee.

"There were other San Francisco Bay Area trustees who were not chosen."

Meriam said the strike by the American Federation of Teachers at S.F. State was "irresponsible action on the part of professional faculty people."

There are about 26,000 police officers in New York City.

Strep Infections Lead Disease List

Streptococcus infections continued last week to plague Marin County with 84 cases reported to the public health department. Sixty-six of the cases were in Novato.

Also reported were two cases of mumps and two of infectious hepatitis.

Canada Ratifies Nuclear Treaty

MOSCOW (AP) — Canadian Ambassador Robert A.D. Ford today presented to the Soviet Foreign Ministry his country's ratification of the international treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons.

Canada is the fifth signer of the treaty to deposit its ratification in Moscow. The embassy said Canadian representatives in London and Washington are presenting similar instruments of ratification there.

While a large number of countries have signed the treaty, the only four who previously deposited ratification papers in Moscow were Ireland, Britain, East Germany and Denmark.

Superintendent Search To Open

Dr. Glen Grant, assistant to the chancellor at the University of California, Berkeley, will meet with the Dixie School District board at 8 p.m. today in the district office to help plan a search for a new superintendent.

Also on the board's agenda is discussion of a district application for approximately $50,000 in federal funds to finance an "exemplary" library. Such a library would provide better facilities than ordinarily found in elementary districts, Supt. Dennie B. Willis explained, and would serve as a model for other school districts.

Policy Is Reversed On Funds For Library

Reversing its position on federal funds for library materials, the San Anselmo School District board last night voted 3 to 2 to apply for a grant of $1,681.

The proposal was rejected at the last meeting.

Dr. Elmer A. Weden and Pieter Toal continued their opposition last night because part of the money has to be given to San Anselmo parochial schools for library materials, Supt. Stephen L. Parodi reported. They believed the practice conflicts with separation of church and state, he added.

Parodi said federal law gives private and parochial schools the right to pick up proportionate shares of the library money.

Of the $1,681, St. Anselm's would get $204 and San Domenico School for Girls, $99, with the rest staying in the San Anselmo district, Parodi said.

If the board had turned down the proposal again, Parodi said, it would have been responsible for finding another agency to fund the parochial school requests.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

STUDY COMMITTEE — Learned the educational specifications committee, with about 45 members from the schools and the community, will hold its first formal meeting at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 16 at the Red Hill School library to begin discussions of the educational program and needed facilities.

BUDGET — Appointed Rosemary Gicker, a library aide, and Albert Ludditt, superintendent of buildings and grounds, to the budget advisory committee. The committee will meet next at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Red Hill Library.

PERSONNEL — Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Joanne Smith, third grade teacher at Sleepy Hollow School whose husband was transferred to Montreal, Canada, and appointed Mrs. Kathleen Kluse to replace her at $7,735 per year; accepted the resignation of Mrs. Norma Molica, secretary at Sleepy Hollow whose husband was transferred to Chicago, and appointed Mrs. Estelle Kyle to replace her at $390 a month.

Mare Island Sailor Hurt On Highway 37

Robert Cook, 22, a Navy Storekeeper 3/c stationed at Mare Island, suffered a broken left leg, face cuts and a back injury early today in a traffic accident at Highway 37 and Lakeville Highway in Southern Sonoma County.

Cook was treated at Petaluma General Hospital at 6:50 a.m. and was to be transferred to Oak Knoll Naval Hospital, Oakland. The California Highway Patrol had no details of the accident this morning.

Robert Corlett Quits Hub Panel; Urged To Reconsider

Robert W. Corlett, a member of the San Anselmo School District board since 1957, resigned last night, but it wasn't accepted.

The board asked Corlett to reconsider since his term expires June 30 anyway, Supt. Stephen L. Parodi reported.

Corlett, an attorney who lives at 14 Carolina Avenue, gave the press of business as his reason for resigning, Parodi said.

Corlett has served as board chairman and as president of Marin County School Boards Association.

Parodi said Corlett will give his answer at the next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 21 in the Red Hill School Library.

Other trustees whose terms expire June 30 are Pieter Toal and Franklin C. Latcham.

Transit Discussion

A public presentation of a $100 million proposal for bayshore "transit centers" that would serve ferries, rail rapid transit and helicopters in Marin will be presented by its author, architect David Elliott Stovel of San Rafael, at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Civic Center.

Campus Rebel Is Found Guilty

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Peter Hands, 24, a student at San Francisco State College, was found guilty yesterday of resisting arrest during demonstrations on the campus Dec. 3.

A municipal court jury of six men and six women took 90 minutes to deliver its verdict—the first conviction stemming from campus unrest which has resulted in nearly 150 arrests.

Hands was ordered to return to court next Wednesday to be sentenced. He could get six months in jail, a $500 fine, or both.

Drug Seller Gets A Year Behind Bars

Robert Nelson, 22, was given a year in County Jail today by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court for selling methamphetamine (speed).

He also was placed on five years' probation. The action came after Judge Gardiner sentenced Nelson to state prison for a term of one-to-five years, then suspended it.

Nelson, of San Rafael, pleaded guilty Nov. 15 to selling the narcotic Jan. 5, 1968, to agents of the Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau.

A co-defendant, Robert Drolla, 21, also of San Rafael, pleaded guilty Nov. 15, but sentencing has been continued until 9 a.m. next Wednesday.

A third defendant, James Dewey Bell, 34, was scheduled for judgment today on his Nov. 15 guilty plea to selling methamphetamine to agents Jan. 18. Sentencing by Judge Gardiner was continued until 9 a.m. next Wednesday, however, after his attorney, Harold Hayes of San Rafael, requested time to review Bell's probation report.

Bell also pleaded guilty Dec. 18 to selling marijuana Jan. 24, 1968 to an agent. Judgment on that charge was scheduled for today, then continued until a later date.

Reorganized Firm Is Low Refuse Bidder

A West Marin garbage company which suddenly went out of business last summer and caused a collection crisis, is the low bidder for an exclusive garbage franchise for the area.

Michael A. Chrystal, county administrative analyst, said that bids opened on Monday show that West Marin-San Geronimo Garbage Disposal Co. was the lowest of seven bidders on a 10-year contract with the county.

Because of disruption in service last summer, Marin supervisors decided to give an exclusive franchise for urban areas of West Marin, including San Geronimo Valley, Inverness-Point Reyes Station and developed areas at Drake's Bay.

West Marin-San Geronimo Garbage Disposal, which claims it has reorganized and is back in business, offered to collect garbage for $1.25 per month per 30-gallon container, with once a week pickup.

Six other bids ranged to a high of $2.75 per month.

Chrystal said he and county purchasing agent Doug Edelen will investigate the financial background and credit ratings of the bidders before making a recommendation to the board of supervisors Tuesday.

Four-Car Crash Injures Woman

A Petaluma woman was injured in a four-car accident yesterday at 9:15 a.m. at B and Fifth streets, Petaluma.

Jocelyn . Watkins, 40, of 2121 Chapman Lane, said she would see her family physician for treatment of a back injury. Police said her car collided with one driven by Edgar W. Biswell, 73, of 419 Keller Street, Petaluma.

The Biswell car also struck two cars parked on Fifth Street owned by Gene Ley, 6 Haven Drive, Petaluma, and Robert Eisenhower, 322 Stuart Drive, Petaluma.

Playground Loses To Firehouse Plan

Schematic and plot plans for a $78,000 expansion and remodeling of the main fire station were approved by the Sausalito City Council last night despite objections by the recreation commission that the plan would wipe out a playground adjoining the station.

Commission Chairman Eleanor Cruikshank said the playground, containing an old fire truck, swings and other equipment, is widely used and is more valuable than "four parking spaces and some shrubbery" proposed for the site.

Councilmen said the playground is in a hazardous location near the station and near busy Bridgeway.

The station plans prepared by architect Don Olsen call for a two-story addition of 3,200 square feet to provide storage for two more fire vehicles, a hose tower and space for clothing lockers. The day room will become a waiting room and outer office, the kitchen the chief's office, and the dormitory a classroom. The station will get a new roof and new electrically operated doors. The addition will cost an estimated $58,000 and remodeling another $20,000.

The council also overrode objections by Carl W. Spring of the Sausalito Citizens Council and by the Sausalito Woman's Club and repealed an ordinance banning parking on city streets from 2 to 6 a.m. The ordinance was challenged by a citizen ticketed for parking near the woman's club, the only place in town where the ordinance was enforced.

The ordinance "has worked since 1940," Spring said. "All we have to do is relax and let it alone." The city has more important business, he said, than to take care of "Some one guy who hasn't the energy to provide his own offstreet parking . . . one new resident stirs up a stink because he chose to violate a city ordinance."

The club complained that all-night parking would take up street parking needed for club functions, "a great inconvenience to us."

Councilman Jan Dyk said the city could set specific areas for special parking restrictions, "but if we have an over-all ordinance and only enforce it one place . . . we can't defend it."

After the ordinance was repealed unanimously, Dyk asked the staff to report whether parking should be limited in any parts of town, including the woman's club area.

The council agreed to continue the fight against the Marincello development on Marin headlands, alloting $436.50 to pay half the cost of preparing transcripts for an appeal of a Marin Superior Court decision. The court ruled that Marin County acted legally in hearings on the zoning and master plan for Marincello. Sausalito sued the county to block construction of the planned community, envisioned as a city of 20,000.

Other plaintiffs, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Erickson and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Perkins, have agreed to pay other legal fees for the appeal.

Potential developers of the former American Distillery site north of Sausalito won a miniscule victory when Mayor Earl N. Dunphy overrode Dyk's objections to request city officials take a look at a similar development in San Mateo County.

Dyk objected the trip would "wash the brains" of the visitors and said the San Mateo development had nothing to do with local zoning.

Dunphy asked councilmen as well as City Mgr. George M. M. Patterson, Fire Chief Charles E. Masten, Police Chief Edward S. Kreins and Public Works Director Norman Wohlschkaeger to visit the San Mateo project Saturday as invited by R & B.

Sausalito City Council Also:

ANIMAL CONTROL — Favored a proposed county dog control ordinance which would provide additional patroling in Sausalito.

MISSILES — Received a letter from Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall reporting "some success in making the Defense Department . . . sensitive to environment values." Udall enclosed a letter from Defense Secretary Clark L. Clifford which said the military seek, "to the degree possible," to minimize unfavorable impact from Sentinel sites. The Army is making test drillings on Wolfback Ridge above Sausalito for building a possible Sentinel antimissile site there.

CAAB — Named Phillip Lewis to complete the term of Theodore Boutmy on the Community Appearance Advisory board.

VARIANCES — Denied a variance requested by Fred DeCook to allow an enclosed parking space at 194 Cazneau Avenue; let stand planning commission approval of a variance for William Watkins to continue using two apartments in a commercial-industrical district on Gate 5 Road; set a Jan. 21 public hearing on a variance sought by Donn Emmons to legalize an intrusion into free space at 117 Harrison Avenue.

JOINT MEET — Set a joint meeting with the planning commission for 8 p.m. Tuesday to study the proposed central waterfront plan.

LIBRARY — Took no action on a request from the library board to move toward acquiring other potential library sites since acquisition of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad property is bogged in red tape.

PARK — Approved an amendment to the city-school district agreement for a Bayside Park, changing its proposed location to a site north of Lincoln Drive in Marina Vista subdivision.

BAY FILL — Postponed to Jan. 21 a request by Edgewater Yacht Co. to fill 6,900 square feet of the bay adjoining Humboldt Street to provide parking spaces for a building there, and asked planning consultant William Spangle Jr. to report for Tuesday's joint meeting whether the fill would coincide with the master plan for the area.

PARCEL AREA — Approved publishing an amendment excluding railroad easements in computing total parcel areas required for development.

BACKYARD BURNING — Sent a wire to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District board objecting to a proposed ban on backyard burning. Councilman Robin Sweeny opposed sending the wire.

TRAILER PARKING — Approved publishing an ordinance to ban parking a "house car," camper or other vehicle used for habitation for more than eight consecutive hours on city streets.

COMMENDATIONS — Sent commendations to Police Chief Edward S. Kreins, leaving this month to become chief in Pleasant Hill, and to former Third District Supervisor Peter S. Behr.

SANITATION — Took no action on a request from the Marin County Sanitation Department to amend the food sanitation ordinance to require food businesses to get county approval before building or remodeling a food establishment. Building Inspector William L. Hynes reported the present ordinance requires final approval by the county health department before a food establishment can open for business.

SAUSALITO'S NEW LIBRARY CHIEF NAMED

Kathleen Worsley has been hired as librarian for Sausalito, City Mgr. George M. Patterson told the city council last night.

Mrs. Worsley, a native of San Jose, has worked in the Santa Clara city library, the St. Thomas Library in the Virgin Islands, and the Seattle city library. She holds a bachelor's degree in history and a master's in library science.

She will start work Monday at a salary of $745 a month. She succeeds Kay Berteau, who left in November when her husband was transferred to Switzerland.

Astronauts Set For Road Race

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and L. Gordon Cooper Jr. will drive in a formula Vee race at Daytona International Speedway Jan. 31, car owner Jim Rathmann said yesterday.

Rathmann, former Indianapolis 500 winner, has entered four cars in the formula Vee event.

He listed his wife Kay as the driver in one of them. She and Conrad shared driving time in a similar car during national sports car races here last August.

Navy Cmdr. Conrad is one of the backup crew for the Apollo 9 flight scheduled to be launched from Cape Kennedy Feb. 28. Air Force Col. Cooper is scheduled to be one of the backup crew for the following mission, Apollo 10.

New Trio Will Bow On Monday

Three Marin musicians, soprano Gwen Curatilo, pianist Robaline Meacham and violinist Charles Meacham, have formed a new ensemble and will appear in a San Francisco debut concert at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the San Francisco Jewish Community Center.

The ensemble, called Trio Con Voce, has researched and will perform unusual material for voice and violin with piano accompaniment and rarely heard music for voice and violin alone.

For this first concert they will perform works by Handel, Mozart, Holst, Milhaud, Villa-Lobos, Sertaneja, Ives and Henze.

The Eiffel Tower in Paris draws 2 million visitors a year.

Date Set For Apollo 9 Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency has set Feb. 28 as the date for the next major step toward its goal of landing an American on the moon this summer.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration yesterday officially announced 8 a.m. (PST) the last day of February as the "go" time for Apollo 9, a 10-day earth orbital mission to test the complete three-part spacecraft designed for the moon mission.

If all goes well on Apollo 9, in the spring Apollo 10 will orbit the moon at low altitude. Then, in mid-summer, two Apollo 11 astronauts could be the first men to set foot on the earth's satellite.

Race, Migration Issues Snarling London Parley

LONDON (AP) — A row over race relations simmered behind the scenes of the Commonwealth Conference today and threatened to breach the surface calm of the 28-nation summit meeting.

The dispute pitted Africans against Asians and both Africans and Asians against the British. The West Indians were anxious spectators.

Ministers of eight involved countries agreed to form a special group to study ways of regulating the flow of Commonwealth migrants to Britain.

At stake is the future of thousands of persons of Asian descent who soon may seek new homes in Britain after losing their livelihoods in such African Commonwealth countries as Kenya, Uganda and Zambia.

Baseball Key To Memorial Park Design

San Anselmo City Council last night unanimously voted to change its master plan for Memorial Park rather than de-emphasize baseball in the city.

The change adds a third baseball diamond to the plan for the park. It deletes an amphitheater and stage planned for the greenery complex.

PLAN CRITICIZED

The switch was voted when the park and recreation commission, criticized by landscape architect William Kapranos for altering the plan without council knowledge, insisted that the city's Little League program would suffer with only two diamonds.

Kapranos told the council he just learned that the park and recreation commission was changing the master plan he drew. Commissioners should leave planning to the professionals, he said.

"Someone has taken an expensive master plan, wadded it up and thrown it in the waste basket," he said.

Kapranos claimed the commission acted without council knowledge in changing the plan. Commissioner Robert England said councilmen had instructed them to propose changes in the plan.

BASEBALL PLAN

Mayor Duane C. Ragan ordered Councilman Kenneth L. Anderson, a commissioner, and Kapranos to meet and discuss redesigning the plan to include the third baseball diamond.

England told the council that a new plan will delete the amphitheater and some shrubbery in exchange for the diamond, barbecue pits and a driving range.

Councilmen voted to advertise for bids on an underground sprinkling system for the park. Engineer's estimate for the project is $15,000. The council has budgeted $9,000.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

NEW PARK — Instructed the parks and recreation commission to open the new Robson-Harrington Park as soon as possible and said it will consider hiring a live-in cartaker couple for the park during its budget sessions.

POOL — Discussed but took no action on Robert M. Scott's proposal that the city build a swimming pool complex at Sorich Park with funds raised privately. Initial cost of the project was estimated at $75,000.

MEETING — Scheduled its next joint meeting with the park and recreation commission for Feb. 4.

Marijuana Sale Charge Denied

George Stanley Byrne, 21, of Petaluma, pleaded innocent to charges of selling marijuana Monday in Petaluma Municipal Court.

Judge Alexander J. McMahon will set a date for a preliminary hearing at 2 p.m. Jan. 27.

Byrne was arrested Dec. 22 by Petaluma police and Sonoma County narcotics investigators in his room at the Petaluma Hotel. John Topolewski, 19, of 125 East Court Street, Petaluma, was arrested for possession of marijuana at the same time. Topolewski also has pleaded innocent to the charge. Both were released on their own recognizance.

THROUGH TUNNEL — Driver Ed O'Shea of Tiburon, who has been with the Eastshore Bus. Co. for 11 years, daily makes the round trip for the Novato commuters. O'Shea makes two stops in Novato and arrives in San Francisco at 7:40 a.m., returning at 5 p.m. The cost to each of the 41 commuters: $39 monthly, slightly more than Greyhound charges.

CHARTER PRIVATE BUS

Novatans Take Commuter Action

By RICHARD D. BOYLE

The commuter, whose problems are analyzed, scrutinized categorized and studied to death but seldom solved, is fighting back.

A group of Novato commuters, fed up with the procrastination of various governmental bodies, has decided to do something about its plight. They chartered their own bus to take commuters from Novato to downtown San Francisco every morning and evening.

"We have done more in three months than the Marin County Transit District has in the four years of its existence," said Wayne Bulette of 70 San Benito Way, Novato, one of the organizers of the citizen bus service. "We were just tired of waiting for studies so we decided to do something ourselves about the problem."

The transit district said in 1965 that better bus service was the probable solution of the county's traffic problems, but has failed since to do much other than make countless studies of the problem.

The idea for the commute service started when several members of the Improvement Association, disgruntled over poor service provided by Greyhound Lines, decided to follow the lead of other successful charter bus efforts in Terra Linda, Lucas Valley and Petaluma.

"We tried to give the people of Novato an alternative to Greyhound, which uses its oldest equipment in this part of the county," said Bulette. "Their buses were cold and drafty in the winter, sweltering in the summer and were very stuffy because of poor ventilation.

"I discovered that driving my own car wasn't the answer; besides being uneconomical, parking alone was between $40 and $50 per month, the traffic was miserable," said Bulette.

In November the commuters started their first commute run with 25 passengers. Now they have a full bus of 41 riders. The bus leaves San Marin at 6:40 a.m., makes a stop at Novato Boulevard and Wilson Avenue at 6:45 and another stop at South Novato and Rowland boulevards at 6:50. It arrives in San Francisco at 7:40 a.m., making several stops, and returns at 5 p.m.

The bus costs commuters $39 per month, which is slightly higher than the $1.46 per day that Greyhound charges.

But the dedicated charter bus commuters don't seem to mind.

"Greyhound has no regard for Novato commuters," said Mrs. Vera Hollingfield of 12 Washington Street, Novato. "Poor service, rough ride and slow — they took us all over the county for an hour and a half before we got to the city."

Mrs. Frances McSorley, 273 San Felipe Way, another charter commuter, added while relaxing in her soft seat on the bus: "I couldn't wait for another way of commuting. I jumped at the chance when I heard about this."

John Schoonover of 1160 Roslia Drive, Novato, said after his first three days on the bus: "I am very much impressed by the comfort and the advantage of arriving closer to my work. I gave up on Greyhound — the discomfort, draft and long walk from the Ferry Building were too much."

Wayne Sartain, 141 San Felipe Way, Novato, president of the San Marin group, said after driving for nine years he has found the bus the "best way to commute."

Bulette called the riders "the best bunch of commuters ever assembled." The happy group even holds a weekly cocktail party on the bus. "The bus driver brings the cups, everyone chips in on the ice," remarked Bulette.

One of the best advantages, noted Bulette, is that the bus stops near the commuters' homes while Greyhound stops only at the downtown Novato depot. "Many can even walk to a bus stop," he added.

One of the happiest riders is Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, the battle weary champion of the commuter.

Before the commute bus started, Hardcastle, until recently a director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, said he was about to give up on Marin and move to Contra Costa to be close to the Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART) system. "This bus was my salvation," said the smiling Hardcastle, as he rested his head on soft cushion while the plush bus inched its way through the snarled Waldo Grade traffic.

Looking out the large picture window of the highway cruiser type bus, Hardcastle reflected on the problem of the commuter. "Look at that," he said, "One bus like this could take over 30 cars off the road."

Hardcastle said the problem would never be resolved until more drivers got off the road and the bus seems to be the best answer. "One idea," he said, "could be to use one lane of the freeway for the exclusive use of buses. If drivers saw buses whizzing by they would be induced to leave their cars home" Another plan, he added, would be to pave the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way for bus use.

"People today are fascinated with high speed trains, but transit experts agree that buses are far better," he said. "The big attraction of buses is that they serve neighborhoods and can go downtown, while trains must go from depot to depot."

Hardcastle called the Marin transit district a "great disappointment" to the people of the county. He asserted that the county must get into the bus business, saying: "The people must accept the fact that mass transportation must be subsidized. Marin must be dynamic and pay; a public transit system just can't be self-supporting."

Hardcastle pointed to Greyhound to make this point. "Greyhound is losing large sums of money on commuter service here — they just have no incentive to improve." He said they don't want more passengers because this would mean Greyhound would simply lose more money.

Hardcastle said the answer might be to get Golden Gate Bridge funds for a county bus service, but the bridge district would not turn over money until Marin's transit district came up with a master plan.

CATCHING 40 WINKS — Gary Neal of San Marin takes a nap before the Novato commuter bus reaches San Francisco. Thomas Hardcastle, of Novato, hero of the deprived and neglected commuter, says the bus is divided about equally between the "sleepers" and the "readers."

COMMUTERS BEGIN TRIP — In the chill of the morning air, before the sun shines, riders board Novato's citizen charter bus to San Francisco. This stop, at 6:50 a.m., is at Rowland and South Novato boulevards.

END OF RIDE —Commuters hurriedly hop from the bus in a rush to work as the bus arrives in San Francisco at 7:40 a.m. The bus stops at several locations in that city, ending its run at the civic Center. (Independent-Journal photos by Roger Bockrath)

Marin City Help Remains Object

Marin County Redevelopment Agency directors last night assured homeowners they haven't abdicated any authority in Marin City's drive for a voice in planning and development.

"We're experiencing a very new thing, catching on all over the United States, where local people ask to have more voice in their destiny," said Chairman James O. Quiett. "This agency recognizes it to the point where it will work with local organizations."

The Marin City Home Owners and Improvement Association raised a series of questions in November about the future direction of Marin City.

Their concern came as the Marin City Council planned to assume as its role planning representative of the community and the newly formed Development Corporation of Marin City planned as its role, community development representative.

"The redevelopment agency doesn't surrender any right," said Director Richard S. Harding.

Jesse E. Berry, a homeowner, said homeowners were mainly concerned with the roles of various organizations and the applying of safeguards and standards. "There has never been a desire of the homeowners to be in a struggle for power," he explained.

The homeowners said in their November letter, "It is our feeling that the redevelopment agency, along with the planning commission, is responsible for the redeveloping of Marin City and the reviewing of its master plan."

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director, gave a step-by-step review of the procedures and policies which prevail and noted that on any plans for commercial development the agency will make the final decision.

On any amendment to the master plan there would be public hearings and it would be referred to the Marin County Planning Commission and ultimately would have to be approved by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, Stutsman explained.

Quiett said the local development corporation will have to meet the same standards as the California Developemnt Corp., under contract to undertake commercial development, or any other potential developer.

California Development Corp. "has failed to put together a package," and the agency shouldn't deny another group a chance to present its proposal for commercial development, Quiett said.

Berry said the board's presentation "answered quite a few of the homeowner's concern."

The howeowners also asked who was "backing" the recently created Development Corporation of Marin City, and Stutsman read the list of directors, seven of nine from Marin City.

Daniel Hayden, a corporation director, said there were no other "interests" except the nine directors. Eventually, he said, "we hope the entire community will be members of this corporation."

The local corporation plans, with federal financing, to construct a neighborhood shopping center to house the existing businesses in Marin City.

Attorney Hugh Lawrence, representing the corporation, said the corporation and the California Development Corp. had reached an agreement on use of the eight-acre commercial site near the entrance to Marin City.

As proposed the local corporation would develop a neighborhood shopping facility on one acre and have an option on an additional 1.5 acre for expansion, for a total of 2.5 acres.

The purchase price for the land would be determined by negotiations between the local corporation and the agency, Lawrence said.

He also mentioned that the local development corporation could become the sponsor of a proposed apartment project along Donahue Street in the Buckelew Street area.

Under the agreement, California Development Corp., which has a contract to develop the housing, would be reimbursed for its expenses on the property.

The agreement also provides for the local corporation to explore the feasibility of acquiring the existing 56 apartment units now owned by California Development Corp.

Agency directors took the proposed agreement under study, and adjourned until next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at the Manzanita Neighborhood Center. The Marin County Housing Authority will meet at 7:30 p.m. the same evening.

$672,395 Is Sought For Senior Housing

The Marin County Housing Authority last night applied for $672,395 in federal funds for a 40-unit senior citizen apartment project in Novato.

As planned, Smith and Haley of Oakland will construct the project on three acres at the northwest corner of Carmel Drive and Fourth Street, Novato.

Directors agreed not to pursue the possibility of constructing a 56-unit senior citizen project on Tamal Vista Boulevard, near Corte Madera, in unincorporated area opposite the Co-op Center.

Chairman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. reported that the Corte Madera Town Council opposed the project and he didn't feel the authority should "invest further time" on it.

The Marin County Housing Authority Also:

GROUNDSKEEPING — Heard complaints about inadequate groundskeeping and a request from Director Arthur Miller that additional groundsmen be hired. Stutsman said funds weren't available to hire additional men, but directors authorized hiring a man temporarily to fill in for a groundsman who is ill.

TELEVISION — Heard a report from Melvin Randolph, Marin City housing manager, that the community television antenna service is unsatisfactory, and agreed that a television contractor should be called in to check the system operated by Earle Stanton of San Francisco.

UTILITY — Approved monthly allowances for tenants who pay for utilities under the leased housing program as follows: $2 for garbage service and from $3 to $6 for water depending on the size of the tenant's house or apartment.

Hale, Banks Will Resign Redevelopment Positions

Herman J. Hale of Larkspur and Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr. of Marin City will be leaving the Marin County Redevelopment Agency board.

Banks said last night he intends to resign so he can concentrate on other civic duties, including his job as chairman of the Marin City Council.

Hale, who is also is a director of the Marin County Housing Authority, has written Marin County supervisors that he doesn't want to be reappointed to either board when his terms expire, Donald O. Sutsman, executive director, reported.

Hale, who was appointed to both boards in May 1965, said he plans to retire from his job as apprenticeship consultant with the state Division of Apprenticeship Standards in May or June and hopes to travel.

Hale's housing authority term expires Jan. 24, and his redevelopment agency term expires April 17.

Banks was appointed to the agency July 3, 1968, to succeed George C. Goheen, who resigned. Banks didn't set a resignation date, but said he probably would serve until his successor is appointed.

Agency directors agreed to postpone election of officers for 1969 until new members are appointed by supervisors.

Udall Favors Cities Over Apollo Spending

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall says "cities should come first" in the spending of public funds. "The trouble in our cities is now," he told a Town Hall audience yesterday.

"I tend to be earth-minded, and when we finish the moon missions we should put that money into our cities and into improving and enhancing our environment," Udall said.

Sirhan Murder Trial Halt Will Be Sought

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sirhan B. Sirhan's defense team sought today to throw his murder case out of court after a startling opening day demand that his trial for the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy be heard by two juries.

The Jordanian immigrant was brought back to the sealed off court room to watch his attorneys make the ritual attempts to get the case surpressed. (See also story, page 33.)

The trial had an unusual beginning yesterday when the defense argued that Sirhan should have two separate juries—one to decide his guilt or innocence and another to decide the penalty.

Superior Court Judge Herbert Walker quickly denied the motion by flambouyant Grant Cooper, chief defense counsul for the 24-year-old Arab.

But Walker, smiling broadly, granted Cooper's request that today's session start at 2 p.m. (PST) "because I have other commitments." This meant possibly would be time for arguing motions before the scheduled adjournment two-and-one half-hours later.

Trial for Sirhan, which began seven months after the senator was slain, was postponed several times because of Cooper's involvement in another trial and he still is tied up in ramifications of that case.

The request for two juries was permissible because California law divides determination of guilt and death penalty hearings into two separate proceedings. However, in most cases one jury is used for both.

It was a grim setting in the small court room yesterday, and the tiny Sirhan seemed to grow smaller in his leather chair as he listened to the judge speak in a gravel toned voice of the possibility of death in the gas chamber.

Constantly watched by two six-foot deputies, Sirhan spoke not a word during the 90-minute session which immediately ran into a snarl of defense motions.

After a session of more than an hour at the trial's outset behind the closed door of Walker's chambers, at which the judge was believed to have refused a 30-day continuance, Cooper sprang his jury proposal.

He argued that the process of selecting a jury would be greatly simplified and expedited if they were not asked whether they were unalterably opposed to bringing in a verdict of capital punishment, grounds for automatic exemption from serving.

Cooper contended that the first jury could decide on Sirhan's guilt or innocence. If they reached a verdict of first degree murder, he said, a second jury could be chosen to decide between the death penalty and life imprisonment.

A closed circuit TV camera in an air conditioning unit in the rear of the court transmitted the proceedings to a 4th floor auxiliary courtroom set aside for the overflow of press. It was a hazy picture and Sirhan was blotted out by the backs of the attorneys.

Cooper had two other motions ready for the afternoon session today.

He sought to quash the indictment on grounds the pool of prospective jurors was selected unconstitutionally because it barred certain occupations such as lawyers, doctors and nurses. Another motion contended the grand jury which indicted Sirhan was unconstitutional because it did not contain certain minority groups.

In all the legal wrangling, the name of Robert F. Kennedy was not spoken once. None of the members of his family or any of their representatives were here to witness the trial of the man accused of his murder.

Apple Crisp Dessert With Fancy Air

Apple Crisp has long been a favorite dessert in this country and in many European countries as well. It is a simple, "homey" dessert that everyone likes. But just wait until you try this more elaborate version that adds mincemeat, walnuts, dates, candied ginger and chocolate pieces, all blended to form a middle layer between two layers of apple slices. All this is topped with a spicy, buttery brown sugar crunch, and baked to a melting golden brown.

Served warm, with whipped cream or whipped topping, this is a company dessert you'll be proud to serve.

APPLE CONFECTION DESSERT

- 4 cups thinly sliced apples
- 1 cup prepared mincemeat
- ½ cup chopped walnuts
- ½ cup chopped pitted dates
- 2 tablespoons finely diced candied ginger (optional)
- ½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- ⅓ cup cranberry-apple juice
- 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ cup soft butter or margarine

Spread half the applie slices in a single layer in a greased shallow baking dish. Combine mincemeat, nuts, dates, ginger and chocolate pieces; spread over apples. Cover with remaining apple slices. Pour cranberry-apple juice over all.

Combine brown sugar, spices and salt; mix in butter until mixture is crumbly; spread evenly over apples; pat down. Bake at 350 ° for one hour, or until apples are tender. Serve warm with whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Baked Squash

Baking is an excellent way to prepare squash. Cover squash with butter or margarine, bacon or ham drippings, and bake at 400 degrees for 30 to 60 minutes. When the meat is tender, you can scrape it from the rind, mash it and serve like mashed potatoes. Mashed squash also freezes well. Some cooks like to add a small portion of brown sugar or maple syrup to the squash centers for baking, serving the vegetable then "as is."

Egg Whites Secret Of A Good Souffle

Souffles consist of a light, frothy baked dish containing well beaten eggs. During preparation the egg yolks and whites are separated. The whites are beaten untill stiff and the yolks form the basis of a thick sauce which may be flavored with cheese, vegetables, ground meats, fruits, etc. The sauce is gently folded into the whites and the dish is baked.

The secret of a good souffle is how to beat and handle the egg whites because they are what determine the volume and lightness of the souffle. Here are some helpful tips from home economists that will make your souffles a success:

Have the eggs at room temperature.

Never beat egg whites in a plastic bowl or one in which there is a speck of egg yolk or fat.

Beat egg whites until moist and glossy — just stiff enough to stand in peaks.

For extra lightness, add one more egg white than the recipe specifies.

Stir a small amount of beaten egg whites into the thick sauce before folding it into the rest of the egg whites.

Gradually fold sauce into beaten egg whites using a circular motion from top to bottom of bowl.

For a soft topped souffle, place the filled mold in a pan of hot water and set in the oven to bake.

For a crusty topped souffle, bake in oven without the pan of hot water.

To prevent the souffles from spilling during baking, make a ½-inch indentation with your finger by running it around the top of the batter after it is poured in the mold.

To keep the souffle from falling, never open the oven door (not even a crack) while the souffle is baking.

Souffles are done when a knife inserted on the center comes out clean.

Serve baked souffles as soon as they come out of the oven; they will fall within a few minutes.

CHICKEN-PARMESAN SOUFFLES

- ¼ cup butter
- ¼ cup flour
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- 1¼ cups milk or chicken broth
- 1 cup finely minced cooked chicken
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 6 egg yolks
- 7 egg whites
- 1 teaspoon salt

Preheat oven to 325°. Set 2½ quart casserole in shallow baking pan; place in oven. Pour boiling water around casserole to depth of at least one inch.

Melt butter in saucepan. Add flour and paprika and blend well. Cook over medium heat until bubbly. Add milk or chicken broth all at once and cook until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in chicken and cheese. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Fold into chicken sauce.

Add salt to egg whites; beat until stiff but not dry. Fold chicken sauce gradually into egg whites. Pour into heated casserole. Bake 1 hour and 10 to 15 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean Serve immediately. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

CHOCOLATE CLOUD SOUFFLE

- 4 ounces softened cream cheese
- ½ cup light cream
- ⅔ cup semisweet chocolate chips
- 4 egg yolks
- Dash of salt
- ½ cup flaked coconut or chopped nuts
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 4 egg whites
- ¼ cup confectioners sugar, sifted
- ½ cup whipping cream

Blend cream cheese and light cream with electric mixer in sauce pan over medium heat. Add chocolate chips and stir until chips are melted. Remove from heat. Beat egg yolks and salt together. Stir into chocolate mixture. Cook over medium heat until mixture thickens. Stir in coconut or nuts and vanilla. Cool. Preheat oven to 325°.

Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Gradually add sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Fold in cooled chocolate mixture. Pour into an ungreased 1 quart casserole. Set in pan of hot water and bake 1 hour or until a knife inserted in center comes out clean. Whip cream and use as topping. Serve immediately.

Raw Carrots

If you like carrots in the raw, choose young, well-colored small ones. They'll be more tender and milder-tasting then the older carrots, which are better cooked or shredded.

SALAD FOR A PARTY

Serve Elegant Green Goddess

San Francisco, the home of distinctive cuisine, is the birthplace of that elegant dressing for salads known as Green Goddess. Originally served on shredded lettuce, it is equally good dolloped on crisp, cold wedges of western iceberg lettuce . . . maybe even better. You'll delight both friends and family when you serve them this special version of Green Goddess Salad.

Make the creamy dressing well ahead of serving-time to give the zesty seasonings a chance to do their job properly. Incidentally, expect to have some dressing left over from the recipe. Simple refrigerate it tightly covered and enjoy it at a later meal.

Be sure the western iceberg lettuce wedges are thoroughly chilled before serving this first-course salad. One way to insure super-crispness is to place the plastic-wrapped head of iceberg in the freezer compartment for just a few minutes before cutting the wedges.

The meats draped over the lettuce should be very thinly sliced so that they may be folded attractively. While the recipe calls for ham and turkey (or chicken), on another occasion you could substitute roast beef or corned beef or tongue. Or you might skip meat altogether and bedeck the crunchy iceberg wedges with anchovy fillets instead.

However, and whenever "Green Goddess Iceberg" appears on the menu, be assured that it will deserve star billing.

GREEN GODDESS ICEBERG

- 1 medium-size head western iceberg lettuce
- 6 to 8 very thin slices cooked ham
- 6 to 8 very thin slices cooked turkey or chicken
- Greeen Goddess Dressing

Core and rinse lettuce, drain thoroughly; chill in disposable plastic bag or plastic crisper until ready to serve.

Prepare Green Goddess Dressing:

- 1 cup real mayonnaise
- ½ cup dairy sour cream
- 3 tablespoons tarragon wine vinegar
- ¼ cup chopped parsley
- 1 clove garlic, pressed or finely minced
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon worcestershire sauce
- ⅛ teaspoon freshly ground pepper

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Let stand, covered, in refrigerator for several hours before using. Makes about 1 pint.

When ready to serve, cut lettuce into 6 to 8 wedges, and place on serving tray or individual salad plates. Top each wedge with a thin slice each cooked ham and turkey or chicken.

Serve with Green Goddess Dressing. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CRISP WESTERN ICEBERG lettuce wedges, topped with thin slices of ham and turkey and crested with an exotic dressing, turn "Green Goddess Iceberg" into a festive dinner party attraction.

Marin Women

Sailing Influences Sausalito-Made Hats

Trust a woman to take over an item of apparel intended originally for men, especially now that the uni-sex look is so fashionable.

Peter Sutter, who owns a sail manufacturing company in Sausalito, designed and made a hat for himself out of the same acrilan material he uses for boat covers. It was so popular with his friends that he has been making hats for them for years.

Since he spends almost as much time sailing and racing as he does in his business, he felt the need for a hat that would not blow off and would be waterproof and stain-resistant.

His friends discovered that the hats are great not only for sailing but make excellent rain and ski hats, and with their practicality observed by many friends of his friends, he soon had women coming in asking for them.

He now makes the hats of bright blue acrilan with blue and white nautical motif tape trim in three sizes — small, medium and large.

For skiing he varies the trim with other motifs. The hats are now found in some Sausalito and Tiburon shops.

When the hats became so popular, Sutter decided to make beach and sailing bags which are also especially attractive to women. They are made of the same material as the hats and in a variety of colors. A feature of special interest is a plastic see-through bottom that permits the owner to recall what is in the bag without unloading it.

AN ALL PURPOSE item for Marin that has gained favor with sports minded women is the hat that a Sausalito sailmaker first made for himself from the acrilan material that he uses for boat covers. Here Mary Ann Della Santina wears the hat, trimmed with nautical motif headband, and packs the matching bag with a large hand mirror. The bags are roomy totes for beach or sailing. Flowers Are Represented By Frances Jones Poetker

By SHIRLEY F. FIELDS
Society of American Florists

"If I keep a green bough in my heart, the singing bird will come."

This ancient Chinese saying is the favorite of a remarkable American woman who travels the world as a roving good-will ambassador for flowers and ornamental houseplants.

She is Frances Jones Poetker, first lady of floriculture in the United States.

The name itself has a ring of distinction, and once you meet her, it's a name you don't forget. For Frances Jones Poetker combines a will and a skill with flowers with her own wit and regal grace.

There is not a flower in the fields that has escaped her notice. And when she describes the quirks and glories of rare and common houseplants, she holds your rapt attention.

"Artistry in Flowers" are the three words in the heraldic emblem of an artist's palette that identifies her Cincinnati, Ohio florist shop. Her distinguished family have been Ohio florists for the last hundred years. Trace her lineage back a little farther and you discover that her forebears, originally named Jonaz, began their floral dynasty in 17th Century Holland as royal court florists to the king.

While Cincinnati is her everyday workshop, her normal schedule is 14 to 16 hours a day, the whole world of flowers and ornamental plants is her broader professional home.

In Europe she stages flower shows at leading museums, creating fresh flower bouquets that duplicate or compliment those pictured in canvases painted by the masters. In the U.S. she is mistress of floral decor at charity balls, governor's conferences, fashion shows and, her favorite pursuit, an endless stream of simple and sumptuous weddings.

She is also in constant demand as an exhibitor, writer, teacher and lecturer on flower arranging and the care and use of ornamental houseplants. Her four-times great-grandfather no doubt had a way about him in charming Holland's king. With elegance and aplomb, Mrs. Poetker, a Vassar graduate, is carrying on the family tradition.

In a recent interview with the Society of American Florists, she spoke of her newest interest, the use of sculpture with fresh flowers and foliage for home decoration. It is an idea she has successfully introduced to the elite American Academy of Florists, the nation's top florists' group.

She held in her hand a large and exquisitely airy dandelion-like puff. "Goat's beard" is its popular name, but it is called "tragopogan" by botanists.

With outright maternal protectiveness, she placed the puff with an arrangement of fresh flowers, sheet moss, twigs of evergreen and sculptured porcelain gold finch birds.

"In our increasingly over-mechanized world we need fresh new outlets for individualized creative work," she said. "New opportunities for artistic expression and an appreciation of natural beauty must be opened to all. Combining sculpture with fresh flowers and foliage for home decoration is one exciting answer."

The porcelain birds are a part of her very own highly-prized collection, the work of the world-famed American sculptor, Edward Marshall Boehm. Other Boehm birds, valued as highly as $20,000, are displayed at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Royal Palace at Stockholm, the White House, the Vatican and Buckingham Palace.

A NEW DIMENSON in home decoration is seen in this merging of floristry, botany and the fine arts. The artist is Frances Jones Poetker of Cincinnati, Ohio, first lady of floriculture in the U.S. She combines exquisite porcelain birds, a pair of wild canaries, with flowers and foliage found in the birds' natural habitat.

Look Brings Reminder Of Youth To New York Dress Designer

By LOUISE COOK

NEW YORK (AP) — "I like women to look like women and look pretty," Sarmi said Monday as he introduced his spring and resort collection at the American Designer Showing.

Sarmi said that in his designs, "You don't see navels. You don't see bosoms. You don't see behinds."

He called the ultrafeminine appearance "the look I love—because it reminds me of my youth."

For daytime, Sarmi showed soft, fluid clothes, belted or sashed. There were none of the floral patterns seen in other collections, but there were lots of stripes, particularly horizontal ones.

There were several variations of the shirtwaist, including a signature dress in white with the name "Sarmi" in orange, green, blue and pink.

For evening, there was a shirtwaist in "the thinnest organza you can find," horizontally banded in satin ribbon and trimmed and sashed in black satin.

MOST OF SARMI'S dresses had long sleeves — sheer, but long. "I'm so fed up to see bare skin on the street," he said. "Bare skin is good only for the bedrooms."

Despite his disclaimer, Sarmi did present a black dress with matching stole, trimmed in pom pons, bare backed and plunging to the waist. "For once," he said, "skin. The exception proves the rule."

Long evening dresses, many of them shirtwaist style, swirled and swirled with yards of chiffon—yellow, pink, blue, white and orange. Necks were scooped or high, softly cut.

Pajamas — strictly for at home wear — usually appear under a long skirt. The exception was an outfit Sarmi called his "Powder puff" — a marabou bolero over black crepe, satin sashed pant, with the midriff left bare.

Pauline Trigere, who showed earlier Monday afternoon, agreed that pants, were strictly for at home. "I don't think that women . . . should take the pants away from the men," she said.

Miss Trigere had no qualms, however, about stealing fabrics from the men. Several dresses were made of plaid and tweed fabrics she selected from men's suiting charts and she showed ascots made of men's tie silk and matching actual men's ties she also designs.

The pants Trigere showed for at home—and they opened her collection—bared tiny triangles of skin just above the waist.

There was more skin showing in a black jersey bolero and skirt combination which bared a large section of midriff and which was tied together only by a huge satin tulip running from shoulder to floor.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Scandal Would Ruin Doctor And Cause Talk About Woman

DEAR HELEN:

I am one of those women who fell in love with her doctor. The difference is that he said he was in love with me. I divorced my husband on his promise to marry me. But it seems he had a wife who had to be convinced.

Well, Helen, I got pregnant by this wonderful man, only to be told I must get an illegal abortion. Imagine, a doctor speaking! Of course he wouldn't do it himself — he might be caught.

He said the scandal would ruin him and his family if word of the baby got out, so I should go away for a while, get rid of it; and I got the impression he'd be very happy if I kept on traveling. I called his wife. She laughed and told me about three past affairs.

I went away, but I didn't have the abortion. Instead I nearly had a nervous breakdown due to his rejection. I'm better now and expecting this month.

Helen, I am coming back to our local hospital, and when my baby comes, this doctor's name will be on the birth certificate as the father. I learned my lesson; now he must learn of his child through his colleagues.

Women get hurt. The rat goes free. Not this rat! He'll remember me next time he tries a seduction. I hope he loses his practice. — U.E.

DEAR U:

I hope you lose your nerve before you make a complete fool of yourself. You'll have to prove paternity, and that won't be easy unless you luck out on blood tests. You'll be the center of a scandal and you're almost sure to get the worst of it.

And if you expect sympathy from me or the townspeople, forget it. Did you show any sympathy for the husband you divorced when you thought you would replace the wife of a doctor? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We received a dual control electric blanket for a wedding gift, and I thought that would solve our problems, as I'm a No. 2 setting, and my husband is a No. 5 setting. He's colder-blooded.

But — we both sleep in the middle of the bed as we're very friendly people, so I get the heat from his side of the blanket and end up too warm, restless and weary next morning.

Any solution for a happy bride with — INCOMPATIBLE TEMPERATURE

DEAR I.T.:

We-e-ell, you could take the "weary" out of being close by moving to your own side of the bed, but that's a dumb solution, now, isn't it.

How about turning your temperature control off entirely. You might stay comfortably warm from your husband's No. 5 setting. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My mother and her brother and sister don't get along. At my wedding next month, would it be all right if my mother had her friends and in-laws at the No. 1 table and put her own relatives down at the other end of the room? — BAFFLED BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE:

Only if she wants to sabotage her daughter's wedding. This is one day when feuds should be forgotten. — H.

Use Detergent

Stains in grout, the material between ceramic tiles, can usually be removed wth a liquid detergent. Pour enough detergent to cover the stain, let it stand for several minutes and then wipe clean.

Ann Samilson Engaged To Gary Reiman

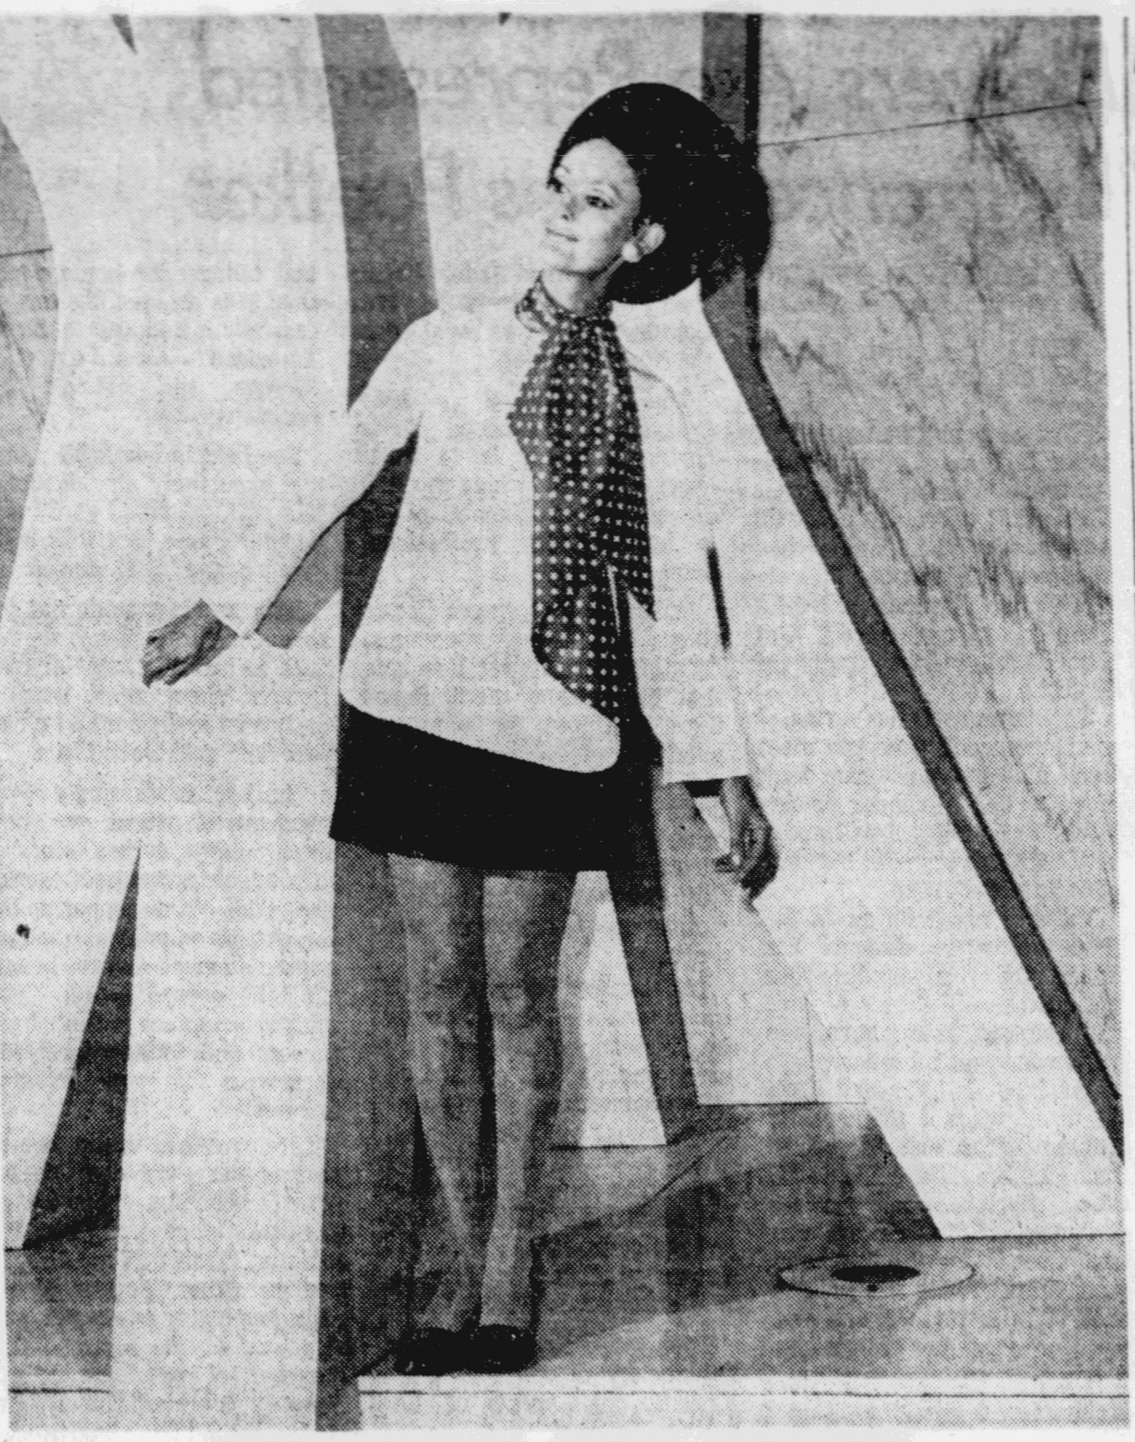
Planning to exchange wedding vows in June are Kathy Ann Samilson of Tiburon and Gary Edward Reiman of Tempe, Ariz.

A graduate of Redwood High School, Kathy Ann is a student at Arizona State University at Tempe. Her fiance is an Arizona State graduate and is working toward a master's degree in business education there. He is currently serving as a medic with the Army Reserve.

Kathy Ann is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Leblang Samilson of Tiburon, and Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mel G. Reiman of Phoenix, Ariz.

Check Toys

When buying gifts for toddlers, avoid toys with sharp or rough edges which will cut or scratch. Also undesirable, according to the Greater New York Safety Council: objects with small removable parts, poisonous paint or decoration, marbles, beads, coins and flammable toys.



YOUTHFUL FOR SPRING

Among the new designer fashions now being shown in New York for spring is this Junior Sohpisticates creation — a two-piece ensemble with a very short black skirt. It is topped with a white tunic blouse with long and slightly belled sleeves. A bright polka dot scarf at the neck heightens the spring mood.

Relish Spread

Liverwurst relish spread is a blend of 1-3 pound of liverwurst, 1-3 cup of sweet pickle relish, 1 teaspoon of dry mustard and ¼ cup each of finely chopped onion and mayonnaise. Chill. Spread on buttered bread to make sandwiches. Makes about 1½ cups.

Darryl Berry To Wed Kathleen MacDonald

The Rev. and Mrs. John A. MacDonald of Mill Valley announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Anne, to Darryl Wayne Berry, son of the Kenneth B. Berrys of San Rafael.

The couple plan to wed March 29 in a double ceremony with the future bride's sister, Janna, and Ken Schumacher.

Kathleen is also the sister of Daniel MacDonald, who is stationed with the Navy in Norfolk, Va., and Karen MacDonald. She is a graduate of Tamalpais High School, College of Marin and Wheaton College in Wheaton, Ill. The future bride is a member of the College of Marin Community Choir and is employed by Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco.

Darryl is the brother of Mrs. James R. Toombs of San Jose. He was graduated from Tamalpais High School and attended College of Marin and the University of Oregon. The future bridegroom, who was recently discharged from the Navy, is a student at DeAnza Junior College in Cupertino.

One Hundred Years Of Styles To Parade At Yacht Club Show

Opening event of the Women's Auxiliary of the San Francisco Yacht Club in the club's centennial year will be "A Century of Fashion" show and luncheon at noon next Wednesday at the Belvedere clubhouse.

The showing of authentic styles of the past 100 years will be presented by Fashion Collectors, Ltd. Mrs. Richard F. Phillips of Sausalito is director.

The club was founded in 1869 and its first clubhouse was located at Mission Bay, San Francisco. The yachtsmen began their long association with Marin when the club moved to Sausalito in 1876, using the yacht Tule Belle as temporary headquarters. The first Sausalito clubhouse was completed in 1878. Hectic ferry boat traffic off Sausalito caused the yachtsmen to consider another move. In 1927 the property in Belvedere Cove, location of the present clubhouse and harbor, was acquired.

Highlights of the club's history will be incorporated in the vintage costume parade program.

Women of the planning committee are Mmes. Benjamin Ballard, chairman; L. W. Colby, invitations; Robert G. Potter, decorations; and Kenneth A. Frost, program.

COURT SAINT Raphael, 1406, Catholic Daughters of America, is hosting a potluck dinner for members, their families and friends, tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. in St. Raphael's Social Hall. The court will provide the entree and games will follow dinner.

Mrs. Robert Pidcock, chairman, is planning the details.

THREE CHILDREN of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Clement of Mill Valley received four trophys at the Marin County Baby Pageant sponsored by the San Rafael Moose Lodge. A loving cup was presented to Cindy, 5, and Curt, 2, for placing first in their respective divisions, and Cristy was honored for being a close runner-up in her division. Cindy was also given a second trophy for being a princess at the coronation ceremonies.

A RED CROSS training class for adult volunteers will be held at Hamilton Air Force Base beginning next Wednesday.

Mrs. Thomas J. McCarron of Hamilton is accepting registrations.

MEMBERS OF the Redwood White Shrine will hold an appointive officer's party and dinner tomorrow, 6:30 p.m., at the San Rafael Masonic Temple, Fourth and Lootens Place. A regular meeting will follow at 8 p.m.

GOLDEN GATE District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, which includes Marin clubs, will hold a meeting for club presidents and district chairmen Monday at the Red Chimney restaurant in Stonestown, San Francisco. Meeting will open at 10 a.m., with luncheon at 12:30 p.m., followed by workshops.

A PANEL, "Who Runs Our Schools," will be presented tomorrow at 10 a.m. by the Ross Valley Council of the Parent-Teacher Association at San Clemente School in Corte Madera.

Participants will be Mrs. Dan Deedy of Ross, 11 year member of the College of Marin board of trustees; Mrs. H. James Compton of Kentfield, longtime P-TA officer and citizens committee worker; and Dr. John Plank, superintendent of San Rafael City Schools. Mrs. Charles Lester, president of the Sausalito Parents Club, will also speak on integration of Sausalito schools and how the system has fared.

Mrs. Ross Ashley, council legislative chairman, arranged the program.

FUTURE MEETINGS of the Interdenominational Bible Study Fellowhip, open to all Marin women, will be held at the Tiburon Baptist Church, Greenwood Beach Road, Tiburon.

First meeting of the new year will be at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow. Ten denominations are represented by the 80 Marin women now attending the weekly discussion programs.

A program of religious study is also available for pre-school age children.

Mrs. Harry Sutcliffe of Mill Valley is discussion leader; Mrs. Joseph T. Shubert of Corte Madera, director; Mrs. J. F. Hartman, of San Rafael, children's program chairman; and Mrs. R. J. Stoehr of Belvedere, membership chairman.

The program, now involving over 11,000 women throughout the country, was founded by Miss A. Wetherell Johnson of Walnut Creek, who served as a missionary in China for a number of years. She began the program in San Bernardino about five years ago at the request of young mothers who asked for help in bringing spiritual values to their daily lives.

Closed Session Set On Wage Discussion

Marin supervisors decided yesterday to hold a closed meeting Tuesday to instruct a county team on how far it can go in negotiating wages and fringe benefits with the Marin County Employees Association.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said a new law passed last year (Section 54957.6 of the Government Code) allows the supervisors to meet in closed session with designated members of a negotiating team.

The Marin team consists of Maloney, County Administrator Alan Bruce and County Personnel Director Robert Elliott.

The employees association, a recognized bargaining unit last month presented a proposal to the county covering pay raises, working conditions and fringe benefits.

Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

BACKYARD — Reaffirmed policy set last March that backyard burning cannot be banned completely until feasible methods of disposing backyard debris have been put into effect.

ST. HILARY'S — Authorized the payment of $9,000 for 13 per cent of the cost of acquiring 1.2 acres of land above the old St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon. The federal government will contribute 50 per cent, Tiburon and Belvedere 6 per cent each, and private sources 25 per cent to protect the landmark from surrounding development.

HALL OF JUSTICE — Voted $5,715 to pay for eight modifications in the new Hall of Justice building.

HOSPITAL BILL — Denied Marin General Hospital's request that the county pay a $1,388 bill incurred by Richard Krug, 29, of Vallejo, following a July 1966 motorcycle accident because Krug is a nonresident and the accident occurred in Solano County. Chairman John H. McInnis asked county counsel to review the county's policies on emergency treatment for consideration at another meeting.

DOGS — Agreed to defer action on a stricter dog control ordinance with additional enforcement until after cities have commented. Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella said Ross has already lodged formal opposition.

MENTAL HEALTH — Noted former board chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen's interest in filling the last vacancy on the Mental Health Advisory Board but delayed an appointment until next week, after Peter R. Arrigoni said several persons had indicated interest.

MOSQUITO — Appointed Philip Economon, assistant county agricultural commissioner, to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District board.

AVIATION — Delayed making four appointments to the county aviation commission until citizen interest can be determined.

FAIR-MARIN — Agreed to add the Marin Association of Mental Health to general membership of Fair-Marin.

LIBRARIAN — Appointed Bruce Bajema, county librarian who replaced Virginia Keating, to the North Bay Cooperative Library System board.

Dramatic Poetry Reading Is Set

A dramatic poetry reading by Elza Burton and Philip Sheridan will be held at 8 p.m. Jan. 15 in the gallery of the Mill Valley Library.

Mrs. Burton is a graduate of Syracuse University School of Speech and Dramatic Art and has been active in the little theater in the Marin area. Sheridan has been associated with the Marin Shakespeare Festival and the San Francisco Player's Guild.

Relief Cases Bring Cautious Board Views

"These people need more help than just this dole they get every two or three weeks," commented new Marin Supervisor Louis H. (Bud) Baar yesterday as the board waded through a dozen general relief cases.

Baar whose campaign supporters included a committee which publicly criticized a $50,000 medical budget approved by the board to provide hospital care for sick hippies, expressed his concern about treatment during a discussion of applicants with severe emotional problems.

YOUNG MEN

The applicants included young men who had been drug users but, according to social workers from the department of social services, were determined to change their way of life.

Social workers assured Baar persons who need help are getting as much as they can use or want.

The new board members viewed all of the cases cautiously yesterday, asking frequent questions on procedures of the department.

Of the 12 cases reviewed yesterday, only one was denied.

It involved a 23-year-old man, a Marin resident of two months with three and a half years of college and a desire to become a laborer.

"You can say he has dropped out of this part of life," the social worker told an incredulous Baar. However, she said, he is interested in working as a carpenter or some other laboring job. She admitted he had "longish, frizzy hair."

Supervisor William A. Gnoss moved denial of the request and the vote was unanimous.

In another case of a man with three years of college, the board agreed to grant relief on the basis of severe emotional problems. He may be eligible for aid to disabled, it was indicated.

BAFFLING CASE

The man's work history was termed "marginal" by social workers and Chairman John H. McInnis commented, "These are the ones that baffle me. Three years of college and he's never done anything."

Cases the board considered more worthy included a woman unable to work at her usual occupation due to her physical condition but willing to be trained for another type of work. "This is why we have this program," Gnoss said, "to help people of this type."

LONDON (AP) — Mia Farrow will play Peter Pan in a film to be started in England in September by Universal Pictures.

Supervisors Ask Election Changes

When only two candidates are running for county office, the election should be held in the November general election instead of in the June primary, the Marin County Board of Supervisors said yesterday.

At the suggestion of Peter R. Arrigoni, supervisors asked the county counsel to push for this change as part of the county's legislative program for 1969.

Arrigoni pointed out that when a supervisor is elected in June both the newly-elected man and the lame duck supervisor remain "in limbo" for six months waiting for the changeover in January.

Supervisor Michael Wornum added another suggestion for a change in the election laws, which the supervisors adopted as part of its legislative effort for this year.

"Why not have the runoff (November) election immediately after the primary so that an entirely new campaign is not necessary?" He pointed out that, under the present system, the two top vote getters in the June election must mount an entirely new campaign for the November runoff.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar wanted to go one step further. "Even if more than two are running, why not let the general election decide?" asked Baar. Under Baar's proposal, plurality would elect.

"I'd oppose a simple plurality election," said McInnis. But he and other supervisors agreed than when only two candidates are running, the election should be in November, and the primary and runnoff should be held closer together.

On a suggestion by William A Gnoss, supervisors asked the county administrator's office to see if the law can be changed to allow the use of school buses also for transporting senior citizens and welfare recipients.

The new board of supervisors approved a list of 25 bills to be introduced or supported by the county this year.

But it postponed a decision on proposed salary raises for the district attorney, auditor-controller, board of supervisors, and Municipal Court employees because the County Supervisors Association of California is working on a salary schedule to apply statewide.

The county's legislative program, submitted by the county administrator's office last December, had proposed that the district attorney be raised from $24,000 to $28,126; auditor from $19,000 to $23,000; and the supervisors from $9,600 to $15,286 effective in January 1971.

McInnis Calls For Help In Control Of Burglaries

John F. McInnis, new chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors appealed yesterday to the public to help combat what he called "a frightening increase" in burglaries in the county as well as nationwide.

"It is still without control at this point," said McInnis. "It is a national calamity. But in a community as limited in size and as homogenous in population as Marin I think we can work for a solution."

He appealed to homeowner groups and individuals to report suspicious persons or cars in their neighborhoods promptly to police.

McInnis referred to a recent case in San Rafael where an alert resident spotted a group of teen-agers loitering, reported it, and this resulted in the capture of a group of San Francisco youths in the act of burglarizing a home on Coleman Drive.

The chairman said increasing police patrols could not solve the problem unless the public cooperates by reporting suspicious cars and loiterers.

"I hope through the newspapers we can spark some response from homeowners' associtions and individuals to contribute to law enforcement. Unless we get wholehearted cooperation of the people of Marin, I don't see any way to reduce the frightening increase in burglaries."

Tickets Available For Junior Theater

Season tickets at reduced rates are still available for the Junior Theater of Marin performances, including "Katya, the Wonder Girl" scheduled for Saturday, according to Mrs. Virginia DePue of Kentfield, chairman.

The play Saturday will be presented at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. at San Rafael High School auditorium.

Tickets will be available at the door or by calling Mrs. DePue.

Supervisors Fill Major Committees

The new Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday appointed two of its members to the Tri-Partite Transportation Committee, which Chairman John F. McInnis wanted to ignore because "I think it is a waste of time."

The committee is composed of representatives from Marin, San Francisco and the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and was formed to improve inter-county bus transportation.

McInnis said San Francisco did not participate in earnest, and only one member (Jack Morrison) attended meetings regularly.

"It may not have been effective in the past, but it could be," replied Michael Wornum. "I'd be happy to attend. And I would like to have Mr. (Peter R.) Arrigoni to join me, or Mr. (Louis H.) Baar."

"No thanks," replied Baar.

Supervisors then appointed Wornum and Arrigoni as Marin's representatives to the committee to replace Ernest N. Kettenhofen, Thomas T. Storer and Peter H. Behr, former supervisors.

Other committee appointments made by the new supervisors are as follows:

Aid to Families With Dependent Children task force — Kettenhofen was reappointed because the county representative need not be a supervisor.

Association of Bay Area Governments — McInnis.

Bay Area Air Pollution Control District — William A. Gnoss.

Bay Area Council — McInnis.

Bay Area Transportation Study Commission — Baar.

City-County Services Committee — McInnis and Arrigoni.

Eel River Flood Control and Water Conservation Association — Gnoss and Baar.

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District — Wornum.

Local Agency Formation Commission — Arrigoni, Wornum, and McInnis as alternate.

North Coast Counties Supervisors Association — Gnoss.

Redwood Empire Association — Gnoss.

San Rafael Sanitation District — Baar.

Bipartisan Boost To Campus Curbs

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's call for a new legal crackdown on violent campus demonstrations received bipartisan support today from legislators unhappy with turmoil at California colleges and Universities.

"Any person on campus who resorts to violence has forfeited his legal right to be there and faces expulsion," said a Democrat, Assemblyman Robert W. Crown of Alameda.

He is scheduled to become vice chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, an important group that screens budget appropriations, including those of the University of California and state colleges.

"The people in education will welcome this assistance," said Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy.

But Sen. George Moscone of San Francisco, chairman of the Senate Democratic caucus, said Reagan failed to deal with the cause of student unrest. And he objected that "all through his speech was the element that the legislature is going to get more and more involved in education."

Legislators who had sat silently through almost all of Reagan's "state of the state" speech burst into applause four times when the governor spelled out his hard line on higher education.

Then they adjourned, and began organizing the committees that will hear his educational proposals and the other programs he announced in his annual speech.

In the Senate, there was an unexpected appointment.

Although the Republicans hold a 20-19 majority in the upper house, President pro tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, said a veteran Democratic colleague, Sen. Randolph Collier of Yreka, will be appointed chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. That fills the vacancy created by the death of Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez.

In the Assembly, now controlled 41-39 by the GOP, Speaker Robert T. Monagan moved a Republican, Eugene Chappie of Cool, into the chairmanship of the Rules Committee, a housekeeping body.

The Reagan administration, meanwhile, prepared to hand out key bills to the senators and assemblymen who will carry them.

Assembly Minority Leader Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood replaced as speaker by Monagan, said Reagan's speech "regrettably . . . failed to offer very many substantive solutions."

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Anselmo, said he would like to have seen "more emphasis in the field of minorities and civil rights."

STICKY TOPIC

Assembly Can't Table Its Trouble

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Spend $500 for a new desk and you'd expect the drawers to work. Right?

Assemblyman Eugene A. Chappie, R-Cool, who took over yesterday as new chairman of the Assembly Rules Committee, believes so.

But Chappie revealed the des — all 80 of them — don't even have a center drawer. And the other drawers stick.

The desks, which cost a total of $40,000, are part of a $600,000 remodeling of Assembly quarters which was begun by Democrats when they controlled the lower house.

The remodeling originally was estimated to cost $300,000 but some aides of the rules committee said this did not include the cost of remodeling the legislative cafeteria.

When Chappie was asked by newsmen about the costly remodeling job, he said he meant no disrespect "but when you have people working for you . . . " Then his voice trailed off.

Lack Of Quorum

The Marin City Target Area Board did not have a quorum for its meeting Monday night. Next scheduled meeting is 8 p.m. Jan. 20 at the Manzanita Neighborhood Center, Marin City.

UNRUH MOVES — Former Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, now relegated to a rear seat as minority leader, seems content with his role while watching new Speaker, Republican Robert Monagan introduce Gov. Ronald Reagan. The Inglewood Democrat took his new desk yesterday. (UP ITelephoto)

Marin Improvers Nominate Slate

Robert W. Kruse has been nominated for president of the San Marin Improvement Association, according to Ronald Q. Lewton, publicity chairman.

Other nominees are Wayne Bulette, vice president; Mrs. Gilbert Lilly, secretary, and Mrs. Peter S. Jaber, treasurer.

Nominated to the board of directors were David A. Applen, Jack R. Clark, Herbert W. Cook Jr., Mrs. Charles A. Goehring, Guthrie R. Green, Duane Hansen, Arlo R. Jones, Gilbert J. Moncayon, Michael Skorski, Thomas W. Steward and Lewton.

Officers will be elected at the Jan. 28 meeting.

Reagan Joins Forces With Bay Conservers

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan has joined key legislators in a fight this year against commercial interests to save shrinking San Francisco Bay from further filling by land.

The Republican chief executive called yesterday for extension of the life of the 30-member watchdog Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which holds veto power over any efforts to fill bayshore lands for new development.

But a Democratic senator, Nicholas C. Petris of Oakland, cautioned, "We're going to have a helluva fight."

The commission, created in 1967, dissolves at the end of this year if not extended or made permanent by the 1969 legislature — something Reagan said he would request and Petris said he would sponsor.

Conservationists contend that, should the commission be abolished, the 400-square mile bay — which covered 680 square miles in 1850 — faces the threat of becoming little more than a polluted, sluggish river emptying into the Pacific Ocean through the Golden Gate.

Democratic Sen. George Moscone of San Francisco said, "I'm particularly pleased to see the governor spend so much time advocating preservation of the bay and BCDC."

"I'm somewhat astonished," Moscone added after Reagan's annual legislative message yesterday. "In the past, he has not indicated much concern."

Moscone sees it as "a conservation versus special interest beef." And he includes in the category of special interests such agencies as airports and the Port of Oakland, which he said serve commercial interests.

Petris said, "I don't think there's any question about it. The traditional opponents (to the moratorium on bay fill) will go all out to try to shoot this thing down. It isn't limited to private speculators. Some of the public agencies are the worst offenders and they all do it in the name of the people or progress."

A major opponent has been the Port of Oakland, Petris said.

Walter A. Abernathy, assistant port director, said the danger of filling the bay have been exaggerated.

"We're not spoilers, but there will be pressures to expand the port that won't go away. We're in the marine business and to compete we need a 150-acre fill right now. Competition among ports is healthy for the economy and the region is well served by it."

Firmly behind the bay conservation plan is the 70,000-member Sierra Club, with headquarters in San Francisco.

Dr. Edgar Wayburn, the club's president, said, "We hope the legislature will pass legislation to give broad powers to some bay agency to plan for proper development and protection of the bay. To fritter it away seems to be an extremely shortsignted way of doing things. Filling the bay produces changes that can't be undone. The minimum to be done this year is to make something like BCDC permanent and then to have some type of regional authority."

The average American farmer produces enough food for himself and 42 other persons, says the Vermont Farm Bureau.

Busher Mum On Reasons For Quitting

Walter H. Busher, who resigned yesterday as Marin County probation officers for reasons including disagreements with Juvenile Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner, today declined to comment about those reasons.

"I feel no constructive value would come forth from it," he said. Busher said he included all he wanted to say in his letter submitted to the board of supervisors.

The letter cited only that disagreements with the judge had occurred, and that "personal scars" also were given as his reasons for resigning.

Busher, probation officer for over 17 years, said today he has no definite plans for the future. He said the "grief" involved in the job during the 17 years has been more than the satisfaction received.

Novato Offered Water Tank Site For Park Use

The half-acre water tank site off Vallejo Avenue will be offered to the City of Novato for use as a park, according to a decision made last night by the North Marin County Water District Board.

The site is on the hillside above Vallejo Avenue at Seventh Street. The tank has been moved to Half Moon Road, according to board clerk Eugene Churchill.

"The level spot overlooking the main portion of the city and the 10-foot access to it will be offered to the city for park use," Churchill said.

The North Marin County Water District bnard also:

PRESSURE — Approved the installation of a $340 pump to increase the water pressure to the home of Louis Cavallero at 154 H Lane.

ADJUSTMENT — Approved a $21 adjustment in the water bill to a house at 1916 Marion Avenue for Westwood Homes Inc. because of a leak.

Slain Father Termed In A Drunken Rage

Larry Glenn Busdieker, Corte Madera father allegedly slain by his son, was in a drunken rage, shoving his wife and threatening murder at the time of his death, according to testimony in Marin Municipal Court today.

The testimony came at the preliminary hearing of 19-year-old David Vaughn Busdieker, accused of the murder of his father.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales charges the youth killed his father with the thrust of an eight-inch kitchen knife through the heart and left lung.

Most dramatic testimony this morning came from Pamela Busdieker, 15-year-old daughter of the victim and sister of the accused.

The pretty blonde sophomore from Tamalpais High School told Judge Peter Allen Smith her father was in a "drunken rage" before he slumped dead on a blood spattered kitchen floor early Dec. 18.

She said she did not see the knife, held by her brother, actually enter her father's body. Busdieker, 45, was flailing his arms and threatening his son when the stabbing occurred, she said.

"He kept shouting at David, saying 'I'm going to kill you, you son of a bitch,' and David kept backing up and saying, over and over, 'get away from me. Leave me alone'," she recalled under the cross examination of defense attorney Roger Garety.

She told the judge, who must decide if Busdieker is to be held for trial in Superior Court, that she twice saw her father knock her mother, Vicki Busdieker, to the floor when she tried to keep him from his son.

"He just kept trying to hit my brother. After he was stabbed, he kept swinging. Then he finally fell. When father fell, David said: 'I'm so sorry. I didn't mean to hurt you'," she said.

Dr. John H. Manwaring, the pathologist who examined Busdieker's body, said the slain father had consumed enough alcohol the night he died to render a normal man unconscious.

Busdieker must certainly have been in a stupor with the blood alcohol count of .329, Dr. Manwaring said.

The physician said he also found evidence that the dead man suffered from alcoholic cirrhosis of the liver and said that alcoholics are sometimes able to perform well at higher blood-alcohol content levels.

Manwaring also reported the dead man had a puncture wound in the left arm which is consistent with "what is known as a defense wound."

Such a wound is received when the victim places his arm in front of his chest to block the thrust of a knife, he said.

The doctor, under cross-examination, said Busdieker could have also suffered the wound by "wildly flailing" his arms, and striking the tip of the blade.

Miss Busdieker told the judge her father cut his arm on the knife by swinging at her brother and hitting the blade instead.

Sgt. Charles Rester of the Corte Madera Police Department said young Busdieker also seemed under the influence of alcohol when arrested.

"It seemed to me that, if he had been a driver he would have been a borderline case. I would have been hard put to decide whether to arrest him or let him go," he said.

Deputies List Four County Burglaries

Four burglaries, one at a Kentfield home, were reported today by sheriff's officers.

Deputies said someone broke a sliding glass door to enter the home of William J. Caroni, 126 Wolfe Grade Drive, Kentfield, between last Thursday and Saturday. A metal filing cabinet was ransacked, they said, but nothing was known to be missing.

Burglars smashed a window of the Coin-O-Matic Launderette, 716 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, on Saturday, but apparently did not enter, officers said.

A ventilator wing of the car of Jack E. Pinette of Everett, Wash., was pried open on Ross Street near Sausalito Sunday and clothing, including a man's suit and a woman's coat, were taken, deputies said.

Burglars also smashed a window wing of a car owned by E. C. Macivor of the 666th Radar Squadron on Mount Tamalpais, which was parked Saturday in the 200 block of Shoreline Highway. Taken were an auto stereophonic set and a camera.

Meeting Canceled

A meeting of the Corte Madera Planning Commission scheduled for last night to discuss changes in the town's sign ordinance was canceled due to lack of a quorum.

Dominican Sets Registration

Students may register Friday and Saturday in Guzman Hall for spring semester classes at Dominican College of San Rafael, according to college officials. Hours are 9 to noon and 1 to 4:30 p.m.

New courses to be offered during the semester, which starts Monday, include practical fundamentals of investing, Africa south of the Sahara and the Jewish voice in American literature.

Ida Grae, Mill Valley weaver, will teach two courses in primitive weaving and loom weaving, and Robert Adler will repeat his summer course of uses of drama in the classroom.

Peace Corps Tests Scheduled Jan. 18

Peace Corps placement tests for Marin residents will be held at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 18 at the San Rafael Post Office branch at the Albert Arcade, 874 Fourth Street.

Applicants must fill out application forms, available at post offices, before taking the test.

Five Nominated For Drum Major

Five members of the Tamalpais High School marching band have been nominated for drum major for 1969-70.

Final selection will be May 1. Candidates are juniors Robert Del Secco, Peter Schiller and John Uhte, juniors, Michael Mendelson and Kevin Omi, sophomores.

Each will demonstrate his ability with a marching squad before the choice is made.

Tennis Club Refused License For Liquor

The Alcohol Beverage Control board has denied the Belvedere Tennis Club's application for a liquor license.

The board decision came on Dec. 26 following hearings held at the Civic Center in October and November.

Haskell Tichell, club member and attorney, said the club will ask for reconsideration but was pessimistic that the board would reverse the decision. "Denials are seldom reversed on a reconsideration request," he said.

Club directors will meet on Tuesday to discuss whether to ask for a hearing before the ABC's appeals board, Tichell said.

An ABC spokesman in Santa Rosa said that protests of neighbors that the club is located in the immediate vicinity of two schools and adjacent to residental areas and that the consumption of alcoholic beverages at the club would aggrevate an already hazardous traffic problem on Tiburon Boulevard near Rock Hill Road were sustained in the denial.

According to the ABC staff, Edward A. McDonald of the state Office of Administrative Procedures, who conducted the hearing, recommended denial.

Air Training Topic Of Show

The Novato Air Force Junior Reserve Officer Training Program for high school students will be discussed by a panel of proponents and opponents at 9 a.m. tomorrow on KTIM's Sounding Board program.

Lt. Col. Walter Von Emon, aerospace education instructor at Novato High School; student Ed H. Dietrich, who has been in the program three years, and Harry J. Moore, assistant principal at San Marin High School will speak in favor of the program.

Opponents will be William Atwood, social students teacher at Novato high, and Michael Koehler, Novato high senior.

Questions may be phoned into the broadcast, according to Kitty Oppenheimer, moderator. The program will be repeated at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

Sets Session

The Golden Gate Region of the Antique Automobile Club of America will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Larkspur City Hall. The meeting is open to all interested persons.

Why Get Involved? The 'Big Brother' Complex

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, commenting last week on an alarming increase in burgaries in Marin County, reiterated a complaint that is being heard increasingly from peace officers: that law enforcement is being made difficult by lack of public cooperation, much of which is due to unwillingness of citizens to get involved.

Only a few days before a protest from Panoramic Ridge residents brought this statement from the sheriff, two psychologists received a $1,000 American Association for the Advancement of Science award for their research into a particularly horrible example of what happens when the public refuses to get involved.

The two, Bibb Latane of Ohio State University and John M. Darley of Princeton University, did a study into the murder of Kitty Genovese in Queens, N.Y., while 38 persons looked on and did nothing in 1964.

The conclusion they reached appeared obvious from the facts: that people in crowds readily "pass the buck," convincing themselves that someone else will take care of the emergency.

THIS "LET GEORGE DO IT" attitude carries over to those — not in crowds — who do nothing about suspicious circumstances in their neighborhoods.

"Too often," said Sheriff Mountanos, "a home is burglarized which could have been prevented by a neighbor who had some knowledge of what was taking place but did not want to get involved."

The neighbor takes the attitude, "This is a matter for the police."

But by the time the owner discovers the burglary, and the alarm is sounded, the criminals have flown. Their capture is made still more difficult because, in many cases, the neighbor did not even trouble to take down the license number of a suspicious car, or to observe carefully the appearance of suspicious strangers in the area.

SUCH NON-INVOLVEMENT may be a reflection of a society more and more dependent on "Big Brother."

If a family in the neighborhood is in dire financial straits, "Let them go to the welfare department or the Red Cross." If an acquaintance suffers from a serious disease and lacks money for care, "There are foundations to take care of that."

Almost daily, callers are at the door seeking funds for some good work — from selling Girl Scout mints to soliciting donations for the Heart Association. Most residents give without objection. Most also note that a large share of their tax dollars go for social welfare.

Having given their donations and paid their taxes, they then feel freed from all responsibility for their fellow man. They do not need to get involved.

IT IS THE SAME with law-breaking. Their taxes pay for police protection. So, having paid, they no longer feel any personal responsibility. They do not need to get involved.

"Big Brother" will take care of it, they think.

But society run by "Big Brother" cannot provide security. It can provide only an illusion. And not only is security lessened, but the heart goes out of society. Civilization becomes less civilized as the mass approach replaces the personal approach.

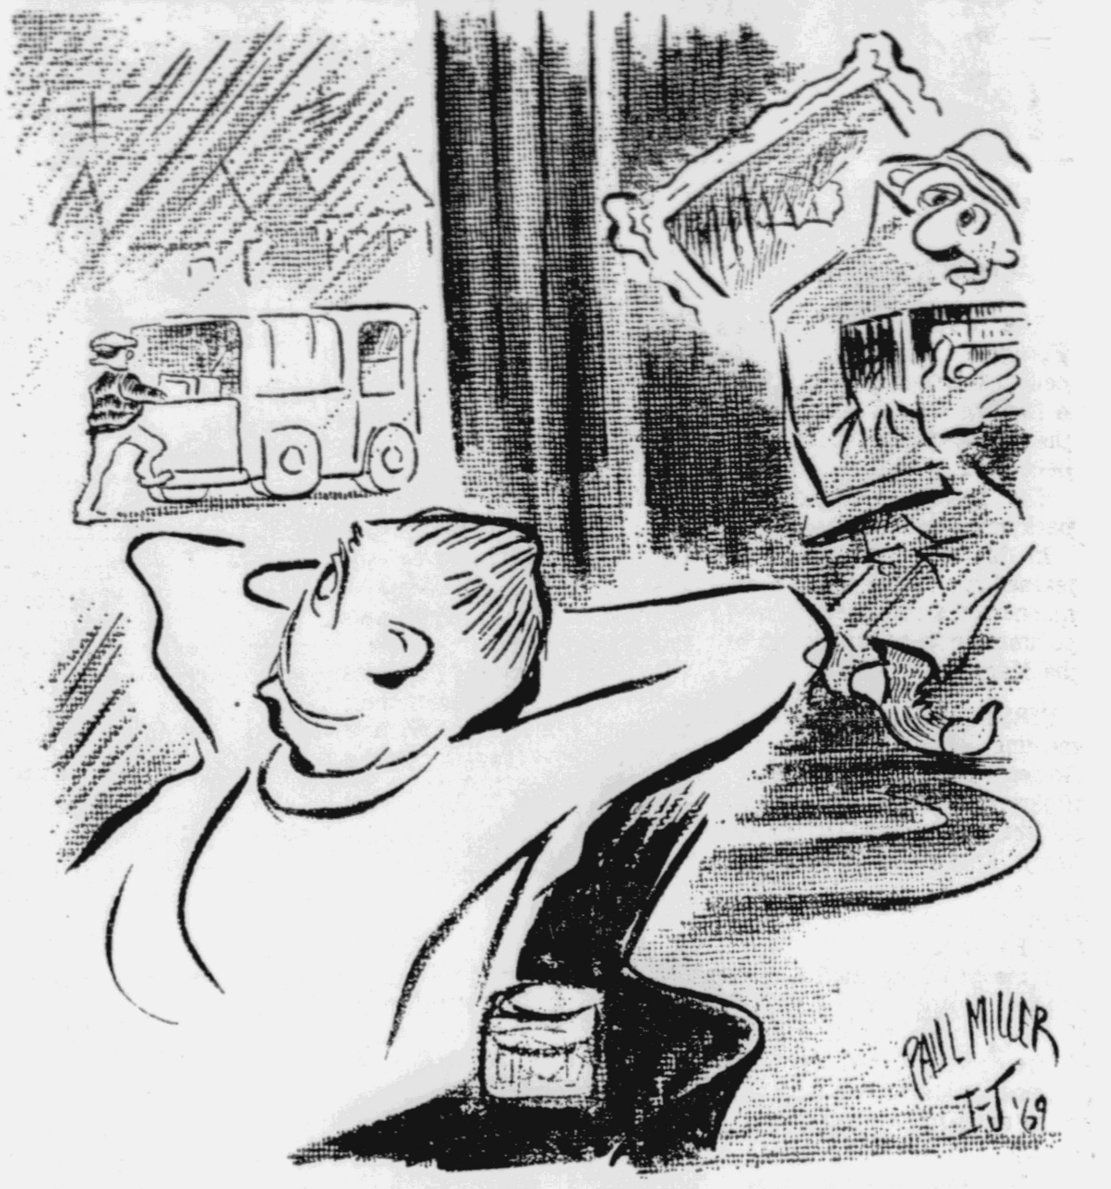
Nobody Executed

For the first year in its history, nobody was legally executed in the United States during 1968.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, taking editorial note of this, called it "one of the most heartening developments of the year."

We are not so sure, however, that the absence of executions last year is altogether reassuring. In California, for instance, nearly 100 men remain under sentence of death. The fact that none was executed last year may mean only temporary reprieves for all of them.



"That guy at the Joneses' looks suspicious, but I'm certainly not getting involved."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Leadership Selections Augur Well For The New Congress

WASHINGTON — The leadership decisions by both the Democrats and Republicans for the new Congress do four things:

1. They exhibit the political daring with which Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is going after the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination—and how it pays off.

2. They move the Republican Party more to its political center and the Democratic Party to the left.

3. They give the GOP the best leadership in both the Senate and House to work effectively with President-elect Nixon and co-operatively with the Democratic majority in Congress.

4. In the Senate, at least, the new leadership choices shook up the congressional establishment and showed Congress responsive to public opinion.

ALL THIS DOESN'T guarantee that Congress will act responsively and responsibly in the months ahead, but it's a good beginning.

It is significant that the GOP put moderate Republicans in the top leadership of both houses. The special value of naming Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania as assistant Senate leader is that he not only has credentials with his own party but the trust of the Democratic opposition whose support the Nixon Administration will need on all crucial measures.

The Republicans did about the same in the House, replacing Melvin Laird, who is to be secretary of defense, with John B. Anderson of Illinois as chairman of the party conference.

BUT THE HOUSE Democrats clung with blind fondness to the old establishment and thus Speaker John McCormack lingers on, proclaiming how long he has favored — but never before has acted upon — the great and radical reform of electronic voting. Now, when the seniority-entrenched Democratic committee chairmen deign to allow members of the House to get a bill to vote upon, we'll know the vote is authentic. It'll be right up there on the wall in lights.

When Russell Long of Louisiana saw his colleagues were ousting him as Democratic Senate whip and putting Teddy Kennedy in his place, he revealingly blurted out the truth: "I think I had him outgunned in the Senate, but he was more popular across the country." That's the truth. That's why Teddy made it—Senate Democrats were responding to public demand and that's a welcome dividend; evidence, perhaps, of things to come.

CONGRESS MUST complete a whole series of reforms — and how Congress hates to reform itself — before it begins to transact the public business efficiently and effectively. The steps taken at the opening of the new Congress are minute but they are in the right direction.

The most fascinating of all is, of course, the elevation of Senator Kennedy as second only to Mike Mansfield in the top ranks of leadership.

It has a double significance — he daringly took the risk of going for the post of assistant leader and he succeeded.

It also discloses what to me is the most self-revealing aspect of Teddy's two great political decisions of 1968. He refused to allow his name to be put in nomination for President when the Chicago convention looked as though it might be deadlocked — although the opportunity to do so was temptingly before him. Some suggested that Kennedy turned this aside because it would have meant a fight and that his chances of winning either the nomination or the presidency didn't look good. I think not. He turned it down for a bigger and a better reason: He didn't want the nomination as a sentimental gift; he wanted to earn it — or not get it.

NOW SENATOR KENNEDY is going about to earn it on his own and it is obvious that he is not going to be coy or timid.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Bagley Book To Clarify Freedom Of Information

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A move to eliminate some of the confusion with relation to Freedom of Information laws in the California statutes is planned by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The Marin lawmaker, whose measures during the past few years have contributed to making the state's laws and records, as well as public meetings, open to the public, said a comprehensive book, which will outline all California law, attorney general opinions and court decisions pertaining to freedom of information will be written and made available to the public.

Bagley and Judd Clark, committee consultant, will author the book, with the aid of the attorney general's office and probably the legislative counsel.

In addition to state laws and interpretations, the book will contain information on federal laws passed at the instigation of Rep. John E. Moss, D-Sacramento, Bagley said.

State law on the subject is divided into three parts, Bagley said.

First is the Brown Act, which requires open meetings at the local levels of government.

Second is the open records measure, requiring matters of public record, with certain exceptions, be open to perusal by the public.

Third, an omnibus measure authored by Bagley last year, covers open meetings by state departments, boards and commissions.

Some changes will be sought at the 1969 legislative session, Bagley said, to pin-point phases of the law as it exists and clear up misunderstandings as to what is and is not an open meeting or an open public record. Some exceptions, which now cause confusion, are expected to be eliminated.

Generally, he said, public officials accept the open meeting and open record laws, but there are instances which need correction by legislation.

When the book is published, it will be available to state officials, local government officials, newspapers and other communications media. The book is expected to clear up many points which still are questioned by some public officials who hold to the old theory the public is not entitled to knowledge pertaining to the activities of elected and appointed officials.

Bagley also says that during the 1969 session, he intends to reactivate the advisory commission on freedom of information, which held hearings last on legislation necessary to advance still further the process of making the business of government the business of the people of the state.

Publicity Prolongs Campus Violence

Is there now any doubt that the publicity and TV coverage of the news media is increasing and prolonging the violent disturbances which have disrupted S.F. State College?

To a very large extent we are dealing with mentally disturbed adolescents whose crying psychological need is recognition. The long hair, beards and outlandish clothing, worn by many of them, all point to their hunger for attention! By being in the forefront of the struggles on the campus, a handful of violent young people insure that they will be seen on television on the evening of the same day. What pride these young anarchists must feel in the prominence which TV has afforded them! Now they are somebody — not merely social misfits rejected by law-abiding citizens!

What matter that their violence tends to destroy the peace and order of a free democracy? They have been given a semblance of legitimacy and even heroism by irresponsible city editors whose only concern seems to be for a sensational headline.

How can anyone doubt the sincerity and good intentions of Prof. S. I. Hayakawa whose whole career reflects his strong sympathy with all true liberals? It is time to present the facts in their true light. It is the responsibility of the press to do just that. Let them do it!

(Reprinted from Wall Street Journal)

"The lessons of history . . . show conclusively . . . that continued dependence on relief induces a spiritual and moral disintegration fundamentally destructive to the national fiber. To dole out relief . . . is to administer a narcotic, a subtle destroyer of the human spirit. . . ."

History's lessons are just as plain now as they were in 1935, when Franklin D. Roosevelt thus warned of welfarism's effects in his State of the Union message. Yet many well-meaning Americans largely ignore those lessons now, just as Mr. Roosevelt himself did later on.

Confronted by the failures of the existing welfare system, nearly everyone would like to supplement it or replace it with something else. Three of the proposals were discussed in a recent speech by Roger A. Freeman, senior staff member of the Hoover Institution at Stanford University.

ONE OF THESE is the guaranteed annual income. "To guarantee everyone an adequate income," notes Mr. Freeman, "appears to be the most direct and simple method to end poverty; also, when we study it more closely, potentially the most destructive." . . .

"Entire occupations," predicts Mr. Freeman, "would be wiped out overnight. A large part of the labor force of several states . . . would immediately retire and most agricultural employment would end." Moreover, wage scales at medium and higher levels would be thrown into chaos . . . A reduced supply of goods and services would generate explosive inflation.

A SECOND proposal is the family allowance, which would pay every family — rich or poor — a specified sum for each child. At $25 per child per month, which is hardly adequate to support true poverty families, the national cost would be $21.5 billion a year.

"Why should child allowances go to all families, rich and poor alike," asks Mr. Freeman, "when only one American family in 10 is now held to be poor?

LIKE FAMILY allowances, a third proposal — the negative income tax —also is aimed partly at erasing the "stigma" of relief. It would use the existing tax machinery; if individuals earned less than a specific amount the government would pay them, instead of the reverse. . . .

The present setup is in such sorry shape that any reform will take time, perhaps a great deal of it. The direction, though, should be clear; it has been stated often but never adequately pursued. Society has an obligation to care for its citizens who cannot care for themselves. For others the overriding aim should be to provide an opportunity to work, not an opportunity to avoid it.

Red China Back In Nuclear Race; U.S. Needs Space Goals

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — With its eighth nuclear weapons test, Communist China has vaulted back ahead of France on the grim performance chart of the nuclear club.

A final appraisal of the Chinese test must await detailed analysis of the debris blasted into the atmosphere last month at the Lop Nor testing station. Certain implications already are clear, however, from available information.

In disclosing the blast on Dec. 27, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission estimated its yield at three megatons. The AEC announcement said the yield, equivalent to three million tons of TNT, was "about the same as the sixth Chinese test which took place on June 17, 1967."

No mention was made, in the one-paragraph AEC statement, of the seventh Chinese explosion in December 1967. That test, which generated a TNT equivalent of less than 20 kilotons, is widely assumed to have been a "dud" — an H-bomb in which only the atomic trigger actually exploded.

With its announced three megaton yield, there is every reason to believe that the recent Chinese blast was a thermonuclear (H-bomb) explosion. That suggests a successful test which puts Peking back on the road to a hydrogen warhead for the missiles it is developing.

The United States' space program is rolling merrily along, after Christmas week's Apollo 8 successes, but President-elect Richard M. Nixon will have to act to keep it rolling.

The sensational performance of Apollo 8 holds out the prospect of further triumphs, this year, in manned space flight. Obscured, in this euphoria, is the lack of any major U.S. space goal beyond the eagerly awaited lunar landing.

Advance indications are that no new focus for the space program will be provided in the final budget which President Johnson sends to Congress. That puts the matter squarely in the lap of the President-elect.

If the space program is to get a new popular objective, while public enthusiasm is engaged in its present successes, President Nixon will have to provide it. Without such a goal, the program can be expected to lose much of its impetus as it loses a measure of its public support.

Some critics of the space program, who have begrudged the annual expenditures of $4 to $5 billion amid the stars, would not be sorry to see it de-emphasized in the public eye. It will cost about $24 billion for what one scientist has called the "spectator sport" of sending a man to the moon.

THE RANGE of possible new space goals is, of course, as wide as the heavens themselves. In the area of manned flight, however, some National Aeronautics and Space Administration partisans feel strongly that the moon, once it is reached, should be truly explored in a series of lunar trips.

In the field of unmanned exploration some NASA scientists think the U.S. should gear itself to exploit an unusual opportunity created by the juxtaposition of the planets in the middle and late 1970s. Beginning in 1976 — and more easily in 1977 and 1978 — it will be possible to swing a space probe past the planets Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune in what the scientists are calling a "grand tour."

If missed, the "grand tour" opportunity for the four planets will not exist again for 179 years.

Long-range possibilities like the "grand tour" have immediate implications for the space program. The four-planet tour would, for example, require rapid development of a nuclear-powered rocket to power the interplanetary probe after it had been boosted from earth into space.

NSA has had good success with early developmental work on NERVA, its nuclear rocket engine. Like other post-Apollo projects, however, NERVA has been on a starvation budget.

A level of financing for NERVA now — with its implication for years to come — is the sort of problem the space program poses for the new President.

Death Of Frouge Recalls Bitter Arguments Over Marincello

The death of Thomas Frouge, "father of Marincello," on Sunday brings back a flood of reminiscences about the "planned city" that's never been born.

The gestation period goes back now almost four years.

In March, 1964, Marinites learned in a rather round-about manner of a proposed planned community to be built north of the Marin Headlands.

FIRST MENTION came at a meeting of directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, where the subject was brought up by an Army spokesman who said developers had asked permission for a road through Fort Baker property.

In the following months the Frouge Corp., of which Thomas Frouge was chairman of the board, hired several prominent Marin citizens to act as spokesmen for the new development.

E Warren McGuire, now Marin's newest superior court judge, as well as Assemblyman William T. Bagley went to work as attorneys for Frouge; former County Supervisor Vera B. Schultz joined the payroll as a consultant.

BY THE TIME the Frouge Corp. was ready in November, 1964, to unveil full plans for the 2,128-acre community to be named Marincello, battle lines had been drawn.

Strongest opposition came from conservation groups, but almost as vehemently opposed were city councils of southern Marin cities.

One year to the day after the name "Marincello" was first spoken in Marin County, the board of supervisors approved a master plan for the community on Nov. 12, 1965.

Opponents of the plan did not give up easily. Supervisors Thomas T. Storer, Ernest N. Kettenhofen and William A. Gnoss, who voted in favor of the community, were threatened with recall. (Storer and Kettenhofen, incidentally, were defeated at their next time at the polls.)

Petitions asking the supervisors to reconsider their decision were circulated and the City of Sausalito filed a court action against the start of Marincello.

However, ground was broken for the new community, then envisioned as costing $285 million with a population of 20,000, in July, 1966.

IN THE TWO and one-half years since then, however, no homes have appeared above the Marin headlands.

Financial difficulties have bogged down the project in a way that the conservationists were never able to do.

The Frouge Corp. is now involved a legal battle with Gulf Oil Co., which owns almost all the Marincello land, and which now maintains that Frouge's right of purchase has been terminated.

The zoning and plans for Marincello would be valid whoever the developer might be, however, according to legal advice given the board of supervisors.

FROUGE CORP. spokesmen this week claimed that the death of Thomas Frouge does not affect plans for the proposed community.

But gravel-voiced, self-made Thomas Frouge will not be around to see his dream city if it becomes a reality.

I have a hunch that he will be missed, even by the conservationists who fought him so bitterly, as a colorful figure who learned the hard lesson that many other developers in Marin County have also faced.

There must be easier places in this country to build developments!

Wisdom, whose lessons have been represented as so hard by those who never were at her school, only teaches us to extend a simple maxim universally known. And this is, not to buy at too dear a price. — Henry Fielding.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

What Are Qualifications For School Board Job?

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Nearly all of California's 1,200-plus school districts will hold trustee elections April 15. In roughly half of them, a majority of the school board positions will be up for grabs.

In a year marked by faculty and student militancy, by teacher organizations' sanctions and strike threats, and in many places by parent-school friction over curriculum innovations, school board campaigns may be expected to draw more than usual interest. In such a year also, it may be even more important than usual to elect citizens who are both qualified and dedicated to serve as trustees.

What constitutes qualification for school board service? There is no law setting up requirements, and opinions on how to judge potential trustees differ even among educators and board members.

ONE WAY to test the candidates' qualification might be through adopting some questions suggested in the December issue of the American School Board Journal by John M. Nagle for use in opinion polls seeking public reactions to the schools.

For such a poll to have validity, writes Nagle (who has been involved in such surveys for Pittsburgh,Pa., schools), it must include questions which test the public's knowledge of the schools. He suggests questions on these:

Makeup of the school board, how often and where it meets; approximate pupil population of the district; state certification requirements for teachers; minimum and maximum salaries of teachers in the district compared with area and national norms; annual expenditure per child by the district compared with state and national averages; breadth of courses offered and principal methods of instructing; nature of special programs designed to meet particular local needs.

It is doubtful whether any school district conducting a public opinion poll would find many people able to answer all these questions. But it does not seem unreasonable that a candidate for school board should make himself sufficiently conversant with school matters to know the answers.

IN EACH SCHOOL BOARD election year, the California Teachers Association puts out an "analysis of personal qualifications esstential for school trustees." It says the ideal candidate should possess these:

Unselfish interest in the public schools, the community, and every child.

Ability to think independently and objectively.

Ability and desire to work cooperatively with other board members.

A record showing that he will represent the district as a whole rather than a special interest group or a single neighborhood.

Willingness to give the necessary time to the job.

Courage to explain and snforce an unpopular rule.

Respect for the knowledge and opinion of those with specialized preparation (i.e., educators).

Ability to acknowledge errors.

THESE ARE ALL excellent attributes. If to them is added some knowledge of the school system — such as would be indicated by ability to answer questions pollster Nagle suggests should be put to the public at large — the result might provide a fair gauge by which to judge the "ideal school board candidate."

Benefit Dinner Set In Novato

A benefit fund dinner-dance on the ninth anniversary of Novato's incorporation will start at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 18 at the Moose Lodge in Novato, sponsored by the Novato Junior Chamber and Chamber of Commerce, according to Roger Hillman, publicity chairman of the event for the Jaycees.

The proceeds will be used for the campaign of Paul Dock of the Novato Jaycees, who is running for state Jaycee president.

The event will be similar to one held last year on the city's eighth anniversary which raised funds to help pay the deficit of the Western Weekend Celebration, Hillman said.

LBJ Denied Hope On Nuclear Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson's one-time base of power—the Senate—has provided him a last and bitter disappointment in the final moments of his public career.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Foreign Relations Committee made official yesterday what had long been suspected: Despite presidential urgings there will be no immediate action on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

Thus the pact, a New Frontier legacy that became for Johnson something of a personal crusade, probably will bear the signature of a Republican president.

There was no immediate comment from the White House. Nor in the waning days of the delicate transition period to a new administration was one expected.

But for Johnson, a wartime leader who had sought to leave this lasting imprint on efforts to ensure peace, there was ample cause for disappointment.

For one thing, there was his personal devotion to getting it through.

This last satisfaction, ironically, was denied him by a Democratic controlled Senate where less than a decade after gaining legendary power as majority leader he faced as President some of the bitterest opposition to his Vietnam War policies.

It also was a Senate that turned in four short years from helping him pass a flood of Great Society social legislation to spawning serious challengers from his own party for a job he finally gave up voluntarily.

The treaty that falls to the Nixon administration to ramrod through the Senate, would bar signers from sharing nuclear weaponry and know-how with countries lacking them. It would prohibit have-not nations from seeking nuclear arms or help developing them.

It passed the U.N. General Assembly last June, and was signed by 62 nations including the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britain July 1. The treaty, however, does not become effective until ratified by 40 nations including those three powers.

The other two nuclear powers, Red China and France, have refused to sign or follow the treaty.

Although first suggested to the Geneva disarmament conference in 1962 by the administration of John F. Kennedy, it met with little Russian enthusiasm.

In January 1964, Johnson, who had succeeded the assassinated Kennedy, made a strong pitch for the treaty in a message to the Geneva conference.

"He gave us carte blanche to negotiate entirely on it," said a source in the U.S. delegation last night. "In that sense it was his treaty. He put the drive on it."

The treaty, reported to the Senate last year, must be reported again to the new Congress by a slightly changed Foreign Relations Committee.

Fulbright said no action would be taken until after the innauguration Jan. 20 and that the committee probably would hold one or two days of new hearings.

The Senate had appeared on the verge of acting last August but held back after the Russian-led invasion of Czechoslovakia, continuing delay bolstered by the support of the then-campaigning Nixon.

As late as early December Johnson was reportedly still considering calling the Senate into special session to consider the treaty—a move many senators publicly opposed.

Congress Hints Brief Honeymoon For Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders—while not reneging on pledges of cooperation to Richard M. Nixon—are making preparations that could mean a short honeymoon for the new president.

The House Education and Labor Committee drew unmistakable battle lines in three areas yesterday with introduction of a whopping $14-billion school construction bill and measures to continue President Johnson's antipoverty and school aid programs.

On the Senate side, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana announced he is broadening the scope of the Democratic Policy Committee as a step toward offering party alternatives to Nixon programs.

In the House, Education and Labor Chairman Carl D. Perkins' early trip to the hopper may signal a strategy of pushing popular, but costly, programs to force the Republicans to oppose or trim them.

Since being selected by President-elect Nixon as the next secretary of health, education and welfare, Robert Finch has said repeatedly he wants to take a close look at the programs already in existence and sees little need for new legislation.

But Perkins' school construction bill is a new departure on a grand scale. It calls for annual expenditures of about $2.8 billion for five years to help build elementary and secondary schools.

In the Senate, Mansfield said that besides its normal duties of scheduling legislation for floor debate, the Democratic Policy Committee will be encouraged to form party policy decisions on major domestic and international issues.

If the committee responds to Mansfield's urging with policy pronouncements, it seems likely to go beyond any domestic programs President-elect Nixon may offer and could be critical of some of his foreign policy moves.

With the appointment of new members yesterday Mansfield appeared to have given a slightly more liberal tinge to a committee that in the past has been dominated at times by conservative senior Southern members.

Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., was added to the policy committee as the new party whip. Among other new members are Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, a Vietnam war policy critic, and Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., a leader in sponsoring social welfare legislation.

House Receives Fort Point Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to designate Fort Point in the San Francisco Presidio as a national historic site has been reintroduced by Rep. William S. Mailliard, R- Sixth District.

A similar bill was passed by the Senate last year, but failed to receive consideration from the House Interior Committee.

Describing the fort as a classic example of coastal fortifications of the mid-19th century, Mailliard said it is the only major building constructed in San Francisco before the Civil War which has remained basically unchanged."

Israel Blasts French Cutoff Of Munitions

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli Foreign Ministry says France's arms embargo against Israel is a "one-sided and arbitrary breach" of French-Israeli agreements and eliminates France as a potential peacemaker in the Middle East.

France announced yesterday that it had cut off delivery of all military equipment to Israel, including spare parts for the Israeli air force's French Mystere and Mirage jet fighters.

In a statement the Israeli Foreign Ministry said: "This eliminates France's chances of being one of the factors able to fill a positive task in the Middle East crisis."

Diplomats in Paris viewed the embargo as an effort by President Charles de Gaulle to pressure Israel into accepting a Soviet peace plan for the Middle East. But Israel has already rejected the Soviet proposal, and there was no indication that it might reconsider.

Informed Israeli sources said spare parts on hand will keep Israel's fighters in the air for many months.

The Johnson administration agreed last month to sell 50 U.S. F4 Phantom jets and spare parts to Israel, with delivery of the planes to begin sometime this year.

The Israeli government radio said today that Israel may demand a refund of about $100 million from France for the planes and spare parts which will not be delivered. De Gaulle is not likely to get the money back from sales to the Arabs despite his ardent wooing of them. They get their arms from the Soviet Union.

The Soviet peace plan which De Gaulle is pushing calls for stationing a new U.N. peacekeeping force along the Arab-Israeli borders, U.N. diplomatic sources revealed last night, as well as phased withdrawal of Israeli forces from occupied Arab territories and internationalization of Old Jerusalem under U.N. trusteeship.

Agnew Hopes To Refurbish His Image

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew says he'll need only one year in office to erase any image of him as "the Neanderthal man."

"I fully feel," Agnew said, "that by the time a year has gone by, and I'll have been functioning in this expanded vice president's role that's been given me, and particularly in regard to intergovernmental relationships with the cities, that what I do and what I stand for is going to be so obvious that it's going to be very difficult for the people who are attempting to cast me in the role of the Neanderthal man to continue to think that way."

He made his remarks last night on the CBS television program "60 Minutes," recorded a week ago in Washington.

Agnew resigned yesterday as Maryland's governor. Chosen as his successor by the Democratic-controlled General Assembly was Marvin Mandel, 48, speaker of the state House of Delegates.

Agnew said in the television interview he could do nothing consciously to alter his image, adding: "I think the worst mistake I could make would be to attempt to placate and satisfy my critics.

"I think I have enough intelligence to know that I could do this; I could say exactly what certain people wanted me to say with a contrived purpose in making them happy, but I can't do that. I've got myself to live with and my convictions."

In answer to a question, Agnew said he contributed little to recent foreign policy discussions with President-elect Nixon and his top aides gathered at Key Biscayne, Fla.

"I was there to learn and I learned quite a bit."

Agnew was asked if he might feel at all like former President Harry S Truman at the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt that "the sun and moon and stars had fallen on him."

"I'd like to say—I'd like to appear supermodest and say yes," Agnew replied, "but I can't in good conscience."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Overtreatment For Stuffed-Up Nose Intensifies The Trouble

VAN DELLEN

A stuffy nose is a common complaint. Allergies and infections are the most likely causes but the problem s noti this simple. The nose is a highly sensitive organ and numerous external factors interfere with its function.

City dwellers, for example, inhale a variety of irritants, such as dusts, gases, and fumes.

EMOTIONS ALSO affect the proboscus. Everyone has had the experience of an itching nose while sitting in the dentist's chair or waiting to be interviewed for an important job or assignment.

Lack of rest, especially in children, often leads to nasal congestion simulating a cold. Recovery follows adequate sleep for several nights in a row.

Cells in the upper part of the nose contain highly sensitive nerve endings of smell; the inner lining is covered with fine hairs that propel mucus and other foreign particles toward the back of the nose.

Nosedrops containing vasoconstrictor drugs temporarily relieve congestion. The feeling is wonderful while it lasts, but an hour or so later, congestion returns and the distress is likely to be more severe than previously. Drops then are used again for relief.

THERE IS NO harm provided the product is not used continuously for days or weeks, as it interferes with circulation to the membranes, and the surface cells suffer accordingly.

In addition, the stuffiness that develops an hour or two later is mastaken for a return of the cold —and more drops are instilled.

A vicious cycle ensues; the individual uses a drug to relieve a condition that actually is being produced by the medicine. It is surprising how often cure follows a program of doing nothing except improving the general health through diet, sleep, and tranquility.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

A reader writes: I am 36 years old and top the scales at 175. My husband keeps telling me I am too fat. But, when I eat less, I become jittery. How can I lose weight without becoming a nervous wreck?

REPLY

Drink less tea and coffee and ask your physician to prescribe a tranquilizer. I assume you are otherwise healthy and do not have low blood sugar. As an alternative, eat less and lose weight. Your disposition may get so bad your husband will insist that you get back to 175.

INCREASING BOSOM

S. L. writes: I am writing concerning a drug called estrogen. It is my understanding that this hormone can increase the size of the bust. Is my information correct?

REPLY

Estrogen may produce slight congestion but the product will not increase the size of the bust unless there is a deficiency of this hormone.

PILLS REPLACE INSULIN

Mrs. W. T. writes: Can a diabetic who has been on small doses of insulin for years take the oral product instead?

REPLY

Yes, but a trial will be needed to determine if the pills are effective. There is a good possibility that the switch can be made because the tablets usually work well in mild diabetes.

ROUNDED, BULGING CHEST

A reader writes: Does barrel chest come from smoking?

REPLY

This deformity is seen in emphysema, which, in turn, is caused by overdistension of the air sacs. Smoking contributes to the development of emphysema, and in such instances there is a causal relationship.

Telecast Of Sirhan Trial Not Candidate For Emmy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Reporters watching the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan trial over closed-circuit television find the reception bad and faces indistinguishable

The precedent-setting system does allow twice as many newsmen to report proceedings as would be possible otherwise.

Sirhan, charged with murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, is being tried in a tiny, heavily guarded eighth-floor courtroom. There are 75 seats in the public area, about evenly divided between newsmen and security officials. Five members of the general public are admitted each day. Sirhan's mother, Mary, and brother, Munir, attended the opening session also.

The closed-circuit TV is shown in a newsroom four floors below where the trial is taking place. Newsmen entering it, as well as the main courtroom, are searched by security officials.

The closed circuit television is shown on three large-screen black-and-white sets. The sets give an overhead view of the courtroom. Reporters debated about the identities of backs of heads, and most of the time it was impossible to tell which attorney was speaking.

The TV system was initiated when the sheriff's department found it could not accommodate all reporters.

The camera photographing the actual courtroom is hidden in an air conditioner near the ceiling. The air conditioner screen showed up as three bars across the top of the picture and reception was generally fuzzy.

Newsmen all agreed the sound system was good—almost too good for awhile. At first, the microphones let TV-watching reporters eavesdrop on sometimes humorous asides not heard in actual court. The microphones then were turned off except when court was in session.

Before that, defense attorney Russell B. Parsons was overheard discussing court seating with co-attorney Grant B. Cooper.

"You'll sit there," Parsons said pointing at a chair; "I'll sit here and what's-his-name—uh—Sirhan will sit here."

Ambassador To Russia Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has accepted the resignation of Lewellyn E. Thompson, career foreign service officer who is currently ambassador to Russia, the White House announced yesterday.

Johnson has also accepted the resignations of Ambassadors John W. Tuthill, Brazil; Phillips Talbot, Greece, and Robert C. Good, Zambia.

Tom Johnson, assistant White House press secretary, said the resignations are what he called routine and said others would be forthcoming in the days ahead.

Resurfacing Of Tennis Courts Set At $1,647

Tennis courts at Marinwood Community Center can be resurfaced for $1,647, the parks and recreation commission learned Monday night.

Mallotte-Peterson and Grundy of San Francisco submitted that low bid and the commissioners recommended acceptance to the community services district board.

Commissioners also recommended that an electric lawn edger be purchased for about $125.

Recreation director William A. Gordon announced the opening of registration for the new winter recreation program.

A ski trip for all ages will be held Jan. 18. Reservations must be made for the charter bus trip to Donner Summit. The bus will leave the community center at 6 a.m. and return that night.

Registration is open for arts and crafts, sewing for adults and girls, tumbling, judo, folk guitar, water color, slim and trim, volleyball for adults, ballet, Funsters (senior citizens), bonsai club, cake decorating, Marin Home and Garden Club.

Antiracketeer Squads Lauded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teams of lawyers and investigators from various federal agencies, are responsible for the indictment of 189 racketeering figures, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark says.

The new strike force technique dramatically strengthened the federal campaign against organized crime Clark said yesterday in his annual report on the Department of Justice's anticrime activities.

The first strike force went into Buffalo, N.Y., in 1967 and the foray resulted in 21 indictments that year and 34 more in 1968, he said.

Last year, he said, they were sent to six cities: Detroit, with 67 indictments; Brooklyn, N.Y., with 71; Chicago, with 12; Philadelphia, with 5; and Miami and Newark, N.J., with no indictments reported.

Super Bowl Coaches Trade Songs Of Praise

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The oddsmakers say the Baltimore Colts are an 18-point better football team than the New York Jets. But you never would guess it from talking with Weeb Ewbank. Neither would you, for that matter, after listening to Don Shula.

The two head coaches, Ewbank of the American League champion Jets and Shula of the National League's kingpin Colts, were loud in iraise of each other's troops today as they talked of pro football's Super Bowl in Miami's nearby Orange Bowl Sunday.

"We have come a long way since the start of the season," said Ewbank as he talked of the chance of an AFL team coming out on top in this third clash between the champions of the two leagues. The NFL, represented by the Green Bay Packers, won the first two handily against Kansas City in 1967 and Oakland last year.

"This team, as it now stands, has poise and depth in both offense and defense and is proud just to be in the Super Bowl," Ewbank said.

"Joe Namath has to be one of the greatest quarterbacks and he is learning every game. I would call Matt Snell (fullback) a complete player while Emerson Boozer is just ready to go. He has reached the peak he obtained early in 1967 before he injured his right knee.

About the time Ewbank was heaping praise on his quarterback, two of several top flight runners and a trio of brilliant pass catchers in George Sauer, Don Maynard and Pete Lammons, Shula was getting in a good word for the Jets at the Colts' headquarters a half-mile away.

"The Jets have a great front four in their defensive line," said Shula, a one-time player for Ewbank. He was referring to Gerry Philbin, Verlon Biggs, Paul Rochester and John Elliott.

Shula, who also had praise for the Jets' linebackers, likened the New York front wall to the great Packers' defense of recent years. "All are quick and agile," he added. "The Jets always have been strong offensively. Now they have added a great defense.

"We don't see many of the types of defense used by the Jets in our league. Yes, we came down here expecting a real football game and I can't see us 18-point favorite."

In further discussing his players, Ewbank put Namath in the class with Colts' Johnny Unitas, when the latter broke in with the NFL champions 13 years ago. Only Sunday Unitas will be sitting this one out as he has not been able to oust Earl Morrall, one-time second stringer, since recovering from injuries.

"They're pretty much the same except John had good wheels (legs)," Eubank continued. "Both can pass long. Both are fine signal callers and have fine receivers. Both can get back there between 1.2 and 1.5 seconds for that eight yards deep pass."

Ewbank also compared favorably the Colts with Green Bay's great championship teams.

"They've had a fine football team for three years," he said. "And this year they've had the determination not to let the setbacks of the previous two years distract them.

"But I would add, I think we are the best AFL team to play in the Super Bowl. I wouldn't have said it earlier in the season but I'll say it now.

"We have Joe (Namath) and we have the receivers in Sauer, Maynard and Lammons. This has to be a big plus in addition to a good defense."

Retirement In Lodi Brings Up Memories

MEMORY LANE — John Brusati, William Cook, Dean Jones, Geido Pedroli, Allie Ruoff, Aldo Tognoli, Bob Ballow, Dave Arbini, Garrold Ruhl, Clair Richardson, Bill Post, Ed Borba, Dick Shreiner, Bill Kirby, Jim Golden.

Do those names ring a bell? If they do, then you are a young oldtimer in these parts for those names were big on the local sports scene some 31 years ago. They were just a few of the members of the 1937 San Rafael High School football squad that won the North Bay League championship and capped a great season with a 19-0 victory over arch-rival Tamalpais High.

Ten Years At San Rafael

The subject arises today because the man who coached those Mighty Bulldogs of '37 recently retired after 42 years of teaching. I refer to Cyrus Londahl who spent 10 years (1932-42) on the San Rafael High faculty before moving to Lodi High School where last month he announced his retirement.

I vaguely remember Cy Londahl as a quiet type with a subtle sense of humor that seemed to be wasted as too over-the-head for teen-agers. An English teacher, Londahl was better known for his football teams at San Rafael, while at Lodi he stuck strictly to the classrooms.

An Old, Musty Program

While reminiscing about his former coach the other day, Dr. Edward W. Cook of San Rafael came up with an old, musty 1937 San Rafael-Tam "Big Game" program which he brought into the office. I came across several familiar names, including the aforementioned Brusati and Post who were co-captains of the Bulldog champs and Fred G. Hines who was Londahl's assistant.

Tam was coached by George Gustafson and Fran Shafer and captained by Bob Ryan. Some of the stars for the Indians were Ray Buchignani (now police chief of San Anselmo), the brothers Jack and Pat Flagerman, Art Fonte and Ed Studley.

Bullpups Great, Too

On the lightweight level, and Rafael's Bullpups scored six consecutive shutouts that year under the coaching of Paul Miller and Murray Baxter. Co-captains were Art Todt and Babe Milani and some of the players still around are Paul Bates, Earl Commisky, Laurie Migliori, Gottfried "Guts" Rolly, Frank Aoares, to name but a few. Tam's lightweights were coached by Glidden Benefield and Dean Potts; captains were Mike Rickey and Ed Ahrens. The Tam lightweight roster included Bob Fitzhenry, Dick Miller and Bill Forde, just three names that still ring a bell.

Golly, reminiscing like this is a sign of old age, but it's all Cy Londahl's fault for retiring. We wish him well.

World's Top Doubles Team Loses

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Stan Smith and Bob Lutz, California collegians who make up the world's best doubles team, were beaten yesterday in the second round of the Victorian tennis championships.

They bowed to Robert Giltinan and Sydney ball, a pair of Australian juniors, 7-5, 6-3, 6-8, 62- in a match played in temperatures about the 100-degree mark with a strong gale blowing smoke from nearby brush fires across the court.

The Americans, who clinched the Davis Cup for their country, lost only three matches during 1968.

Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico combined for a 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, triumph over John Cooper and Douglas Wright of Australia.

Donald Dell, U.S. Davis Cup captain, and Tomas Lejus of Russia were eliminated by Frank Sedgman and Neale Fraser, 6-3, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5.

Davalillo Suffers Breakdown

CARACAS (UPI)—Vic Davalillo, the California Angels' leading hitter last season, has suffered a nervous breakdown.

The little outfielder was playing with the Caracas team of the Venezuelan Winter Baseball League at the time of the breakdown.

He came to the Angels last season in a trade with the Cleveland Indians for Jimmie Hall.

WARRIORS FALL, 113-108

Big E And Mates Too Much For S.F.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Elvin Hayes, following in the footsteps of last year's rookie of the year, Earl Monroe, is making the big jump from college basketball to the National Basketball Association look like a mere hop.

The Big E scored 28 points last night in San Francisco as he helped his San Diego Rockets down the Warriors 113-108 and gain third place in the NBA's Western Division.

Hayes, almost a shoo-in as rookie of the year this year, leads the NBA in scoring with a 30.7 average. Monroe ranks third at 25.2 a game, behind Oscar Robertson.

The Bullets lead the Eastern Division.

San Francisco, which plays New York Saturday night at the Oakland Coliseum Arena, dropped from third to fifth in the Western Division as Chicago slipped into fourth.

A Civic Auditorium gathering of 2,917 watched the Warriors lose their third of four games with the Rockets.

GOT HOT

Trailing 101-100 with two minutes left, the Rockets' reeled off eight straight points with Jim Barnett getting three of them and John Block four.

A pair of baskets by Rudy LaRusso had given the Warriors the 101-100 advantage—the only time in the game the Warriors led.

Barnett, former Oregon star who went from Boston to San Diego in the expansion draft, led all scorers with 31.

LaRusso scored 29 before fouling out shortly after he made the go-ahead basket. Nate Thurmond added 27 for the Warriors.

A Disappointing Day For U.S. Woman Skiers

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (AP) — Gertrud Gabl of Austria and Florence Steurer of France tied for first place today in the giant slalom at the international women's skiing series.

Misses Gabl and Steurer were timed in 1:30.93 for the race run through 69 gates. Just three-hundreths of a second behind was Inge Jochum of Austria.

It was a disappointing day for the Americans with Judy Nagel of Enumclaw, Wash., the top finisher in seventh place at 1:32.39.

Erika Skinger of Stowe, Vt., was 14th in 1:34.22, Barbara Cochran of Richmond, Vt., 15th in 1:34.27 and Ann Black of Seattle, Wash., 16ty in 1:34.42.

Kiki Cutter of Bend, Ore., hit a rut in the final stretch and missed a gate.

Cagers Wind Up Non-League Slate

Redwood Has Top Record

Redwood High School of Larkspur wound up pre-league preliminaries yesterday, ending up with the top Marin County Athletic League practice game basketball record with a 51-47 victory over Westmoor High at Daly City.

San Rafael, which opens against Redwood Friday, took once-beaten Fairfield to the cleaners, 64-59, at San Rafael, and Terra Linda gave once-beaten Castlemont of the Oakland Athletic League a tough battle before bowing, 65-63, at Oakland.

Novato won its 11th game against four losses, erupting against Sonoma, 79-65, at Sonoma.

San Marin of Novato, with high-scoring Gary Howard out with a case of poison oak, lost to Piner, 54-23, at Novato High's gym.

Westmoor, which had lost to San Francisco powerhouse Poly by only a point, turned out to be tough for the Giants, who got their final margin on a 17-13 final-quarter showing.

Jerry Piro pumped in 21 points and grabbed 10 rebounds for the winners who pushed their record to 10-3. Roger Smith added 10 points.

BIG SCORERS

San Rafael, with Bruce Nave scoring 20 points and Bruce D'Ambra pumping in 21, built up a quick 18-6 lead and never looked back.

Hot-shooting Ed Herrnberger and guard Bob Ament split 48 points between them and Steve McNally added 14 points in the Novato vicotry.

Terra Linda came back from an early nine-point deficit and tied it up in the final period before the Oakland power nailed down the win. Pat Purcell with 17 points, Mike Peden with 12 and Byron Sakanari with 11 points, led the Trojans.

Marin Prep Water Polo In 2nd Half

The four other teams in the Marin County Athletic League water polo campaign will be out to get undefeated Redwood High when the second half opens Friday afternoon.

The Giants of Larkspur have won 13 straight matches over the past two seasons. Last year Redwood competed on an informal basis in water polo and won all five of its matches. So far this season, Redwood is 8-0 overall and 4-0 in league play.

In Friday's action, Redwood (4-0) hosts Tamalpais (2-2) and Novato (2-2) hosts Drake (0-4), both games starting at 4 p.m. Terra Linda (2-2) draws a bye.

SUPER BOWL

Two Marin Pros Differ On Odds

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Martin Baccaglio, pro football player from Novato, feels the 18 points by which Baltimore is favored in the Super Bowl is too much.

Elmer Collett of Mill Valley, also a professional gridder, thinks those odds are just about right.

Baccaglio, you see, is a member of the American Football League and quite naturally is rooting for the New York Jets of the AFL in Sunday's game. Collett, on the other hand, plays for the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League. That's NFL, as in Baltimore Colts.

ROOKIE SEASON

Baccaglio, a graduate of Novato High School and San Jose State, started his rookie season this year with the San Diego Chargers but after 10 weeks of the campaign was put on waivers and promptly picked up by the expansion Cincinnati Bengals.

"I hated to leave San Diego at first," said Baccaglio, "but I realize now I have more of a chance to play with Cincinnati." He feels he has an excellent chance of being one of the Bengals' starting defensive ends next season.

Collett, a graduate of Tamalpais High in Mill Valley and San Francisco State, took over for all-pro offensive guard John Thomas during the 1967 season when Thomas seriously injured both knees. He started every game for the 49ers last season.

SKIING

There's another Marin Countian playing pro football but he won't be back until next week. That's Reg Carolan, a former Drake High School star who now plays tight end for the Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL. He and his wife are skiing in Aspen and Vail, Colo., this week and plan to do some skiing near Lake Tahoe this weekend before returning to Marin.

"I think it will be a good game," said Baccaglio about the

Tars To Host West Valley Basketballers

College of Marin's basketball team, encouraged somewhat by a tough loss, hosts a losing conference favorite tonight at 8 o'clock in Kentfield.

The Tars, who dropped their Camino Norte Conference opener to DeAnza in Cupertino last Saturday, 72-71, take on West Valley J. C. of Santa Clara, an early-season conference favorite along with Contra Costa Junior College.

West Valley brings a deceptive 4-9 record, same as the Tars, into the Tars' gym. The losses came off a tough schedule that included two games against San Francisco City College.

Coach Cal Riemcke was encouraged if disappointed by the loss to DeAnza.

"It was one of our better games, even if we didn't win," he said. "Now, if we can just put it together tonight."

The Tars will have an all-frosh front wall of Pat Scafer, Ches Bornia and Tom Seidenberg while veteran Andre Horn will be at one guard, flanked by Darel Ravani.

The varsity game will be preceded by a 6 p.m. preliminary pitting the College of Marin frosh against Two Rock Army Base of Sonoma County.

upcoming Super Bowl in Miami. "I think the Colts should be favored, but by seven points, not 18," he added.

STRONG ARM

"That Namath is really something," the 245-pound, 6-foot-3-inch Baccaglio said about the Jets' quarterback. "He can be falling back and still pass the ball 50 yards." The 24-year-old Baccaglio got about five or six minutes playing time against Namath and the Jets this season when he was with the Chargers. In addition to praise for Namath, Baccaglio said, "there is no question, Baltimore is a fine team."

Collett said the Jets' passing can hurt a team just about every time, but the key to the outcome will be the defensive pass rush by Baltimore.

"If the Jets can't keep that Baltimore line out, the Colts will really take it to 'em," he said, meaning it could turn into a rout.

PRAISE

"Baltimore has a tough defensive backfield group . . . they work really good together . . . and their offensive ground game is far superior . . . yeh, I think that point spread is about right."

In comparing Baltimore's team from 1967 to '68, Collett said he was very impressed with the improvement, especially by the defensive linemen.

"I played against tackle Fred Miller both years," he said, "and the improvement he showed was really something."

ANXIOUS

The 6-foot-4, 243-pound Collett, said he was already anxious to start the next season. "I'm optimistic about the 49ers' chances," he said. In addition to the experience gained this season by the 24-year-old Collett, he feels he improved on his running blocks. (That's the kind you saw on your television screen when number 66 was running around end in front of fullback Ken Willard.)

Both Collett and Baccaglio, being bachelors, have something else in common — military service starring them in the face. And both are going to do something about it. Sometime during the next month or two, Collett will be going into Army Reserves active duty for about four months, and Baccaglio is headed for four to six months of active duty in the National Guard. Both are awaiting orders.

AT HOME

Until that time, Baccaglio, living with his parents, will be doing a lot of steelhead fishing and some hunting ("I've already been three times out without getting a steelhead, but I'm doing okay with the ducks").

Collett will be spending much of his time at Stinson Beach staying in shape ("I do about 50 sit-ups a day and some surfing, volleyball") before his call to the service comes.

Seals Leave On Road Trip

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland's Seals, who have scored only a single goal in their last two games, head for Montreal today for the first of three road games.

The Seals, second in the National Hockey League's West Division, play the Canadiens tomorrow, at Pittsburgh Saturday and at Detroit Sunday.

Gerry Odrowski is substituting in practice on defense for Bert Marshall who injured a foot tendon against Los Angeles last Sunday.

Lakers Trip Bullets In 'Technical' Game

BALTIMORE (AP) — Technically, it was a game the Baltimore Bullets could have done without.

While their technical skills on offense left much to be desired, the Bullets moved at a record-breaking pace when it came to technical fouls.

At the end, when angry Baltimore players and wary officials exited before aroused fans, the Los Angeles Lakers had scored a 100-93 victory in a battle of National Basketball Association division leaders.

SIX TECHNICALS

Veteran referee Earl Strom and his rookie sidekick, Ed Middleton, called six technical fouls on Baltimore. Johnny Egan made five points on resulting free throws, in addition to the Lakers maintaining ball control.

Baltimore's Jack Marin and Bob Ferry, involved in a dispute with Strom as the teams left the court at halftime, were ejected from the game and the third quarter began with Egan shooting two technicals.

Even Baltimore trainer Skip Feldman was ordered to leave the bench for making what Strom described as "a gesture of disgust."

"The fans are incited by the players," Strom said afterward. "We have to call technicals to control the players. I don't blame the players, but we have to control them."

EGGING ON

However, most of the reaction from the crowd of 8,163, including the throwing of coins and trash, came after the technicals were called—and Strom several times was observed egging the crowd on by motioning with upraised palms.

Middleton drew most of the ire from the fans but he was defended by Strom.

"Ed showed me a lot of guts and judgment," Strom said. "He did a great job, regardless of what anybody says."

Coach Gene Shue of Baltimore, who was fined last year for criticizing referees, declined official comment but conceded, "I was enraged on a few of the calls."

"It's difficult to sit there and not say anything," Shue said. "People think coaches should sit there and enjoy the game. But it's a matter of life and death. The idea is to win."

NO EXCUSE

"But no matter what else happened," Shue said, "we were not putting the ball in the basket. We were struggling on offense."

Baltimore rallied from a 14-point third quarter deficit to tie the score, but Elgin Baylor scored six of his 30 points in the final 1½ minutes and the Lakers intercepted three in-bounds Baltimore passes.

Earl Monroe topped Baltimore with 22 points

The referees left the floor surrounded by policemen, and Middleton took the added precaution of wrapping his belt around his right fist. The crowd didn't phase Strom as much.

"This is child's play, compared with what it used to be in Syracuse," he said.

Pro-Am Play Starts Meet At Alameda

SUNOL (AP) — Howie Williams had rather hoped he would be playing football this weekend, but he will have to settle for a round of golf today instead.

Williams, a defensive back for the Oakland Raiders, is one of a host of sports notables who will compete in the pro-am prelude to the $50,000 Alameda County Open Golf Tournament, which gets under way tomorrow.

Williams and the Raiders came close to being the American Football League's representatives in the Super Bowl against the Baltimore Colts Sunday before losing out to the New York Jets, who earned the trip to Miami instead.

Also in the pro-am are Raider Coach John Rauch, defensive back Dave Grayson, John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers, baseball personalities Willie Mays, Joe DiMaggio, Rick Monday and others.

The tournament was started by the Professional Golfers Association as a weapon in its now-settled war with the rebel American Professional Golfers.

The APG, representing most of the top-name golfers, signed up the $100,000 Los Angeles Open, which is also being played this weekend, and the PGA planned a court fight when the golfers passed up the tournament here.

But when the dispute was settled, both tournaments stayed on the books and the PGA encouraged the touring pros to have some of their number enter here.

Though the really big names stayed in the Los Angeles tournament, such stars as Bob Lunn, Deane Beman, Dudley Wysong, John and Dick Lotz and Tommy Jacobs did enter here.

The tournament will be played over the 7,024-yard Palm course—par 72—at the Sunol Valley golf course, which is about 30 miles south of Oakland.

A's Turnover Continues

OAKLAND (UPI) — The fast turnover in the management of the Oakland Athletics continues.

It was announced yesterday that traveling secretary John Fitzpatrick has resigned to take another undisclosed position. He will be replaced by Tom Corwin, assistant publicity chief for the team last year.

Sales promotion manager Bob Freitas has also resigned "for personal reasons." His post will be filled by Ron Mihelic, assistant ticket manager.

Holovak Fired As Patriot Coach

Boston (AP) — After two seasons of mounting fan discontent it was Goodbye Mike for real today with the announcement that the Boston Patriots had fired their long-time head coach and general manager, Mike Holovak.

The former Boston College star, a fixture with the Pats since the inception of the American Football League in 1960, had an over-all record of 52-46-9 in his nearly eight full seasons at the coaching helm. But he became the target of increasing boos and catcalls as the team slumped in the past two seasons.

The decision to relieve Holovak of his present duties was reached by the 10-man board of directors at a Monday night meeting, but the announcement was withheld until yesterday so that club President William H. Sullivan Jr. could inform him personally.

Sullivan flew to Mobile, Ala., where Holovak was scouting college players getting ready for Saturday's Senior Bowl game, and after the meeting the two men flew together to Miami, Fla., where pro football coaches and officials are gathering for Sunday's Super Bowl game.

Neither was immediately available for comment.

Holovak is in the midst of a five-year contract which runs through the end of the 1971 season, and the Patriots said he would be offered another job in the organization, the nature of which will be determined soon.

Meanwhile, the club said that while in Miami Sullivan "intends to ask the advice of knowledgeable men in both leagues whose counsel will be helpful in enabling the Patriots to obtain the services of a topflight coach," and that "no expense will be prepared in accomplishing that objective."

A spokesman said there was no immediate indication from Sullivan or other high officials where the team was seeking separate individuals as coach and general manager or planned again to hire one man in the dual capacity.

The fate of Holovak's five assistant coaches was another question, although the spokesman said the team was happy with all of them.

Holovak, 48, starred at halfback for three years with Boston College in the early 1940s, and after service in World War II spent three years in the National Football League with the Los Angeles Rams and the Chicago Bears.

He later served for nine years as head coach at BC, compiling a 49-29-3 record, before being tapped by the Patriots as the first executive they hired when the team and the AFL were being formed for their maiden 1960 season.

Starting as director of player personnel, Holovak succeeded Lou Saban as head coach on Oct. 10, 1961, and at the end of the 1966 season he signed his present five-year pact as coach and general manager.

His record included an Eastern Division championship in 1963, although the club lost to San Diego 51-10 in the AFL title game.

He also led the Pats to four divisional second-place finishes and one third-place before the collapse of the past two years, when they finished last with a 3-10-1 record in 1967 and a 4-10 mark in 1968.

Soccer Gets New Chance

ATLANTA (AP) — Survival apparently has been assured for at least eight members of the North American Soccer League.

Owners representing eight of the 17 league teams which operated in 1968 met throughout the day here yesterday and emerged to announce their intention to operate again in 1969.

Details of the league's schedule were left in the hands of Phil Woosnam, the coach and general manager who guided the Atlanta Chiefs to the league title last season.

Woosnam was chosen by the owners as the league's executive director, a newly created position with authority to coordinate league activities.

Owners of clubs in Atlanta, Dallas, Chicago, Oakland, Kansas City, Baltimore, New York and St. Louis said they will operate this year.

The 36-year-old Woosnam assumed his new duties immediately.

Upon becoming the league's executive director, Woosnam said he will step down as coach of the Atlanta club. No successor has been chosen.

Two Women Share To Golf Honors

Mrs. William May and Mrs. Philip Black shared top honors at the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club's Trophy Tournament on the Novato course yesterday, both carding net 74s.

Mrs. Roy Enos was third in Class A with a net 80.

Mrs. Ed Searcy headed Class B golfers with an 81, followed by Mrs. Joel Hamby, 82, and Mrs. Rowe Waller, 84.

Ex-Women's Tennis Champ Announces Her Retirement

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Former Wimbledon champion Margaret Court announced her second retirement from big time tennis today.

After scoring an easy straight-sets victory over promising junior Lesley Hunt in the quarter-finals of the women's singles at the Victorian Tennis Championships at Kooyong, Mrs. Court told newsmen she had no intention of playing tournament tennis after the end of the Australian summer season.

"There will be no more tours and no more tournaments," she said. "I probably will do some professional coaching two or three days a week but in the main I will just be a housewife."

Mrs. Court won the Wimbledon crown as Margaret Smith and made her first retirement from big tennis after the 1966 season.

$500,000 Purse For Southern Cal Auto Race

BURBANK (UPI) — A proposed 500-mile race for Indianapolis-type cars at the Ontario Motor Speedway will have a guaranteed purse of $500,000.

D.B. MacTavish, head of the $25.5 million raceway under construction 40 miles east of Los Angeles, made the disclosure yesterday.

He said the race purse could go as high as $650,000.

The race will be held during the Labor Day weekend in 1970. The United States Auto Club must approve the event.

In another development yesterday, actor Kirk Douglas was appointed an active director of the speedway.

Montgomery High Tops Petaluma

The high school basketball showdown in the North Bay League I came off early with once-beaten Montgomery of Santa Rosa taking a 73-66 decision over Petaluma, at Petaluma High last night.

The loss was Petaluma's second. The Trojans had a 45-43 halftime lead but lost it in the third quarter when they hit only two of 13 shots from the field.

The battle of the top guards turned out a draw as Montgomery's Tom Fitchie and Petaluma's Pete Daggett each scored 18 points.

COLLEGE BASKETBALL

Purdue Surprises Illinois

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Illinois took its 10-game winning streak to Lafayette, Ind. . . . and went down for the Mount.

Rick Mount, Purdue's slick shotmaker , exploded for 37 points last night as the Boilermakers dropped the nationally fourth-ranked Illini from the dwindling unbeaten ranks 98-84.

Illinois' first setback left only three major college teams with perfect records . . . top-ranked UCLA, No. 3 Santa Clara and No. 10 New Mexico State.

Once-beaten, sixth-ranked Davidson, only other Top Ten team in action last night, pulled away in the second half and trimmed St. Joseph's, Pa., 83-69 at Charlotte, N.C. Mike Maloy and Jerry Kroll divided 40 points in leading the Wildcats to their ninth victory.

Sophomore Ken Durett's 25 points paced 11th ranked La-Salle to a 103-84 victory over Creighton and Temple blasted Pennsylvania 107-83 behind Joe Cromer's 35-point binge in a doubleheader at Philadelphia's Palestra.

Marquette, No. 20 in the latest Associated Press poll, squeezed past Chicago Loyola 65-64, Bradley nipped Memphis State 68-67 and Providence downed St. Bonaventure 70-59 in other top games.

Mount, the Big Ten Conference's top scorer last season, shot 16 for 24 from the field and combined with soph George Faerber for 11 straight purdue points in a second half rally that floored the Illini.

Faerber and 7-foot Chuck Bavis shut out Greg Jackson, Illinois' 6-foot-8 center, who managed just two points on a pair of free throws.

Davidson made up an early seven-point deficit, grabbed a 32-30 halftime edge on a basket by Maloy and then wrecked St. Joseph's with a 61-point second half burst. Mike Hauer topped the losers with 28 points.

Trailing 61-60 with 12:50 to play, LaSalle ran off nine straight points and breezed to its 10th triumph in 11 games. The Explorers' Bernie Williams scored 22 points to reach the 1,000 career mark. The Bluejays got 23 apiece from Bob Portman and Wally Anderzunas.

Cromer hit of 14 of 22 shots from the floor and seven of seven from the foul line as Temple, 7-4, raced past the Quakers with a 56-point second half surge.

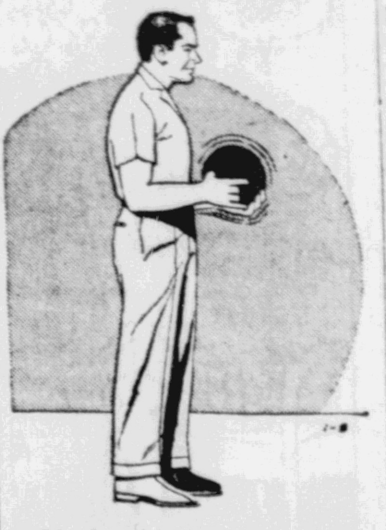
Marquette blew a 10-point lead in the last four minutes at Milwaukee before sophomore Dean Meminger's 15-foot jump shot with three seconds to play gave the Warriors their ninth victory against two setbacks.

L. C. Bowen connected on a twisting jump shot with four seconds remaining to give Bradley its Missouri Valley Conference nod over the home court Tigers. Bowen put in the winning basket 13 seconds after Memphis State had taken the lead 67-66 on Joe Proctor's long jumper.

Providence flattened the slumping Bonnies behind the outside shooting of sophomores Jim Larranaga, 19 points, and Vic Collucci, 18. The Friars contained 6-foot-11 Bob Lanier until late in the game, but he still would up with 26 points for the visitors.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Maybe this isn't considered a vital part of a good delivery by all instructors, but I believe it is important to keep some movement going while I am getting set. Merely jiggling the ball might be enough. The purpose is to keep from getting too taut while preparing to start the approach. Stay loose.

Hull, Howe, Orr Head East Team; 3 Seals On West

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicago's Bobby Hull and Detroit's Gordie Howe, 1-2 in the National Hockey League scoring race, and super defenseman Bobby Orr of Boston were unanimous choices among 24 standouts selected today for the NHL's first East-West All-Star Game.

Hockey writers in the 12 NHL cities selected 12 players in each division for the 22nd annual All-Star classic, to be played in Montreal Jan. 21. Stars from the East Division will oppose standouts from the expansion West Division for the first time. The old All-Star format matched the defending Stanley Cup champions against stars from the other clubs in the league.

St. Louis Coach Scotty Bowman, the West pilot, and former Montreal Coach Toe Blake, who will direct the East squad, each will name seven more players later in the week, completing the 19-man All-Star squads.

Hull, Howe and Orr topped the voting in the East, drawing the maximum 90 points apiece, while St. Louis center Red Berenson headed the West team with a total of 86 points.

Other East team selections are goalie Gerry Cheevers of Boston, defensemen J.C. Tremblay of Montreal and Pat Stapleton of Chicago, right winger Bob Nevin of New York, center Jean Beliveau of Montreal and left winger Frank Mahovlich of Detroit.

The second six in the West voting were goalie Glenn Hall of St. Louis, defensemen Ed Van Impe of Philadelphia and Elmer Vasko of Minnesota, right winger Bill Hicke of Oakland, center Ted Hampson of Oakland and left winger Danny Grant of Minnesota.

The NHL All-Star selections (with total points in the balloting in parentheses):

East Division

Goal—Ed Giacomin, New York (63); Gerry Cheevers, Boston (45).

Defense—Bobby Orr, Boston (90); Tim Horton, Toronto (52); J.C. Tremblay, Montreal (42); Pat Stapleton, Chicago (28).

Right wing—Gordie Howe, Detroit (90); Bob Nevin, New York (32).

Center—Phil Esposito, Boston (84) Jean Bliveau, Montreal (37).

West Division

Goal — Jacques Plante, St. Louis (66); Glenn Hall, St. Louis (48).

Defense—Bill White, Los Angeles (79); Al Arbour, St Louis (65); Ed Van Impe, Philadelphia (48); Elmer Vasko, Minnesota (20).

Right wing—Claude Larose, Minnesota (61); Bill Hicke, Oakland (51).

Center—Red Berenson, St. Louis (86); Ted Hampson, Oakland (36).

NCAA Winds Up Session

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The NCAA, with a move to switch to single platoon football now apparently a dead issue, winds up its 63rd annual convention today. A new president is scheduled to be chosen by the executive council to succeed Marcus Plant of the University of Michigan.

Walter Byers, the NCAA executive director, plans to hold a convention-concluding news conference late in the afternoon and review the three-day meeting.

There was strong opposition at the convention to the move to do away with two-platoon football to reduce the cost of athletic programs.

The actual decision on unlimited substitution lies with the Football Rules Committee, which meets at Palm Springs, Calif., next week, but there isn't much doubt that body will go along with the NCAA feeling.

At yesterday's session of the convention, the Astrodome at Houston was approved as the site of the 1971 NCAA basketball finals. The Los Angeles Sports Arena was picked as the site for the 1972 finals.

The University of Houston will host the 1971 finals March 25-27 and the University of Southern California the 1972 finals March 23-25.

Also disclosed were the sites for the opening round of the 1969 tournament beginning March 8. They were:

North Carolina State University, University of Rhode Island, Southern Illinois University, Texas Christian University and New Mexico University.

L.A. Open To Start 1969's Pro Golf Tour

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fifty-two professional golfers and 156 amateurs swarmed over the Rancho Municipal golf course today in the pro-am prelude of the $100,000 Los Angeles Open Tournament.

On hand for official action when the 72-hole event gets going tomorrow are Billy Casper, the defending champion and golf's leading money winner in 1968; National Open champ Lee Trevino, Arnold Palmer and Masters champion Bob Goalby.

This is the 43rd annual Los Angeles Open. With the exception of last year, when the honor went to the Bing Crosby pro-am at Monterey, Los Angeles has been the kickoff start of the winter tour.

Rancho's 6,800-yard, par-71 test has been the site for 15 of the tournaments. The long string was broken last January when the sponsoring Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, under pro demands, switched over to Pasadena's Brookside Municipal course.

Since then Rancho's clubhouse facilities have been refurbished and the practice tees redone, all to the satisfaction of the players.

Early weather foracasts call for good conditions. Whether this will hold true through Sunday is something the sponsors can worry about.

Casper, twice the U.S. Open champion, had never won the Los Angeles until last year. He proceeded to win four other major tournaments and pocket about $205,000 for the year.

Palmer has won here three times. While he has been lean on major triumphs of late, a segment of his national army is still alive and living in Los Angeles. Arnie's last big victory was in the 1968 Bob Hope Classic.

Goalby was the 1961 Los Angeles winner while Trevino, the surprise of the 1968 National Open, has yet to register well here.

The entry roll is jammed with familiar names . . . Art Wall jr., Chi Chi Rodriguez, Al Geiberger, Doug Sanders, Gardner Dickinson, Frank Beard, Don January, Gene Littler, Bobby Nichols and many more.

Missing from the list are Jack Nicklaus, who usually does not start the tour until the Crosby later this month, and South Africa's Gary Player, whose tournament competition is more limited than in the past.

Dodgers Purchase Two Young Hurlers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers Baseball club has bought two young pitchers and a second baseman from the Club de Baseball Tigres of Mexico City.

Pitchers Ramon Reynosa, 21, and Eduardo Acosta, 20, and second baseman Francisco Chavez, 21, will be assigned to the Dodgers' Pacific Coast League team in Spokane, the National League club said yesterday.

Kansas City Signs New Farm Club

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Royals signed a Carolina League baseball team as their fourth farm club today and announced Harry Malmberg will manage the team.

The American League Royals signed today's working agreement with high Point-Thomasville, N.C., which last year operated as a co-op team stocked by various major league clubs.

Outfielder Roy White led the New York Yankees in several departments last season. He played the most games, 159, drove in the most runs, 61, made the most hits, 154, and led the team in batting with .267.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

South's Safety Play Proves To Be A No-Trump Disaster

You can afford to laugh at South if you have never muffed a safety play. South played today's hand as millions of card pushers would. The odds were 40 to 1 that South's play would not cost him his contract, but unfortunately long shots sometimes come in.

Opening lead — ♣ Q

'NORMAL' PLAY

South won the first trick in dummy with the king of clubs and led dummy's queen of diamonds for a finesse. This "normal" play cost him his contract.

West won with the king of diamonds and returned a club to the ace. South took the ace of diamonds and gave West a diamond trick. West cashed his good club and got out with his last diamond to dummy's jack.

Declarer discarded a spade on the last diamond and then tried the heart finesse. On a good day this would work, getting South off the hook but West won with the queen of hearts and got out safely with another heart.

South could win only eight tricks, winding up with a minus score and a red face.

SURE PLAY

South is sure of four diamond tricks if he plays the suit correctly. He should lead a heart to his hand and then lead a low diamond toward dummy.

If the diamonds break 2-2 or 3-1, South can easily win four diamond tricks. The only problem arises when one opponent has all of the missing diamonds.

If West has all of the diamonds, dummy's jack will win the first diamond trick. Declarer leads a diamond to the ace and returns another diamond through West. The rest is easy.

FORCES KING

If East has all of the diamonds, dummy's jack forces out East's king. East returns a club to the ace, and now declarer wins a finesse with the nine of diamonds. He continues with the ace and queen of diamonds, and then with dummy's last diamond.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠- Q 9 2
♥- Q 7 2
♦- K 10 8 7
♣- Q J 10

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 3 no-trump.

Since you have 10 points in high cards you know that the combined count is 26 to 28 points. This should be enough to yield a reasonable play for game.

Job Breakdown

DETROIT (UPI)—American office workers spend about 9 per cent of their time on the job writing, 16 per cent in reading, 30 per cent in talking, and 45 per cent in listening, says Kelly Services, national supplier of temporary help services.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 8, the eighth day of 1969 with 357 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter and Mars. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1815 Gen. Andrew Jackson won the Battle of New Orleans, killing some 700 British troops.

In 1867 Congress approved legislation providing suffrage for Negroes in the District of Columbia.

In 1918 President Wilson presented his 14-point plan for peace to Congress—which later turned it down.

In 1963 the first session of the 88th Congress opened. It did not adjourn until Dec. 30th.

A thought for the day: American Poet James Russell Lowell once said, "Then it is the brave men chooses, while the coward stands aside."

Marin Tax Payment Not Heavy Compared To Neighbor Counties

Property taxes high?

Perhaps they are — but the "true" tax rates in Marin do not compare unfavorably with the rest of the Bay Area, according to Bay Area Facts, published by the San Francisco Bay Area Council.

The "true" tax is a figure for comparison with city to city rates throughout the area, eliminating ratios of assessment which vary from county to county and also varying assessment policies. The following rates indicate what would be the tax rate if all properties were to be assessed at their full market value.

Combined city and county tax rate so expressed for Marin would range from $2.15 to $2.67 per $100 of market valuation. In San Rafael the spread is full range, according to district. In Novato it's almost as wide — $2.17 to $2.67. Sausalito has the narrowest range — $2.27-$2.31. Others: Corte Madera $2.25-$2.47; Larkspur $2.35-$2.55; Mill Valley $2.50-$2.61; Ross $2.34-$2.54; San Anselmo $2.51-$2.55; Tiburon $2.17-$2.55. Belvedere's rate is a uniform $2.49 and that in Fairfax is $2.41.

Outside Marin, Alameda County cities have a spread of $1.90-$3.11, the highest being in Berkeley. Contra Costa County is $2.17-$3.11; San Mateo County $1.74-$3.26; Santa Clara County $1.82-$2.64.

Napa County has a low, narrow range of $1.83-$2.17; Solano County $1.68-$2.51; and Sonoma County is $2.12-$2.82. San Francisco has a uniform $2.38 rate.

So count your blessings. It may not cost you as much to own property here as you think, and look what you have.

IF YOU DON'T own a Marin home and intend to buy this year, you'll probably pay more than you would have paid in 1968. The choice of "good buys" will be more limited. New construction will still lag behind demand.

These are the predictions of Frank Howard Allen and Co. in its January Newsletter. According to this real estate company, multiple listing real estate sales this year will reach $80 million — more than 11 per cent above 1968 sales.

It will be a seller's market. Prices rose almost 6 per cent during 1968 and will go up that much or more on new homes again in 1969, the report claims.

Single family home construction (lagging almost one year behind the demand) will total $45 million, but that will still be behind the record year of $47 million in 1964. There will be adequate mortgage money at about the present loan rates (probably not more than 7.5 per cent) but the supply won't be so plentiful as to drive rates down, the Allen Co. believes.

O'Connell

Allen

OTHER REAL ESTATE: Frank J. O'Connell of Fairfax has joined T. V. McGuire in San Rafael. He was formerly five years a route supervisor in San Rafael for Foremost Foods and was 15 years with Borden's in San Rafael . . . Richard D. Allen of Kent Woodlands, former advertising executive with Kaiser Aluminum and United Vintners, has joined the 104 Tiburon, Mill Valley, office of Fox and Carskadon, Inc. . . . John J. Keating Jr. of Fairfax has been elected vice president of the Alameda County division of Western Title Guaranty Co. in Oakland. He was formerly a title officer of the Marin County division in San Rafael.

THE 1969 EDITION of the California Manufacturers Register will be out this month. It is published by the Times/Mirror Press in Los Angeles and Donald L. Gilbert of Mill Valley is the local representative. Information includes companies listed alphabetically and by city and town, executive names and titles, products or services, company size and number of employees.

Enemark Warns '69 May See Slowdown

"The economy will slow down to a growth rate of 2.5 per cent during the first six months of 1969," is the prediction of Fred Enemark, executive vice president of the Marin County Savings and Loan Association, San Rafael.

Enemark, who made the statement yesterday during his annual address on "The Money Story" at the Marin County Real Estate Board's first breakfast meeting of the new year, said this compares with a growth rate of 4.5 per cent in the last six months of 1968 and a 6 per cent growth in the first half of last year.

Describing his prediction as only an "educated guess," he said the economy is presently in "uncharted waters" and there are many conflicting forecasts for 1969.

Enemark said he also looks for the surtax on incomes, which is due to expire in June, to be extended by Congress. He said the national debt will decline by possibly $10 billion in the first half of the year and he believes the pressure on the money market will lessen. If this happens he said certain interest rates will then decline and more money will become available for loans, but still at a price.

Decribing the present time as "a time of caution — a time to sit and watch for certain signs" following the Federal Reserve Board's increase in the loan rate to banks last month, he pointed out that one of the immediate results was the raising of the banks' prime rate from 6.5 to 6.75 per cent. (Later yesterday the prime rate went to 7 per cent.) He also advised watching for a slowing down in the banks' rate of credit expansion, a tightening of bank lending standards together with a restraint on voluntary spending by individuals, and a slowdown in industrial plant expansion programs and increased inventories.

He said "headlong business and consumer spending" during the past several months is responsible for the present financial confusion.

Savings And Loan Firm Again Gains

San Rafael Federal Savings and Loan Association has reported total assets at year end of 1968 at $11,170,565 — up 9.2 per cent from a year ago.

Reserves increased 47.49 per cent to $219,508. Total savings are said to be up 9.33 per cent.

Harold Elberg, president of the association, said the company, now in its sixth year, still maintains its record of no foreclosures and no delinquent outstanding loans.

Airport Transit System Bustling

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Two months after it opened, the nation's first transit system link from a major airport to downtown is carrying 4,000 passengers daily.

The 4,000 figure is the total arrivals and departures at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport through the Cleveland Transit System's new airport rail link.

The $18.6 million, 4.08-mile line opened in November. Its trains leave every 10 minutes, offering a 20-minute ride for 35 cents. Taxis take about the same time, but cost $5 and limousine service costs $1.60.

Some Trims Of Losses At Closing

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today but trimmed its worst losses in late dealings. Trading was active.

The market staged a technical rally in the morning but backed away from it quickly. The list was substantially lower by noon, worsening its decline in early afternoon.

In the final hour bargain hunting cut losses but declines still outnumbered advances by a ratio of around 2 to 1.

A feature of late trading was a huge block of 239,800 shares of General Motors, down 2 at 76½. Most motors were down but steels recovered selectively, showing a mixed pattern.

Among active stocks, sharp losses were taken by MGIC Investment, Beneficial Finance, International Utilities, United Fruit, General Instrument, Pan American World Airways and Benguet.

Avnet advanced against the downtrend.

Prices were lower on the American Stock Exchange.

Use Of Shavers On The Increase

NEW YORK (UPI)—More than 35 per cent of the 66 million American males over 15 years of age use electric shavers regularly, an industry spokesman reports. This represents a gain of 5 per cent in the past three years.

Richard Q. Kress, vice president of North American Philips Company Inc., marketer of shavers (Norelco) says electric shaver industry sales in 1967 totaled more than $165 million.

Bank Reports Major Gains

Lincoln National Bank, Santa Rosa net operating earnings for 1968 have been reported at $54,718 or 63 cents per share, compared with $1,286 or two cents per share in 1967.

Deposits of $5,768,138 and total resources of $7,776,383 were listed as of Dec. 31, 1968.

The four-year-old bank, which also maintains an office in San Rafael, is in the process of discussing a merger into Commonwealth National Bank of San Francisco.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

North Sea Oil Find Makes Phillips Good

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am in my late 30s and buying stocks for growth. I hold odd lots of AT&T, Emhart Corp., IBM, National Can and Redman Corp. Should I increase my holdings in these companies or look for other issues? — A.B.

A. National Can has moved up sharply on an improved outlook stemming from its acquisition and modernization programs. Your holdings in this company could be added to on dips. Current weakness in IBM shares also presents an excellent buying opportunity. Representation in the oil industry is advised at this time, and Phillips Petroleum is particularly well situated for purchase. Its recent successes in the North Sea should begin to add to 1969's earnings. Continue to hold the others.

Q. I would appreciate any information on World Vision. —H.D.

A. I can find no publicly held company of that name, but assume you refer to House of Vision, an Amercan Exchange issue. The company owns a chain of 69 dspensing optician's retail outlets and also manufactures ophthalmic instruments. Sales and earnings have shown steady growth with margins maintained at over 7.5 per cent. First nine months report showed a 7 per cent gain in sales but earnings remained static on an increase in the number of shares outstanding. House of Vision guided by capable management could work out well on a long-term basis.

Q. I have shares of Wentworth Mfg. which have gone up quite a lot. Should I sell them? — J.C.

A. Your company should report a sizeable increase in both sales and earnings for the 1968 fiscal year ended Oct. 31. Wentworth manufactures a line of low-priced cotton dresses and aprons, a highly competitive field. But a new plant in Texas should begin operations early this year, which could improve the company's position. Dividend payments, omitted in 1966 and 1967, were resumed last January. Because capitalization is extremely thin, with about half the shares closely held, developments either good or bad would be amplified. Since the company's outlook is favorable, I see no reason to sell at this time.

Open House Is Set For Bank

An open house will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow at the new Bank of America branch at 200 Kentucky Street, Petaluma, and the branch will open for business at 10 a.m. next Monday, according to manager Earl W. Schneider.

The old Petaluma and Sonoma County branches of the bank, which were located across the street from each other for many years, will be combined in the new structure.

The old Petaluma branch will be razed to make way for parking, according to Schneider, giving the new branch an entire square block.

In connection with the opening, the bank will hold a contest on guessing the number of gold nuggets in a miner's pan.

Another new Bank of America branch in East Petaluma is planned by the bank.

Sea Ranch Chief To Join Bechtel

HONOLULU (BW) —Alfred Boeke, vice president-operations for Oceanic Properties, Inc., land development subsidiary of Castle and Cooke, Inc., is resigning Feb. 15 to join Bechtel Corp. as head of a new community planning and development division.

Boeke directed the planning and more recently the operation of Oceanic's prize-winning Sea Ranch development in Sonoma County, and its new Mililani town community near Honolulu.

Boeke, who joined Castle and Cooke in 1959, will be based in Los Angeles in his new position.

Booming Auto Imports Add To Record Year For Sales

DETROIT (AP) — Final domestic figures and estimated import sales indicate that Americans bought a record number of autos in 1968.

Although domestic car sales were somewhat down from 1965, when the previous record was set, booming foreign car sales were expected to more than fill the gap, with the projected total set at 9.6 million. About 9.3 million cars were sold in the United States in 1965.

U.S. manufacturers reported Friday their dealers had sold 8.6 million cars, 13.9 per cent higher than in 1967. Industry executives and observers have projected imported car sales for the year at 960,000, compared with 569,000 in 1965.

Ford Motor Co., hit hard by a nationwide strike in 1967, showed the highest percentage increase last year—up a whopping 26 per cent. Ford sold 2.3 million cars in 1968, only 1.8 million in 1967.

General Motors, the industry's undisputed giant, showed an 8.3 per cent increase, selling 4.5 million cars compared with 4.1 million in 1967.

American Motors checked in with a 12 per cent increase, selling 269,000 while Chrysler Corp. sales were up 15.3 per cent to 1.6 million, 200,000 better than 1967.

Sales for the final 10 days of December totaled 213,878, up from the previous year's 207,340 but down from the previous 10-day period's 239,204. However, 1968's final 10-day period contained only eight selling days, compared with nine selling days in the Dec. 11-20 period.

General Motors dealers sold 113,183 cars during the final period, compared with 173,481 the previous period and 103,882 during the similar period in 1967.

Ford sold 50,213, down substantially from mid-December sales 63,419, but up from the like period of the previous year, when 49,759 sales were registered.

Chrysler chalked up sales of 39,273 cars during the year's final 10 days, compared with 32,931 sold in the previous period and 43,395 sold during the final 10 days of 1967.

And American Motors showed an impressive gain during the last 10 days, selling 11,209 cars compared with 5,374 in mid-December and 10,364 during the final 10 days of 1967.

Ex-Chief May Sit On Fire Commission

Former Marinwood fire chief Albert F. Anderson, who is now a police officer in Novato but still lives in Marinwood, was recommended last night for membership on the Marinwood Fire Commission.

The recommendation came at a meeting of the Marinwood Volunteer Firemen's Association. Anderson, who is a member of the volunteer firemen's group, said he would serve on the commission.

The terms of fire commissioners Robert J. Cawley and Charles A. Hassell will expire on Jan. 15.

Genevieve Bolding, business manager-secretary of the community services district, announced that all applicants for the commission may apply in writing by Jan. 15.

The volunteer firemen last night asked Z. T. Melcon and Howard Council to see if a water system can be extended to the barbecue area at the Marinwood Community Center.

Fireman James Jackson was named to investigate the possibility of putting reflective tape on the jackets of volunteers as a safety measure.

Meadowland Rezoning Proposed

The Fairfax Planning Commission last night voted to recommend to the city council rezoning of the Meadowland Properties on the west end of Fairfax to planned development.

The area, with 52 property owners, was annexed to Fairfax Nov. 8 and automatically came in under single family zoning, although it had been zoned for planned development while it was in the county.

The change was requested by Mathew Farr and Associates of San Rafael, developers of the property. About eight residents of the area attended the public hearing last night and none opposed the change, according to Mrs. Dell Blodgett, secretary.

Two members of the seven-man board abstained from voting on the project, E. Ross Parkerson and Albert E. Gately. Parkerson did not vote because, as a member of the county planning department he had worked with plans for Meadowland. Gately did not give a reason for abstaining, Mrs. Blodgett said.

Armed Bandits Rob Gas Station

Two armed bandits stole an undisclosed amount of cash from Julian's Strawberry Shell Service Station Sunday night, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

David J. Bruce, attendant at the station, said he was in the station office when one of the bandits entered to ask for cigarette change.

When he opened the cash box, Bruce said, the bandit thrust a snub-nosed revolver in his face and demanded all the cash. Collecting the cash, he and another man drove off in a late model car, Bruce told sheriff's deputies.

New Song, Yell Leaders Elected

New song leaders and yell leaders have been chosen at Tamalpais High School.

The yell leading group, "The Six of Us," comprises Debbie Glasser, Steven Lamb, Claudia Marks, Cindy Norall, Pam Nowell and Doug Stevens.

Basketball song leaders are Ann Carr, Trudy Chapman, Ivory Foster, Karen Michel, Julie Riedel, Nancy Silewicz, Jerry White and Anne Gartner, alternate.

Fairfax Meeting Set On Family Life Films

The Fairfax School District board last night set a special meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 21 at Manor School to discuss the controversial KQED "Time of Your Life" series.

A special showing of the 15 films will be held at 8 p.m. today, tomorrow and Jan. 20 at White Hill School.

The district also is reviewing the family life program in the schools and a report will be given to the Parent-Teacher Association Jan. 15, Dr. H. Reginald Hammond, superintendent, said.

In other action last night the board asked the district staff to study further a request by teachers who want salary credit for attending a non-credit course in Afro-American history and culture.

The next regular meeting was switched to 7:45 p.m. Jan. 22 at the district office so as not to conflict with the special meetinf, according to Hammond.

Hitting Wrong Pedal Results In Chain Wreck

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Dean Witter Sr., 81, the San Francisco stock broker, hit the accelerator instead of the brake yesterday resulting in a chain reaction accident that injured one man.

Witter told police he had stopped the car to pick up his son Dean Witter Jr., and while shifting seats to permit the younger Witter to drive, the car began to roll down California Street.

The elder Witter tried to jam on the brake pedal, but hit the gas instead. The car struck another parked vehicle, sending it over the curb where it pinned Lou Signer, 60, a partner in Lesher - Muirhead Oldsmobile, against a building wall and crushed his left leg.

Witter, who owns a ranch in Tamalpais Valley, was cited for failing to cramp the wheels of his auto and setting the emergency brake. Signer, whose left leg had been damaged years ago by polio, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital.

"Well," he said, "I'm glad it wasn't my good one."

North Bay Area Transportation Due Discussion

"Mass transportation planning in the North Bay Area" will be the topic for discussion at the Sonoma County Mayors and Councilmen's Association meeting at 7 p.m. tomorrow at Los Robles Lodge, Santa Rosa.

The group will recommend a city official to the county supervisors for appointment to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board. Southern Sonomans being considered are Petaluma Vice Mayor Kenneth J. Colin and Rohnert Park Councilman Vernon Smith.

Participating in the panel discussion on transportation will be Dale W. Leuhring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District; Seymour Kashin, general manager of Marin County Transit District, and George Kovatch, Sonoma County planning director.

Mobile Home Park Before Planners

Plans for a mobile home park and a restaurant will be reviewed by the Cotati Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. today at the Cotati Elementary School.

Plans for the mobile home park, on Gravenstein Highway, will be presented by John L. Cecil. Mrs. Bertha Logue will present plans for a restaurant on East Cotati Avenue.

Prince Faces Traffic Fine

OXFORD, England (AP) — Oxford police have issued a warrant for Prince Tomohito, 22-year-old nephew of the Emperor of Japan, for failing to pay a $4.80 fine.

The undergraduate prince is believed to be vacationing in Japan and the warrant cannot be served until he returns to Magdalene College, for the beginning of the new term Jan. 19.

The warrant was issued by Oxford magistrate yesterday. It charges Prince Tomohito with failing to appear in court to answer a summons for non-payment of the fine imposed Dec. 2 for obstructing a street with his car.

Tam High Discipline Policy Brings Sparks

Whether a school board committee can effectively set discipline policy on a uniform basis was the major debate of the Tamalpais High School District citizen-student-staff study group last night.

Administrators said they need autonomy in the matter of punishment in order to treat students on an individual basis.

"Don't tie our hands," pleaded Robert H. Prather, Tamalpais High School principal.

The need for autonomy was based on the use of counseling as the main tool for handling school infractions.

"Discipline as viewed here is negative," asserted Henry Marshall, Tam high dean of boys. "Too much time is spent defending its negative aspects."

Community representative Lawrence Goldberg, a Kentfield School District trustee, said the situation calls for "basic philosophical guidelines" to teach students "to govern themselves and develop self-reliance and responsibility.

Challenging a poll of a portion of the Tam high faculty, reported by Tam teacher Michael F. Davlin, Redwood High School Principal Donald Kreps said student discipline should be approached on a positive basis. The poll indicated some faculty members are dissatisfied with the way discipline is handled.

Prather defended the use of suspension as a disciplinary measure when all other means have failed and depending on the individual case.

"Some kids want to be suspended," Marshall said. "For them after school detention is more effective."

Kreps said Redwood now suspends students only until they return with their parents for conference and counseling, usually the next morning.

In the matter of parental permission for legally unexcused absences, (for which schools lose state funds) Ann West, dean of girls at Sir Francis Drake High School, said the Drake practice since last spring was to accept pre-arranged absences approved by parents.

(Last spring about 40 Drake students were suspended for attending a protest rally and some of their parents, in turn, protested to school authorities and the board. The incident triggered formation of the joint study committee.)

Mrs. West urged the committee to consider guidelines for parental responsibility, to define mass absences and to review penalties, but to leave each school discretion in using such guidelines.

Chairman Ellen Binckley, who gave a progress report of the committee to the board of trustees Monday night, said the board will further discuss the direction of the study committee at its meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 20 in the district office.

The committee agreed to abolish night meetings in favor of 4 p.m. each first and third Tuesday. The meeting place has not been determined.

Indians Will Dance For Carnival Show

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — It hasn't snowed in normally snowy northern Nevada for two weeks and this city's first-ever winter carnival is just around the corner.

So about 40 high school students — members of the Hopi, Shoshone, Pima and Apache Indian tribes — plan to perform a "snow dance" Friday. The dance is similar to those used to ask the gods for rain.

Los Angeles Fog Chasing Reported

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The first fog-seeding experiment is "a qualified success," say international airport officials. The dropping of 1,600 pounds of finely ground salt from two planes over an 800-foot blanket of fog raised visibility above the 1,200-foot federal safety minimum, the officials said.

No planes landed during the brief test period yesterday but for a few minutes, the ground fog climbed as high as 2,400 feet — prescribed for safe takeoffs.

Each miniscule crystal of salt attracted and absorbed particles of fog, causing them to fall to earth as droplets of mist, too heavy to float.

The $80,000 experiment will continue, officials said. Ninety per cent of the cost is being borne by airlines.

Quebec Roads Shut By Snow

QUEBEC (AP) — All roads within 50 miles of Quebec City were closed yesterday by a storm that brought 10 inches of snow.

This raised to more than 100 inches the total snowfall in the region since the start of winter.

At nearby Levis, about 300 students were taken into homes when their school buses could not get through.

Czech Red Paper Raps Maneuvers

PRAGUE (AP) — The Czechoslovak Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo complained today about the nearness of U.S.-West German troop exercises to the border and said this gave reason for Cezchoslovaks to be anxious.

The paper asked if the American and German army staffs want to see "how the Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia will react to the Reforger-1 maneuvers."

About 15,000 U.S. troops are being flown from the United States to West Germany for the exercises to be held about 30 miles from the Czechoslovak border. The operation will begin Sunday and continue for at least three weeks.

This is Meat Department Improvement Week

Again, Purity is asking you, the shopper, for advice, opinions and suggestions. This is Meat Department Improvement Week and we want to know how you would improve the meat department if you were in charge.

Meat makes the meal! That's why Purity tries so hard to give you the best meat department in town—why we sell only U.S.D.A. Choice beef—why we train our meat men to be helpful and courteous—but, we also know that there is always room for improvement.

So we are asking you menu-makers and supper-servers to become members of Purity's Advisory Panel and send us some meaty suggestions that we can sink our teeth into! Tell us what you want—we'll try our darndest to give it to you!

PICKET CRITICISM

Governor Backs Firing Notices

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan, urging that "society take a stand against this barbaric force" of dissident students, said today striking state college faculty members will lose their jobs if they picket more than five days. They will not get paid for the time they are on strike, he said.

"It is regrettable . . . this move on the part of the faculty is tied into the action of some of the dissidents," Reagan told a news conference.

Reagan said he only was citing state law in regard to striking teachers' losing pay or their jobs. "The governor doesn't hire professors and the governor doesn't fire them."

However, Reagan said later he has been in constant contact with state college officials. Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke of the state college system already has cited the five-day rule on faculty absences.

Reagan again bitterly criticized students "deliberately seeking provocation . . . chaos . . . a power grab," and he again said now was the time for a showdown.

"Yes, there is going to be more violence . . . there are going to be tragedies across the country. But it is the only choice," Reagan said.

He also said his statement Sunday about resorting to "the point of a bayonet" referred to protection of individual rights. "I did not use that phrase with regard to keeping the campus open," Reagan said.

He strongly defended acting President S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State College, praising the Mill Valleyans efforts to meet "acceptable" demands of the striking students.

Labor Council Airs S.F. Campus Stand

In sanctioning the American Federation of Teachers strike at San Francisco State College, the San Francisco Labor Council is drawing a fine line as to what it does and does not endorse among the teachers' demands.

This was emphasized yesterday by George Johns of San Rafael, executive secretary of the labor council.

In sanctioning the strike, Johns emphasized, the council — which includes representatives of nearly all AFL-CIO unions in San Francisco — specified that it was backing teacher demands relating to working conditions.

"We are not endorsing the student strike," stressed Johns. That is none of the labor council's business, he said.

Johns said the teachers union at the college, which is Local 1352 of the AFT, presented 22 grievances for which it won strike sanction.

These include job protection, transfer of faculty members to the Black Studies department with consequent doubling up of duties in other departments, work load (which the striking teachers want reduced from 12 hours of instruction per week to nine), grievance procedures, sick leave, and personnel decisions.

"There is no wage issue," Johns said. (The Associated Press reported from San Francisco yesterday that higher pay was among the AFT demands.)

Johns said the teacher grievances do not allege any violation of the individual contracts under which all the teachers are employed.

Asked whether it was customary for the labor council to sanction a strike by a union whose members are all covered by existing contracts, and where no contract violation is alleged, Johns replied, "That is a legal question."

Victor Van Bourg, attorney for the AFT local, insisted that the state college teachers are not under contract. "There is no

New Position Offer May Solve San Mateo Unrest

SAN MATEO (AP) — Officials at College of San Mateo hoped today that giving a bigger job to a Negro administrator will ease campus tensions.

Robert Hoover, whose removal as director of the College Readiness Program sparked violence, said last night he will accept a position as assistant for minority programs for the junior college district, which also includes Skyline College in San Bruno and Canada College in Redwood City.

Trustees of the district, who have been meeting to find ways to halt what they called "an escalation of violence" after a former dean's home was firebombed, are expected to approve Hoover's appointment in tonight's meeting.

Hoover will have his office at the district headquarters at College of San Mateo and will be in charge of funding, recruiting of minority personnel, and planning of work-study programs.

Hoover, 36, and his assistant, Jean Wirth, were relieved of their duties in the College Readiness Program for 500 disadvantaged minority students. Afterward, they criticized college president Robert Ewigleben's plan to expand the program to include 2,000 disadvantaged whites.

The minority students and their 75 white tutors threatened to go on strike unless Hoover was reinstated.

Appearing at a news conference with Clifford Erickson, chancellor of the district, Hoover said, "I'm completely satisfied that I will be given enough authority over minority programs and can stay in contact with the students.

"I'm glad we're beginning to approach a workable solution."

The 8,600-student, hilltop campus has been free of violence while under police guard but Ewigleben said his life had been threatened and a firebomb thrown into the garage of Phil Garlington's home early yesterday caused about $20,000 in damage.

Garlington, now president of Skyline College, was dean of instruction at San Mateo at the height of campus disturbances last month.

Pickets At San Jose Join Teacher Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The American Federation of Teachers strike at troubled San Francisco State College spread today to San Jose State and strike sanctions were sought at three others.

The union, representing a minority of faculty at the 19 state colleges, demanded "meaningful negotiations" with trustees on the student crisis at San Francisco State and improved salary and working conditions.

As AFT members picketed for the third day in front of San Francisco State, a similar line was set up at San Jose State, 60 miles to the south.

The union represents about 300 of the 1,200 faculty members at each campus.

Strike sanction was requested by union locals at state colleges in Fresno, Sacramento and Chico.

At San Jose, a college official said the AFT pickets were "peaceful and perfectly legal, at least so far." The 23,000 student campus also had been the scene of student unrest in recent weeks.

Police complained to AFT pickets at San Francisco State that their lines were "too tight." The teachers heeded police requests to march at least five feet apart.

However, there was one report of violence at San Jose. As James Steele, psychology professor marched on the picket line, he was struck by a cherry bomb dropped from a high-rise dormitory.

In Sacramento, meanwhile, an Assembly Republican leader, Don Mulford of Piedmont said "no longer can we allow a minority of dissident professors and teaching assistants to interfere with and jeopardize the education of our young people."

Yesterday, acting President S. I. Hayakawa charged the striking teachers "lost control of a picket line," making it necessary for police to restore order on the San Francisco campus.

The AFT pickets dispersed when police warned a noise group of demonstrators that the growing picket line was becoming an unlawful rally.

About 200 persons, including leaders of two striking student minority groups, held their ground in front of the administration building, chanting "On

Teachers At Sonoma May Join Strike

Members of the American Federation of Teachers local at Sonoma State College voted to strike yesterday if reprisals are made against the striking teachers at San Francisco State College.

Dr. Bernice Goldmark, president of Local 1764, said reprisals probably would come Monday. The state college board of trustees has said that striking teachers will be considered as having resigned after missing classes for five days.

"If the teachers at San Francisco are fired or suspended on Monday, we will show support for them by striking here," Dr. Goldmark said. The education professor said strike sanction would be sought from the Sonoma County Labor Council.

The AFT represents about one-fourth of the Sonoma State faculty. Dr. Goldmark said a strike would not be designed to disrupt classes. She said most teachers would arrange to hold classes off campus so students would not lose credit for the semester's work or have their draft status jeopardized.

Ed Reinecke Named Successor To Finch

Reagan Preserves Slim GOP Legislative Edge

REP. ED REINECKE
Heir to Reagan?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Republican Rep. Ed Reinecke, praised by Gov. Ronald Reagan as a "young, energetic" political comer, was named California's new lieutenant governor today.

The GOP governor's official announcement at a news conference in the State Capitol came the day after Reinecke's 45th birthday, and gave the Studio City congressman a flying leap into statewide attention and a possible bid for Reagan's job whenever the governor leaves office.

Reinecke replaces Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch, who will become secretary of health, education and welfare in President-elect Nixon's cabinet later this month. Reinecke officially will move into Finch's second-floor office across from the State Senate chamber only after the U.S. Senate confirms Finch's appointment.

In choosing Finch's successor, Reagan told newsmen, he put "greatest concern on the need for someone who is a young, energetic man, a capable vote-getter . . . with a future. Someone interested in a future in public life."

While he found no concensus on any one candidate for the job in talking with Republican leaders throughout the state, the governor said, he did discover that everyone wanted "someone who was . . . a comer."

Reagan declined to place Reinecke anywhere on the political spectrum, but the congressman — first elected to office just over four years ago — has been highly rated on voting scales of organizations calling themselves conservative.

Earlier in Washington, Reinecke said, "I'll be my own man. I've always been an independent thinker."

Reagan had said he wanted to name a man who would help the party ticket in the 1970 state-

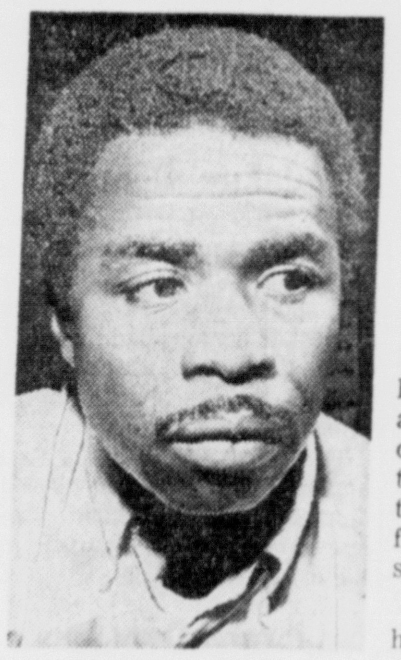
LUCAS VALLEY BIGOTRY?

Black Educator Blames Neighbors For Gun Case

By STEPHEN COOK



LANNY BERRY
His children suffering

A black educator, being sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for the crime of carrying a concealed weapon, yesterday blamed his troubles on the bigotry of his white suburban neighbors.

"I never owned a gun until a lot of people in my neighborhood started threatening me, and I'm 36 years old," said Lanny G. Berry of Lucas Valley, a special assistant to the superintendent of the Tamalpais High School District.

Berry told Judge Hadden W. Roth that he and his family have suffered 50 incidents of white racism since moving into their home at 685 Blackberry Lane in March 1966.

His neighbors' hatred of blacks surfaced before he moved in, he said, with the circulation of a petition to keep him, his wife and three children from buying on the block.

Judge Roth said he was concerned with "a sensitivity" expressed by Berry when talking of his neighbors and potential violence.

"Do you realize the inherent danger of having a weapon? Can you give me some assurance that, in the future, you will not resort to violence?" the magistrate asked.

"I understand the gravity of having a weapon. That's wrong and in future situations I will not carry a gun. But, I am not going to live in Lucas Valley and take the kind of crap I have to take from my neighbors," Berry said.

If neighborhood abuse against his children continues, Berry warned, the judge will have him back in court.

Berry was charged with the misdemeanor as a result of an incident Sept. 7, when he was told that his 12-year-old son,

Next Reagan Budget Reportedly Holding $200 Million Tax Relief

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Ronald Reagan's new budget will propose that $200 million be set aside in property and income tax "relief," it was learned yesterday. (Other Legislature stories, Page 22.)

Reagan's "state of the state" message yesterday to the Legislature promised "a continuation of state-sponsored local property tax relief, and a substantial personal income tax reduction," but offered no further details on his budget, yet to be presented.

Approximately $120 million will be earmarked for "property tax relief," a Capitol source told the Independent-Journal, and $80 million for "income tax relief."

Just how the $200 million would get back to taxpayers has not been decided, he said, but a cash rebate to homeowners may be proposed for a second year. This year, homeowners will receive $70 cash rebates on their property taxes.

A second year of cash rebates, however, may do nothing except match the homeowners' increased taxes under a $750 exemption on assessed valuation. The exemption, to be effective next fiscal year, will have to be offset by increased taxes so local government revenue will not be reduced by the exemption.

Also, the amount of the rebates next year probably would be less than $70. The current fiscal year's $70 rebates are expected to cost almost $170 million, or some $50 million more than the amount set aside in the current budget for this year's rebates.

Reagan's message did not say who would benefit from the income tax reduction, but he previously promised it to middle income families hit hardest by the 1967 billion-dollar hike in income taxes.

Groucho's Wife Files For Divorce

Marx

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Comedian Groucho Marx's third wife, suing for divorce, claims he has an "uncontrollable temper" and "hostile and abusive moods."

Edna Eden Marx, 38, says the comic, 73, struck her on New Year's Eve two years ago, threatened to kill her and is often "belittling and ridiculing" her in front of guests, relatives and servants.

Mrs. Marx also asked for division of an estimated $3 million in community property in the suit filed yesterday in Superior Court.

Mrs. Marx

They married in July 1954 at Sun Valley, Idaho. They have no children.

Marx was divorced in 1942 from his first wife of 22 years. They had two children. Marx divorced his second wife in 1950, after five years of marriage. He has a daughter, Melinda, 22, by the second marriage.

Julie Andrews Seeks $6 Million

SANTA MONICA (UPI) — Actress Julie Andrews has filed libel suits totaling $6 million against two movie magazines, including one which linked her romantically with actor Sidney Poitier.

Miss Andrews

The story appeared in the January 1969, issue of "Screenland." The Superior Court suit charged the story falsely said Miss Andrews had dated Poitier and was romantically linked with him.

Miss Andrews said in her complaint filed yesterday she has never dated Poitier and only on rare occasions had they been fellow guests at events. She denied statements attributed to her in the story and charged they were fabricated by the author, West Coast editor James Gregory.

The other suit charged that a story in the January 1969, issue of "Modern Movies" falsely stated Miss Andrews was indifferent and unconcerned about the welfare of her 6-year-old daughter, Emma.

Plane Hijack

HAVANA (AP) — A Colombian airliner with 56 passengers and crew members was forced to fly to Cuba yesterday by one of the passengers, a young man with a pistol.

All aboard except the young man were expected to return today to Colombia.

The Avianca DC4 took off from Riohacha, near the Venezuelan border, on a flight to another Colombian city. The pilot, Capt. Jorge Otalora, radioed: "We are heading for Cuba. Hijacked."

Runway Crash

ROVANIEMI, Finland (UPI) — A Finnair airliner with 31 persons aboard overshot the Rovaniemi Airport runway in thick fog today and plowed through 30 yards of thick snow that brought it to a halt. None of the 27 passengers or four crewmen was hurt but the Convair airplane was heavily damaged.

Coin Pinched

LONDON (AP) — The Royal Mint put one of its new 50 pence coins on exhibit yesterday, and someone immediately pinched it.

The coin, which will replace the 10-shilling note when British currency goes decimal in 1971, was stolen from a hotel showcase. Other decimal coins that had been exhibited before also were stolen from the exhibit.

The 50-pence piece, which will be worth $1.20, is believed to be the only seven-sided coin in the world.

Only six have been minted so far.

TOKYO (UPI) —A blizzard-like storm piled up nearly two feet of snow in an area 120 miles northwest of Tokyo today, stranding 150 persons.

10 Fire Deaths

MELBOURNE (AP) — Bushfires swept townships on the outskirts of Melbourne today, and there were reports that at least 10 persons had been killed in the blazes which roared through the tinder-dry summer grass.

The farming township of Lara apparently was hardest hit, but downed communication lines made thorough assessment of the damage impossible.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) —Two Molotov cocktails were thrown into the U.S. Information Service library early today, causing damage estimated at $1,500.

Sets Conferences

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon will hold pre-inaugural meetings with all members of his prospective cabinet here this week.

Press spokesman Ronald Ziegler said yesterday that Nixon's cabinet choices would be in New York Friday and Saturday to confer with the incoming chief executive and with chairmen of 22 task forces that have been exploring possibly new policy ground in key areas for the benefit of the new administration.

Purse Snatching Victim Succumbs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Katherina Ongwarsky, 85, died yesterday of injuries suffered when a gang of teen-age purse snatchers attacked her.

She was beaten Nov. 3 a few feet from the home of her daughter, Katherina Murphy.

Police have not caught the gang. The stolen purse contained $60.

Vietnam War Action On Quiet Side

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands today reported only two small skirmishes and two shellings in what appeared to be one of the Vietnam War's quietest days since the Paris negotiations began.

The U.S. Command also reported a battle-damaged Air Force Phantom jet crashed into an American artillery camp yesterday, killing two U.S. soldiers and a Vietnamese civilian in the camp.

The Command also reported two helicopters shot down earlier this week, with one crewman killed and two wounded.

U.S. troops were involved in only one of the two fights yesterday, a clash about 70 miles north of Saigon. Artillery and helicopter gunship crews of the First Air Cavalry Division sprayed a small enemy band with rockets and machine-gun fire, and 16 enemy bodies were found. There were no American casualties.

In the other action, a South Vietnamese militia force reported it killed 14 guerrillas during a patrol in the Mekong Delta 49 miles southwest of Saigon.

The Phantom downed was one of two jets hit by intensive machine-gun fire on a mission about 30 miles north of Saigon in War Zone D.

An Air Force spokesman said the two crewmen stuck with the burning plane until it was clear of a heavily populated area north of Saigon, suburban area, then ejected.

Harvard Co-Ed Found Slain In Apartment

JANE BRITTON
Slain in apartment

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Investigators searched today for the weapon used to kill Jane Britton, 22, a Harvard graduate student whose body was found sprawled face down across a blood-spattered mattress in her apartment.

A medical examiner said the daughter of the administrative vice president of Radcliffe College had been struck a massive blow on the left side of the head behind the ear by a sharp weapon. Investigators theorized a hatchet or a cleaver was used.

Dr. Arthur McGovern of Cambridge, who ruled the death a homicide, said the shape of the wound indicated that the girl was facing her assailant when struck. He said she had been dead 10 to 12 hours when her body, clad in a disarrayed nightgown, was found at 12:40 p.m. yesterday.

An autopsy performed Tuesday night by McGovern disclosed that the girl had also been struck at least twice in the face with the weapon.

Authorities said the autopsy revealed no evidence of sexual attack.

Police said they were without a suspect. They said there was no evidence of a struggle or of robbery.

The slim, petite brunette was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Boyd Britton of Needham. A graduate of Radcliffe, she was in her second year as a student in anthropology.

Miss Britton failed to appear in a class yesterday morning, police said. The body was found by James H. Humphries, 27, a fellow anthropology student whom they described as a steady boy friend, and by Mr. and Mrs. Don Mitchell, the girl's fourth floor neighbors in the apartment house near Harvard University.

The apartment is on the other side of the same duplex building where Beverly Samans, 23, was stabbed to death five years ago during a wave of 13 killings in eastern Massachusetts blamed on the Boston Strangler. However, the Samans slaying is unsolved and police have never accepted the theory that the self-proclaimed Boston Strangler, Albert DeSalvo, knew anything about it.

The moon's distance from the earth diminishes by about one inch a year, says Collier's Encyclopedia.

Hanoi Firm On Hold Up Of Session

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam said today it will not reconsider its refusal to accept American and South Vietnamese procedural proposals for an early opening of the Paris talks on Vietnam.

A North Vietnamese spokesman said there was no chance Hanoi would listen to a U.S. appeal and adopt some of the seating arrangements put forward by the United States.

"All these arrangements aim at making the conference a two-sided issue. As we already have said, this is unacceptable to us," the spokesman said.

He thus shrugged off an appeal yesterday by Cyrus B. Vance, deputy American negotiator, that North Vietnam reconsider its refusal to study and adopt one of the six shapes for the negotiating table—the main obstacle blocking the parley.

The Hanoi official said his delegation and the National Liberation Front (NLF), the political arm of the Viet Cong, continued to insist on seating arrangements making the conference clearly appear as a parley of four equal parties.

Acheson Calls JFK's Cuban Results Lucky

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dean Acheson saiys President John F. Kennedy gambled "to the point of recklessness" in the 1962 Cuban missile crisis and won partly because he was "phenomenally lucky."

While Robert F. Kennedy had praised the free-flowing discussion process among presidential advisers during the crisis, Acheson said it was "repetitive, leaderless, and a waste of time."

Acheson, President Harry S Truman's secretary of state, who was called in as an adviser during the crisis, commented on what took place in an article in Esquire Magazine released yesterday.

The article was in reply to an account of the crisis written by Robert Kennedy before his death and published last October.

"Sen. Kennedy seemed at the time—a view strengthened by his account—to have been moved by emotional or intuitive responses more than by the trained lawyer's analysis of the dangers threatened and of the relevance to these of various actions proposed." Kennedy was then attorney general.

Reed School District Tax Hike Vote Urged

The Reed Union School District board should consider a $1 tax rate increase to balance the 1969-70 budget, Supt. H. Joe Edgington suggested last night.

Edgington recommended the board try to consolidate a tax increase election with the trustees election in April. The current general tax rate maximum is $2.25 per $100 valuation, excluding overrides.

Asst. Supt. William G. Vanasen said the tentative 1969-70 budget figure, excluding reserves, is $2,347,467. That includes a 6 per cent cost of living pay raise for teachers plus a $440 across the board increase to catch up last year's requested increase.

Estimated income for 1969-70 without the increased tax is $1,876,285.

Meanwhile ,the board pared the current budget of $2,020,974 last night, cutting $47,217 from current expenses and stripping another $32,937 from reserves to make up an $80,154 deficit stemming from reduced state support.

State aid fell below expectations this year when enrollment dropped and the state eliminated a kindergarten bonus formerly granted the district.

The cuts will not require a staff reduction, Vanasen said. The brunt of the ax fell on instruction services, cut $18,815, and capital outlay, cut $11,214. Other cuts as recommended by Edgington and adopted by the board were $2,040 from administration, $6,800 from maintenance, $2,300 from operations, $850 from transportation and $198 from health services.

The board set a special meeting to discuss the new budget for 10 a.m. Jan. 18 in the Bel Aire School multimedia center, and will also discuss the budget at the next regular meeting Jan. 21.

The Reed Union School District board also:

HIRING — Placed half-time science teacher Kay Doyle on full-time status to help replace Mrs. Judy Wheatley, who resigned in December at Del Mar School.

GRANADA SCHOOL — Accepted the final state audit and certificate of acceptance for Unit 2 at Granada School, finished three years ego.

BOARD VACANCY — Set closed sessions for next Tuesday and Wednesday to interview 11 applicants to replace James B. Atkin on the board. Atkin resigned in December because of pressure of his law practice.

LABOR

contract binding them to anything," he declared.

Tom Camesima, of the legal office of the California State Colleges in Los Angeles, said state college teachers are hired under terms of Title 5 of the California Administrative Code, and sign an agreement which binds them and the state colleges to the terms set forth in the code.

Johns said the strike sanction was granted by unanimous vote of the labor council's executive committee, augmented by representatives of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, Teamsters Union, and several others. The executive council had been empowered to act by vote of the whole labor council, he reported.

The grant of strike sanction means other AFL-CIO unions must observe the teachers' picket line (which is part of the student picket line).

AFT locals at San Francisco State, Fresno State, Hayward State, Chico State and San Jose State colleges voted Dec. 10 to go out on strike. At that time, however, the San .Francisco local called for the walkout to back demands of the Black Students Union and Third World Liberation Front, plus greater voice by the teacher union in campus operation.

Three Members Of Family Hurt

A family of three was injured yesterday in a car-truck collision on Shoreline Highway in Manzanita, the California Highway Patrol said.

The accident occurred at 6:05 p.m., the highway patrol said, when a truck driven by James G. Grabham, 30, og 54 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, turned left in front of an oncoming car driven by Georgianne Bergstrom, 44, of 244 Reed Boulevard, Strawberry.

Mrs. Bergstrom was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a strained neck and cut lip. Michael Bergstrom, 17, was treated for a bruised knee and Kim Bergstrom, 5, was treated for a bruised forehead.

Grabham told the patrol the truck windows were misty and he did not see the approaching car. He was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way and driving with no license in his possession.

Guitar Stolen

Someone walked onto her Gate 5 houseboat Monday and stole a Gibson guitar valued at $250, Adrea L. Bankoff told sheriff's deputies yesterday.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

7:56 a.m., Novato — Truck trailer containing glue and belonging to John McGuire, San Jose contractor; caught fire when diesel heater inside tipped over while parked behind Pacifica apartments east of Highway 101 at Novato Creek; fire smoldered for four hours; no damage estimate.

10:15 a.m., Woodacre—Defective fireplace at the residence of R. G. Wilson, Elm Avenue; $300 damage.

10:59 a.m., San Rafael — Automobile belonging to Vernon Hyde of San Francisco caught fire at the Northgate Shopping Center because of a backfire which ignited the engine; $250 damage.

12:50 p.m., San Rafael—False alarm at Terra Linda High School.

4:05 p.m., San Rafael — Ray K. Bolinger of 3 Marinita Avenue drove his automobile, which caught fire into the fire station at Third and Union streets; $10 damage.

5:46 a.m., San Rafael — Furnace fire at 1232 Irwin Street put out by occupants of building; no damage.

STATE

strike, shut it down...on strike, burn it down."

However, they retreated as a force of 300 riot police moved slowly across the campus, carefully avoiding contact with the demonstrators. One youth fell, but he was lifted gently to his feet by two members of the tactical squad, who brushed the dirt from his clothes and sent him on his way.

One arrest was made, in connection with a previous demonstration, and there were no injuries.

It was a marked contrast from last month, when a series of clashes between militant students and police resulted in scores of injuries, more than 150 arrests and damages to the 18,000-student campus estimated in the thousands of dollars.

Yesterday's confrontation same shortly after Gov. Ronald Reagan labeled campus unrest California's chief problem and called on the state Legislature to move against campus "anarchy and insurrection."

In his annual State-Of-the-State message at Sacramento, Reagan asked lawmakers to tighten penalties for campus troublemakers while providing an "equal education plan" for all qualified students at the nine university campuses and 19 state colleges.

The minor brush with police was the first since the AFT went on strike Monday morning, seeking educational reforms and backing a two-month long strike by members of the Black Students Union and the Third World Liberation Front.

The AFT was reported at odds with the more militant student groups, who struck Nov. 6 to back 15 demands, including a black studies program, enrollment of all Negro applicants, and reinstatement of Black Panther George Murray as an English instructor.

The Third World Liberation Front said it would defy Hayakawa's strict new rules concerning campus activities, but the teachers' group said it would abide by them.

AFT officials estimated that only 20 per cent of the students crossed picket lines to attend classes yesterday, but Hayakawa said "many classes were uninterrupted and people continued their serious business of studying and teaching."

Arrest Made On Missing Cheese

A Larkspur man, allegedly with a yen for cheese was placed under citizen's arrest today in San Rafael.

Bernard Joseph Pillus, 28, of 541 Magnolia Avenue, was arrested on suspicion of taking three packages of cheese and other items totaling $6.54 from the Mayfair Market, Third and Union streets. Joseph Peluso, who works at the market, signed the citizen's arrest complaint.

Pillus, who was held on bail of $315, is scheduled to appear for arraignment today.

BERRY

Michael had been beaten up by the 14-year-old son of Herbert P. Mooney of 596 Millercreek Road.

Berry went to Mooney's home, an argument ensued and, during the discussion, Berry pulled a .22-automatic from his hip pocket and exhibited it, according to a sheriff's report.

Berry told the judge today that he did not use it to threaten Mooney.

Judge Roth fined Berry $25 and placed him on a year of probation. He ordered the gun surrendered to the sheriff for destruction as a public nuisance and he told Berry:

"I will not tolerate any violence, particularly with weapons."

Judge Roth, in passing sentence, said he was taking notice of Berry's record of public service.

Berry, who has a master's degree in social work from the University of California, has worked as a juvenile probation officer for the county and as a part-time group worker in Marin City for the Community Relations Service.

In his present job, he is a specialist in human relations, working primarily in Marin City for the Tamalpais district.

After his courtroom appearance, Berry told of indignities suffered by him, his wife, Connie; their daughter, Judy 9, and Lynne, 6, and his son, since they arrived in Lucas Valley.

"The kids at school would jump Michael, sometimes three at a time. They'd tell my kids 'you're not Americans because you were born in a mudhole.' They called them 'nigger' and 'black SOBs.' Just about anything' you can imagine. The kids used to come home and ask us what the names meant," Berry said.

Berry said that, when he felt his youngsters were attacked, he and his wife would go to the parents of the children calling the names or doing the beating.

"To a family, they would deny that their children did these things," Berry said.

These confrontations resulted in arguments and more bitter feelings, Berry said. Such a confrontation in September led to his fine yesterday.

"Then we started getting anonymous telephone calls, saying 'why don't you niggers leave'," Berry said.

Berry recalled that his own frustrations came to a head in the spring of 1967, when his son ran home from Lucas Valley School one afternoon.

"He cried and he threw up and he said ' I can't fight the whole school.' I had to leave the house. I couldn't stand it. He's such a gentle young man," the father said.

Berry said he and his family are not prejudiced and they do have a few white friends in the neighborhood. But this is not enough.

"I think I've earned the right to be treated with dignity and respect," said Berry, a native of Watts. "It seems there is no law against the white man harrassing me."

Berry said he has thought of leaving, but will not.

"They're going to learn how to get along with me or else," he said.

Berry recalled that Eldridge Cleaver or Malcolm X once wrote that every time a black man accedes to indignities, he's less a man and that under conditions in the United States today, no black man should live to be 40.

"Well, I'm trying to find a middle ground. But the white man has to leave us room for middle ground," Berry said.

Panther Warns Of Trial Protest

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND —Opening of the trial of seven men on charges stemming from demonstrations at the Oakland Induction Center in 1967 is likely to produce "combined protests," Black Panther leader Bobby Seale said yesterday.

He told newsmen that his Negro organization may join white antiwar demonstrators in a "planned massive demonstration" when the trial opens in Alameda County Superior Court Monday.

The seven were indicted under a state law making it a felony to conspire to commit misdemeanors.

One of the men is Michael J. Smith, 27, graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and former Corte Madera resident, a leader of the 1964 Berkeley Free Speech Movement and the progressive Labor Party.

Salary Scale To Supervisors

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Civil Service Commission presented 1969 salary recommendations to the board of supervisors yesterday for action by month's end.

The increases run from 2.5 per cent to 12.5 per cent for the chief civil deputy sheriff and assistant hospital administrator and administrator. The raises would be effective July 1.

Neal D. Smith, county administrator, said the supervisors will meet with individuals and unions who wish to discuss the proposed salary hikes. He said it was not known what the raises would cost.

Byron C. Gibbs, service commission chairman, said the group gathered data from public and private employers to study trends in salaries and job descriptions.

Synanon Names Board Of Regents

A new nine-member board of regents was named last night to run the Synanon Foundation with founder Charles E. Dederich as chairman.

Other regents are Jack Hurst, president and executive director; Dederich's wife, Betty; Hurst's wife, Terry; Dan L. Garrett Jr., a San Francisco lawyer; Karl Deissler, and Oakland physician; Al Bauman, creator of Synanon's school system; Ed Siegel, Los Angeles businessman, and Dorthy Salant, dean of the Synanon Academy.

Synanon, which has a facility at Marshall in West Marin, was founded 10 years ago as a self-help group for drug addicts and alcoholics and has grown to a $6 million enterprise.

Marijuana Plant Case Dismissed

Felony complaint of marijuana cultivation was dismissed in Marin Municipal Court yesterday against Charles O. Leidegen, 24, and Stephanie M. Triliegi, 21.

The action by Judge Peter Allen Smith came after Deputy Dist. Atty. Ralph Thomas reported during a prelminary hearing that a laboratory analysis of a substance believed to be marijuana has not been completed.

Thomas said today the complaint may be re-filed. The defendants, both of Tamalpais Valley, were accused of cultivating marijuana last September.

William Earle Takes New Job

Veteran Marin newsman William L. Earle has accepted a reporter's position on the Salem, Ore., Capital Journal and will start work there on Feb. 3.

Earle has covered Main County for the San Francisco Examiner since 1960. From 1956 to 1960 he was a reporter for the Independent - Journal. He also formerly worked for newspapers in Chico and Ukiah.

Earle, a Stanford University graduate, is married and has three children. The family home is at 131 Humboldt Street, San Rafael.

Guilty Plea To False Report File

A San Francisco man accused of using someone else's name to get out of County Jail Christmas Day yesterday pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced charge of filing a false report.

Judgment for James Russell Shannon, 30, was scheduled for 2 p.m. Jan. 28. Shannon, originally charged with felony attempted escape, was in jail Dec. 25 for investigation of being drunk. Officers said he responded when the name of another inmate, Richard Allen Just, 29, of Santa Rosa, was called. Shannon was bailed out under Just's name. He later was rearrested at Marin General Hospital. Just was then released on the bail.

Ross To Discuss Office Ordinance

The Ross Town Council will discuss its controversial ordinance which allows home offices for doctors, dentists and musicians at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the town hall.

A majority of the council indicated Dec. 13 it favored rescinding the ordinance which was passed in 1962. The first and only use permit granted under the ordinance went to Dr. Robert H. Herrick, a psychiatrist, in November.

The poisonous oils in poison ivy are more active in the gaseous form of smoke than in the liquid form.

wide election, and intended to continue in public office.

Reinecke filled the bill.

He headed a lawn sprinkler company before winning election in 1964 to the 27th District, despite underdog status in a predominantly Democratic district.

A World War II Navy veteran, Reinecke holds a mechanical engineering degree from the California Institute of Technology and is listed as an "inventor" in his campaign biographies, as well as an executive.

He is a Lutheran, and he and his wife Jean have two boys and a girl.

Reagan said he and the new No. 2 man in state government are "in philosophical agreement on the goals of the Creative Society ... A belief in more emphasis on the private sector, local autonomy, less big government."

The governor said that while he considered some GOP legislators, such as Sen. George Deukmejian of Long Beach, he decided he didn't dare risk upsetting the delicate Republican majority in the state legislature. The Assembly is 41-39 Republican and the Senate 20-19, with one vacancy. Reagan needs every GOP vote he can get if his programs are to succeed this year.

Finally, Reagan said of the legislative margin, "it became unthinkable to toy with that."

He may be faced with the problem anyway, since Republican Assemblyman Patrick McGee of Van Nuys said he will run for Reinecke's congressional seat. Another candidate will be Jack B. Lindsey, Reagan's former liaison man with the Assembly.

Reagan told the news conference that he also had considered appointing some of his official family, such as Senate liaison man Vernon Sturgeon; Gordon Luce, state transportation and business secretary; and Caspar Weinberger, state finance director.

But, he added: "I just couldn't break up what I think is a most capable team."

The governor said he did not reach a decision in his month-long search until Tuesday: "I just went into a dark room, sat down by myself and made the decision."

Drug Suspect Is Arrested

A woman who said she was "sent from outer space by Jesus Christ" was arrested last night on suspicion of possession of marijuana, reported San Rafael police.

Harold Lawrence of 32 Front Street called police to report his housekeeper was acting "weird" and throwing things about the apartment.

When police arrived, Barbara Estelle Boucher, no known address, told the officers she was a saint sent by Jesus Christ. She said she came from outer space and that her children were also in outer space.

According to police, Lawrence gave them some marijuana and other belongings of Mrs. Boucher.

She was held on bail of $315 and scheduled to appear for arraignment today.

Women May Join Marinwood Board

The eight directors of the Marinwood Association decided last night that the board should be expanded to include women active in community affairs.

President Jerry C. Leith said a two-man committee composed of George D. Gazulis and John Hodge will get in touch with possible women candidates.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

OBITUARIES

Content E. Wilson Dies At 87

Content Elton Wilson, 87, mother of Marin County Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson, died yesterday at a local hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Wilson became ill while on her annual Christmas visit to her son and her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Buehler of San Rafael, and their families. Her home was in The Dalles, Ore.

Born in Bridgewater, S. D., Mrs. Wilson came to The Dalles when she was 19. Her late husband, Fred W. Wilson, who died in 1955, was a circuit judge in The Dalles for 31 years.

Mrs. Wilson was active in the Wasco County Pioneers Association and was a member of the Order of Eastern Star.

In addition to her son and daughter, she is survived by a brother, Eugene Elton; two sisters, Mrs. Olive Willerton and Miss Lydia Elton, all of The Dalles, and six grandchildren.

Memorial services will be held at the Spencer-Libby Mortuary in The Dalles at 11 a.m. Saturday. Burial will be in the Pioneer Cemetery there.

GEORGE E. PALLO

Funeral for George E. Pallo, 50, of Petaluma, who died Sunday after a long illness at a Reno Hospital, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

A native of Santa Rosa, Pallo had lived at 19 Straub Lane for 30 years. He was visiting in Nevada when he died. Educated in Petaluma, he had worked as an operating engineer for the Home Construction Co. for 25 years. Pallo was a member of the Operating Engineers Union Petaluma Local No. 3.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Pallo; two daughters, Betty Invernon of Fremont and Georgette French of Verdi, Nev.; four brothers, Russell William and Raymond Pallo of Petaluma and Frederick Bardsley of New Jersey; and seven sisters, Hazel Larue, Grace Cline, Lois Gomas, Katherine Cline and Lorraine McNamara, all of Petaluma, Irene Burke of Phillipsville, Humboldt County, and Lillian Cisneros of Rock Springs, Wyo.

GERALD GUGEL

Gerald W. Gugel, 67, a retired bartender, died yesterday at a Novato convalescent hospital, where he had been a patient four years.

The Marin coroner's office said Gugel collapsed after a choking spell at lunch. Attempts to revive him failed.

Gugel was born in Vassar, Mich., and came to California about 1930. He lived in San Anselmo and moved to Nicasio in 1945, where he lived until entering the convalescent home.

He worked at a number of places in Marin County, the last one being DeBorba's in Novato. He retired in 1953. He was a widower.

Gugel is survived by a son, Gerald W. Gugel of Mill Valley; two daughters, Jane Benet of San Francisco and Joan Morris of Salem, Ore., and seven grandchildren.

Private funeral was held at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

FRANCES WORTHINGTON

Frances Worthington, 95, retired San Anselmo school teacher, died at a local hospital yesterday after a short illness.

Mrs. Worthington, who was born in Springfield, Ore., lived most of her life in Spokane, Wash., where she taught elementary school for many years. After the death of her husband, Irving Worthington, a civil engineer, she came to San Anselmo in 1941 to live with her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Sawaya.

The family home is at 16 Bolinas Avenue.

During World War II, Mrs. Worthington was a home teacher for the San Anselmo School District.

Mrs. Worthington is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Douglas Todd of San Diego; a son, Hugh Worthington of Seattle, Wash.; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Friday at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Thursday at Keaton's Chapel, San Rafael. The family prefers contributions to Guide Dogs for the Blind or other charities.

MRS. MOLLOY

Thais Adele Molloy, 53, of 11 South Knoll Road, Apt. 3, Strawberry was found dead at her home last night by her husband, William B. Molloy.

Assistant County Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine said Molloy had been away since Thursday and returned at 7:15 p.m. yesterday to find Mrs. Molloy's body on a couch.

Fontaine said she apparently had been dead several days and listed no cause of death, pending autopsy.

A native of Illinois, Mrs. Molloy had lived in California and in Marin 11 years. Funeral is pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

WILLIAM BAGGS
Outspoken critic

Vietnam War Critic Editor Dies At 48

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — William Calhoun Baggs, a newspaper editor nominated for the 1968 Nobel Peace Prize after acting as an intermediary in preliminary peace-talk negotiations between Hanoi and Washington, died yesterday. He was 48.

Baggs, editor of the Miami News, was a persistent and articulate critic in his daily newspaper columns of President Johnson's Vietnam policy. A bomber pilot in World War II, he strenuously objected to American bombing of North Vietnam.

HANOI VISIT

In January 1967 and in the spring of 1968 Baggs and Harry S. Ashmore, chairman of the executive committee of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, traveled to North Vietnam. Baggs was on the center's board.

He was the only American journalist known to have visited Hanoi twice. Last April 5 he and Ashmore returned from the North Vietnamese capital with a secret message from the Central Committee of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam to the U.S. government.

PEACE DISCUSSION

The message said that nothing of substance would be discussed at peace talks until the United States met certain conditions including "cessation of U.S. bombing raids and all other acts of war," Baggs said later.

President Johnson halted bombing of the North on Nov. 1 and the North Vietnamese agreed to expanded peace talks.

Baggs made articles about his mission to Hanoi available to The Associated Press. The Associated Press Managing Editors presented him an award for the series. Later he was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize.

He was admitted to Miami Heart Institute on Dec. 29 suffering from pneumonia and influenza. He went into a coma after doctors performed a tracheotomy Sunday, and he never recovered. He died at 6:05 p.m.

PRISON LIFE

Crew Used Morse Code For Contact

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Morse Code tapped out on radiator pipes linking the rooms of USS Pueblo crewmen in a North Korean prison enabled them to keep in touch during 11 months of captivity.

Communications Technician C. Charles W. Ayling said yesterday the first message over the secret network announced the death of Seaman Duane Hodges who was wounded in the seizure of the intelligence ship.

A tap on the radiator meant a dot and a scrape was equivalent to a dash. A special language was devised to prevent the North Koreans from listening in.

Ayling said he and his three prison roommates heard the message of Hodges' death being tapped out on the radiator from the adjacent room.

"After we had tested each other (by using Morse Code) and satisfied ourselves that we were both from the Pueblo, we set up our communication system," Ayling said.

Life at the Balboa Naval Hospital here for the crew is settling down into the routine of medical treatment and debriefing sessions by a staff of 100 naval intelligence specialists.

There is no set schedule for the interviews and the Navy will not estimate when the debriefing sessions will end and the court of inquiry will begin.

From the debriefing sessions, which last an average of four hours a day per man, the Navy is trying to put together an overall picture of what happened and how the Pueblo came to be seized and all information on their captivity and their captors.

The data will not be used against the crew during the court of inquiry where they will be held accountable for their actions.

The Navy also announced a marriage ceremony is scheduled Jan. 11 in the hospital chapel. Storekeeper 3/c Edward S. Russell Jr., 25, Glendale, will marry Sharon McCartney, whose father is a district engineer for Los Angeles County.

Lecture Scheduled By Militant Leader

BERKELEY (UPI) — New Left activist Tom Hayden, founder of the militant Students for a Democratic Society, was scheduled to deliver the first lecture in a nine-part series today at the University of California.

Hayden, one of the organizers of demonstrations at the Chicago Democratic Convention last August, was prepared to share his views with students on the "New American Revolution."

Family Doctor Not Best Hangup Adviser

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) —People with sexual hangups usually turn first to their doctors for advice. That's a grave error, says a New York City obstetrician, because "most physicians are sexual cripples."

"The averages physician is not free enough from his own hangups to counsel in sex problems," Dr. Selig B. Neubardt told Michigan State University's seven-week seminar yesterday on "Sexuality — A Search for Perspective."

Neubardt, a guest lecturer, said doctors are normally the first place people turn for sexual advice. Its usually the worst place they could go.

He said that until recently, medical courses contained no instruction on sex, leaving doctors unequipped to counsel patients with sex problems.

"And a lot of good doctors are troubled by this," he said. "They want to help but they don't know how."

A psychology professor from the University of Houston also said yesterday Americans mistakenly believe college students are more promiscuous these days because of increased emphasis on sex in newspapers, books and magazines.

"For example, although 75 per cent of college girls express they belief that their classmates are sleeping around, surveys and research studies consistently point out that only 20 per cent of all college girls experience premarital intercourse," said James K. McCary.

McCary said today's college students are no more promiscuous than their parents were. They just think they are.

"In a recent preview of the new Kinsey report, researchers found few differences between the sexual attitudes of today's young men and women, and those sexual attitudes and behavior on which they reported 25 years earlier," McCary said.

"Promiscuity is not rampant among college students," he said. "There is, on the other hand, considerable evidence that today's young people, especially the college population, are behaving responsibly. Indeed they demonstrate considerable moral strength in their concern for the welfare and rights of others."

Airline May Get Exemption

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's Public Utilities Commission voted yesterday to consider exempting Skymark Airlines from state regulations.

By law, the commission cannot regulate an airline that flies outside of the state and Skymark says it now operates to Reno as well as to California points.

If the PUC should exempt Skymark, the line would be free of any controls since the federal Civil Aeronautics Board has refused to supervise lines that use planes of less than 12,500 pounds

Skymark, with headquarters in Sacramento, flies DeHavilland Otters, which carry 19 passengers and weigh less than 12,500 pounds.

Carport Request

An application by Charles F. Herndon to build a carport at 299 Brookside Drive is scheduled for consideration by the San Anselmo Design Review Committee at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

12 Crewmen Taken From A Life Raft

NEW YORK (AP) Twelve men from a research vessel that foundered in the North Atlantic were plucked from a life raft today after spending 26 hours in the open sea, the Coast Guard said. The men were wet and cold but were otherwise unharmed.

The Essikristine, a Norwegian freighter, picked up the men at 2 a.m., a Coast Guard spokesman in New York said, after the deck officer spotted flashlight signals.

The 12 men huddled in the single life raft after abandoning their ship, the Sea Surveyor of New London, Conn., at midnight Monday, 20 minutes before the vessel sank about 280 miles southeast of New York.

The Sea Surveyor, 118 feet boat division of the General Dynamics Corp. An air-sea search was begun after the ship failed to report its position at noon yesterday while on its way to a rendezvous with a U.S. Navy submarine.

Turkeys were so common in the Connecticut Valley in 1717 that they sold for less than a penny a pound.

Cranston Not Happy With Lodge Selection

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite mild criticism of two appointments, Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., says he believes President-elect Nixon "is making an effort to find men of ability" for his new administration.

At his first news conference yesterday, the former state controller said he had reservations about Nixon's choice of Henry Cabot Lodge to head U.S. negotiators at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris and of Alaska Gov. Walter Hickel as interior secretary.

Cranston said he believed Lodge would offer little change from former policies "if he is left to his own devices" and added he would have preferred Nixon to appoint a chief negotiator "with no commitment with past policies."

The newly elected senator also expressed differences of opinion with Hickel, saying he believes the country cannot meet the problems of air and water pollution and noise without high national standards. The remark was in contrast to a recent statement by Hickel.

Cranston added he would be interested in learing what Hickel meant by saying he opposed "conservation for conservation's sake" when the Senate Interior Committee meets to consider the nomination Jan. 15.

Hickel, in Cranston's opinion, has "displayed not too great an interest in conservation."

But Cranston has praise for other Nixon appointments, particularly that of David Packard as undersecretary of defense. He expressed admiration for Packard's ability and his decision to place in trust his $300 million of Hewlett-Packard stock and forfeit any profit while he remains as undersecretary.

Model U.N. Role To Tam Students

The United Nations Club at Tamalpais High School will send two delegations next month to the Model U. N. conference at Berkeley.

One delegation will represent Israel and the other will be an "observer delegation" for Vietnam, since Vietnam is not a U. N. member.

The Israel delegation will submit resolutions to five committees for possible presentation to the General Assembly meeting Feb. 13-15.

GALE WINDS — Winds gusting up to 125 miles per hour caused heavy damage at Boulder, Colo., last night. At least five planes were damaged, countless homes wrecked and at least one death blamed on the hurricane-force winds. (UPI Telephoto)

Public Zone For Racoon Straits Area

The Tiburon Planning Commission has resolved the question of new construction along the edge of Racoon Straits by establishing a public zone adjacent to existing buildings, Commissioner Allan Thompson reported.

The commission retained the duplex zone on property inboard of the public zone but refused to extend the duplex area any further into the bay than at the edge of the existing buildings, Thompson said.

Residents had requested the establishment of a building line which generally followed the existing structures but asked that the public zone be removed and the duplex zone extend to the full length of privately owned property along the straits, Thompson said.

The commission, meeting Monday night, also asked planning consultant George Gatter to clarify the zoning ordinance to allow property owners to include property in a public zone as part of their total parcel for computing density.

The Tiburon Planning Commission also:

MAIN STREET — Approved precise plans for docks and shops at 1-11 Main Street subject to approval of the design review board.

TRAILS PLAN — Accepted the Tiburon trails plan, noting that certain areas will require further study, and recommended its adoption to the city council.

DISCUSSIONS — Postponed discussion on the proposed sign ordinance and housing plan to a study session at 8 p.m. Jan. 20 because of the lateness of the hour.

Boulder, Colo., Hit By Hurricane Winds

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Hurricane-force winds which peaked at more than 125 miles per hour ripped through Boulder last night, leaving mangled telephone poles, downed power lines, splintered trees and wrecked homes.

The winds were blamed for the death of James A. Madden, 28, of Greeley, Colo., killed when a pickup camper was blown off Interstate 25 north of Denver and turned over twice.

Boulder police said roofs were ripped off more than a dozen homes, countless others were denuded of shingles and several were heavily damaged by falling trees.

Eight single-engine private aircraft were destroyed at the Boulder airport. A prairie fire near the airport charred a swath five miles long and burned one unoccupied building.

Countless utility poles were blown down and half the city of 50,000 was without power. The main six-lane thoroughfare into the city was closed for several hours by downed utility poles and power lines which snapped about.

Twenty persons were treated at Community Hospital for cuts received either from wind-blown debris or when they were blown about.

A spokesman for the National Center for Atmospheric Research at the south edge of Boulder said their instruments could not measure wind gusts past 125 miles per hour. Six times the needle was blown off the graph, the spokesman said. Wind gusts of over 100 miles per hour were recorded more than 125 times, he said.

Haiku Festival Is Scheduled Feb. 7

The blossoming of Mill Valley's wild plum trees will be celebrated with a "haiku festival" on Feb. 7 in the gallery of the Mill Valley Library.

At 3:30 p.m., Mill Valley grade school children will read haikus they have written. At 8 p.m. Mill Valley poets will read their own haikus.

Both haiku programs are sponsored by the Tamalpais Writers' Workshop in cooperation with the Mill Valley Library.

Workshop Set

The winter quarter of the Tamalpais Writers' workshop will begin at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at 5 Cascade Way in Mill Valley and will continue for 10 Thursdays. Further information may be obtained from director Melba Ludlow.

Outbreak Of Hog Cholera Is Reported

Hog cholera — the first outbreak in California in 18 months — has been discovered among the 180 hogs on the property of St. Vincent's School for Boys near Marinwood.

The state agriculture department reported that all the hogs which have been exposed or infected have been placed under quarantine and will be destroyed.

Hog cholera, which is not contagious to humans, is fatal to swine, according to R. Allan Ballard, county agricultural commission. The hogs usually sicken and died quickly, he said.

The nearest hogs outside of St. Vincent's are north of Hamilton Air Force Base, Ballard added.

The owner will be paid by state and federal governments for his loss, according to the state agriculture department.

Clean-Up Drive Wins Approval

The Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce board agreed today to undertake a "clean-up, perk-up, spruce-up" campaign for 1969, President Ben A. Farlatti reported.

Farlatti said the board agreed to plant two Christmas trees, one on each side of the bus depot on Tiburon Boulevard, to start the campaign.

The board will also urge property owners along Tiburon Boulevard to plant trees to improve the appearance of the street, Farlatti said.

School Bond Panel Selects Drive Name

San Rafael Elementary School District's steering committee for a $2.1 million bond election Feb. 18 has selected a name for the bond committee, "Your Elementary Schools" committee.

Thus the committee will have the initials Y.E.S., designed to garner a yes vote for the bonds.

Named as area chairmen, one for each school in the district, were:

Mrs. Robert Rehfeldt, Bahia Vista School; Frans J. Roosen, Coleman; Mrs. Gladys Gilliland, Glenwood; Mrs. Wendy Jackson and Mrs. Kay Oslar, San Pedro; Shirley Harris, Laurel Dell; Mrs. Bode Nubia, West End; Wilson Nolan, Sun Valley; Mrs. Richard Brundt, Hartzell.

Mrs. Jim Fust, and Janet Cooper, Gallinas; Mrs. Victor Johnson, MacPhail; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little; and Mrs. Carl Pharis, Santa Venetia.

Paul McMullen is general chairman; Mrs. Rosemarie Mauroni, secretary, and James Urquhart, treasurer.

Robert Rimes has been named public information mamager with Mrs. Lee Battat in charge of publicity; Mary Jane Reims, campaign material, and Wesley W. Page and R. Ross Talley, speakers bureau.

The committee will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the schools administration building, Third and E streets.

Turnabout Gun Policy Urged

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A lawmaker whose ancestors were New England minutemen introduced a bill yesterday that would every able-bodied New Hampshireman to own a firearm and 500 rounds of ammunition or face a fine of $100 and six months in jail.

Sen. John Chandler, Jr. R-Warner, said he never owned a gun in his life. But he said in colonial New Hampshire, "every able-bodies man had a gun and it might come in handy these days."

Chandler added that his bill is a "countermeasure to anticipated gun control legislation that might be introduced" during the 1969 session of the New Hampshire Legislature.

Large Dead Whale Found Off Bolinas

A large dead whale was sighted yesterday morning bobbing in the water about 200 yards off shore near Bolinas, residents reported.

The whale was being devoured by several smaller killer whales, according to the reports.

TODAY'S NEW LAMB

One thing that makes tender young lamb an American favorite is the variety of its cuts. If your budget's in a state of post-holiday shock, or next time you want to prove what a good cook you are, try this superb lamb recipe. Everything in this delicious one-dish dinner for four big appetites costs less than $1.50... and that includes the full two pounds of lamb!

Lamb Stew Western (makes 4 super-servings)

1 to 2 pounds lamb neck pieces, bone-in
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups stock or bouillon
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon thyme
2 bay leaves
2 medium-size potatoes, peeled and diced
1 cup sliced carrots
1 10-ounce package frozen cut corn
1 10-ounce package frozen cut green beans

Cook lamb in Dutch oven or large skillet over medium heat until browned on all sides. Drain off excess fat, if any. Blend in flour. Add stock or bouillon, salt, pepper, thyme, bay leaves, potatoes and carrots; mix well. Cover and cook over medium heat 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add corn and beans and mix well. Cover and cook over medium heat 20 miuntes, or until vegetables are tender, stirring occasionally. Note: add small amount of water, if needed, from time to time during cooking.

Court To Test Lay Probation Guidance Plan

The young criminal offender placed on probation in Marin Municipal Court may soon find that, instead of a professionally trained government worker, his probation officer is a plumber.

Presiding Judge Hadden W. Roth of Municipal Court said today that he and probation department workers have inaugurated a program of assigning community volunteers to work as probation officers for criminals aged 18 through approximately 25.

Each volunteer will be assigned one probationer for counseling, he said.

EARLIER TRIALS

The program, based on successful experiments in Royal Oak, Mich., and in Denver, will use successful members of the community as voluntary probation officers in an effort to make young offenders feel a part of society, the judge said.

Present programs use volunteers who are full-time accountants, doctors, businessmen, lawyers, salesman, housewives, teachers, plumbers, secretaries and engineers.

The volunteers will receive guidance from professionally trained probation workers, who will supervise their work, the judge said.

Judge Roth said he hopes the youngsters will respond more quickly to suggestions for self improvement made by someone outside the formal structure of government. The program should also teach them that the community cares.

"One of our main problems is that young people get alienated from the community. This is one way to help them back into the community," he said.

The program should also help the volunteers, giving them better insight into the problems young people are having, Judge Roth said.

ADULT RECORDS

Approximately 80 per cent of all adults in prison today had a record of misdemeanor offenses before being convicted of major crimes, the judge said.

This is a program to rehabilitate young people before they get to prison and the use of community volunteers is natural because, "in today's complex society, we all have the responsibility for solving our community crime problem," Judge Roth said.

Anyone wishing to become a volunteer probation officer should communicate their desire with Mel Augustine, supervising probation officer, at the Marin County Probation Department offices in the Cheda Building, 1029 Fourth Street, San Rafael, the judge said.

Citizen's Share Of Debt Rising

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Each American's share of the national debt rose nearly $60 in 1968 to a record $1,786.08, the Treasury Department said yesterday.

Treasury placed the national debt on Dec. 31 at a record $361.2 billion. The Census Bureau estimated the population of the United States at 202,254,000.

This breaks down to a hypothetical $1,786.08 owed by every man, woman and child—$58.49 more than the 200,248,000 Americans owed at the end of 1967 when the debt was $345.9 billion.

Mill Valley Studies Street Lighting Test

A two-block demonstration street lighting project on Miller Avenue between La Goma Street and Evergreen Avenue will cost $12,237 to install and $1,801 in additional yearly maintenance costs, according to the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

The demonstration project would include 31 bowl fixtures on 12-foot standard painted poles and seven 30-foot davit poles with standard fixtures. The lights can be either 175 watt mercury vapor or 179 watt incandescent lights for the same costs, John Zima of the utility company told the Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee Monday night, secretary Jeanne McLean reported.

The incandescent lights would produce one-half of the light output of the mercury vapor lights, Lima said.

The committee asked Zima to prepare cost estimates for an expanded demonstration project which would extend from a point west of Willow Avenue to Valley Circle.

Utilities on this section of Miller Avenue have been underground and street lights for the area have not been selected, leaving the area open for a demonstration project, Mrs. McLean said.

Committee members said they preferred a 12-foot untapered pole with a neck betewen the pole and globe adequate for a 22-inch white plastic globe.

Zima said his company would supply light standards in aluminum or galvanized steel, painted any color "within reason," Mrs. McLean said.

In other action, the committee approved plans for an eight-unit apartment house at 181 Miller Avenue subject to a subsequent review of landscape plans for the property.

Trustee Boss Defends Panel To Probe Riots

CHICO (AP) — The head of the State College Trustees denies an assertion by Negro member Edward O. Lee that he was excluded from decisions about troubled San Francisco State College.

"Mr. Lee has not been excluded from anything," Chairman Theodore Meriam said yesterday. "I named five trustees to be an advisory group to acting San Francisco State College President S.I. Hayakawa — I didn't happen to choose Mr. Lee.

"There were other San Francisco Bay Area trustees who were not chosen."

Meriam said the strike by the American Federation of Teachers at S.F. State was "irresponsible action on the part of professional faculty people."

There are about 26,000 police officers in New York City.

Strep Infections Lead Disease List

Streptoccocus infections continued last week to plague Marin County with 84 cases reported to the public health department. Sixty-six of the cases were in Novato.

Also reported were two cases of mumps and two of infectious hepatitis.

Canada Ratifies Nuclear Treaty

MOSCOW (AP) — Canadian Ambassador Robert A.D. Ford today presented to the Soviet Foreign Ministry his country's ratification of the international treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons.

Canada is the fifth signer of the treaty to deposit its ratification in Moscow. The embassy said Canadian representatives in London and Washington are presenting similar instruments of ratification there.

While a large number of countries have signed the treaty, the only four who previously deposited ratification papers in Moscow were Ireland, Britain, East Germany and Denmark.

Superintendent Search To Open

Dr. Glen Grant, assistant to the chancellor at the University of California, Berkeley, will meet with the Dixie School District board at 8 p.m. today in the district office to help plan a search for a new superintendent.

Also on the board's agenda is discussion of a district application for approximately $50,000 in federal funds to finance an "exemplary" library. Such a library would provide better facilities than ordinarily found in elementary districts, Supt. Dennie B. Willis explained, and would serve as a model for other school districts.

Policy Is Reversed On Funds For Library

Reversing its position on federal funds for library materials, the San Anselmo School District board last night voted 3 to 2 to apply for a grant of $1,681.

The proposal was rejected at the last meeting.

Dr. Elmer A. Weden and Pieter Toal continued their opposition last night because part of the money has to be given to San Anselmo parochial schools for library materials, Supt. Stephen L. Parodi reported. They believed the practice conflicts with separation of church and state, he added.

Parodi said federal law gives private and parochial schools the right to pick up proportionate shares of the library money.

Of the $1,681, St. Anselm's would get $204 and San Domenico School for Girls, $99, with the rest staying in the San Anselmo district, Parodi said.

If the board had turned down the proposal again, Parodi said, it would have been responsible for finding another agency to fund the parochial school requests.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

STUDY COMMITTEE — Learned the educational specifications committee, with about 45 members from the schools and the community, will hold its first formal meeting at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 16 at the Red Hill School library to begin discussions of the educational program and needed facilities.

BUDGET — Appointed Rosemary Gicker, a library aide, and Albert Ludditt, superintendent of buildings and grounds, to the budget advisory committee. The committee will meet next at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Red Hill Library.

PERSONNEL — Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Joanne Smith, third grade teacher at Sleepy Hollow School whose husband was transferred to Montreal, Canada, and appointed Mrs. Kathleen Kluse to replace her at $7,735 per year; accepted the resignation of Mrs. Norma Molica, secretary at Sleepy Hollow whose husband was transferred to Chicago, and appointed Mrs. Estelle Kyle to replace her at $390 a month.

Mare Island Sailor Hurt On Highway 37

Robert Cook, 22, a Navy Storekeeper 3/c stationed at Mare Island, suffered a broken left leg, face cuts and a back injury early today in a traffic accident at Highway 37 and Lakeville Highway in Southern Sonoma County.

Cook was treated at Petaluma General Hospital at 6:50 a.m. and was to be transferred to Oak Knoll Naval Hospital, Oakland. The California Highway Patrol had no details of the accident this morning.

Robert Corlett Quits Hub Panel; Urged To Reconsider

Robert W. Corlett, a member of the San Anselmo School District board since 1957, resigned last night, but it wasn't accepted.

The board asked Corlett to reconsider since his term expires June 30 anyway, Supt. Stephen L. Parodi reported.

Corlett, an attorney who lives at 14 Carolina Avenue, gave the press of business as his reason for resigning, Parodi said.

Corlett has served as board chairman and as president of Marin County School Boards Association.

Parodi said Corlett will give his answer at the next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 21 in the Red Hill School Library.

Other trustees whose terms expire June 30 are Pieter Toal and Franklin C. Latcham.

Transit Discussion

A public presentation of a $100 million proposal for bayshore "transit centers" that would serve ferries, rail rapid transit and helicopters in Marin will be presented by its author, architect David Elliott Stovel of San Rafael, at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Civic Center.

Campus Rebel Is Found Guilty

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Peter Hands, 24, a student at San Francisco State College, was found guilty yesterday of resisting arrest during demonstrations on the campus Dec. 3.

A municipal court jury of six men and six women took 90 minutes to deliver its verdict—the first conviction stemming from campus unrest which has resulted in nearly 150 arrests.

Hands was ordered to return to court next Wednesday to be sentenced. He could get six months in jail, a $500 fine, or both.

Drug Seller Gets A Year Behind Bars

Robert Nelson, 22, was given a year in County Jail today by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court for selling methamphetamine (speed).

He also was placed on five years' probation. The action came after Judge Gardiner sentenced Nelson to state prison for a term of one-to-five years, then suspended it.

Nelson, of San Rafael, pleaded guilty Nov. 15 to selling the narcotic Jan. 5, 1968, to agents of the Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau.

A co-defendant, Robert Drolla, 21, also of San Rafael, pleaded guilty Nov. 15, but sentencing has been continued until 9 a.m. next Wednesday.

A third defendant, James Dewey Bell, 34, was scheduled for judgment today on his Nov. 15 guilty plea to selling methamphetamine to agents Jan. 18. Sentencing by Judge Gardiner was continued until 9 a.m. next Wednesday, however, after his attorney, Harold Hayes of San Rafael, requested time to review Bell's probation report.

Bell also pleaded guilty Dec. 18 to selling marijuana Jan. 24, 1968 to an agent. Judgment on that charge was scheduled for today, then continued until a later date.

Reorganized Firm Is Low Refuse Bidder

A West Marin garbage company which suddenly went out of business last summer and caused a collection crisis, is the low bidder for an exclusive garbage franchise for the area.

Michael A. Chrystal, county administrative analyst, said that bids opened on Monday show that West Marin-San Geronimo Garbage Disposal Co. was the lowest of seven bidders on a 10-year contract with the county.

Because of disruption in service last summer, Marin supervisors decided to give an exclusive franchise for urban areas of West Marin, including San Geronimo Valley, Inverness-Point Reyes Station and developed areas at Drake's Bay.

West Marin-San Geronimo Garbage Disposal, which claims it has reorganized and is back in business, offered to collect garbage for $1.25 per month per 30-gallon container, with once a week pickup.

Six other bids ranged to a high of $2.75 per month.

Chrystal said he and county purchasing agent Doug Edelen will investigate the financial background and credit ratings of the bidders before making a recommendation to the board of supervisors Tuesday.

Four-Car Crash Injures Woman

A Petaluma woman was injured in a four-car accident yesterday at 9:15 a.m. at B and Fifth streets, Petaluma.

Jocelyn . Watkins, 40, of 2121 Chapman Lane, said she would see her family physician for treatment of a back injury. Police said her car collided with one driven by Edgar W. Biswell, 73, of 419 Keller Street, Petaluma.

The Biswell car also struck two cars parked on Fifth Street owned by Gene Ley, 6 Haven Drive, Petaluma, and Robert Eisenhower, 322 Stuart Drive, Petaluma.

Playground Loses To Firehouse Plan

Schematic and plot plans for a $78,000 expansion and remodeling of the main fire station were approved by the Sausalito City Council last night despite objections by the recreation commission that the plan would wipe out a playground adjoining the station.

Commission Chairman Eleanor Cruikshank said the playground, containing an old fire truck, swings and other equipment, is widely used and is more valuable than "four parking spaces and some shrubbery" proposed for the site.

Councilmen said the playground is in a hazardous location near the station and near busy Bridgeway.

The station plans prepared by architect Don Olsen call for a two-story addition of 3,200 square feet to provide storage for two more fire vehicles, a hose tower and space for clothing lockers. The day room will become a waiting room and outer office, the kitchen the chief's office, and the dormitory a classroom. The station will get a new roof and new electrically operated doors. The addition will cost an estimated $58,000 and remodeling another $20,000.

The council also overrode objections by Carl W. Spring of the Sausalito Citizens Council and by the Sausalito Woman's Club and repealed an ordinance banning parking on city streets from 2 to 6 a.m. The ordinance was challenged by a citizen ticketed for parking near the woman's club, the only place in town where the ordinance was enforced.

The ordinance "has worked since 1940," Spring said. "All we have to do is relax and let it alone." The city has more important business, he said, than to take care of "Some one guy who hasn't the energy to provide his own offstreet parking . . . one new resident stirs up a stink because he chose to violate a city ordinance."

The club complained that all-night parking would take up street parking needed for club functions, "a great inconvenience to us."

Councilman Jan Dyk said the city could set specific areas for special parking restrictions, "but if we have an over-all ordinance and only enforce it one place . . . we can't defend it."

After the ordinance was repealed unanimously, Dyk asked the staff to report whether parking should be limited in any parts of town, including the woman's club area.

The council agreed to continue the fight against the Marincello development on Marin headlands, alloting $436.50 to pay half the cost of preparing transcripts for an appeal of a Marin Superior Court decision. The court ruled that Marin County acted legally in hearings on the zoning and master plan for Marincello. Sausalito sued the county to block construction of the planned community, envisioned as a city of 20,000.

Other plaintiffs, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Erickson and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Perkins, have agreed to pay other legal fees for the appeal.

Potential developers of the former American Distillery site north of Sausalito won a miniscule victory when Mayor Earl N. Dunphy overrode Dyk's objections to request city officials take a look at a similar development in San Mateo County.

Dyk objected the trip would "wash the brains" of the visitors and said the San Mateo development had nothing to do with local zoning.

Dunphy asked councilmen as well as City Mgr. George M. M. Patterson, Fire Chief Charles E. Masten, Police Chief Edward S. Kreins and Public Works Director Norman Wohlschkaeger to visit the San Mateo project Saturday as invited by R & B.

Sausalito City Council Also:

ANIMAL CONTROL — Favored a proposed county dog control ordinance which would provide additional patroling in Sausalito.

MISSILES — Received a letter from Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall reporting "some success in making the Defense Department . . . sensitive to environment values." Udall enclosed a letter from Defense Secretary Clark L. Clifford which said the military seek, "to the degree possible," to minimize unfavorable impact from Sentinel sites. The Army is making test drillings on Wolfback Ridge above Sausalito for building a possible Sentinel antimissile site there.

CAAB — Named Phillip Lewis to complete the term of Theodore Boutmy on the Community Appearance Advisory board.

VARIANCES — Denied a variance requested by Fred DeCook to allow an enclosed parking space at 194 Cazneau Avenue; let stand planning commission approval of a variance for William Watkins to continue using two apartments in a commercial-industrical district on Gate 5 Road; Set a Jan. 21 public hearing on a variance sought by Donn Emmons to legalize an intrusion into free space at 117 Harrison Avenue.

JOINT MEET — Set a joint meeting with the planning commission for 8 p.m. Tuesday to study the proposed central waterfront plan.

LIBRARY — Took no action on a request from the library board to move toward acquiring other potential library sites since acquisition of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad property is bogged in red tape.

PARK — Approved an amendment to the city-school district agreement for a Bayside Park, changing its proposed location to a site north of Lincoln Drive in Marina Vista subdivision.

BAY FILL — Postponed to Jan. 21 a request by Edgewater Yacht Co. to fill 6,900 square feet of the bay adjoining Humboldt Street to provide parking spaces for a building there, and asked planning consultant William Spangle Jr. to report for Tuesday's joint meeting whether the fill would coincide with the master plan for the area.

PARCEL AREA — Approved publishing an amendment excluding railroad easements in computing total parcel areas required for development.

BACKYARD BURNING — Sent a wire to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District board objecting to a proposed ban on backyard burning. Councilman Robin Sweeny opposed sending the wire.

TRAILER PARKING — Approved publishing an ordinance to ban parking a "house car," camper or other vehicle used for habitation for more than eight consecutive hours on city streets.

COMMENDATIONS — Sent commendations to Police Chief Edward S. Kreins, leaving this month to become chief in Pleasant Hill, and to former Third District Supervisor Peter S. Behr.

SANITATION — Took no action on a request from the Marin County Santitation Department to amend the food sanitation ordinance to require food businesses to get county approval before building or remodeling a food establishment. Building Inspector William L. Hynes reported the present ordinance requires final approval by the county health department before a food establishment can open for business.

SAUSALITO'S NEW LIBRARY CHIEF NAMED

Kathleen Worsley has been hired as librarian for Sausalito, City Mgr. George M. Patterson told the city council last night.

Mrs. Worsley, a native of San Jose, has worked in the Santa Clara city library, the St. Thomas Library in the Virgin Islands, and the Seattle city library. She holds a bachelor's degree in history and a master's in library science.

She will start work Monday at a salary of $745 a month. She succeeds Kay Berteau, who left in November when her husband was transferred to Switzerland.

Astronauts Set For Road Race

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and L. Gordon Cooper Jr. will drive in a formula Vee race at Daytona International Speedway Jan. 31, car owner Jim Rathmann said yesterday.

Rathmann, former Indianapolis 500 winner, has entered four cars in the formula Vee event.

He listed his wife Kay as the driver in one of them. She and Conrad shared driving time in a similar car during national sports car races here last August.

Navy Cmdr. Conrad is one of the backup crew for the Apollo 9 flight scheduled to be launched from Cape Kennedy Feb. 28. Air Force Col. Cooper is scheduled to be one of the backup crew for the following mission, Apollo 10.

New Trio Will Bow On Monday

Three Marin musicians, soprano Gwen Curatilo, pianist Robaline Meacham and violinist Charles Meacham, have formed a new ensemble and will appear in a San Francisco debut concert at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the San Francisco Jewish Community Center.

The ensemble, called Trio Con Voce, has researched and will perform unusual material for voice and violin with piano accompaniment and rarely heard music for voice and violin alone.

For this first concert they will perform works by Handel, Mozart, Holst, Milhaud, Villa-Lobos, Sertaneja, Ives and Henze.

The Eiffel Tower in Paris draws 2 million visitors a year.

Date Set For Apollo 9 Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency has set Feb. 28 as the date for the next major step toward its goal of landing an American on the moon this summer.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration yesterday officially announced 8 a.m. (PST) the last day of February as the "go" time for Apollo 9, a 10-day earth orbital mission to test the complete three-part spacecraft designed for the moon mission.

If all goes well on Apollo 9, in the spring Apollo 10 will orbit the moon at low altitude. Then, in mid-summer, two Apollo 11 astronauts could be the first men to set foot on the earth's satellite.

Race, Migration Issues Snarling London Parley

LONDON (AP) — A row over race relations simmered behind the scenes of the Commonwealth Conference today and threatened to breach the surface calm of the 28-nation summit meeting.

The dispute pitted Africans against Asians and both Africans and Asians against the British. The West Indians were anxious spectators.

Ministers of eight involved countries agreed to form a special group to study ways of regulating the flow of Commonwealth migrants to Britain.

At stake is the future of thousands of persons of Asian descent who soon may seek new homes in Britain after losing their livelihoods in such African Commonwealth countries as Kenya, Uganda and Zambia.

Baseball Key To Memorial Park Design

San Anselmo City Council last night unanimously voted to change its master plan for Memorial Park rather than deemphasize baseball in the city.

The change adds a third baseball diamond to the plan for the park. It deletes an amphitheater and stage planned for the greenery complex.

PLAN CRITICIZED

The switch was voted when the park and recreation commission, criticized by landscape architect William Kapranos for altering the plan without council knowledge, insisted that the city's Little League program would suffer with only two diamonds.

Kapranos told the council he just learned that the park and recreation commission was changing the master plan he drew. Commissioners should leave planning to the professionals, he said.

"Someone has taken an expensive master plan, wadded it up and thrown it in the waste basket," he said.

Kapranos claimed the commission acted without council knowledge in changing the plan. Commissioner Robert England said councilmen had instructed them to propose changes in the plan.

BASEBALL PLAN

Mayor Duane C. Ragan ordered Councilman Kenneth L. Anderson, a commissioner, and Kapranos to meet and discuss redesigning the plan to include the third baseball diamond.

England told the council that a new plan will delete the amphitheater and some shrubbery in exchange for the diamond, barbecue pits and a driving range.

Councilmen voted to advertise for bids on an underground sprinkling system for the park. Engineer's estimate for the project is $15,000. The council has budgeted $9,000.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

NEW PARK — Instructed the parks and recreation commission to open the new Robson-Harrington Park as soon as possible and said it will consider hiring a live-in cartaker couple for the park during its budget sessions.

POOL — Discussed but took no action on Robert M. Scott's proposal that the city build a swimming pool complex at Sorich Park with funds raised privately. Initial cost of the project was estimated at $75,000.

MEETING — Scheduled its next joint meeting with the park and recreation commission for Feb. 4.

Marijuana Sale Charge Denied

George Stanley Byrne, 21, of Petaluma, pleaded innocent to charges of selling marijuana Monday in Petaluma Municipal Court.

Judge Alexander J. McMahon will set a date for a preliminary hearing at 2 p.m. Jan. 27.

Byrne was arrested Dec. 22 by Petaluma police and Sonoma County narcotics investigators in his room at the Petaluma Hotel. John Topolewski, 19, of 125 East Court Street, Petaluma, was arrested for possession of marijuana at the same time. Topolewski also has pleaded innocent to the charge. Both were released on their own recognizance.

THROUGH TUNNEL — Driver Ed O'Shea of Tiburon, who has been with the Eastshore Bus. Co. for 11 years, daily makes the round trip for the Novato commuters. O'Shea makes two stops in Novato and arrives in San Francisco at 7:40 a.m., returning at 5 p.m. The cost to each of the 41 commuters: $39 monthly, slightly more than Greyhound charges.

CHARTER PRIVATE BUS

Novatans Take Commuter Action

By RICHARD D. BOYLE

The commuter, whose problems are analyzed, scrutinized categorized and studied to death but seldom solved, is fighting back.

A group of Novato commuters, fed up with the procrastination of various governmental bodies, has decided to do something about its plight. They chartered their own bus to take commuters from Novato to downtown San Francisco every morning and evening.

"We have done more in three months than the Marin County Transit District has in the four years of its existence," said Wayne Bulette of 70 San Benito Way, Novato, one of the organizers of the citizen bus service. "We were just tired of waiting for studies so we decided to do something ourselves about the problem."

The transit district said in 1965 that better bus service was the probable solution of the county's traffic problems, but has failed since to do much other than make countless studies of the problem.

The idea for the commute service started when several members of the Improvement Association, disgruntled over poor service provided by Greyhound Lines, decided to follow the lead of other successful charter bus efforts in Terra Linda, Lucas Valley and Petaluma.

"We tried to give the people of Novato an alternative to Greyhound, which uses its oldest equipment in this part of the county," said Bulette. "Their buses were cold and drafty in the winter, sweltering in the summer and were very stuffy because of poor ventilation.

"I discovered that driving my own car wasn't the answer; besides being uneconomical, parking alone was between $40 and $50 per month, the traffic was miserable," said Bulette.

In November the commuters started their first commute run with 25 passengers. Now they have a full bus of 41 riders. The bus leaves San Marin at 6:40 a.m., makes a stop at Novato Boulevard and Wilson Avenue at 6:45 and another stop at South Novato and Rowland boulevards at 6:50. It arrives in San Francisco at 7:40 a.m., making several stops, and returns at 5 p.m.

The bus costs commuters $39 per month, which is slightly higher than the $1.46 per day that Greyhound charges.

But the dedicated charter bus commuters don't seem to mind.

"Greyhound has no regard for Novato commuters," said Mrs. Vera Hollingfield of 12 Washington Street, Novato. "Poor service, rough ride and slow — they took us all over the county for an hour and a half before we got to the city."

Mrs. Frances McSorley, 273 San Felipe Way, another charter commuter, added while relaxing in her soft seat on the bus: "I couldn't wait for another way of commuting. I jumped at the chance when I heard about this."

John Schoonover of 1160 Roslia Drive, Novato, said after his first three days on the bus: "I am very much impressed by the comfort and the advantage of arriving closer to my work. I gave up on Greyhound — the discomfort, draft and long walk from the Ferry Building were too much."

Wayne Sartain, 141 San Felipe Way, Novato, president of the San Marin group, said after driving for nine years he has found the bus the "best way to commute."

Bulette called the riders "the best bunch of commuters ever assembled." The happy group even holds a weekly cocktail party on the bus. "The bus driver brings the cups, everyone chips in on the ice," remarked Bulette.

One of the best advantages, noted Bulette, is that the bus stops near the commuters' homes while Greyhound stops only at the downtown Novato depot. "Many can even walk to a bus stop," he added.

One of the happiest riders is Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, the battle weary champion of the commuter.

Before the commute bus started, Hardcastle, until recently a director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, said he was about to give up on Marin and move to Contra Costa to be close to the Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART) system. "This bus was my salvation," said the smiling Hardcastle, as he rested his head on soft cushion while the plush bus inched its way through the snarled Waldo Grade traffic.

Looking out the large picture window of the highway cruiser type bus, Hardcastle reflected on the problem of the commuter. "Look at that," he said, "One bus like this could take over 30 cars off the road."

Hardcastle said the problem would never be resolved until more drivers got off the road and the bus seems to be the best answer. "One idea," he said, "could be to use one lane of the freeway for the exclusive use of buses. If drivers saw buses whizzing by they would be induced to leave their cars home" Another plan, he added, would be to pave the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way for bus use.

"People today are fascinated with high speed trains, but transit experts agree that buses are far better," he said. "The big attraction of buses is that they serve neighborhoods and can go downtown, while trains must go from depot to depot."

Hardcastle called the Marin transit district a "great disappointment" to the people of the county. He asserted that the county must get into the bus business, saying: "The people must accept the fact that mass transportation must be subsidized. Marin must be dynamic and pay; a public transit system just can't be self-supporting."

Hardcastle pointed to Greyhound to make this point. "Greyhound is losing large sums of money on commuter service here — they just have no incentive to improve." He said they don't want more passengers because this would mean Greyhound would simply lose more money.

Hardcastle said the answer might be to get Golden Gate Bridge funds for a county bus service, but the bridge district would not turn over money until Marin's transit district came up with a master plan.

CATCHING 40 WINKS — Gary Neal of San Marin takes a nap before the Novato commuter bus reaches San Francisco. Thomas Hardcastle, of Novato, hero of the deprived and neglected commuter, says the bus is divided about equally between the "sleepers" and the "readers."

END OF RIDE —Commuters hurriedly hop from the bus in a rush to work as the bus arrives in San Francisco at 7:40 a.m. The bus stops at several locations in that city, ending its run at the civic Center. (Independent-Journal photos by Roger Bockrath)

Marin City Help Remains Object

Marin County Redevelopment Agency directors last night assured homeowners they haven't abdicated any authority in Marin City's drive for a voice in planning and development.

"We're experiencing a very new thing, catching on all over the United States, where local people ask to have more voice in their destiny," said Chairman James O. Quiett. "This agency recognizes it to the point where it will work with local organizations."

The Marin City Home Owners and Improvement Association raised a series of questions in November about the future direction of Marin City.

Their concern came as the Marin City Council planned to assume as its role planning representative of the community and the newly formed Development Corporation of Marin City planned as its role, community development representative.

"The redevelopment agency doesn't surrender any right," said Director Richard S. Harding.

Jesse E. Berry, a homeowner, said homeowners were mainly concerned with the roles of various organizations and the applying of safeguards and standards. "There has never been a desire of the homeowners to be in a struggle for power," he explained.

The homeowners said in their November letter, "It is our feeling that the redevelopment agency, along with the planning commission, is responsible for the redeveloping of Marin City and the reviewing of its master plan."

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director, gave a step-by-step review of the procedures and policies which prevail and noted that on any plans for commercial development the agency will make the final decision.

On any amendment to the master plan there would be public hearings and it would be referred to the Marin County Planning Commission and ultimately would have to be approved by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, Stutsman explained.

Quiett said the local development corporation will have to meet the same standards as the California Developemnt Corp., under contract to undertake commercial development, or any other potential developer.

California Development Corp. "has failed to put together a package," and the agency shouldn't deny another group a chance to present its proposal for commercial development, Quiett said.

Berry said the board's presentation "answered quite a few of the homeowner's concern."

The howeowners also asked who was "backing" the recently created Development Corporation of Marin City, and Stutsman read the list of directors, seven of nine from Marin City.

Daniel Hayden, a corporation director, said there were no other "interests" except the nine directors. Eventually, he said, "we hope the entire community will be members of this corporation."

The local corporation plans, with federal financing, to construct a neighborhood shopping center to house the existing businesses in Marin City.

Attorney Hugh Lawrence, representing the corporation, said the corporation and the California Development Corp. had reached an agreement on use of the eight-acre commercial site near the entrance to Marin City.

As proposed the local corporation would develop a neighborhood shopping facility on one acre and have an option on an additional 1.5 acre for expansion, for a total of 2.5 acres.

The purchase price for the land would be determined by negotiations between the local corporation and the agency, Lawrence said.

He also mentioned that the local development corporation could become the sponsor of a proposed apartment project along Donahue Street in the Buckelew Street area.

Under the agreement, California Development Corp., which has a contract to develop the housing, would be reimbursed for its expenses on the property.

The agreement also provides for the local corporation to explore the feasibility of acquiring the existing 56 apartment units now owned by California Development Corp.

Agency directors took the proposed agreement under study, and adjourned until next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at the Manzanita Neighborhood Center. The Marin County Housing Authority will meet at 7:30 p.m. the same evening.

$672,395 Is Sought For Senior Housing

The Marin County Housing Authority last night applied for $672,395 in federal funds for a 40-unit senior citizen apartment project in Novato.

As planned, Smith and Haley of Oakland will construct the project on three acres at the northwest corner of Carmel Drive and Fourth Street, Novato.

Directors agreed not to pursue the possibility of constructing a 56-unit senior citizen project on Tamal Vista Boulevard, near Corte Madera, in unincorporated area opposite the Co-op Center.

Chairman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. reported that the Corte Madera Town Council opposed the project and he didn't feel the authority should "invest further time" on it.

The Marin County Housing Authority Also:

GROUNDSKEEPING — Heard complaints about inadequate groundskeeping and a request from Director Arthur Miller that additional groundsmen be hired. Stutsman said funds weren't available to hire additional men, but directors authorized hiring a man temporarily to fill in for a groundsman who is ill.

TELEVISION — Heard a report from Melvin Randolph, Marin City housing manager, that the community television antenna service is unsatisfactory, and agreed that a television contractor should be called in to check the system operated by Earle Stanton of San Francisco.

UTILITY — Approved monthly allowances for tenants who pay for utilities under the leased housing program as follows: $2 for garbage service and from $3 to $6 for water depending on the size of the tenant's house or apartment.

Hale, Banks Will Resign Redevelopment Positions

Herman J. Hale of Larkspur and Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr. of Marin City will be leaving the Marin County Redevelopment Agency board.

Banks said last night he intends to resign so he can concentrate on other civic duties, including his job as chairman of the Marin City Council.

Hale, who is also is a director of the Marin County Housing Authority, has written Marin County supervisors that he doesn't want to be reappointed to either board when his terms expire, Donald O. Sutsman, executive director, reported.

Hale, who was appointed to both boards in May 1965, said he plans to retire from his job as apprenticeship consultant with the state Division of Apprenticeship Standards in May or June and hopes to travel.

Hale's housing authority term expires Jan. 24, and his redevelopment agency term expires April 17.

Banks was appointed to the agency July 3, 1968, to succeed George C. Goheen, who resigned. Banks didn't set a resignation date, but said he probably would serve until his successor is appointed.

Agency directors agreed to postpone election of officers for 1969 until new members are appointed by supervisors.

Udall Favors Cities Over Apollo Spending

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall says "cities should come first" in the spending of public funds. "The trouble in our cities is now," he told a Town Hall audience yesterday.

"I tend to be earth-minded, and when we finish the moon missions we should put that money into our cities and into improving and enhancing our environment," Udall said.

Sirhan Murder Trial Halt Will Be Sought

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sirhan B. Sirhan's defense team sought today to throw his murder case out of court after a startling opening day demand that his trial for the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy be heard by two juries.

The Jordanian immigrant was brought back to the sealed off court room to watch his attorneys make the ritual attempts to get the case surpressed. (See also story, page 33.)

The trial had an unusual beginning yesterday when the defense argued that Sirhan should have two separate juries —one to decide his guilt or innocence and another to decide the penalty.

Superior Court Judge Herbert Walker quickly denied the motion by flambouyant Grant Cooper, chief defense counsul for the 24-year-old Arab.

But Walker, smiling broadly, granted Cooper's request that today's session start at 2 p.m. (PST) "because I have other commitments." This meant possibly would be time for arguing motions before the scheduled adjournment two-and-one half-hours later.

Trial for Sirhan, which began seven months after the senator was slain, was postponed several times because of Cooper's involvement in another trial and he still is tied up in ramifications of that case.

The request for two juries was permissible because California law divides determination of guilt and death penalty hearings into two separate proceedings. However, in most cases one jury is used for both.

It was a grim setting in the small court room yesterday, and the tiny Sirhan seemed to grow smaller in his leather chair as he listened to the judge speak in a gravel toned voice of the possibility of death in the gas chamber.

Constantly watched by two six-foot deputies, Sirhan spoke not a word during the 90-minute session which immediately ran into a snarl of defense motions.

After a session of more than an hour at the trial's outset behind the closed door of Walker's chambers, at which the judge was believed to have refused a 30-day continuance, Cooper sprang his jury proposal.

He argued that the process of selecting a jury would be greatly simplified and expedited if they were not asked whether they were unalterably opposed to bringing in a verdict of capital punishment, grounds for automatic exemption from serving.

Cooper contended that the first jury could decide on Sirhan's guilt or innocence. If they reached a verdict of first degree murder, he said, a second jury could be chosen to decide between the death penalty and life imprisonment.

A closed circuit TV camera in an air conditioning unit in the rear of the court transmitted the proceedings to a 4th floor auxiliary courtroom set aside for the overflow of press. It was a hazy picture and Sirhan was blotted out by the backs of the attorneys.

Cooper had two other motions ready for the afternoon session today.

He sought to quash the indictment on grounds the pool of prospective jurors was selected unconstitutionally because it barred certain occupations such as lawyers, doctors and nurses. Another motion contended the grand jury which indicted Sirhan was unconstitutional because it did not contain certain minority groups.

In all the legal wrangling, the name of Robert F. Kennedy was not spoken once. None of the members of his family or any of their representatives were here to witness the trial of the man accused of his murder.

Apple Crisp Dessert With Fancy Air

Apple Crisp has long been a favorite dessert in this country and in many European countries as well. It is a simple, "homey" dessert that everyone likes. But just wait until you try this more elaborate version that adds mincemeat, walnuts, dates, candied ginger and chocolate pieces, all blended to form a middle layer between two layers of apple slices. All this is topped with a spicy, buttery brown sugar crunch, and baked to a melting golden brown.

Served warm, with whipped cream or whipped topping, this is a company dessert you'll be proud to serve.

APPLE CONFECTION DESSERT

4 cups thinly sliced apples
1 cup prepared mincemeat
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup chopped pitted dates
2 tablespoons finely diced candied ginger (optional)
½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
⅓ cup cranberry-apple juice
1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup soft butter or margarine

Spread half the applie slices in a single layer in a greased shallow baking dish. Combine mincemeat, nuts, dates, ginger and chocolate pieces; spread over apples. Cover with remaining apple slices. Pour cranberry-apple juice over all.

Combine brown sugar, spices and salt; mix in butter until mixture is crumbly; spread evenly over apples; pat down. Bake at 350 ° for one hour, or until apples are tender. Serve warm with whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Baked Squash

Baking is an excellent way to prepare squash. Cover squash with butter or margarine, bacon or ham drippings, and bake at 400 degrees for 30 to 60 minutes. When the meat is tender, you can scrape it from the rind, mash it and serve like mashed potatoes. Mashed squash also freezes well. Some cooks like to add a small portion of brown sugar or maple syrup to the squash centers for baking, serving the vegetable then "as is."

Egg Whites Secret Of A Good Souffle

Souffles consist of a light, frothy baked dish containing well beaten eggs. During preparation the egg yolks and whites are separated. The whites are beaten untill stiff and the yolks form the basis of a thick sauce which may be flavored with cheese, vegetables, ground meats, fruits, etc. The sauce is gently folded into the whites and the dish is baked.

The secret of a good souffle is how to beat and handle the egg whites because they are what determine the volume and lightness of the souffle. Here are some helpful tips from home economists that will make your souffles a success:

Have the eggs at room temperature.

Never beat egg whites in a plastic bowl or one in which there is a speck of egg yolk or fat.

Beat egg whites until moist and glossy — just stiff enough to stand in peaks.

For extra lightness, add one more egg white than the recipe specifies.

Stir a small amount of beaten egg whites into the thick sauce before folding it into the rest of the egg whites.

Gradually fold sauce into beaten egg whites using a circular motion from top to bottom of bowl.

For a soft topped souffle, place the filled mold in a pan of hot water and set in the oven to bake.

For a crusty topped souffle, bake in oven without the pan of hot water.

To prevent the souffles from spilling during baking, make a ½-inch indentation with your finger by running it around the top of the batter after it is poured in the mold.

To keep the souffle from falling, never open the oven door (not even a crack) while the souffle is baking.

Souffles are done when a knife inserted on the center comes out clean.

Serve baked souffles as soon as they come out of the oven; they will fall within a few minutes.

CHICKEN-PARMESAN SOUFFLES

¼ cup butter
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon paprika
1¼ cups milk or chicken broth
1 cup finely minced cooked chicken
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
6 egg yolks
7 egg whites
1 teaspoon salt

Preheat oven to 325°. Set 2½ quart casserole in shallow baking pan; place in oven. Pour boiling water around casserole to depth of at least one inch.

Melt butter in saucepan. Add flour and paprika and blend well. Cook over medium heat until bubbly. Add milk or chicken broth all at once and cook until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in chicken and cheese. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Fold into chicken sauce.

Add salt to egg whites; beat until stiff but not dry. Fold chicken sauce gradually into egg whites. Pour into heated casserole. Bake 1 hour and 10 to 15 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean Serve immediately. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

CHOCOLATE CLOUD SOUFFLE

4 ounces softened cream cheese
½ cup light cream
⅔ cup semisweet chocolate chips
4 egg yolks
Dash of salt
½ cup flaked coconut or chopped nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 egg whites
¼ cup confectioners sugar, sifted
½ cup whipping cream

Blend cream cheese and light cream with electric mixer in sauce pan over medium heat. Add chocolate chips and stir until chips are melted. Remove from heat. Beat egg yolks and salt together. Stir into chocolate mixture. Cook over medium heat until mixture thickens. Stir in coconut or nuts and vanilla. Cool. Preheat oven to 325°.

Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Gradually add sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Fold in cooled chocolate mixture. Pour into an ungreased 1 quart casserole. Set in pan of hot water and bake 1 hour or until a knife inserted in center comes out clean. Whip cream and use as topping. Serve immediately.

Raw Carrots

If you like carrots in the raw, choose young, well-colored small ones. They'll be more tender and milder-tasting then the older carrots, which are better cooked or shredded.

SALAD FOR A PARTY

Serve Elegant Green Goddess

San Francisco, the home of distinctive cuisine, is the birthplace of that elegant dressing for salads known as Green Goddess. Originally served on shredded lettuce, it is equally good dolloped on crisp, cold wedges of western iceberg lettuce . . . maybe even better. You'll delight both friends and family when you serve them this special version of Green Goddess Salad.

Make the creamy dressing well ahead of serving-time to give the zesty seasonings a chance to do their job properly. Incidentally, expect to have some dressing left over from the recipe. Simple refrigerate it tightly covered and enjoy it at a later meal.

Be sure the western iceberg lettuce wedges are thoroughly chilled before serving this first-course salad. One way to insure super-crispness is to place the plastic-wrapped head of iceberg in the freezer compartment for just a few minutes before cutting the wedges.

The meats draped over the lettuce should be very thinly sliced so that they may be folded attractively. While the recipe calls for ham and turkey (or chicken), on another occasion you could substitute roast beef or corned beef or tongue. Or you might skip meat altogether and bedeck the crunchy iceberg wedges with anchovy fillets instead.

However, and whenever "Green Goddess Iceberg" appears on the menu, be assured that it will deserve star billing.

GREEN GODDESS ICEBERG

1 medium-size head western iceberg lettuce
6 to 8 very thin slices cooked ham
6 to 8 very thin slices cooked turkey or chicken
Greeen Goddess Dressing

Core and rinse lettuce, drain thoroughly; chill in disposable plastic bag or plastic crisper until ready to serve.

Prepare Green Goddess Dressing:

1 cup real mayonnaise
½ cup dairy sour cream
3 tablespoons tarragon wine vinegar
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 clove garlic, pressed or finely minced
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon worcestershire sauce
⅛ teaspoon freshly ground pepper

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Let stand, covered, in refrigerator for several hours before using. Makes about 1 pint.

When ready to serve, cut lettuce into 6 to 8 wedges, and place on serving tray or individual salad plates. Top each wedge with a thin slice each cooked ham and turkey or chicken.

Serve with Green Goddess Dressing. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CRISP WESTERN ICEBERG lettuce wedges, topped with thin slices of ham and turkey and crested with an exotic dressing, turn "Green Goddess Iceberg" into a festive dinner party attraction.

Marin Women

Sailing Influences Sausalito-Made Hats

Trust a woman to take over an item of apparel intended originally for men, especially now that the uni-sex look is so fashionable.

Peter Sutter, who owns a sail manufacturing company in Sausalito, designed and made a hat for himself out of the same acrilan material he uses for boat covers. It was so popular with his friends that he has been making hats for them for years.

Since he spends almost as much time sailing and racing as he does in his business, he felt the need for a hat that would not blow off and would be waterproof and stain-resistant.

His friends discovered that the hats are great not only for sailing but make excellent rain and ski hats, and with their practicality observed by many friends of his friends, he soon had women coming in asking for them.

He now makes the hats of bright blue acrilan with blue and white nautical motif tape trim in three sizes — small, medium and large.

For skiing he varies the trim with other motifs. The hats are now found in some Sausalito and Tiburon shops.

When the hats became so popular, Sutter decided to make beach and sailing bags which are also especially attractive to women. They are made of the same material as the hats and in a variety of colors. A feature of special interest is a plastic see-through bottom that permits the owner to recall what is in the bag without unloading it.

AN ALL PURPOSE item for Marin that has gained favor with sports minded women is the hat that a Sausalito sailmaker first made for himself from the acrilan material that he uses for boat covers. Here Mary Ann Della Santina wears the hat, trimmed with nautical motif headband, and packs the matching bag with a large hand mirror. The bags are roomy totes for beach or sailing. Flowers Are Represented By Frances Jones Poetker

By SHIRLEY F. FIELDS
Society of American Florists

"If I keep a green bough in my heart, the singing bird will come."

This ancient Chinese saying is the favorite of a remarkable American woman who travels the world as a roving good-will ambassador for flowers and ornamental houseplants.

She is Frances Jones Poetker, first lady of floriculture in the United States.

The name itself has a ring of distinction, and once you meet her, it's a name you don't forget. For Frances Jones Poetker combines a will and a skill with flowers with her own wit and regal grace.

There is not a flower in the fields that has escaped her notice. And when she describes the quirks and glories of rare and common houseplants, she holds your rapt attention.

"Artistry in Flowers" are the three words in the heraldic emblem of an artist's palette that identifies her Cincinnati, Ohio florist shop. Her distinguished family have been Ohio florists for the last hundred years. Trace her lineage back a little farther and you discover that her forebears, originally named Jonaz, began their floral dynasty in 17th Century Holland as royal court florists to the king.

While Cincinnati is her everyday workshop, her normal schedule is 14 to 16 hours a day, the whole world of flowers and ornamental plants is her broader professional home.

In Europe she stages flower shows at leading museums, creating fresh flower bouquets that duplicate or compliment those pictured in canvases painted by the masters. In the U.S. she is mistress of floral decor at charity balls, governor's conferences, fashion shows and, her favorite pursuit, an endless stream of simple and sumptuous weddings.

She is also in constant demand as an exhibitor, writer, teacher and lecturer on flower arranging and the care and use of ornamental houseplants. Her four-times great-grandfather no doubt had a way about him in charming Holland's king. With elegance and aplomb, Mrs. Poetker, a Vassar graduate, is carrying on the family tradition.

In a recent interview with the Society of American Florists, she spoke of her newest interest, the use of sculpture with fresh flowers and foliage for home decoration. It is an idea she has successfully introduced to the elite American Academy of Florists, the nation's top florists' group.

She held in her hand a large and exquisitely airy dandelion-like puff. "Goat's beard" is its popular name, but it is called "tragopogan" by botanists.

With outright maternal protectiveness, she placed the puff with an arrangement of fresh flowers, sheet moss, twigs of evergreen and sculptured porcelain gold finch birds.

"In our increasingly over-mechanized world we need fresh new outlets for individualized creative work," she said. "New opportunities for artistic expression and an appreciation of natural beauty must be opened to all. Combining sculpture with fresh flowers and foliage for home decoration is one exciting answer."

The porcelain birds are a part of her very own highly-prized collection, the work of the world-famed American sculptor, Edward Marshall Boehm. Other Boehm birds, valued as highly as $20,000, are displayed at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Royal Palace at Stockholm, the White House, the Vatican and Buckingham Palace.

A NEW DIMENSON in home decoration is seen in this merging of floristry, botany and the fine arts. The artist is Frances Jones Poetker of Cincinnati, Ohio, first lady of floriculture in the U.S. She combines exquisite porcelain birds, a pair of wild canaries, with flowers and foliage found in the birds' natural habitat.

Look Brings Reminder Of Youth To New York Dress Designer

By LOUISE COOK

NEW YORK (AP) — "I like women to look like women and look pretty," Sarmi said Monday as he introduced his spring and resort collection at the American Designer Showing.

Sarmi said that in his designs, "You don't see navels. You don't see bosoms. You don't see behinds."

He called the ultrafeminine appearance "the look I love— because it reminds me of my youth."

For daytime, Sarmi showed soft, fluid clothes, belted or sashed. There were none of the floral patterns seen in other collections, but there were lots of stripes, particularly horizontal ones.

There were several variations of the shirtwaist, including a signature dress in white with the name "Sarmi" in orange, green, blue and pink.

For evening, there was a shirtwaist in "the thinnest organza you can find,'' horizontally banded in satin ribbon and trimmed and sashed in black satin.

MOST OF SARMI'S dresses had long sleeves — sheer, but long. "I'm so fed up to see bare skin on the street," he said. "Bare skin is good only for the bedrooms."

Despite his disclaimer, Sarmi did present a black dress with matching stole, trimmed in pom pons, bare backed and plunging to the waist. "For once," he said, "skin. The exception proves the rule."

Long evening dresses, many of them shirtwaist style, swirled and swirled with yards of chiffon—yellow, pink, blue, white and orange. Necks were scooped or high, softly cut.

Pajamas — strictly for at home wear — usually appear under a long skirt. The exception was an outfit Sarmi called his "Powder puff" — a maribou bolero over black crepe, satin sashed pant, with the midriff left bare.

Pauline Trigere, who showed earlier Monday afternoon, agreed that pants, were strictly for at home. "I don't think that women . . . should take the pants away from the men," she said.

Miss Trigere had no qualms, however, about stealing fabrics from the men. Several dresses were made of plaid and tweed fabrics she selected from men's suiting charts and she showed ascots made of men's tie silk and matching actual men's ties she also designs.

The pants Trigere showed for at home—and they opened her collection—bared tiny triangles of skin just above the waist,

There was more skin showing in a black jersey bolero and skirt combination which bared a large section of midriff and which was tied together only by a huge satin tulip running from shoulder to floor.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Scandal Would Ruin Doctor And Cause Talk About Woman

DEAR HELEN:

I am one of those women who fell in love with her doctor. The difference is that he said he was in love with me. I divorced my husband on his promise to marry me. But it seems he had a wife who had to be convinced.

Well, Helen, I got pregnant by this wonderful man, only to be told I must get an illegal abortion. Imagine, a doctor speaking! Of course he wouldn't do it himself — he might be caught.

He said the scandal would ruin him and his family if word of the baby got out, so I should go away for a while, get rid of it; and I got the impression he'd be very happy if I kept on traveling. I called his wife. She laughed and told me about three past affairs.

I went away, but I didn't have the abortion. Instead I nearly had a nervous breakdown due to his rejection. I'm better now and expecting this month.

Helen, I am coming back to our local hospital, and when my baby comes, this doctor's name will be on the birth certificate as the father. I learned my lesson; now he must learn of his child through his colleagues.

Women get hurt. The rat goes free. Not this rat! He'll remember me next time he tries a seduction. I hope he loses his practice. — U.E.

DEAR U:

I hope you lose your nerve before you make a complete fool of yourself. You'll have to prove paternity, and that won't be easy unless you luck out on blood tests. You'll be the center of a scandal and you're almost sure to get the worst of it.

And if you expect sympathy from me or the townspeople, forget it. Did you show any sympathy for the husband you divorced when you thought you would replace the wife of a doctor? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We received a dual control electric blanket for a wedding gift, and I thought that would solve our problems, as I'm a No. 2 setting, and my husband is a No. 5 setting. He's colder-blooded.

But — we both sleep in the middle of the bed as we're very friendly people, so I get the heat from his side of the blanket and end up too warm, restless and weary next morning.

Any solution for a happy bride with — INCOMPATIBLE TEMPERATURE

DEAR I.T.:

We-e-ell, you could take the "weary" out of being close by moving to your own side of the bed, but that's a dumb solution, now, isn't it.

How about turning your temperature control off entirely. You might stay comfortably warm from your husband's No. 5 setting. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My mother and her brother and sister don't get along. At my wedding next month, would it be all right if my mother had her friends and in-laws at the No. 1 table and put her own relatives down at the other end of the room? — BAFFLED BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE:

Only if she wants to sabotage her daughter's wedding. This is one day when feuds should be forgotten. — H.

Use Detergent

Stains in grout, the material between ceramic tiles, can usually be removed wth a liquid detergent. Pour enough detergent to cover the stain, let it stand for several minutes and then wipe clean.

One Hundred Years Of Styles To Parade At Yacht Club Show

Opening event of the Women's Auxiliary of the San Francisco Yacht Club in the club's centennial year will be "A Century of Fashion" show and luncheon at noon next Wednesday at the Belvedere clubhouse.

The showing of authentic styles of the past 100 years will be presented by Fashion Collectors, Ltd. Mrs. Richard F. Phillips of Sausalito is director.

The club was founded in 1869 and its first clubhouse was located at Mission Bay, San Francisco. The yachtsmen began their long association with Marin when the club moved to Sausalito in 1876, using the yacht Tule Belle as temporary headquarters. The first Sausalito clubhouse was completed in 1878. Hectic ferry boat traffic off Sausalito caused the yachtsmen to consider another move. In 1927 the property in Belvedere Cove, location of the present clubhouse and harbor, was acquired.

Highlights of the club's history will be incorporated in the vintage costume parade program.

Women of the planning committee are Mmes. Benjamin Ballard, chairman; L. W. Colby, invitations; Robert G. Potter, decorations; and Kenneth A. Frost, program.

COURT SAINT Raphael, 1406, Catholic Daughters of America, is hosting a potluck dinner for members, their families and friends, tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. in St. Raphael's Social Hall. The court will provide the entree and games will follow dinner.

Mrs. Robert Pidcock, chairman, is planning the details.

THREE CHILDREN of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Clement of Mill Valley received four trophys at the Marin County Baby Pageant sponsored by the San Rafael Moose Lodge. A loving cup was presented to Cindy, 5, and Curt, 2, for placing first in their respective divisions, and Cristy was honored for being a close runner-up in her division. Cindy was also given a second trophy for being a princess at the coronation ceremonies.

A RED CROSS training class for adult volunteers will be held at Hamilton Air Force Base beginning next Wednesday.

Mrs. Thomas J. McCarron of Hamilton is accepting registrations.

MEMBERS OF the Redwood White Shrine will hold an appointive officer's party and dinner tomorrow, 6:30 p.m., at the San Rafael Masonic Temple, Fourth and Lootens Place. A regular meeting will follow at 8 p.m.

GOLDEN GATE District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, which includes Marin clubs, will hold a meeting for club presidents and district chairmen Monday at the Red Chimney restaurant in Stonestown, San Francisco. Meeting will open at 10 a.m., with luncheon at 12:30 p.m., followed by workshops.

A PANEL, "Who Runs Our Schools," will be presented tomorrow at 10 a.m. by the Ross Valley Council of the Parent-Teacher Association at San Clemente School in Corte Madera.

Participants will be Mrs. Dan Deedy of Ross, 11 year member of the College of Marin board of trustees; Mrs. H. James Compton of Kentfield, longtime P-TA officer and citizens committee worker; and Dr. John Plank, superintendent of San Rafael City Schools. Mrs. Charles Lester, president of the Sausalito Parents Club, will also speak on integration of Sausalito schools and how the system has fared.

Mrs. Ross Ashley, council legislative chairman, arranged the program.

FUTURE MEETINGS of the Interdenominational Bible Study Fellowhip, open to all Marin women, will be held at the Tiburon Baptist Church, Greenwood Beach Road, Tiburon.

First meeting of the new year will be at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow. Ten denominations are represented by the 80 Marin women now attending the weekly discussion programs.

A program of religious study is also available for pre-school age children.

Mrs. Harry Sutcliffe of Mill Valley is discussion leader; Mrs. Joseph T. Shubert of Corte Madera, director; Mrs. J. F. Hartman, of San Rafael, children's program chairman; and Mrs. R. J. Stoehr of Belvedere, membership chairman.

The program, now involving over 11,000 women throughout the country, was founded by Miss A. Wetherell Johnson of Walnut Creek, who served as a missionary in China for a number of years. She began the program in San Bernardino about five years ago at the request of young mothers who asked for help in bringing spiritual values to their daily lives.

Closed Session Set On Wage Discussion

Marin supervisors decided yesterday to hold a closed meeting Tuesday to instruct a county team on how far it can go in negotiating wages and fringe benefits with the Marin County Employees Association.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said a new law passed last year (Section 54957.6 of the Government Code) allows the supervisors to meet in closed session with designated members of a negotiating team.

The Marin team consists of Maloney, County Administrator Alan Bruce and County Personnel Director Robert Elliott.

The employees association, a recognized bargaining unit last month presented a proposal to the county covering pay raises, working conditions and fringe benefits.

Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

BACKYARD — Reaffirmed policy set last March that backyard burning cannot be banned completely until feasible methods of disposing backyard debris have been put into effect.

ST. HILARY'S — Authorized the payment of $9,000 for 13 per cent of the cost of acquiring 1.2 acres of land above the old St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon. The federal government will contribute 50 per cent, Tiburon and Belvedere 6 per cent each, and private sources 25 per cent to protect the landmark from surrounding development.

HALL OF JUSTICE — Voted $5,715 to pay for eight modifications in the new Hall of Justice building.

HOSPITAL BILL — Denied Marin General Hospital's request that the county pay a $1,388 bill incurred by Richard Krug, 29, of Vallejo, following a July 1966 motorcycle accident because Krug is a nonresident and the accident occurred in Solano County. Chairman John H. McInnis asked county counsel to review the county's policies on emergency treatment for consideration at another meeting.

DOGS — Agreed to defer action on a stricter dog control ordinance with additional enforcement until after cities have commented. Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella said Ross has already lodged formal opposition.

MENTAL HEALTH — Noted former board chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen's interest in filling the last vacancy on the Mental Health Advisory Board but delayed an appointment until next week, after Peter R. Arrigoni said several persons had indicated interest.

MOSQUITO — Appointed Philip Economon, assistant county agricultural commissioner, to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District board.

AVIATION — Delayed making four appointments to the county aviation commission until citizen interest can be determined.

FAIR-MARIN — Agreed to add the Marin Association of Mental Health to general membership of Fair-Marin.

LIBRARIAN — Appointed Bruce Bajema, county librarian who replaced Virginia Keating, to the North Bay Cooperative Library System board.

Dramatic Poetry Reading Is Set

A dramatic poetry reading by Elza Burton and Philip Sheridan will be held at 8 p.m. Jan. 15 in the gallery of the Mill Valley Library.

Mrs. Burton is a graduate of Syracuse University School of Speech and Dramatic Art and has been active in the little theater in the Marin area. Sheridan has been associated with the Marin Shakespeare Festival and the San Francisco Player's Guild.

Relief Cases Bring Cautious Board Views

"These people need more help than just this dole they get every two or three weeks," commented new Marin Supervisor Louis H. (Bud) Baar yesterday as the board waded through a dozen general relief cases.

Baar whose campaign supporters included a committee which publicly criticized a $50,000 medical budget approved by the board to provide hospital care for sick hippies, expressed his concern about treatment during a discussion of applicants with severe emotional problems.

YOUNG MEN

The applicants included young men who had been drug users but, according to social workers from the department of social services, were determined to change their way of life.

Social workers assured Baar persons who need help are getting as much as they can use or want.

The new board members viewed all of the cases cautiously yesterday, asking frequent questions on procedures of the department.

Of the 12 cases reviewed yesterday, only one was denied.

It involved a 23-year-old man, a Marin resident of two months with three and a half years of college and a desire to become a laborer.

"You can say he has dropped out of this part of life," the social worker told an incredulous Baar. However, she said, he is interested in working as a carpenter or some other laboring job. She admitted he had "longish, frizzy hair."

Supervisor William A. Gnoss moved denial of the request and the vote was unanimous.

In another case of a man with three years of college, the board agreed to grant relief on the basis of severe emotional problems. He may be eligible for aid to disabled, it was indicated.

BAFFLING CASE

The man's work history was termed "marginal" by social workers and Chairman John H. McInnis commented, "These are the ones that baffle me. Three years of college and he's never done anything."

Cases the board considered more worthy included a woman unable to work at her usual occupation due to her physical condition but willing to be trained for another type of work. "This is why we have this program," Gnoss said, "to help people of this type."

LONDON (AP) — Mia Farrow will play Peter Pan in a film to be started in England in September by Universal Pictures.

Supervisors Ask Election Changes

When only two candidates are running for county office, the election should be held in the November general election instead of in the June primary, the Marin County Board of Supervisors said yesterday.

At the suggestion of Peter R. Arrigoni, supervisors asked the county counsel to push for this change as part of the county's legislative program for 1969.

Arrigoni pointed out that when a supervisor is elected in June both the newly-elected man and the lame duck supervisor remain "in limbo" for six months waiting for the changeover in January.

Supervisor Michael Wornum added another suggestion for a change in the election laws, which the supervisors adopted as part of its legislative effort for this year.

"Why not have the runoff (November) election immediately after the primary so that an entirely new campaign is not necessary?" He pointed out that, under the present system, the two top vote getters in the June election must mount an entirely new campaign for the November runoff.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar wanted to go one step further. "Even if more than two are running, why not let the general election decide?" asked Baar. Under Baar's proposal, plurality would elect.

"I'd oppose a simple plurality election," said McInnis. But he and other supervisors agreed than when only two candidates are running, the election should be in November, and the primary and runnoff should be held closer together.

On a suggestion by William A Gnoss, supervisors asked the county administrator's office to see if the law can be changed to allow the use of school buses also for transporting senior citizens and welfare recipients.

The new board of supervisors approved a list of 25 bills to be introduced or supported by the county this year.

But it postponed a decision on proposed salary raises for the district attorney, auditor-controller, board of supervisors, and Municipal Court employees because the County Supervisors Association of California is working on a salary schedule to apply statewide.

The county's legislative program, submitted by the county administrator's office last December, had proposed that the district attorney be raised from $24,000 to $28,126; auditor from $19,000 to $23,000; and the supervisors from $9,600 to $15,286 effective in January 1971.

McInnis Calls For Help In Control Of Burglaries

John F. McInnis, new chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors appealed yesterday to the public to help combat what he called "a frightening increase" in burglaries in the county as well as nationwide.

"It is still without control at this point," said McInnis. "It is a national calamity. But in a community as limited in size and as homogenous in population as Marin I think we can work for a solution."

He appealed to homeowner groups and individuals to report suspicious persons or cars in their neighborhoods promptly to police.

McInnis referred to a recent case in San Rafael where an alert resident spotted a group of teen-agers loitering, reported it, and this resulted in the capture of a group of San Francisco youths in the act of burglarizing a home on Coleman Drive.

The chairman said increasing police patrols could not solve the problem unless the public cooperates by reporting suspicious cars and loiterers.

"I hope through the newspapers we can spark some response from homeowners' associtions and individuals to contribute to law enforcement. Unless we get wholehearted cooperation of the people of Marin, I don't see any way to reduce the frightening increase in burglaries."

Tickets Available For Junior Theater

Season tickets at reduced rates are still available for the Junior Theater of Marin performances, including "Katya, the Wonder Girl" scheduled for Saturday, according to Mrs. Virginia DePue of Kentfield, chairman.

The play Saturday will be presented at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. at San Rafael High School auditorium.

Tickets will be available at the door or by calling Mrs. DePue.

Supervisors Fill Major Committees

The new Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday appointed two of its members to the Tri-Partite Transportation Committee, which Chairman John F. McInnis wanted to ignore because "I think it is a waste of time."

The committee is composed of representatives from Marin, San Francisco and the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and was formed to improve inter-county bus transportation.

McInnis said San Francisco did not participate in earnest, and only one member (Jack Morrison) attended meetings regularly.

"It may not have been effective in the past, but it could be," replied Michael Wornum. "I'd be happy to attend. And I would like to have Mr. (Peter R.) Arrigoni to join me, or Mr. (Louis H.) Baar."

"No thanks," replied Baar.

Supervisors then appointed Wornum and Arrigoni as Marin's representatives to the committee to replace Ernest N. Kettenhofen, Thomas T. Storer and Peter H. Behr, former supervisors.

Other committee appointments made by the new supervisors are as follows:

Aid to Families With Dependent Children task force — Kettenhofen was reappointed because the county representative need not be a supervisor.

Association of Bay Area Governments — McInnis.

Bay Area Air Pollution Control District — William A. Gnoss.

Bay Area Council — McInnis.

Bay Area Transportation Study Commission — Baar.

City-County Services Committee — McInnis and Arrigoni.

Eel River Flood Control and Water Conservation Association — Gnoss and Baar.

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District — Wornum.

Local Agency Formation Commission — Arrigoni, Wornum, and McInnis as alternate.

North Coast Counties Supervisors Association — Gnoss.

Redwood Empire Association — Gnoss.

San Rafael Sanitation District — Baar.

Bipartisan Boost To Campus Curbs

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's call for a new legal crackdown on violent campus demonstrations received bipartisan support today from legislators unhappy with turmoil at California colleges and Universities.

"Any person on campus who resorts to violence has forfeited his legal right to be there and faces expulsion," said a Democrat, Assemblyman Robert W. Crown of Alameda.

He is scheduled to become vice chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, an important group that screens budget appropriations, including those of the University of California and state colleges.

"The people in education will welcome this assistance," said Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy.

But Sen. George Moscone of San Francisco, chairman of the Senate Democratic caucus, said Reagan failed to deal with the cause of student unrest. And he objected that "all through his speech was the element that the legislature is going to get more and more involved in education."

Legislators who had sat silently through almost all of Reagan's "state of the state" speech burst into applause four times when the governor spelled out his hard line on higher education.

Then they adjourned, and began organizing the committees that will hear his educational proposals and the other programs he announced in his annual speech.

In the Senate, there was an unexpected appointment.

Although the Republicans hold a 20-19 majority in the upper house, President pro tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, said a veteran Democratic colleague, Sen. Randolph Collier of Yreka, will be appointed chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. That fills the vacancy created by the death of Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez.

In the Assembly, now controlled 41-39 by the GOP, Speaker Robert T. Monagan moved a Republican, Eugene Chappie of Cool, into the chairmanship of the Rules Committee, a housekeeping body.

The Reagan administration, meanwhile, prepared to hand out key bills to the senators and assemblymen who will carry them.

Assembly Minority Leader Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood replaced as speaker by Monagan, said Reagan's speech "regrettably . . . failed to offer very many substantive solutions."

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Anselmo, said he would like to have seen "more emphasis in the field of minorities and civil rights."

STICKY TOPIC

Assembly Can't Table Its Trouble

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Spend $500 for a new desk and you'd expect the drawers to work. Right?

Assemblyman Eugene A. Chappie, R-Cool, who took over yesterday as new chairman of the Assembly Rules Committee, believes so.

But Chappie revealed the des — all 80 of them — don't even have a center drawer. And the other drawers stick.

The desks, which cost a total of $40,000, are part of a $600,000 remodeling of Assembly quarters which was begun by Democrats when they controlled the lower house.

The remodeling originally was estimated to cost $300,000 but some aides of the rules committee said this did not include the cost of remodeling the legislative cafeteria.

When Chappie was asked by newsmen about the costly remodeling job, he said he meant no disrespect "but when you have people working for you . . . " Then his voice trailed off.

Lack Of Quorum

The Marin City Target Area Board did not have a quorum for its meeting Monday night. Next scheduled meeting is 8 p.m. Jan. 20 at the Manzanita Neighborhood Center, Marin City.

UNRUH MOVES — Former Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, now relegated to a rear seat as minority leader, seems content with his role while watching new Speaker, Republican Robert Monagan introduce Gov. Ronald Reagan. The Inglewood Democrat took his new desk yesterday. (UP ITelephoto)

Marin Improvers Nominate Slate

Robert W. Kruse has been nominated for president of the San Marin Improvement Association, according to Ronald Q. Lewton, publicity chairman.

Other nominees are Wayne Bulette, vice president; Mrs. Gilbert Lilly, secretary, and Mrs. Peter S. Jaber, treasurer.

Nominated to the board of directors were David A. Applen, Jack R. Clark, Herbert W. Cook Jr., Mrs. Charles A. Goehring, Guthrie R. Green, Duane Hansen, Arlo R. Jones, Gilbert J. Moncayon, Michael Skorski, Thomas W. Steward and Lewton.

Officers will be elected at the Jan. 28 meeting.

Reagan Joins Forces With Bay Conservers

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan has joined key legislators in a fight this year against commercial interests to save shrinking San Francisco Bay from further filling by land.

The Republican chief executive called yesterday for extension of the life of the 30-member watchdog Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which holds veto power over any efforts to fill bayshore lands for new development.

But a Democratic senator, Nicholas C. Petris of Oakland, cautioned, "We're going to have a helluva fight."

The commission, created in 1967, dissolves at the end of this year if not extended or made permanent by the 1969 legislature — something Reagan said he would request and Petris said he would sponsor.

Conservationists contend that, should the commission be abolished, the 400-square mile bay — which covered 680 square miles in 1850 — faces the threat of becoming little more than a polluted, sluggish river emptying into the Pacific Ocean through the Golden Gate.

Democratic Sen. George Moscone of San Francisco said, "I'm particularly pleased to see the governor spend so much time advocating preservation of the bay and BCDC."

"I'm somewhat astonished," Moscone added after Reagan's annual legislative message yesterday. "In the past, he has not indicated much concern."

Moscone sees it as "a conservation versus special interest beef." And he includes in the category of special interests such agencies as airports and the Port of Oakland, which he said serve commercial interests.

Petris said, "I don't think there's any question about it. The traditional opponents (to the moratorium on bay fill) will go all out to try to shoot this thing down. It isn't limited to private speculators. Some of the public agencies are the worst offenders and they all do it in the name of the people or progress."

A major opponent has been the Port of Oakland, Petris said.

Walter A. Abernathy, assistant port director, said the danger of filling the bay have been exaggerated.

"We're not spoilers, but there will be pressures to expand the port that won't go away. We're in the marine business and to compete we need a 150-acre fill right now. Competition among ports is healthy for the economy and the region is well served by it."

Firmly behind the bay conservation plan is the 70,000-member Sierra Club, with headquarters in San Francisco.

Dr. Edgar Wayburn, the club's president, said, "We hope the legislature will pass legislation to give broad powers to some bay agency to plan for proper development and protection of the bay. To fritter it away seems to be an extremely shortsignted way of doing things. Filling the bay produces changes that can't be undone. The minimum to be done this year is to make something like BCDC permanent and then to have some type of regional authority."

The average American farmer produces enough food for himself and 42 other persons, says the Vermont Farm Bureau.

Tennis Club Refused License For Liquor

The Alcohol Beverage Control board has denied the Belvedere Tennis Club's application for a liquor license.

The board decision came on Dec. 26 following hearings held at the Civic Center in October and November.

Haskell Tichell, club member and attorney, said the club will ask for reconsideration but was pessimistic that the board would reverse the decision. "Denials are seldom reversed on a reconsideration request," he said.

Club directors will meet on Tuesday to discuss whether to ask for a hearing before the ABC's appeals board, Tichell said.

An ABC spokesman in Santa Rosa said that protests of neighbors that the club is located in the immediate vicinity of two schools and adjacent to residental areas and that the consumption of alcoholic beverages at the club would aggrevate an already hazardous traffic problem on Tiburon Boulevard near Rock Hill Road were sustained in the denial.

According to the ABC staff, Edward A. McDonald of the state Office of Administrative Procedures, who conducted the hearing, recommended denial.

Air Training Topic Of Show

The Novato Air Force Junior Reserve Officer Training Program for high school students will be discussed by a panel of proponents and opponents at 9 a.m. tomorrow on KTIM's Sounding Board program.

Lt. Col. Walter Von Emon, aerospace education instructor at Novato High School; student Ed H. Dietrich, who has been in the program three years, and Harry J. Moore, assistant principal at San Marin High School will speak in favor of the program.

Opponents will be William Atwood, social students teacher at Novato high, and Michael Koehler, Novato high senior.

Questions may be phoned into the broadcast, according to Kitty Oppenheimer, moderator. The program will be repeated at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

Busher Mum On Reasons For Quitting

Walter H. Busher, who resigned yesterday as Marin County probation officers for reasons including disagreements with Juvenile Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner, today declined to comment about those reasons.

"I feel no constructive value would come forth from it," he said. Busher said he included all he wanted to say in his letter submitted to the board of supervisors.

The letter cited only that disagreements with the judge had occurred, and that "personal scars" also were given as his reasons for resigning.

Busher, probation officer for over 17 years, said today he has no definite plans for the future. He said the "grief" involved in the job during the 17 years has been more than the satisfaction received.

Slain Father Termed In A Drunken Rage

Larry Glenn Busdieker, Corte Madera father allegedly slain by his son, was in a drunken rage, shoving his wife and threatening murder at the time of his death, according to testimony in Marin Municipal Court today.

The testimony came at the preliminary hearing of 19-year-old David Vaughn Busdieker, accused of the murder of his father.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales charges the youth killed his father with the thrust of an eight-inch kitchen knife through the heart and left lung.

Most dramatic testimony this morning came from Pamela Busdieker, 15-year-old daughter of the victim and sister of the accused.

The pretty blonde sophomore from Tamalpais High School told Judge Peter Allen Smith her father was in a "drunken rage" before he slumped dead on a blood spattered kitchen floor early Dec. 18.

She said she did not see the knife, held by her brother, actually enter her father's body. Busdieker, 45, was flailing his arms and threatening his son when the stabbing occurred, she said.

"He kept shouting at David, saying 'I'm going to kill you, you son of a bitch,' and David kept backing up and saying, over and over, 'get away from me. Leave me alone'," she recalled under the cross examination of defense attorney Roger Garety.

She told the judge, who must decide if Busdieker is to be held for trial in Superior Court, that she twice saw her father knock her mother, Vicki Busdieker, to the floor when she tried to keep him from his son.

"He just kept trying to hit my brother. After he was stabbed, he kept swinging. Then he finally fell. When father fell, David said: 'I'm so sorry. I didn't mean to hurt you'," she said.

Dr. John H. Manwaring, the pathologist who examined Busdieker's body, said the slain father had consumed enough alcohol the night he died to render a normal man unconscious.

Busdieker must certainly have been in a stupor with the blood alcohol count of .329, Dr. Manwaring said.

The physician said he also found evidence that the dead man suffered from alcoholic cirrhosis of the liver and said that alcoholics are sometimes able to perform well at higher blood-alcohol content levels.

Manwaring also reported the dead man had a puncture wound in the left arm which is consistent with "what is known as a defense wound."

Such a wound is received when the victim places his arm in front of his chest to block the thrust of a knife, he said.

The doctor, under cross-examination, said Busdieker could have also suffered the wound by "wildly flailing" his arms, and striking the tip of the blade.

Miss Busdieker told the judge her father cut his arm on the knife by swinging at her brother and hitting the blade instead.

Sgt. Charles Rester of the Corte Madera Police Department said young Busdieker also seemed under the influence of alcohol when arrested.

"It seemed to me that, if he had been a driver he would have been a borderline case. I would have been hard put to decide whether to arrest him or let him go," he said.

Novato Offered Water Tank Site For Park Use

The half-acre water tank site off Vallejo Avenue will be offered to the City of Novato for use as a park, according to a decision made last night by the North Marin County Water District Board.

The site is on the hillside above Vallejo Avenue at Seventh Street. The tank has been moved to Half Moon Road, according to board clerk Eugene Churchill.

"The level spot overlooking the main portion of the city and the 10-foot access to it will be offered to the city for park use," Churchill said.

The North Marin County Water District bnard also:

PRESSURE — Approved the installation of a $340 pump to increase the water pressure to the home of Louis Cavallero at 154 H Lane.

ADJUSTMENT — Approved a $21 adjustment in the water bill to a house at 1916 Marion Avenue for Westwood Homes Inc. because of a leak.

Deputies List Four County Burglaries

Four burglaries, one at a Kentfield home, were reported today by sheriff's officers.

Deputies said someone broke a sliding glass door to enter the home of William J. Caroni, 126 Wolfe Grade Drive, Kentfield, between last Thursday and Saturday. A metal filing cabinet was ransacked, they said, but nothing was known to be missing.

Burglars smashed a window of the Coin-O-Matic Launderette, 716 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, on Saturday, but apparently did not enter, officers said.

A ventilator wing of the car of Jack E. Pinette of Everett, Wash., was pried open on Ross Street near Sausalito Sunday and clothing, including a man's suit and a woman's coat, were taken, deputies said.

Burglars also smashed a window wing of a car owned by E. C. Macivor of the 666th Radar Squadron on Mount Tamalpais, which was parked Saturday in the 200 block of Shoreline Highway. Taken were an auto stereophonic set and a camera.

Meeting Canceled

A meeting of the Corte Madera Planning Commission scheduled for last night to discuss changes in the town's sign ordinance was canceled due to lack of a quorum.

Dominican Sets Registration

Students may register Friday and Saturday in Guzman Hall for spring semester classes at Dominican College of San Rafael, according to college officials. Hours are 9 to noon and 1 to 4:30 p.m.

New courses to be offered during the semester, which starts Monday, include practical fundamentals of investing, Africa south of the Sahara and the Jewish voice in American literature.

Ida Grae, Mill Valley weaver, will teach two courses in primitive weaving and loom weaving, and Robert Adler will repeat his summer course of uses of drama in the classroom.

Peace Corps Tests Scheduled Jan. 18

Peace Corps placement tests for Marin residents will be held at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 18 at the San Rafael Post Office branch at the Albert Arcade, 874 Fourth Street.

Applicants must fill out application forms, available at post offices, before taking the test.

Five Nominated For Drum Major

Five members of the Tamalpais High School marching band have been nominated for drum major for 1969-70.

Final selection will be May 1. Candidates are juniors Robert Del Secco, Peter Schiller and John Uhte, juniors, Michael Mendelson and Kevin Omi, sophomores.

Each will demonstrate his ability with a marching squad before the choice is made.

Sets Session

The Golden Gate Region of the Antique Automobile Club of America will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Larkspur City Hall. The meeting is open to all interested persons.

Why Get Involved? The 'Big Brother' Complex

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, commenting last week on an alarming increase in burgaries in Marin County, reiterated a complaint that is being heard increasingly from peace officers: that law enforcement is being made difficult by lack of public cooperation, much of which is due to unwillingness of citizens to get involved.

Only a few days before a protest from Panoramic Ridge residents brought this statement from the sheriff, two psychologists received a $1,000 American Association for the Advancement of Science award for their research into a particularly horrible example of what happens when the public refuses to get involved.

The two, Bibb Latane of Ohio State University and John M. Darley of Princeton University, did a study into the murder of Kitty Genovese in Queens, N.Y., while 38 persons looked on and did nothing in 1964.

The conclusion they reached appeared obvious from the facts: that people in crowds readily "pass the buck," convincing themselves that someone else will take care of the emergency.

THIS "LET GEORGE DO IT" attitude carries over to those — not in crowds — who do nothing about suspicious circumstances in their neighborhoods.

"Too often," said Sheriff Mountanos, "a home is burglarized which could have been prevented by a neighbor who had some knowledge of what was taking place but did not want to get involved."

The neighbor takes the attitude, "This is a matter for the police."

But by the time the owner discovers the burglary, and the alarm is sounded, the criminals have flown. Their capture is made still more difficult because, in many cases, the neighbor did not even trouble to take down the license number of a suspicious car, or to observe carefully the appearance of suspicious strangers in the area.

SUCH NON-INVOLVEMENT may be a reflection of a society more and more dependent on "Big Brother."

If a family in the neighborhood is in dire financial straits, "Let them go to the welfare department or the Red Cross." If an acquaintance suffers from a serious disease and lacks money for care, "There are foundations to take care of that."

Almost daily, callers are at the door seeking funds for some good work — from selling Girl Scout mints to soliciting donations for the Heart Association. Most residents give without objection. Most also note that a large share of their tax dollars go for social welfare.

Having given their donations and paid their taxes, they then feel freed from all responsibility for their fellow man. They do not need to get involved.

IT IS THE SAME with law-breaking. Their taxes pay for police protection. So, having paid, they no longer feel any personal responsibility. They do not need to get involved.

"Big Brother" will take care of it, they think.

But society run by "Big Brother" cannot provide security. It can provide only an illusion. And not only is security lessened, but the heart goes out of society. Civilization becomes less civilized as the mass approach replaces the personal approach.

"And the Lord said unto Cain, Where is Abel thy brother? And he said, I know not; Am I my brother's keeper?"

Nobody Executed

For the first year in its history, nobody was legally executed in the United States during 1968.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, taking editorial note of this, called it "one of the most heartening developments of the year."

We are not so sure, however, that the absence of executions last year is altogether reassuring. In California, for instance, nearly 100 men remain under sentence of death. The fact that none was executed last year may mean only temporary reprieves for all of them.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Leadership Selections Augur Well For The New Congress

WASHINGTON — The leadership decisions by both the Democrats and Republicans for the new Congress do four things:

1. They exhibit the political daring with which Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is going after the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination—and how it pays off.

2. They move the Republican Party more to its political center and the Democratic Party to the left.

3. They give the GOP the best leadership in both the Senate and House to work effectively with President-elect Nixon and co-operatively with the Democratic majority in Congress.

4. In the Senate, at least, the new leadership choices shook up the congressional establishment and showed Congress responsive to public opinion.

ALL THIS DOESN'T guarantee that Congress will act responsively and responsibly in the months ahead, but it's a good beginning.

It is significant that the GOP put moderate Republicans in the top leadership of both houses. The special value of naming Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania as assistant Senate leader is that he not only has credentials with his own party but the trust of the Democratic opposition whose support the Nixon Administration will need on all crucial measures.

The Republicans did about the same in the House, replacing Melvin Laird, who is to be secretary of defense, with John B. Anderson of Illinois as chairman of the party conference.

BUT THE HOUSE Democrats clung with blind fondness to the old establisthment and thus Speaker John McCormack lingers on, proclaiming how long he has favored — but never before has acted upon— the great and radical reform of electronic voting. Now, when the seniority-entrenched Democratic committee chairmen deign to allow members of the House to get a bill to vote upon, we'll know the vote is authentic. It'll be right up there on the wall in lights.

When Russell Long of Louisiana saw his colleagues were ousting him as Democratic Senate whip and putting Teddy Kennedy in his place, he revealingly blurted out the truth: "I think I had him outgunned in the Senate, but he was more popular across the country." That's the truth. That's why Teddy made it—Senate Democrats were responding to public demand and that's a welcome dividend; evidence, perhaps, of things to come.

CONGRESS MUST complete a whole series of reforms — and how Congress hates to reform itself — before it begins to transact the public business efficiently and effectively. The steps taken at the opening of the new Congress are minute but they are in the right direction.

The most fascinating of all is, of course, the elevation of Senator Kennedy as second only to Mike Mansfield in the top ranks of leadership.

It has a double significance — he daringly took the risk of going for the post of assistant leader and he succeeded.

It also discloses what to me is the most self-revealing aspect of Teddy's two great political decisions of 1968. He refused to allow his name to be put in nomination for President when the Chicago convention looked as though it might be deadlocked — although the opportunity to do so was temptingly before him. Some suggested that Kennedy turned this aside because it would have meant a fight and that his chances of winning either the nomination or the presidency didn't look good. I think not. He turned it down for a bigger and a better reason: He didn't want the nomination as a sentimental gift; he wanted to earn it — or not get it.

NOW SENATOR KENNEDY is going about to earn it on his own and it is obvious that he is not going to be coy or timid.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Bagley Book To Clarify Freedom Of Information

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A move to eliminate some of the confusion with relation to Freedom of Information laws in the California statutes is planned by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The Marin lawmaker, whose measures during the past few years have contributed to making the state's laws and records, as well as public meetings, open to the public, said a comprehensive book, which will outline all California law, attorney general opinions and court decisions pertaining to freedom of information will be written and made available to the public.

Bagley and Judd Clark, committee consultant, will author the book, with the aid of the attorney general's office and probably the legislative counsel.

In addition to state laws and interpretations, the book will contain information on federal laws passed at the instigation of Rep. John E. Moss, D-Sacramento, Bagley said.

State law on the subject is divided into three parts, Bagley said.

First is the Brown Act, which requires open meetings at the local levels of government.

Second is the open records measure, requiring matters of public record, with certain exceptions, be open to perusal by the public.

Third, an omnibus measure authored by Bagley last year, covers open meetings by state departments, boards and commissions.

Some changes will be sought at the 1969 legislative session, Bagley said, to pin-point phases of the law as it exists and clear up misunderstandings as to what is and is not an open meeting or an open public record. Some exceptions, which now cause confusion, are expected to eliminated.

Generally, he said, public officials accept the open meeting and open record laws, but there are instances which need correction by legislation.

When the book is published, it will be available to state officials, local government officials, newspapers and other communications media. The book is expected to clear up many points which still are questioned by some public officials who hold to the old theory the public is not entitled to knowledge pertaining to the activities of elected and appointed officials.

Bagley also says that during the 1969 session, he intends to reactivate the advisory commission on freedom of information, which held hearings last on legislation necessary to advance still further the process of making the business of government the business of the people of the state.

Publicity Prolongs Campus Violence

Is there now any doubt that the publicity and TV coverage of the news media is increasing and prolonging the violent disturbances which have disrupted S.F. State College?

To a very large extent we are dealing with mentally disturbed adolescents whose crying psychological need is recognition. The long hair, beards and outlandish clothing, worn by many of them, all point to their hunger for attention! By being in the forefront of the struggles on the campus, a handful of violent young people insure that they will be seen on television on the evening of the same day. What pride these young anarchists must feel in the prominence which TV has afforded them! Now they are somebody — not merely social misfits rejected by law-abiding citizens!

What matter that their violence tends to destroy the peace and order of a free democracy? They have been given a semblance of legitimacy and even heroism by irresponsible city editors whose only concern seems to be for a sensational headline.

How can anyone doubt the sincerity and good intentions of Prof. S. I. Hayakawa whose whole career reflects his strong sympathy with all true liberals? It is time to present the facts in their true light. It is the responsibility of the press to do just that. Let them do it!

Welfare Revision Schemes Overlook Basic Philosophy

(Reprinted from Wall Street Journal)

"The lessons of history . . . show conclusively . . . that continued dependence on relief induces a spiritual and moral disintegration fundamentally destructive to the national fiber. To dole out relief . . . is to administer a narcotic, a subtle destroyer of the human spirit. . . ."

History's lessons are just as plain now as they were in 1935, when Franklin D. Roosevelt thus warned of welfarism's effects in his State of the Union message. Yet many well-meaning Americans largely ignore those lessons now, just as Mr. Roosevelt himself did later on.

Confronted by the failures of the existing welfare system, nearly everyone would like to supplement it or replace it with something else. Three of the proposals were discussed in a recent speech by Roger A. Freeman, senior staff member of the Hoover Institution at Stanford University.

ONE OF THESE is the guaranteed annual income. "To guarantee everyone an adequate income," notes Mr. Freeman, "appears to be the most direct and simple method to end poverty; also, when we study it more closely, potentially the most destructive." . . .

"Entire occupations," predicts Mr. Freeman, "would be wiped out overnight. A large part of the labor force of several states . . . would immediately retire and most agricultural employment would end." Moreover, wage scales at medium and higher levels would be thrown into chaos . . . A reduced supply of goods and services would generate explosive inflation.

A SECOND proposal is the family allowance, which would pay every family — rich or poor — a specified sum for each child. At $25 per child per month, which is hardly adequate to support true poverty families, the national cost would be $21.5 billion a year.

"Why should child allowances go to all families, rich and poor alike," asks Mr. Freeman, "when only one American family in 10 is now held to be poor?

LIKE FAMILY allowances, a third proposal — the negative income tax —also is aimed partly at erasing the "stigma" of relief. It would use the existing tax machinery; if individuals earned less than a specific amount the government would pay them, instead of the reverse. . . .

The present setup is in such sorry shape that any reform will take time, perhaps a great deal of it. The direction, though, should be clear; it has been stated often but never adequately pursued. Society has an obligation to care for its citizens who cannot care for themselves. For others the overriding aim should be to provide an opportunity to work, not an opportunity to avoid it.

Red China Back In Nuclear Race; U.S. Needs Space Goals

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — With its eighth nuclear weapons test, Communist China has vaulted back ahead of France on the grim performance chart of the nuclear club.

A final appraisal of the Chinese test must await detailed analysis of the debris blasted into the atmosphere last month at the Lop Nor testing station. Certain implications already are clear, however, from available information.

In disclosing the blast on Dec. 27, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission estimated its yield at three megatons. The AEC announcement said the yield, equivalent to three million tons of TNT, was "about the same as the sixth Chinese test which took place on June 17, 1967."

No mention was made, in the one-paragraph AEC statement, of the seventh Chinese explosion in December 1967. That test, which generated a TNT equivalent of less than 20 kilotons, is widely assumed to have been a "dud" — an H-bomb in which only the atomic trigger actually exploded.

With its announced three megaton yield, there is every reason to believe that the recent Chinese blast was a thermonuclear (H-bomb) explosion. That suggests a successful test which puts Peking back on the road to a hydrogen warhead for the missiles it is developing.

The United States' space program is rolling merrily along, after Christmas week's Apollo 8 successes, but President-elect Richard M. Nixon will have to act to keep it rolling.

The sensational performance of Apollo 8 holds out the prospect of further triumphs, this year, in manned space flight. Obscured, in this euphoria, is the lack of any major U.S. space goal beyond the eagerly awaited lunar landing.

Advance indications are that no new focus for the space program will be provided in the final budget which President Johnson sends to Congress. That puts the matter squarely in the lap of the President-elect.

If the space program is to get a new popular objective, while public enthusiasm is engaged in its present successes, President Nixon will have to provide it. Without such a goal, the program can be expected to lose much of its impetus as it loses a measure of its public support.

Some critics of the space program, who have begrudged the annual expenditures of $4 to $5 billion amid the stars, would not be sorry to see it de-emphasized in the public eye. It will cost about $24 billion for what one scientist has called the "spectator sport" of sending a man to the moon.

THE RANGE of possible new space goals is, of course, as wide as the heavens themselves. In the area of manned flight, however, some National Aeronautics and Space Administration partisans feel strongly that the moon, once it is reached, should be truly explored in a series of lunar trips.

In the field of unmanned exploration some NASA scientists think the U.S. should gear itself to exploit an unusual opportunity created by the juxtaposition of the planets in the middle and late 1970s. Beginning in 1976 — and more easily in 1977 and 1978 — it will be possible to swing a space probe past the planets Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune in what the scientists are calling a "grand tour."

If missed, the "grand tour" opportunity for the four planets will not exist again for 179 years.

Long-range possibilities like the "grand tour" have immediate implications for the space program. The four-planet tour would, for example, require rapid development of a nuclear-powered rocket to power the interplanetary probe after it had been boosted from earth into space.

NSA has had good success with early developmental work on NERVA, its nuclear rocket engine. Like other post-Apollo projects, however, NERVA has been on a starvation budget.

A level of financing for NERVA now — with its implication for years to come — is the sort of problem the space program poses for the new President.

Death Of Frouge Recalls Bitter Arguments Over Marincello

The death of Thomas Frouge, "father of Marincello," on Sunday brings back a flood of reminiscences about the "planned city" that's never been born.

The gestation period goes back now almost four years.

In March, 1964, Marinites learned in a rather round-about manner of a proposed planned community to be built north of the Marin Headlands.

FIRST MENTION came at a meeting of directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, where the subject was brought up by an Army spokesman who said developers had asked permission for a road through Fort Baker property.

In the following months the Frouge Corp., of which Thomas Frouge was chairman of the board, hired several prominent Marin citizens to act as spokesmen for the new development.

E Warren McGuire, now Marin's newest superior court judge, as well as Assemblyman William T. Bagley went to work as attorneys for Frouge; former County Supervisor Vera B. Schultz joined the payroll as a consultant.

BY THE TIME the Frouge Corp. was ready in November, 1964, to unveil full plans for the 2,128-acre community to be named Marincello, battle lines had been drawn.

Strongest opposition came from conservation groups, but almost as vehemently opposed were city councils of southern Marin cities.

One year to the day after the name "Marincello" was first spoken in Marin County, the board of supervisors approved a master plan for the community on Nov. 12, 1965.

Opponents of the plan did not give up easily. Supervisors Thomas T. Storer, Ernest N. Kettenhofen and William A. Gnoss, who voted in favor of the community, were threatened with recall. (Storer and Kettenhofen, incidentally, were defeated at their next time at the polls.)

Petitions asking the supervisors to reconsider their decision were circulated and the City of Sausalito filed a court action against the start of Marincello.

However, ground was broken for the new community, then envisioned as costing $285 million with a population of 20,000, in July, 1966.

IN THE TWO and one-half years since then, however, no homes have appeared above the Marin headlands.

Financial difficulties have bogged down the project in a way that the conservationists were never able to do.

The Frouge Corp. is now involved a legal battle with Gulf Oil Co., which owns almost all the Marincello land, and which now maintains that Frouge's right of purchase has been terminated.

The zoning and plans for Marincello would be valid whoever the developer might be, however, according to legal advice given the board of supervisors.

FROUGE CORP. spokesmen this week claimed that the death of Thomas Frouge does not affect plans for the proposed community.

But gravel-voiced, self-made Thomas Frouge will not be around to see his dream city if it becomes a reality.

I have a hunch that he will be missed, even by the conservationists who fought him so bitterly, as a colorful figure who learned the hard lesson that many other developers in Marin County have also faced.

There must be easier places in this country to build developments!

Wisdom, whose lessons have been represented as so hard by those who never were at her school, only teaches us to extend a simple maxim universally known. And this is, not to buy at too dear a price. — Henry Fielding.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

What Are Qualifications For School Board Job?

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Nearly all of California's 1,200-plus school districts will hold trustee elections April 15. In roughly half of them, a majority of the school board positions will be up for grabs.

In a year marked by faculty and student militancy, by teacher organizations' sanctions and strike threats, and in many places by parent-school friction over curriculum innovations, school board campaigns may be expected to draw more than usual interest. In such a year also, it may be even more important than usual to elect citizens who are both qualified and dedicated to serve as trustees.

What constitutes qualification for school board service? There is no law setting up requirements, and opinions on how to judge potential trustees differ even among educators and board members.

ONE WAY to test the candidates' qualification might be through adopting some questions suggested in the December issue of the American School Board Journal by John M. Nagle for use in opinion polls seeking public reactions to the schools.

For such a poll to have validity, writes Nagle (who has been involved in such surveys for Pittsburgh,Pa., schools), it must include questions which test the public's knowledge of the schools. He suggests questions on these:

Makeup of the school board, how often and where it meets; approximate pupil population of the district; state certification requirements for teachers; minimum and maximum salaries of teachers in the district compared with area and national norms; annual expenditure per child by the district compared with state and national averages; breadth of courses offered and principal methods of instructing; nature of special programs designed to meet particular local needs.

It is doubtful whether any school district conducting a public opinion poll would find many people able to answer all these questions. But it does not seem unreasonable that a candidate for school board should make himself sufficiently conversant with school matters to know the answers.

IN EACH SCHOOL BOARD election year, the California Teachers Association puts out an "analysis of personal qualifications esstential for school trustees." It says the ideal candidate should possess these:

Unselfish interest in the public schools, the community, and every child.

Ability to think independently and objectively.

Ability and desire to work cooperatively with other board members.

A record showing that he will represent the district as a whole rather than a special interest group or a single neighborhood.

Willingness to give the necessary time to the job.

Courage to explain and snforce an unpopular rule.

Respect for the knowledge and opinion of those with specialized preparation (i.e., educators).

Ability to acknowledge errors.

THESE ARE ALL excellent attributes. If to them is added some knowledge of the school system — such as would be indicated by ability to answer questions pollster Nagle suggests should be put to the public at large — the result might provide a fair gauge by which to judge the "ideal school board candidate."

Benefit Dinner Set In Novato

A benefit fund dinner-dance on the ninth anniversary of Novato's incorporation will start at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 18 at the Moose Lodge in Novato, sponsored by the Novato Junior Chamber and Chamber of Commerce, according to Roger Hillman, publicity chairman of the event for the Jaycees.

The proceeds will be used for the campaign of Paul Dock of the Novato Jaycees, who is running for state Jaycee president.

The event will be similar to one held last year on the city's eighth anniversary which raised funds to help pay the deficit of the Western Weekend Celebration, Hillman said.

LBJ Denied Hope On Nuclear Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson's one-time base of power—the Senate—has provided him a last and bitter disappointment in the final moments of his public career.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Foreign Relations Committee made official yesterday what had long been suspected: Despite presidential urgings there will be no immediate action on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

Thus the pact, a New Frontier legacy that became for Johnson something of a personal crusade, probably will bear the signature of a Republican president.

There was no immediate comment from the White House. Nor in the waning days of the delicate transition period to a new administration was one expected.

But for Johnson, a wartime leader who had sought to leave this lasting imprint on efforts to ensure peace, there was ample cause for disappointment.

For one thing, there was his personal devotion to getting it through.

This last satisfaction, ironically, was denied him by a Democratic controlled Senate where less than a decade after gaining legendary power as majority leader he faced as President some of the bitterest opposition to his Vietnam War policies.

It also was a Senate that turned in four short years from helping him pass a flood of Great Society social legislation to spawning serious challengers from his own party for a job he finally gave up voluntarily.

The treaty that falls to the Nixon administration to ramrod through the Senate, would bar signers from sharing nuclear weaponry and know-how with countries lacking them. It would prohibit have-not nations from seeking nuclear arms or help developing them.

It passed the U.N. General Assembly last June, and was signed by 62 nations including the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britain July 1. The treaty, however, does not become effective until ratified by 40 nations including those three powers.

The other two nuclear powers, Red China and France, have refused to sign or follow the treaty.

Although first suggested to the Geneva disarmament conference in 1962 by the administration of John F. Kennedy, it met with little Russian enthusiasm.

In January 1964, Johnson, who had succeeded the assassinated Kennedy, made a strong pitch for the treaty in a message to the Geneva conference.

"He gave us carte blanche to negotiate entirely on it," said a source in the U.S. delegation last night. "In that sense it was his treaty. He put the drive on it."

The treaty, reported to the Senate last year, must be reported again to the new Congress by a slightly changed Foreign Relations Committee.

Fulbright said no action would be taken until after the innauguration Jan. 20 and that the committee probably would hold one or two days of new hearings.

The Senate had appeared on the verge of acting last August but held back after the Russian-led invasion of Czechoslovakia, continuing delay bolstered by the support of the then-campaigning Nixon.

As late as early December Johnson was reportedly still considering calling the Senate into special session to consider the treaty—a move many senators publicly opposed.

Congress Hints Brief Honeymoon For Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders—while not reneging on pledges of cooperation to Richard M. Nixon—are making preparations that could mean a short honeymoon for the new president.

The House Education and Labor Committee drew unmistakable battle lines in three areas yesterday with introduction of a whopping $14-billion school construction bill and measures to continue President Johnson's antipoverty and school aid programs.

On the Senate side, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana announced he is broadening the scope of the Democratic Policy Committee as a step toward offering party alternatives to Nixon programs.

In the House, Education and Labor Chairman Carl D. Perkins' early trip to the hopper may signal a strategy of pushing popular, but costly, programs to force the Republicans to oppose or trim them.

Since being selected by President-elect Nixon as the next secretary of health, education and welfare, Robert Finch has said repeatedly he wants to take a close look at the programs already in existence and sees little need for new legislation.

But Perkins' school construction bill is a new departure on a grand scale. It calls for annual expenditures of about $2.8 billion for five years to help build elementary and secondary schools.

In the Senate, Mansfield said that besides its normal duties of scheduling legislation for floor debate, the Democratic Policy Committee will be encouraged to form party policy decisions on major domestic and international issues.

If the committee responds to Mansfield's urging with policy pronouncements, it seems likely to go beyond any domestic programs President-elect Nixon may offer and could be critical of some of his foreign policy moves.

With the appointment of new members yesterday Mansfield appeared to have given a slightly more liberal tinge to a committee that in the past has been dominated at times by conservative senior Southern members.

Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., was added to the policy committee as the new party whip. Among other new members are Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, a Vietnam war policy critic, and Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., a leader in sponsoring social welfare legislation.

House Receives Fort Point Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to designate Fort Point in the San Francisco Presidio as a national historic site has been reintroduced by Rep. William S. Mailliard, R- Sixth District.

A similar bill was passed by the Senate last year, but failed to receive consideration from the House Interior Committee.

Describing the fort as a classic example of coastal fortifications of the mid-19th century, Mailliard said it is the only major building constructed in San Francisco before the Civil War which has remained basically unchanged."

Israel Blasts French Cutoff Of Munitions

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli Foreign Ministry says France's arms embargo against Israel is a "one-sided and arbitrary breach" of French-Israeli agreements and eliminates France as a potential peacemaker in the Middle East.

France announced yesterday that it had cut off delivery of all military equipment to Israel, including spare parts for the Israeli air force's French Mystere and Mirage jet fighters.

In a statement the Israeli Foreign Ministry said: "This eliminates France's chances of being one of the factors able to fill a positive task in the Middle East crisis."

Diplomats in Paris viewed the embargo as an effort by President Charles de Gaulle to pressure Israel into accepting a Soviet peace plan for the Middle East. But Israel has already rejected the Soviet proposal, and there was no indication that it might reconsider.

Informed Israeli sources said spare parts on hand will keep Israel's fighters in the air for many months.

The Johnson administration agreed last month to sell 50 U.S. F4 Phantom jets and spare parts to Israel, with delivery of the planes to begin sometime this year.

The Israeli government radio said today that Israel may demand a refund of about $100 million from France for the planes and spare parts which will not be delivered. De Gaulle is not likely to get the money back from sales to the Arabs despite his ardent wooing of them. They get their arms from the Soviet Union.

The Soviet peace plan which De Gaulle is pushing calls for stationing a new U.N. peacekeeping force along the Arab-Israeli borders, U.N. diplomatic sources revealed last night, as well as phased withdrawal of Israeli forces from occupied Arab territories and internationalization of Old Jerusalem under U.N. trusteeship.

Agnew Hopes To Refurbish His Image

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew says he'll need only one year in office to erase any image of him as "the Neanderthal man."

"I fully feel," Agnew said, "that by the time a year has gone by, and I'll have been functioning in this expanded vice president's role that's been given me, and particularly in regard to intergovernmental relationships with the cities, that what I do and what I stand for is going to be so obvious that it's going to be very difficult for the people who are attempting to cast me in the role of the Neanderthal man to continue to think that way."

He made his remarks last night on the CBS television program "60 Minutes," recorded a week ago in Washington.

Agnew resigned yesterday as Maryland's governor. Chosen as his successor by the Democratic-controlled General Assembly was Marvin Mandel, 48, speaker of the state House of Delegates.

Agnew said in the television interview he could do nothing consciously to alter his image, adding: "I think the worst mistake I could make would be to attempt to placate and satisfy my critics.

"I think I have enough intelligence to know that I could do this; I could say exactly what certain people wanted me to say with a contrived purpose in making them happy, but I can't do that. I've got myself to live with and my convictions."

In answer to a question, Agnew said he contributed little to recent foreign policy discussions with President-elect Nixon and his top aides gathered at Key Biscayne, Fla.

"I was there to learn and I learned quite a bit."

Agnew was asked if he might feel at all like former President Harry S Truman at the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt that "the sun and moon and stars had fallen on him."

"I'd like to say—I'd like to appear supermodest and say yes," Agnew replied, "but I can't in good conscience."

The Morning Glory and Rush will play. The Light Factory will furnish the lights.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Overtreatment For Stuffed-Up Nose Intensifies The Trouble

VAN DELLEN

A stuffy nose is a common complaint. Allergies and infections are the most likely causes but the problem s noti this simple. The nose is a highly sensitive organ and numerous external factors interfere with its function.

City dwellers, for example, inhale a variety of irritants, such as dusts, gases, and fumes.

EMOTIONS ALSO affect the proboscus. Everyone has had the experience of an itching nose while sitting in the dentist's chair or waiting to be interviewed for an important job or assignment.

Lack of rest, especially in children, often leads to nasal congestion simulating a cold. Recovery follows adequate sleep for several nights in a row.

Cells in the upper part of the nose contain highly sensitive nerve endings of smell; the inner lining is covered with fine hairs that propel mucus and other foreign particles toward the back of the nose.

Nosedrops containing vasoconstrictor drugs temporarily relieve congestion. The feeling is wonderful while it lasts, but an hour or so later, congestion returns and the distress is likely to be more severe than previously. Drops then are used again for relief.

THERE IS NO harm provided the product is not used continuously for days or weeks, as it interferes with circulation to the membranes, and the surface cells suffer accordingly.

In addition, the stuffiness that develops an hour or two later is mastaken for a return of the cold —and more drops are instilled.

A vicious cycle ensues; the individual uses a drug to relieve a condition that actually is being produced by the medicine. It is surprising how often cure follows a program of doing nothing except improving the general health through diet, sleep, and tranquility.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

CHUBBY NERVOUS NELLIE

A reader writes: I am 36 years old and top the scales at 175. My husband keeps telling me I am too fat. But, when I eat less, I become jittery. How can I lose weight without becoming a nervous wreck?

REPLY

Drink less tea and coffee and ask your physician to prescribe a tranquilizer. I assume you are otherwise healthy and do not have low blood sugar. As an alternative, eat less and lose weight. Your disposition may get so bad your husband will insist that you get back to 175.

INCREASING BOSOM

S. L. writes: I am writing concerning a drug called estrogen. It is my understanding that this hormone can increase the size of the bust. Is my information correct?

REPLY

Estrogen may produce slight congestion but the product will not increase the size of the bust unless there is a deficiency of this hormone.

PILLS REPLACE INSULIN

Mrs. W. T. writes: Can a diabetic who has been on small doses of insulin for years take the oral product instead?

REPLY

Yes, but a trial will be needed to determine if the pills are effective. There is a good possibility that the switch can be made because the tablets usually work well in mild diabetes.

ROUNDED, BULGING CHEST

A reader writes: Does barrel chest come from smoking?

REPLY

This deformity is seen in emphysema, which, in turn, is caused by overdistension of the air sacs. Smoking contributes to the development of emphysema, and in such instances there is a causal relationship.

Telecast Of Sirhan Trial Not Candidate For Emmy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Reporters watching the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan trial over closed-circuit television find the reception bad and faces indistinguishable

The precedent-setting system does allow twice as many newsmen to report proceedings as would be possible otherwise.

Sirhan, charged with murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, is being tried in a tiny, heavily guarded eighth-floor courtroom. There are 75 seats in the public area, about evenly divided between newsmen and security officials. Five members of the general public are admitted each day. Sirhan's mother, Mary, and brother, Munir, attended the opening session also.

The closed-circuit TV is shown in a newsroom four floors below where the trial is taking place. Newsmen entering it, as well as the main courtroom, are searched by security officials.

The closed circuit television is shown on three large-screen black-and-white sets. The sets give an overhead view of the courtroom. Reporters debated about the identities of backs of heads, and most of the time it was impossible to tell which attorney was speaking.

The TV system was initiated when the sheriff's department found it could not accommodate all reporters.

The camera photographing the actual courtroom is hidden in an air conditioner near the ceiling. The air conditioner screen showed up as three bars across the top of the picture and reception was generally fuzzy.

Newsmen all agreed the sound system was good—almost too good for awhile. At first, the microphones let TV-watching reporters eavesdrop on sometimes humorous asides not heard in actual court. The microphones then were turned off except when court was in session.

Before that, defense attorney Russell B. Parsons was overheard discussing court seating with co-attorney Grant B. Cooper.

"You'll sit there," Parsons said pointing at a chair; "I'll sit here and what's-his-name—uh —Sirhan will sit here."

Ambassador To Russia Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has accepted the resignation of Lewellyn E. Thompson, career foreign service officer who is currently ambassador to Russia, the White House announced yesterday.

Johnson has also accepted the resignations of Ambassadors John W. Tuthill, Brazil; Phillips Talbot, Greece, and Robert C. Good, Zambia.

Tom Johnson, assistant White House press secretary, said the resignations are what he called routine and said others would be forthcoming in the days ahead.

Resurfacing Of Tennis Courts Set At $1,647

Tennis courts at Marinwood Community Center can be resurfaced for $1,647, the parks and recreation commission learned Monday night.

Mallotte-Peterson and Grundy of San Francisco submitted that low bid and the commissioners recommended acceptance to the community services district board.

Commissioners also recommended that an electric lawn edger be purchased for about $125.

Recreation director William A. Gordon announced the opening of registration for the new winter recreation program.

A ski trip for all ages will be held Jan. 18. Reservations must be made for the charter bus trip to Donner Summit. The bus will leave the community center at 5 a.m. and return that night.

Registration is open for arts and crafts, sewing for adults and girls, tumbling, judo, folk guitar, water color, slim and trim, volleyball for adults, ballet, Funsters (senior citizens), bonsai club, cake decorating, Marin Home and Garden Club.

Antiracketeer Squads Lauded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teams of lawyers and investigators from various federal agencies, are responsible for the indictment of 189 racketeering figures, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark says.

The new strike force technique dramatically strengthened the federal campaign against organized crime Clark said yesterday in his annual report on the Department of Justice's anticrime activities.

The first strike force went into Buffalo, N.Y., in 1967 and the foray resulted in 21 indictments that year and 34 more in 1968, he said.

Last year, he said, they were sent to six cities: Detroit, with 67 indictments; Brooklyn, N.Y., with 71; Chicago, with 12; Philadelphia, with 5; and Miami and Newark, N.J., with no indictments reported.

Super Bowl Coaches Trade Songs Of Praise

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The oddsmakers say the Baltimore Colts are an 18-point better football team than the New York Jets. But you never would guess it from talking with Weeb Ewbank. Neither would you, for that matter, after listening to Don Shula.

The two head coaches, Ewbank of the American League champion Jets and Shula of the National League's kingpin Colts, were loud in iraise of each other's troops today as they talked of pro football's Super Bowl in Miami's nearby Orange Bowl Sunday.

"We have come a long way since the start of the season," said Ewbank as he talked of the chance of an AFL team coming out on top in this third clash between the champions of the two leagues. The NFL, represented by the Green Bay Packers, won the first two handily against Kansas City in 1967 and Oakland last year.

"This team, as it now stands, has poise and depth in both offense and defense and is proud just to be in the Super Bowl," Ewbank said.

"Joe Namath has to be one of the greatest quarterbacks and he is learning every game. I would call Matt Snell (fullback) a complete player while Emerson Boozer is just ready to go. He has reached the peak he obtained early in 1967 before he injured his right knee.

About the time Ewbank was heaping praise on his quarterback, two of several top flight runners and a trio of brilliant pass catchers in George Sauer, Don Maynard and Pete Lammons, Shula was getting in a good word for the Jets at the Colts' headquarters a half-mile away.

"The Jets have a great front four in their defensive line," said Shula, a one-time player for Ewbank. He was referring to Gerry Philbin, Verlon Biggs, Paul Rochester and John Elliott.

Shula, who also had praise for the Jets' linebackers, likened the New York front wall to the great Packers' defense of recent years. "All are quick and agile," he added. "The Jets always have been strong offensively. Now they have added a great defense.

"We don't see many of the types of defense used by the Jets in our league. Yes, we came down here expecting a real football game and I can't see us 18-point favorite."

In further discussing his players, Ewbank put Namath in the class with Colts' Johnny Unitas, when the latter broke in with the NFL champions 13 years ago. Only Sunday Unitas will be sitting this one out as he has not been able to oust Earl Morrall, one-time second stringer, since recovering from injuries.

"They're pretty much the same except John had good wheels (legs)," Eubank continued. "Both can pass long. Both are fine signal callers and have fine receivers. Both can get back there between 1.2 and 1.5 seconds for that eight yards deep pass."

Ewbank also compared favorably the Colts with Green Bay's great championship teams.

"They've had a fine football team for three years," he said. "And this year they've had the determination not to let the setbacks of the previous two years distract them.

"But I would add, I think we are the best AFL team to play in the Super Bowl. I wouldn't have said it earlier in the season but I'll say it now.

"We have Joe (Namath) and we have the receivers in Sauer, Maynard and Lammons. This has to be a big plus in addition to a good defense."

Retirement In Lodi Brings Up Memories

MEMORY LANE — John Brusati, William Cook, Dean Jones, Geido Pedroli, Allie Ruoff, Aldo Tognoli, Bob Ballow, Dave Arbini, Garrold Ruhl, Clair Richardson, Bill Post, Ed Borba, Dick Shreiner, Bill Kirby, Jim Golden.

Do those names ring a bell? If they do, then you are a young oldtimer in these parts for those names were big on the local sports scene some 31 years ago. They were just a few of the members of the 1937 San Rafael High School football squad that won the North Bay League championship and capped a great season with a 19-0 victory over arch-rival Tamalpais High.

Ten Years At San Rafael

The subject arises today because the man who coached those Mighty Bulldogs of '37 recently retired after 42 years of teaching. I refer to Cyrus Londahl who spent 10 years (1932-42) on the San Rafael High faculty before moving to Lodi High School where last month he announced his retirement.

I vaguely remember Cy Londahl as a quiet type with a subtle sense of humor that seemed to be wasted as too over-the-head for teen-agers. An English teacher, Londahl was better known for his football teams at San Rafael, while at Lodi he stuck strictly to the classrooms.

An Old, Musty Program

While reminiscing about his former coach the other day, Dr. Edward W. Cook of San Rafael came up with an old, musty 1937 San Rafael-Tam "Big Game" program which he brought into the office. I came across several familiar names, including the aforementioned Brusati and Post who were co-captains of the Bulldog champs and Fred G. Hines who was Londahl's assistant.

Tam was coached by George Gustafson and Fran Shafer and captained by Bob Ryan. Some of the stars for the Indians were Ray Buchignani (now police chief of San Anselmo), the brothers Jack and Pat Flagerman, Art Fonte and Ed Studley.

Bullpups Great, Too

On the lightweight level, and Rafael's Bullpups scored six consecutive shutouts that year under the coaching of Paul Miller and Murray Baxter. Co-captains were Art Todt and Babe Milani and some of the players still around are Paul Bates, Earl Commisky, Laurie Migliori, Gottfried "Guts" Rolly, Frank Aoares, to name but a few. Tam's lightweights were coached by Glidden Benefield and Dean Potts; captains were Mike Rickey and Ed Ahrens. The Tam lightweight roster included Bob Fitzhenry, Dick Miller and Bill Forde, just three names that still ring a bell.

Golly, reminiscing like this is a sign of old age, but it's all Cy Londahl's fault for retiring. We wish him well.

FIRED TWICE OVER

World's Top Doubles Team Loses

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Stan Smith and Bob Lutz, California collegians who make up the world's best doubles team, were beaten yesterday in the second round of the Victorian tennis championships.

They bowed to Robert Giltinan and Sydney ball, a pair of Australian juniors, 7-5, 6-3, 6-8, 62- in a match played in temperatures about the 100-degree mark with a strong gale blowing smoke from nearby brush fires across the court.

The Americans, who clinched the Davis Cup for their country, lost only three matches during 1968.

Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico combined for a 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, triumph over John Cooper and Douglas Wright of Australia.

Donald Dell, U.S. Davis Cup captain, and Tomas Lejus of Russia were eliminated by Frank Sedgman and Neale Fraser, 6-3, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5.

Davalillo Suffers Breakdown

CARACAS (UPI)—Vic Davalillo, the California Angels' leading hitter last season, has suffered a nervous breakdown.

The little outfielder was playing with the Caracas team of the Venezuelan Winter Baseball League at the time of the breakdown.

He came to the Angels last season in a trade with the Cleveland Indians for Jimmie Hall.

WARRIORS FALL, 113-108

Big E And Mates Too Much For S.F.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Elvin Hayes, following in the footsteps of last year's rookie of the year, Earl Monroe, is making the big jump from college basketball to the National Basketball Association look like a mere hop.

The Big E scored 28 points last night in San Francisco as he helped his San Diego Rockets down the Warriors 113-108 and gain third place in the NBA's Western Division.

Hayes, almost a shoo-in as rookie of the year this year, leads the NBA in scoring with a 30.7 average. Monroe ranks third at 25.2 a game, behind Oscar Robertson.

The Bullets lead the Eastern Division.

San Francisco, which plays New York Saturday night at the Oakland Coliseum Arena, dropped from third to fifth in the Western Division as Chicago slipped into fourth.

A Civic Auditorium gathering of 2,917 watched the Warriors lose their third of four games with the Rockets.

GOT HOT

Trailing 101-100 with two minutes left, the Rockets' reeled off eight straight points with Jim Barnett getting three of them and John Block four.

A pair of baskets by Rudy LaRusso had given the Warriors the 101-100 advantage—the only time in the game the Warriors led.

Barnett, former Oregon star who went from Boston to San Diego in the expansion draft, led all scorers with 31.

LaRusso scored 29 before fouling out shortly after he made the go-ahead basket. Nate Thurmond added 27 for the Warriors.

A Disappointing Day For U.S. Woman Skiers

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (AP) — Gertrud Gabl of Austria and Florence Steurer of France tied for first place today in the giant slalom at the international women's skiing series.

Misses Gabl and Steurer were timed in 1:30.93 for the race run through 69 gates. Just three-hundreths of a second behind was Inge Jochum of Austria.

It was a disappointing day for the Americans with Judy Nagel of Enumclaw, Wash., the top finisher in seventh place at 1:32.39.

Erika Skinger of Stowe, Vt., was 14th in 1:34.22, Barbara Cochran of Richmond, Vt., 15th in 1:34.37 and Ann Black of Seattle, Wash., 16ty in 1:34.42.

Kiki Cutter of Bend, Ore., hit a rut in the final stretch and missed a gate.

Cagers Wind Up Non-League Slate

Redwood Has Top Record

Redwood High School of Larkspur wound up pre-league preliminaries yesterday, ending up with the top Marin County Athletic League practice game basketball record with a 51-47 victory over Westmoor High at Daly City.

San Rafael, which opens against Redwood Friday, took once-beaten Fairfield to the cleaners, 64-59, at San Rafael, and Terra Linda gave once-beaten Castlemont of the Oakland Athletic League a tough battle before bowing, 65-63, at Oakland.

Novato won its 11th game against four losses, erupting against Sonoma, 79-65, at Sonoma.

San Marin of Novato, with high-scoring Gary Howard out with a case of poison oak, lost to Piner, 54-23, at Novato High's gym.

Westmoor, which had lost to San Francisco powerhouse Poly by only a point, turned out to be tough for the Giants, who got their final margin on a 17-13 final-quarter showing.

Jerry Piro pumped in 21 points and grabbed 10 rebounds for the winners who pushed their record to 10-3. Roger Smith added 10 points.

BIG SCORERS

San Rafael, with Bruce Nave scoring 20 points and Bruce D'Ambra pumping in 21, built up a quick 18-6 lead and never looked back.

Hot-shooting Ed Herrnberger and guard Bob Ament split 48 points between them and Steve McNally added 14 points in the Novato vicotry.

Terra Linda came back from an early nine-point deficit and tied it up in the final period before the Oakland power nailed down the win. Pat Purcell with 17 points, Mike Peden with 12 and Byron Sakanari with 11 points, led the Trojans.

Marin Prep Water Polo In 2nd Half

The four other teams in the Marin County Athletic League water polo campaign will be out to get undefeated Redwood High when the second half opens Friday afternoon.

The Giants of Larkspur have won 13 straight matches over the past two seasons. Last year Redwood competed on an informal basis in water polo and won all five of its matches. So far this season, Redwood is 8-0 overall and 4-0 in league play.

In Friday's action, Redwood (4-0) hosts Tamalpais (2-2) and Novato (2-2) hosts Drake (0-4), both games starting at 4 p.m. Terra Linda (2-2) draws a bye.

SUPER BOWL

Two Marin Pros Differ On Odds

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Martin Baccaglio, pro football player from Novato, feels the 18 points by which Baltimore is favored in the Super Bowl is too much.

Elmer Collett of Mill Valley, also a professional gridder, thinks those odds are just about right.

Baccaglio, you see, is a member of the American Football League and quite naturally is rooting for the New York Jets of the AFL in Sunday's game. Collett, on the other hand, plays for the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League. That's NFL, as in Baltimore Colts.

ROOKIE SEASON

Baccaglio, a graduate of Novato High School and San Jose State, started his rookie season this year with the San Diego Chargers but after 10 weeks of the campaign was put on waivers and promptly picked up by the expansion Cincinnati Bengals.

"I hated to leave San Diego at first," said Baccaglio, "but I realize now I have more of a chance to play with Cincinnati." He feels he has an excellent chance of being one of the Bengals' starting defensive ends next season.

Collett, a graduate of Tamalpais High in Mill Valley and San Francisco State, took over for all-pro offensive guard John Thomas during the 1967 season when Thomas seriously injured both knees. He started every game for the 49ers last season.

SKIING

There's another Marin Countian playing pro football but he won't be back until next week. That's Reg Carolan, a former Drake High School star who now plays tight end for the Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL. He and his wife are skiing in Aspen and Vail, Colo., this week and plan to do some skiing near Lake Tahoe this weekend before returning to Marin.

"I think it will be a good game," said Baccaglio about the

Tars To Host West Valley Basketballers

College of Marin's basketball team, encouraged somewhat by a tough loss, hosts a losing conference favorite tonight at 8 o'clock in Kentfield.

The Tars, who dropped their Camino Norte Conference opener to DeAnza in Cupertino last Saturday, 72-71, take on West Valley J. C. of Santa Clara, an early-season conference favorite along with Contra Costa Junior College.

West Valley brings a deceptive 4-9 record, same as the Tars, into the Tars' gym. The losses came off a tough schedule that included two games against San Francisco City College.

Coach Cal Riemcke was encouraged if disappointed by the loss to DeAnza.

"It was one of our better games, even if we didn't win," he said. "Now, if we can just put it together tonight."

The Tars will have an all-frosh front wall of Pat Scafer, Ches Bornia and Tom Seidenberg while veteran Andre Horn will be at one guard, flanked by Darel Ravani.

The varsity game will be preceded by a 6 p.m. preliminary pitting the College of Marin frosh against Two Rock Army Base of Sonoma County.

Different Views On Super Bowl

upcoming Super Bowl in Miami. "I think the Colts should be favored, but by seven points, not 18," he added.

STRONG ARM

"That Namath is really something," the 245-pound, 6-foot-3-inch Baccaglio said about the Jets' quarterback. "He can be falling back and still pass the ball 50 yards." The 24-year-old Baccaglio got about five or six minutes playing time against Namath and the Jets this season when he was with the Chargers. In addition to praise for Namath, Baccaglio said, "there is no question, Baltimore is a fine team."

Collett said the Jets' passing can hurt a team just about every time, but the key to the outcome will be the defensive pass rush by Baltimore.

"If the Jets can't keep that Baltimore line out, the Colts will really take it to 'em," he said, meaning it could turn into a rout.

PRAISE

"Baltimore has a tough defensive backfield group . . . they work really good together . . . and their offensive ground game is far superior . . . yeh, I think that point spread is about right."

In comparing Baltimore's team from 1967 to '68, Collett said he was very impressed with the improvement, especially by the defensive linemen.

"I played against tackle Fred Miller both years," he said, "and the improvement he showed was really something."

ANXIOUS

The 6-foot-4, 243-pound Collett, said he was already anxious to start the next season. "I'm optimistic about the 49ers' chances," he said. In addition to the experience gained this season by the 24-year-old Collett, he feels he improved on his running blocks. (That's the kind you saw on your television screen when number 66 was running around end in front of fullback Ken Willard.)

Both Collett and Baccaglio, being bachelors, have something else in common — military service starring them in the face. And both are going to do something about it. Sometime during the next month or two, Collett will be going into Army Reserves active duty for about four months, and Baccaglio is headed for four to six months of active duty in the National Guard. Both are awaiting orders.

AT HOME

Until that time, Baccaglio, living with his parents, will be doing a lot of steelhead fishing and some hunting ("I've already been three times out without getting a steelhead, but I'm doing okay with the ducks").

Collett will be spending much of his time at Stinson Beach staying in shape ("I do about 50 sit-ups a day and some surfing, volleyball") before his call to the service comes.

Seals Leave On Road Trip

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland's Seals, who have scored only a single goal in their last two games, head for Montreal today for the first of three road games.

The Seals, second in the National Hockey League's West Division, play the Canadiens tomorrow, at Pittsburgh Saturday and at Detroit Sunday.

Gerry Odrowski is substituting in practice on defense for Bert Marshall who injured a foot tendon against Los Angeles last Sunday.

Lakers Trip Bullets In 'Technical' Game

BALTIMORE (AP) — Technically, it was a game the Baltimore Bullets could have done without.

While their technical skills on offense left much to be desired, the Bullets moved at a record-breaking pace when it came to technical fouls.

At the end, when angry Baltimore players and wary officials exited before aroused fans, the Los Angeles Lakers had scored a 100-93 victory in a battle of National Basketball Association division leaders.

SIX TECHNICALS

Veteran referee Earl Strom and his rookie sidekick, Ed Middleton, called six technical fouls on Baltimore. Johnny Egan made five points on resulting free throws, in addition to the Lakers maintaining ball control.

Baltimore's Jack Marin and Bob Ferry, involved in a dispute with Strom as the teams left the court at halftime, were ejected from the game and the third quarter began with Egan shooting two technicals.

Even Baltimore trainer Skip Feldman was ordered to leave the bench for making what Strom described as "a gesture of disgust."

"The fans are incited by the players," Strom said afterward. "We have to call technicals to control the players. I don't blame the players, but we have to control them."

EGGING ON

However, most of the reaction from the crowd of 8,163, including the throwing of coins and trash, came after the technicals were called—and Strom several times was observed egging the crowd on by motioning with upraised palms.

Middleton drew most of the ire from the fans but he was defended by Strom.

"Ed showed me a lot of guts and judgment," Strom said. "He did a great job, regardless of what anybody says."

Coach Gene Shue of Baltimore, who was fined last year for criticizing referees, declined official comment but conceded, "I was enraged on a few of the calls."

"It's difficult to sit there and not say anything," Shue said. "People think coaches should sit there and enjoy the game. But it's a matter of life and death. The idea is to win."

NO EXCUSE

"But no matter what else happened," Shue said, "we were not putting the ball in the basket. We were struggling on offense."

Baltimore rallied from a 14-point third quarter deficit to tie the score, but Elgin Baylor scored six of his 30 points in the final 1½ minutes and the Lakers intercepted three in-bounds Baltimore passes.

Earl Monroe topped Baltimore with 22 points

The referees left the floor surrounded by policemen, and Middleton took the added precaution of wrapping his belt around his right fist. The crowd didn't phase Strom as much.

"This is child's play, compared with what it used to be in Syracuse," he said.

Pro-Am Play Starts Meet At Alameda

SUNOL (AP) — Howie Williams had rather hoped he would be playing football this weekend, but he will have to settle for a round of golf today instead.

Williams, a defensive back for the Oakland Raiders, is one of a host of sports notables who will compete in the pro-am prelude to the $50,000 Alameda County Open Golf Tournament, which gets under way tomorrow.

Williams and the Raiders came close to being the American Football League's representatives in the Super Bowl against the Baltimore Colts Sunday before losing out to the New York Jets, who earned the trip to Miami instead.

Also in the pro-am are Raider Coach John Rauch, defensive back Dave Grayson, John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers, baseball personalities Willie Mays, Joe DiMaggio, Rick Monday and others.

The tournament was started by the Professional Golfers Association as a weapon in its now-settled war with the rebel American Professional Golfers.

The APG, representing most of the top-name golfers, signed up the $100,000 Los Angeles Open, which is also being played this weekend, and the PGA planned a court fight when the golfers passed up the tournament here.

But when the dispute was settled, both tournaments stayed on the books and the PGA encouraged the touring pros to have some of their number enter here.

Though the really big names stayed in the Los Angeles tournament, such stars as Bob Lunn, Deane Beman, Dudley Wysong, John and Dick Lotz and Tommy Jacobs did enter here.

The tournament will be played over the 7,024-yard Palm course—par 72—at the Sunol Valley golf course, which is about 30 miles south of Oakland.

A's Turnover Continues

OAKLAND (UPI) — The fast turnover in the management of the Oakland Athletics continues.

It was announced yesterday that traveling secretary John Fitzpatrick has resigned to take another undisclosed position. He will be replaced by Tom Corwin, assistant publicity chief for the team last year.

Sales promotion manager Bob Freitas has also resigned "for personal reasons." His post will be filled by Ron Mihelic, assistant ticket manager.

Holovak Fired As Patriot Coach

Boston (AP) — After two seasons of mounting fan discontent it was Goodbye Mike for real today with the announcement that the Boston Patriots had fired their long-time head coach and general manager, Mike Holovak.

The former Boston College star, a fixture with the Pats since the inception of the American Football League in 1960, had an over-all record of 52-46-9 in his nearly eight full seasons at the coaching helm. But he became the target of increasing boos and catcalls as the team slumped in the past two seasons.

The decision to relieve Holovak of his present duties was reached by the 10-man board of directors at a Monday night meeting, but the announcement was withheld until yesterday so that club President William H. Sullivan Jr. could inform him personally.

Sullivan flew to Mobile, Ala., where Holovak was scouting college players getting ready for Saturday's Senior Bowl game, and after the meeting the two men flew together to Miami, Fla., where pro football coaches and officials are gathering for Sunday's Super Bowl game.

Neither was immediately available for comment.

Holovak is in the midst of a five-year contract which runs through the end of the 1971 season, and the Patriots said he would be offered another job in the organization, the nature of which will be determined soon.

Meanwhile, the club said that while in Miami Sullivan "intends to ask the advice of knowledgeable men in both leagues whose counsel will be helpful in enabling the Patriots to obtain the services of a topflight coach," and that "no expense will be prepared in accomplishing that objective."

A spokesman said there was no immediate indication from Sullivan or other high officials where the team was seeking separate individuals as coach and general manager or planned again to hire one man in the dual capacity.

The fate of Holovak's five assistant coaches was another question, although the spokesman said the team was happy with all of them.

Holovak, 48, starred at halfback for three years with Boston College in the early 1940s, and after service in World War II spent three years in the National Football League with the Los Angeles Rams and the Chicago Bears.

He later served for nine years as head coach at BC, compiling a 49-29-3 record, before being tapped by the Patriots as the first executive they hired when the team and the AFL were being formed for their maiden 1960 season.

Starting as director of player personnel, Holovak succeeded Lou Saban as head coach on Oct. 10, 1961, and at the end of the 1966 season he signed his present five-year pact as coach and general manager.

His record included an Eastern Division championship in 1963, although the club lost to San Diego 51-10 in the AFL title game.

He also led the Pats to four divisional second-place finishes and one third-place before the collapse of the past two years, when they finished last with a 3-10-1 record in 1967 and a 4-10 mark in 1968.

Soccer Gets New Chance

ATLANTA (AP) — Survival apparently has been assured for at least eight members of the North American Soccer League.

Owners representing eight of the 17 league teams which operated in 1968 met throughout the day here yesterday and emerged to announce their intention to operate again in 1969.

Details of the league's schedule were left in the hands of Phil Woosnam, the coach and general manager who guided the Atlanta Chiefs to the league title last season.

Woosnam was chosen by the owners as the league's executive director, a newly created position with authority to coordinate league activities.

Owners of clubs in Atlanta, Dallas, Chicago, Oakland, Kansas City, Baltimore, New York and St. Louis said they will operate this year.

The 36-year-old Woosnam assumed his new duties immediately.

Upon becoming the league's executive director, Woosnam said he will step down as coach of the Atlanta club. No successor has been chosen.

Two Women Share To Golf Honors

Mrs. William May and Mrs. Philip Black shared top honors at the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club's Trophy Tournament on the Novato course yesterday, both carding net 74s.

Mrs. Roy Enos was third in Class A with a net 80.

Mrs. Ed Searcy headed Class B golfers with an 81, followed by Mrs. Joel Hamby, 82, and Mrs. Rowe Waller, 84.

Ex-Women's Tennis Champ Announces Her Retirement

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Former Wimbledon champion Margaret Court announced her second retirement from big time tennis today.

After scoring an easy straight-sets victory over promising junior Lesley Hunt in the quarter-finals of the women's singles at the Victorian Tennis Championships at Kooyong, Mrs. Court told newsmen she had no intention of playing tournament tennis after the end of the Australian summer season.

"There will be no more tours and no more tournaments," she said. "I probably will do some professional coaching two or three days a week but in the main I will just be a housewife."

Mrs. Court won the Wimbledon crown as Margaret Smith and made her first retirement from big tennis after the 1966 season.

$500,000 Purse For Southern Cal Auto Race

BURBANK (UPI) — A proposed 500-mile race for Indianapolis-type cars at the Ontario Motor Speedway will have a guaranteed purse of $500,000.

D.B. MacTavish, head of the $25.5 million raceway under construction 40 miles east of Los Angeles, made the disclosure yesterday.

He said the race purse could go as high as $650,000.

The race will be held during the Labor Day weekend in 1970. The United States Auto Club must approve the event.

In another development yesterday, actor Kirk Douglas was appointed an active director of the speedway.

Montgomery High Tops Petaluma

The high school basketball showdown in the North Bay League I came off early with once-beaten Montgomery of Santa Rosa taking a 73-66 decision over Petaluma, at Petaluma High last night.

The loss was Petaluma's second. The Trojans had a 45-43 halftime lead but lost it in the third quarter when they hit only two of 13 shots from the field.

The battle of the top guards turned out a draw as Montgomery's Tom Fitchie and Petaluma's Pete Daggett each scored 18 points.

Hull, Howe, Orr Head East Team; 3 Seals On West

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicago's Bobby Hull and Detroit's Gordie Howe, 1-2 in the National Hockey League scoring race, and super defenseman Bobby Orr of Boston were unanimous choices among 24 standouts selected today for the NHL's first East-West All-Star Game.

Hockey writers in the 12 NHL cities selected 12 players in each division for the 22nd annual All-Star classic, to be played in Montreal Jan. 21. Stars from the East Division will oppose standouts from the expansion West Division for the first time. The old All-Star format matched the defending Stanley Cup champions against stars from the other clubs in the league.

St. Louis Coach Scotty Bowman, the West pilot, and former Montreal Coach Toe Blake, who will direct the East squad, each will name seven more players later in the week, completing the 19-man All-Star squads.

Hull, Howe and Orr topped the voting in the East, drawing the maximum 90 points apiece, while St. Louis center Red Berenson headed the West team with a total of 86 points.

Other East team selections are goalie Gerry Cheevers of Boston, defensemen J.C. Tremblay of Montreal and Pat Stapleton of Chicago, right winger Bob Nevin of New York, center Jean Beliveau of Montreal and left winger Frank Mahovlich of Detroit.

The second six in the West voting were goalie Glenn Hall of St. Louis, defensemen Ed Van Impe of Philadelphia and Elmer Vasko of Minnesota, right winger Bill Hicke of Oakland, center Ted Hampson of Oakland and left winger Danny Grant of Minnesota.

The NHL All-Star selections (with total points in the balloting in parentheses):

East Division

Goal—Ed Giacomin, New York (63); Gerry Cheevers, Boston (45).

Defense—Bobby Orr, Boston (90); Tim Horton, Toronto (52); J.C. Tremblay, Montreal (42); Pat Stapleton, Chicago (28).

Right wing—Gordie Howe, Detroit (90); Bob Nevin, New York (32).

Center—Phil Esposito, Boston (84) Jean Bliveau, Montreal (37).

West Division

Goal — Jacques Plante, St. Louis (66); Glenn Hall, St. Louis (48).

Defense—Bill White, Los Angeles (79); Al Arbour, St Louis (65); Ed Van Impe, Philadelphia (48); Elmer Vasko, Minnesota (20).

Right wing—Claude Larose, Minnesota (61); Bill Hicke, Oakland (51).

Center—Red Berenson, St. Louis (86); Ted Hampson, Oakland (36).

NCAA Winds Up Session

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The NCAA, with a move to switch to single platoon football now apparently a dead issue, winds up its 63rd annual convention today. A new president is scheduled to be chosen by the executive council to succeed Marcus Plant of the University of Michigan.

Walter Byers, the NCAA executive director, plans to hold a convention-concluding news conference late in the afternoon and review the three-day meeting.

There was strong opposition at the convention to the move to do away with two-platoon football to reduce the cost of athletic programs.

The actual decision on unlimited substitution lies with the Football Rules Committee, which meets at Palm Springs, Calif., next week, but there isn't much doubt that body will go along with the NCAA feeling.

At yesterday's session of the convention, the Astrodome at Houston was approved as the site of the 1971 NCAA basketball finals. The Los Angeles Sports Arena was picked as the site for the 1972 finals.

The University of Houston will host the 1971 finals March 25-27 and the University of Southern California the 1972 finals March 23-25.

Also disclosed were the sites for the opening round of the 1969 tournament beginning March 8. They were:

North Carolina State University, University of Rhode Island, Southern Illinois University, Texas Christian University and New Mexico University.

L.A. Open To Start 1969's Pro Golf Tour

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fifty-two professional golfers and 156 amateurs swarmed over the Rancho Municipal golf course today in the pro-am prelude of the $100,000 Los Angeles Open Tournament.

On hand for official action when the 72-hole event gets going tomorrow are Billy Casper, the defending champion and golf's leading money winner in 1968; National Open champ Lee Trevino, Arnold Palmer and Masters champion Bob Goalby.

This is the 43rd annual Los Angeles Open. With the exception of last year, when the honor went to the Bing Crosby pro-am at Monterey, Los Angeles has been the kickoff start of the winter tour.

Rancho's 6,800-yard, par-71 test has been the site for 15 of the tournaments. The long string was broken last January when the sponsoring Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, under pro demands, switched over to Pasadena's Brookside Municipal course.

Since then Rancho's clubhouse facilities have been refurbished and the practice tees redone, all to the satisfaction of the players.

Early weather foracasts call for good conditions. Whether this will hold true through Sunday is something the sponsors can worry about.

Casper, twice the U.S. Open champion, had never won the Los Angeles until last year. He proceeded to win four other major tournaments and pocket about $205,000 for the year.

Palmer has won here three times. While he has been lean on major triumphs of late, a segment of his national army is still alive and living in Los Angeles. Arnie's last big victory was in the 1968 Bob Hope Classic.

Goalby was the 1961 Los Angeles winner while Trevino, the surprise of the 1968 National Open, has yet to register well here.

The entry roll is jammed with familiar names . . . Art Wall jr., Chi Chi Rodriguez, Al Geiberger, Doug Sanders, Gardner Dickinson, Frank Beard, Don January, Gene Littler, Bobby Nichols and many more.

Missing from the list are Jack Nicklaus, who usually does not start the tour until the Crosby later this month, and South Africa's Gary Player, whose tournament competition is more limited than in the past.

Outfielder Roy White led the New York Yankees in several departments last season. He played the most games, 159, drove in the most runs, 61, made the most hits, 154, and led the team in batting with .267.

Dodgers Purchase Two Young Hurlers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers Baseball club has bought two young pitchers and a second baseman from the Club de Baseball Tigres of Mexico City.

Pitchers Ramon Reynosa, 21, and Eduardo Acosta, 20, and second baseman Francisco Chavez, 21, will be assigned to the Dodgers' Pacific Coast League team in Spokane, the National League club said yesterday.

Kansas City Signs New Farm Club

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Royals signed a Carolina League baseball team as their fourth farm club today and announced Harry Malmberg will manage the team.

The American League Royals signed today's working agreement with high Point-Thomasville, N.C., which last year operated as a co-op team stocked by various major league clubs.

COLLEGE BASKETBALL

Purdue Surprises Illinois

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Illinois took its 10-game winning streak to Lafayette, Ind. . . . and went down for the Mount.

Rick Mount, Purdue's slick shotmaker, exploded for 37 points last night as the Boilermakers dropped the nationally fourth-ranked Illini from the dwindling unbeaten ranks 98-84.

Illinois' first setback left only three major college teams with perfect records . . . top-ranked UCLA, No. 3 Santa Clara and No. 10 New Mexico State.

Once-beaten, sixth-ranked Davidson, only other Top Ten team in action last night, pulled away in the second half and trimmed St. Joseph's, Pa., 83-69 at Charlotte, N.C. Mike Maloy and Jerry Kroll divided 40 points in leading the Wildcats to their ninth victory.

Sophomore Ken Durett's 25 points paced 11th ranked LaSalle to a 103-84 victory over Creighton and Temple blasted Pennsylvania 107-83 behind Joe Cromer's 35-point binge in a doubleheader at Philadelphia's Palestra.

Marquette, No. 20 in the latest Associated Press poll, squeezed past Chicago Loyola 65-64, Bradley nipped Memphis State 68-67 and Providence downed St. Bonaventure 70-59 in other top games.

Mount, the Big Ten Conference's top scorer last season, shot 16 for 24 from the field and combined with soph George Faerber for 11 straight purdue points in a second half rally that floored the Illini.

Faerber and 7-foot Chuck Bavis shut out Greg Jackson, Illinois' 6-foot-8 center, who managed just two points on a pair of free throws.

Davidson made up an early seven-point deficit, grabbed a 32-30 halftime edge on a basket by Maloy and then wrecked St. Joseph's with a 61-point second half burst. Mike Hauer topped the losers with 28 points.

Trailing 61-60 with 12:50 to play, LaSalle ran off nine straight points and breezed to its 10th triumph in 11 games. The Explorers' Bernie Williams scored 22 points to reach the 1,000 career mark. The Bluejays got 23 apiece from Bob Portman and Wally Anderzunas.

Cromer hit of 14 of 22 shots from the floor and seven of seven from the foul line as Temple, 7-4, raced past the Quakers with a 56-point second half surge.

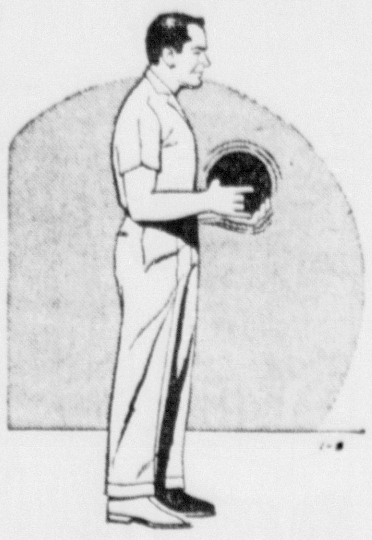
Marquette blew a 10-point lead in the last four minutes at Milwaukee before sophomore Dean Meminger's 15-foot jump shot with three seconds to play gave the Warriors their ninth victory against two setbacks.

L. C. Bowen connected on a twisting jump shot with four seconds remaining to give Bradley its Missouri Valley Conference nod over the home court Tigers. Bowen put in the winning basket 13 seconds after Memphis State had taken the lead 67-66 on Joe Proctor's long jumper.

Providence flattened the slumping Bonnies behind the outside shooting of sophomores Jim Larranaga, 19 points, and Vic Collucci, 18. The Friars contained 6-foot-11 Bob Lanier until late in the game, but he still would up with 26 points for the visitors.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Maybe this isn't considered a vital part of a good delivery by all instructors, but I believe it is important to keep some movement going while I am getting set. Merely jiggling the ball might be enough. The purpose is to keep from getting too taut while preparing to start the approach. Stay loose.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 8, the eighth day of 1969 with 357 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter and Mars. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1815 Gen. Andrew Jackson won the Battle of New Orleans, killing some 700 British troops.

In 1867 Congress approved legislation providing suffrage for Negroes in the District of Columbia.

In 1918 President Wilson presented his 14-point plan for peace to Congress—which later turned it down.

In 1963 the first session of the 88th Congress opened. It did not adjourn until Dec. 30th.

A thought for the day: American Poet James Russell Lowell once said, "Then it is the brave men chooses, while the coward stands aside."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

South's Safety Play Proves To Be A No-Trump Disaster

You can afford to laugh at South if you have never muffed a safety play. South played today's hand as millions of card pushers would. The odds were 40 to 1 that South's play would not cost him his contract, but unfortunately long shots sometimes come in.

Opening lead — ♣ Q

'NORMAL' PLAY

South won the first trick in dummy with the king of clubs and led dummy's queen of diamonds for a finesse. This "normal" play cost him his contract.

West won with the king of diamonds and returned a club to the ace. South took the ace of diamonds and gave West a diamond trick. West cashed his good club and got out with his last diamond to dummy's jack.

Declarer discarded a spade on the last diamond and then tried the heart finesse. On a good day this would work, getting South off the hook but West won with the queen of hearts and got out safely with another heart.

South could win only eight tricks, winding up with a minus score and a red face.

SURE PLAY

South is sure of four diamond tricks if he plays the suit correctly. He should lead a heart to his hand and then lead a low diamond toward dummy.

If the diamonds break 2-2 or 3-1, South can easily win four diamond tricks. The only problem arises when one opponent has all of the missing diamonds.

If West has all of the diamonds, dummy's jack will win the first diamond trick. Declarer leads a diamond to the ace and returns another diamond through West. The rest is easy.

FORCES KING

If East has all of the diamonds, dummy's jack forces out East's king. East returns a club to the ace, and now declarer wins a finesse with the nine of diamonds. He continues with the ace and queen of diamonds, and then with dummy's last diamond.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠- Q 9 2
♥- Q 7 2
♦- K 10 8 7
♣- Q J 10

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 3 no-trump. Since you have 10 points in high cards you know that the combined count is 26 to 28 points. This should be enough to yield a reasonable play for game.

Marin Tax Payment Not Heavy Compared To Neighbor Counties

Property taxes high?

Perhaps they are — but the "true" tax rates in Marin do not compare unfavorably with the rest of the Bay Area, according to Bay Area Facts, published by the San Francisco Bay Area Council.

The "true" tax is a figure for comparison with city to city rates throughout the area, eliminating ratios of assessment which vary from county to county and also varying assessment policies. The following rates indicate what would be the tax rate if all properties were to be assessed at their full market value.

Combined city and county tax rate so expressed for Marin would range from $2.15 to $2.67 per $100 of market valuation. In San Rafael the spread is full range, according to district. In Novato it's almost as wide — $2.17 to $2.67. Sausalito has the narrowest range — $2.27-$2.31. Others: Corte Madera $2.25-$2.47; Larkspur $2.35-$2.55; Mill Valley $2.50-$2.61; Ross $2.34-$2.54; San Anselmo $2.51-$2.55; Tiburon $2.17-$2.55. Belvedere's rate is a uniform $2.49 and that in Fairfax is $2.41.

Outside Marin, Alameda County cities have a spread of $1.90-$3.11, the highest being in Berkeley. Contra Costa County is $2.17-$3.11; San Mateo County $1.74-$3.26; Santa Clara County $1.82-$2.64.

Napa County has a low, narrow range of $1.83-$2.17; Solano County $1.68-$2.51; and Sonoma County is $2.12-$2.82. San Francisco has a uniform $2.38 rate.

So count your blessings. It may not cost you as much to own property here as you think, and look what you have.

IF YOU DON'T own a Marin home and intend to buy this year, you'll probably pay more than you would have paid in 1968. The choice of "good buys" will be more limited. New construction will still lag behind demand.

These are the predictions of Frank Howard Allen and Co. in its January Newsletter. According to this real estate company, multiple listing real estate sales this year will reach $80 million — more than 11 per cent above 1968 sales.

It will be a seller's market. Prices rose almost 6 per cent during 1968 and will go up that much or more on new homes again in 1969, the report claims.

Single family home construction (lagging almost one year behind the demand) will total $45 million, but that will still be behind the record year of $47 million in 1964. There will be adequate mortgage money at about the present loan rates (probably not more than 7.5 per cent) but the supply won't be so plentiful as to drive rates down, the Allen Co. believes.

O'Connell

Allen

OTHER REAL ESTATE: Frank J. O'Connell of Fairfax has joined T. V. McGuire in San Rafael. He was formerly five years a route supervisor in San Rafael for Foremost Foods and was 15 years with Borden's in San Rafael . . . Richard D. Allen of Kent Woodlands, former advertising executive with Kaiser Aluminum and United Vintners, has joined the 104 Tiburon, Mill Valley, office of Fox and Carskadon, Inc. . . . John J. Keating Jr. of Fairfax has been elected vice president of the Alameda County division of Western Title Guaranty Co. in Oakland. He was formerly a title officer of the Marin County division in San Rafael.

THE 1969 EDITION of the California Manufacturers Register will be out this month. It is published by the Times/Mirror Press in Los Angeles and Donald L. Gilbert of Mill Valley is the local representative. Information includes companies listed alphabetically and by city and town, executive names and titles, products or services, company size and number of employees.

AT REALTY BREAKFAST

Enemark Warns '69 May See Slowdown

"The economy will slow down to a growth rate of 2.5 per cent during the first six months of 1969," is the prediction of Fred Enemark, executive vice president of the Marin County Savings and Loan Association, San Rafael.

Enemark, who made the statement yesterday during his annual address on "The Money Story" at the Marin County Real Estate Board's first breakfast meeting of the new year, said this compares with a growth rate of 4.5 per cent in the last six months of 1968 and a 6 per cent growth in the first half of last year.

Describing his prediction as only an "educated guess," he said the economy is presently in "uncharted waters" and there are many conflicting forecasts for 1969.

Enemark said he also looks for the surtax on incomes, which is due to expire in June, to be extended by Congress. He said the national debt will decline by possibly $10 billion in the first half of the year and he believes the pressure on the money market will lessen. If this happens he said certain interest rates will then decline and more money will become available for loans, but still at a price.

Decribing the present time as "a time of caution — a time to sit and watch for certain signs" following the Federal Reserve Board's increase in the loan rate to banks last month, he pointed out that one of the immediate results was the raising of the banks' prime rate from 6.5 to 6.75 per cent. (Later yesterday the prime rate went to 7 per cent.) He also advised watching for a slowing down in the banks' rate of credit expansion, a tightening of bank lending standards together with a restraint on voluntary spending by individuals, and a slowdown in industrial plant expansion programs and increased inventories.

He said "headlong business and consumer spending" during the past several months is responsible for the present financial confusion.

Savings And Loan Firm Again Gains

San Rafael Federal Savings and Loan Association has reported total assets at year end of 1968 at $11,170,565 — up 9.2 per cent from a year ago.

Reserves increased 47.49 per cent to $219,508. Total savings are said to be up 9.33 per cent.

Harold Elberg, president of the association, said the company, now in its sixth year, still maintains its record of no foreclosures and no delinquent outstanding loans.

Airport Transit System Bustling

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Two months after it opened, the nation's first transit system link from a major airport to downtown is carrying 4,000 passengers daily.

The 4,000 figure is the total arrivals and departures at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport through the Cleveland Transit System's new airport rail link.

The $18.6 million, 4.08-mile line opened in November. Its trains leave every 10 minutes, offering a 20-minute ride for 35 cents. Taxis take about the same time, but cost $5 and limousine service costs $1.60.

Some Trims Of Losses At Closing

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today but trimmed its worst losses in late dealings. Trading was active.

The market staged a technical rally in the morning but backed away from it quickly. The list was substantially lower by noon, worsening its decline in early afternoon.

In the final hour bargain hunting cut losses but declines still outnumbered advances by a ratio of around 2 to 1.

A feature of late trading was a huge block of 239,800 shares of General Motors, down 2 at 76½. Most motors were down but steels recovered selectively, showing a mixed pattern.

Among active stocks, sharp losses were taken by MGIC Investment, Beneficial Finance, International Utilities, United Fruit, General Instrument, Pan American World Airways and Benguet.

Avnet advanced against the downtrend.

Prices were lower on the American Stock Exchange.

Use Of Shavers On The Increase

NEW YORK (UPI)—More than 35 per cent of the 66 million American males over 15 years of age use electric shavers regularly, an industry spokesman reports. This represents a gain of 5 per cent in the past three years.

Richard Q. Kress, vice president of North American Philips Company Inc., marketer of shavers (Norelco) says electric shaver industry sales in 1967 totaled more than $165 million.

Bank Reports Major Gains

Lincoln National Bank, Santa Rosa net operating earnings for 1968 have been reported at $54,718 or 63 cents per share, compared with $1,286 or two cents per share in 1967.

Deposits of $5,768,138 and total resources of $7,776,383 were listed as of Dec. 31, 1968.

The four-year-old bank, which also maintains an office in San Rafael, is in the process of discussing a merger into Commonwealth National Bank of San Francisco.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

North Sea Oil Find Makes Phillips Good

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am in my late 30s and buying stocks for growth. I hold odd lots of AT&T, Emhart Corp., IBM, National Can and Redman Corp. Should I increase my holdings in these companies or look for other issues? — A.B.

A. National Can has moved up sharply on an improved outlook stemming from its acquisition and modernization programs. Your holdings in this company could be added to on dips. Current weakness in IBM shares also presents an excellent buying opportunity. Representation in the oil industry is advised at this time, and Phillips Petroleum is particularly well situated for purchase. Its recent successes in the North Sea should begin to add to 1969's earnings. Continue to hold the others.

Q. I would appreciate any information on World Vision. —H.D.

A. I can find no publicly held company of that name, but assume you refer to House of Vision, an Amercan Exchange issue. The company owns a chain of 69 dspensing optician's retail outlets and also manufactures ophthalmic instruments. Sales and earnings have shown steady growth with margins maintained at over 7.5 per cent. First nine months report showed a 7 per cent gain in sales but earnings remained static on an increase in the number of shares outstanding. House of Vision guided by capable management could work out well on a long-term basis.

Q. I have shares of Wentworth Mfg. which have gone up quite a lot. Should I sell them? — J.C.

A. Your company should report a sizeable increase in both sales and earnings for the 1968 fiscal year ended Oct. 31. Wentworth manufactures a line of low-priced cotton dresses and aprons, a highly competitive field. But a new plant in Texas should begin operations early this year, which could improve the company's position. Dividend payments, omitted in 1966 and 1967, were resumed last January. Because capitalization is extremely thin, with about half the shares closely held, developments either good or bad would be amplified. Since the company's outlook is favorable, I see no reason to sell at this time.

Open House Is Set For Bank

An open house will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow at the new Bank of America branch at 200 Kentucky Street, Petaluma, and the branch will open for business at 10 a.m. next Monday, according to manager Earl W. Schneider.

The old Petaluma and Sonoma County branches of the bank, which were located across the street from each other for many years, will be combined in the new structure.

The old Petaluma branch will be razed to make way for parking, according to Schneider, giving the new branch an entire square block.

In connection with the opening, the bank will hold a contest on guessing the number of gold nuggets in a miner's pan.

Another new Bank of America branch in East Petaluma is planned by the bank.

Sea Ranch Chief To Join Bechtel

HONOLULU (BW) —Alfred Boeke, vice president-operations for Oceanic Properties, Inc., land development subsidiary of Castle and Cooke, Inc., is resigning Feb. 15 to join Bechtel Corp. as head of a new community planning and development division.

Boeke directed the planning and more recently the operation of Oceanic's prize-winning Sea Ranch development in Sonoma County, and its new Mililani town community near Honolulu.

Boeke, who joined Castle and Cooke in 1959, will be based in Los Angeles in his new position.

Booming Auto Imports Add To Record Year For Sales

DETROIT (AP) — Final domestic figures and estimated import sales indicate that Americans bought a record number of autos in 1968.

Although domestic car sales were somewhat down from 1965, when the previous record was set, booming foreign car sales were expected to more than fill the gap, with the projected total set at 9.6 million. About 9.3 million cars were sold in the United States in 1965.

U.S. manufacturers reported Friday their dealers had sold 8.6 million cars, 13.9 per cent higher than in 1967. Industry executives and observers have projected imported car sales for the year at 960,000, compared with 569,000 in 1965.

Ford Motor Co., hit hard by a nationwide strike in 1967, showed the highest percentage increase last year—up a whopping 26 per cent. Ford sold 2.3 million cars in 1968, only 1.8 million in 1967.

General Motors, the industry's undisputed giant, showed an 8.3 per cent increase, selling 4.5 million cars compared with 4.1 million in 1967.

American Motors checked in with a 12 per cent increase, selling 269,000 while Chrysler Corp. sales were up 15.3 per cent to 1.6 million, 200,000 better than 1967.

Sales for the final 10 days of December totaled 213,878, up from the previous year's 207,340 but down from the previous 10-day period's 239,204. However, 1968's final 10-day period contained only eight selling days, compared with nine selling days in the Dec. 11-20 period.

General Motors dealers sold 113,183 cars during the final period, compared with 173,481 the previous period and 103,882 during the similar period in 1967.

Ford sold 50,213, down substantially from mid-December sales 63,419, but up from the like period of the previous year, when 49,759 sales were registered.

Chrysler chalked up sales of 39,273 cars during the year's final 10 days, compared with 32,931 sold in the previous period and 43,395 sold during the final 10 days of 1967.

And American Motors showed an impressive gain during the last 10 days, selling 11,209 cars compared with 5,374 in mid-December and 10,364 during the final 10 days of 1967.

Ex-Chief May Sit On Fire Commission

Former Marinwood fire chief Albert F. Anderson, who is now a police officer in Novato but still lives in Marinwood, was recommended last night for membership on the Marinwood Fire Commission.

The recommendation came at a meeting of the Marinwood Volunteer Firemen's Association. Anderson, who is a member of the volunteer firemen's group, said he would serve on the commission.

The terms of fire commissioners Robert J. Cawley and Charles A. Hassell will expire on Jan. 15.

Genevieve Bolding, business manager-secretary of the community services district, announced that all applicants for the commission may apply in writing by Jan. 15.

The volunteer firemen last night asked Z. T. Melcon and Howard Council to see if a water system can be extended to the barbecue area at the Marinwood Community Center.

Fireman James Jackson was named to investigate the possibility of putting reflective tape on the jackets of volunteers as a safety measure.

Fairfax Meeting Set On Family Life Films

The Fairfax School District board last night set a special meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 21 at Manor School to discuss the controversial KQED "Time of Your Life" series.

A special showing of the 15 films will be held at 8 p.m. today, tomorrow and Jan. 20 at White Hill School.

The district also is reviewing the family life program in the schools and a report will be given to the Parent-Teacher Association Jan. 15, Dr. H. Reginald Hammond, superintendent, said.

In other action last night the board asked the district staff to study further a request by teachers who want salary credit for attending a non-credit course in Afro-American history and culture.

The next regular meeting was switched to 7:45 p.m. Jan. 22 at the district office so as not to conflict with the special meetinf, according to Hammond.

Hitting Wrong Pedal Results In Chain Wreck

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Dean Witter Sr., 81, the San Francisco stock broker, hit the accelerator instead of the brake yesterday resulting in a chain reaction accident that injured one man.

Witter told police he had stopped the car to pick up his son Dean Witter Jr., and while shifting seats to permit the younger Witter to drive, the car began to roll down California Street.

The elder Witter tried to jam on the brake pedal, but hit the gas instead. The car struck another parked vehicle, sending it over the curb where it pinned Lou Signer, 60, a partner in Lesher - Muirhead Oldsmobile, against a building wall and crushed his left leg.

Witter, who owns a ranch in Tamalpais Valley, was cited for failing to cramp the wheels of his auto and setting the emergency brake. Signer, whose left leg had been damaged years ago by polio, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital.

"Well," he said, "I'm glad it wasn't my good one."

Dance On Friday

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor a junior high school dance from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Friday at the Community Recreation Center. Music will be provided by the Chelsea Side Car.

North Bay Area Transportation Due Discussion

"Mass transportation planning in the North Bay Area" will be the topic for discussion at the Sonoma County Mayors and Councilmen's Association meeting at 7 p.m. tomorrow at Los Robles Lodge, Santa Rosa.

The group will recommend a city official to the county supervisors for appointment to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board. Southern Sonomans being considered are Petaluma Vice Mayor Kenneth J. Colin and Rohnert Park Councilman Vernon Smith.

Participating in the panel discussion on transportation will be Dale W. Leuhring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District; Seymour Kashin, general manager of Marin County Transit District, and George Kovatch, Sonoma County planning director.

Mobile Home Park Before Planners

Plans for a mobile home park and a restaurant will be reviewed by the Cotati Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. today at the Cotati Elementary School.

Plans for the mobile home park, on Gravenstein Highway, will be presented by John L. Cecil. Mrs. Bertha Logue will present plans for a restaurant on East Cotati Avenue.

Prince Faces Traffic Fine

OXFORD, England (AP) — Oxford police have issued a warrant for Prince Tomohito, 22-year-old nephew of the Emperor of Japan, for failing to pay a $4.80 fine.

The undergraduate prince is believed to be vacationing in Japan and the warrant cannot be served until he returns to Magdalene College, for the beginning of the new term Jan. 19.

The warrant was issued by Oxford magistrate yesterday. It charges Prince Tomohito with failing to appear in court to answer a summons for nonpayment of the fine imposed Dec. 2 for obstructing a street with his car.

Meadowland Rezoning Proposed

The Fairfax Planning Commission last night voted to recommend to the city council rezoning of the Meadowland Properties on the west end of Fairfax to planned development.

The area, with 52 property owners, was annexed to Fairfax Nov. 8 and automatically came in under single family zoning, although it had been zoned for planned development while it was in the county.

The change was requested by Mathew Farr and Associates of San Rafael, developers of the property. About eight residents of the area attended the public hearing last night and none opposed the change, according to Mrs. Dell Blodgett, secretary.

Two members of the seven-man board abstained from voting on the project, E. Ross Parkerson and Albert E. Gately. Parkerson did not vote because, as a member of the county planning department he had worked with plans for Meadowland. Gately did not give a reason for abstaining, Mrs. Blodgett said.

Armed Bandits Rob Gas Station

Two armed bandits stole an undisclosed amount of cash from Julian's Strawberry Shell Service Station Sunday night, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

David J. Bruce, attendant at the station, said he was in the station office when one of the bandits entered to ask for cigarette change.

When he opened the cash box, Bruce said, the bandit thrust a snub-nosed revolver in his face and demanded all the cash. Collecting the cash, he and another man drove off in a late model car, Bruce told sheriff's deputies.

New Song, Yell Leaders Elected

New song leaders and yell leaders have been chosen at Tamalpais High School.

The yell leading group, "The Six of Us," comprises Debbie Glasser, Steven Lamb, Claudia Marks, Cindy Norall, Pam Nowell and Doug Stevens.

Basketball song leaders are Ann Carr, Trudy Chapman, Ivory Foster, Karen Michel, Julie Riedel, Nancy Silewicz, Jerry White and Anne Gartner, alternate.

Tam High Discipline Policy Brings Sparks

Whether a school board committee can effectively set discipline policy on a uniform basis was the major debate of the Tamalpais High School District citizen-student-staff study group last night.

Administrators said they need autonomy in the matter of punishment in order to treat students on an individual basis.

"Don't tie our hands," pleaded Robert H. Prather, Tamalpais High School principal.

The need for autonomy was based on the use of counseling as the main tool for handling school infractions.

"Discipline as viewed here is negative," asserted Henry Marshall, Tam high dean of boys. "Too much time is spent defending its negative aspects."

Community representative Lawrence Goldberg, a Kentfield School District trustee, said the situation calls for "basic philosophical guidelines" to teach students "to govern themselves and develop self-reliance and responsibility.

Challenging a poll of a portion of the Tam high faculty, reported by Tam teacher Michael F. Davlin, Redwood High School Principal Donald Kreps said student discipline should be approached on a positive basis. The poll indicated some faculty members are dissatisfied with the way discipline is handled.

Prather defended the use of suspension as a disciplinary measure when all other means have failed and depending on the individual case.

"Some kids want to be suspended," Marshall said. "For them after school detention is more effective."

Kreps said Redwood now suspends students only until they return with their parents for conference and counseling, usually the next morning.

In the matter of parental permission for legally unexcused absences, (for which schools lose state funds) Ann West, dean of girls at Sir Francis Drake High School, said the Drake practice since last spring was to accept pre-arranged absences approved by parents.

(Last spring about 40 Drake students were suspended for attending a protest rally and some of their parents, in turn, protested to school authorities and the board. The incident triggered formation of the joint study committee.)

Mrs. West urged the committee to consider guidelines for parental responsibility, to define mass absences and to review penalties, but to leave each school discretion in using such guidelines.

Chairman Ellen Binckley, who gave a progress report of the committee to the board of trustees Monday night, said the board will further discuss the direction of the study committee at its meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 20 in the district office.

The committee agreed to abolish night meetings in favor of 4 p.m. each first and third Tuesday. The meeting place has not been determined.

Indians Will Dance For Carnival Show

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — It hasn't snowed in normally snowy northern Nevada for two weeks and this city's first-ever winter carnival is just around the corner.

So about 40 high school students — members of the Hopi, Shoshone, Pima and Apache Indian tribes — plan to perform a "snow dance" Friday. The dance is similar to those used to ask the gods for rain.

Los Angeles Fog Chasing Reported

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The first fog-seeding experiment is "a qualified success," say international airport officials. The dropping of 1,600 pounds of finely ground salt from two planes over an 800-foot blanket of fog raised visibility above the 1,200-foot federal safety minimum, the officials said.

No planes landed during the brief test period yesterday but for a few minutes, the ground fog climbed as high as 2,400 feet — prescribed for safe takeoffs.

Each miniscule crystal of salt attracted and absorbed particles of fog, causing them to fall to earth as droplets of mist, too heavy to float.

The $80,000 experiment will continue, officials said. Ninety per cent of the cost is being borne by airlines.

Quebec Roads Shut By Snow

QUEBEC (AP) — All roads within 50 miles of Quebec City were closed yesterday by a storm that brought 10 inches of snow.

This raised to more than 100 inches the total snowfall in the region since the start of winter.

At nearby Levis, about 300 students were taken into homes when their school buses could not get through.

Czech Red Paper Raps Maneuvers

PRAGUE (AP) — The Czechoslovak Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo complained today about the nearness of U.S.-West German troop exercises to the border and said this gave reason for Cezchoslovaks to be anxious.

The paper asked if the American and German army staffs want to see "how the Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia will react to the Reforger-1 maneuvers."

About 15,000 U.S. troops are being flown from the United States to West Germany for the exercises to be held about 30 miles from the Czechoslovak border. The operation will begin Sunday and continue for at least three weeks.

It's about time somebody asked me how to run a grocery store!

This is Meat Department Improvement Week

Again, Purity is asking you, the shopper, for advice, opinions and suggestions. This is Meat Department Improvement Week and we want to know how you would improve the meat department if you were in charge.

Meat makes the meal! That's why Purity tries so hard to give you the best meat department in town—why we sell only U.S.D.A. Choice beef—why we train our meat men to be helpful and courteous—but, we also know that there is always room for improvement.

So we are asking you menu-makers and supper-servers to become members of Purity's Advisory Panel and send us some meaty suggestions that we can sink our teeth into! Tell us what you want—we'll try our darndest to give it to you!
